(b) When next of kin specifies an inland town or an address not located in a city or town: Common carrier transportation is furnished by the Government to the common carrier terminal nearest the specified destination. Normally, transportation of the remains and escort from the common carrier terminal nearest the specified destination, and return of escort thereto, is made by the receiving funeral director engaged by the next of kin. The receiving funeral director will be advised to submit a properly certified itemized invoice to the commanding officer of the shipping station, listing the cost of hearse hire to transport the remains and escort to destination specified, and to return escort to the common carrier terminal, should this be necessary. When the next of kin fails to engage a receiving funeral director, the commanding officer of the shipping station through his designated purchasing and contracting officer will contract in accordance with current Procurement Regulations with a funeral director located at or near the common carrier terminal nearest the specified destination, to receive the remains upon arrival and to transport the remains and escort to the inland destination specified, and to return escort to the common carrier terminal, should this be necessary. The funeral director will be advised to submit a properly certified itemized invoice for the services rendered. Invoices when received by the commanding officer will be annotated with a statement that the services rendered were either for current or World War II deceased, and forwarded to the local finance officer for payment.

(iii) Shipment of remains by common carrier to destination specified by next of kin for burial in a private cemetery: Prior to shipment, next of kin will be requested to designate a funeral director to receive the remains upon arrival at the common carrier terminal at destination. When remains are shipped by common carrier to the city or town or to an address not located in a city or town specified by the next of kin for interment in a private cemetery, next of kin is responsible for making all arrangements for receiving the remains upon arrival at the common carrier terminal at or nearest to the destination specified. Should next of kin, after having designated burial in a private cemetery, decide to have the remains interred in a national or post cemetery of his choice, next of kin is responsible for making all arrangements for interment with the cemetery superintendent or commanding officer of the post cemetery, and for delivery of the remains at his own expense direct to the cemetery grave site. (See subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph.)

(a) Next of kin specifies a city or town served by common carrier transportation. (See subdivision (ii) (a) of this subparagraph.)

(b) Next of kin specifies an inland town or an address not located in a city or town. (See subdivision (ii) (h) of this subparagraph.)

(iv) Reimbursement for transportation costs when remains are shipped to next of kin prior to interment in a national or post cemetery: When the actual transportation cost to the Government in delivering the remains to a destination designated by next of kin is less than what it would have cost the Government to deliver the remains direct to the national or post cemetery, the next of kin upon filing claim therefor, may be allowed the difference in cost if the amount expended by the next of kin for transportation to the national or post cemetery equals or exceeds such difference in cost; otherwise only an amount equal to that actually expended by the next of kin for such transportation may be allowed. No other allowance will be made.

(v) Claims for reimbursement must be submitted in the form of an unitemized certificate to the commanding officer of the shipping installation who will forward them to the local finance officer for processing and payment. This certificate must be signed by the person paying the transportation expenses from the home to the national or post cemetery, must show the total amount actually paid for such transportation, to include the cost of hearse hire from the common carrier terminal at or nearest the national or post cemetery to the cemetery grave site, must indicate name and location of national or post cemetery where final interment was made, and must indicate whether decedent was current or World War II deceased.

(3) Flag. An interment flag is authorized to be furnished to drape the casket containing the remains of each officer or enlisted man who dies while on the active list. The flag may be retained by the legal next of kin after the funeral. No flag is authorized to be furnished for a civilian employee.

(4) Clothing. The clothing of the deceased will be used to clothe the remains, if available, and in a clean and good condition. If such clothing is not available, new clothing may be issued to enlisted men as set forth in Army Regulations. In the case of officers who are not entitled to issue clothing, and in any case of an enlisted man where neither his own clothing nor issue clothing is available, necessary clothing may be purchased chargeable to funds available for the disposition of remains. (See 21 Comp. Gen. 673)

(5) Recovery of bodies. Necessary expenses to recover bodies.

(6) Interment expenses. The provisions of this subparagraph as hereinafter stated apply equally to current deceased who die on or after October 10, 1947 and World War II deceased declared eligible under the provisions of Public Law 383, 79th Congress, as amended by Public Law 368, 80th Congress.

(i) Interment in a private cemetery: An amount not exceeding $75 will be allowed toward interment expenses when final interment of remains is in a private cemetery. Upon request, the Government will reimburse such next of kin or other persons who pay interment expenses for such expenses up to but not exceeding the $75 maximum; any expenses over and above this amount must be borne by the next of kin or other persons who incurred or paid the expenses. An unitemized certificate signed by the person paying the interment expenses, showing the total amount of interment expenses actually paid, should be submitted by such persons to the commanding officer who arranged for shipment of the remains. The certificate must also indicate name and location of cemetery where final interment was made. The commanding officer, upon receiving such certificate, will place thereon a statement that the decedent was either current or World War II deceased, and then forward the certificate to the local finance officer for payment.

(ii) Interment in a national or post cemetery:

(a) Reimbursement of interment expenses will not be made to next of kin or any other person when burial is in a national or post cemetery.

(b) In connection with interments in national and post cemeteries, superintendents and commanding officers thereof will make all necessary arrangements for grave lowering devices, artificial grass matting, or such other equipment as may be required for interment of remains. Government facilities will be used if available. The services of a contract funeral director will be used where available.

(c) The funeral director rendering any of the services called for will be required to submit a properly certified itemized invoice to the national cemetery superintendent or commanding officer of the post cemetery concerned, who will place thereon the following certification, and then forward it to the appropriate Army purchasing and contracting officer for processing and payment: "I certify that the services itemized on this invoice have been satisfactorily rendered." Separate invoices will be required for current deceased and World War II deceased. National cemetery superintendents and commanding officers of post cemeteries will annotate each invoice received with a statement that the services rendered were either for current or World War II deceased.

(d) The Government is responsible for providing appropriate religious services at the final interment in a national or post cemetery except when next of kin desires to arrange for and to substitute private religious services. Normally, appropriate religious services will be provided by utilizing the services of military chaplains on active duty, or National Guard, Reserve Corps, or Naval Reserve chaplains when available. When military, National Guard, or Reserve chaplains are not available, the services of civilian clergymen may be utilized. When the services of civilian clergymen cannot be obtained gratuitously, their services may be obtained on a contractual basis. In the latter case, compensation for such services is payable by the Government as a part of the expenses of and incident to interment. Civilian clergymen rendering services on a contractual basis will be required to submit an invoice to the national cemetery superintendent or commanding officer of the post cemetery concerned, who will process the invoice in the same manner as prescribed in subdivision (ii) (c) of this subparagraph.

(7) Cremation. Remains may be cremated upon written request of legal next of kin only, either at place of death, or after arrival at destination. In addition to the cost of cremation a reasonable amount for a suitable urn for the ashes is authorized.

(b) For components other than the Regular Army (§ 536.50 (b)). (1) Recovery of body.

(2) Preparation for burial.

(3) Clothing.

(4) Cremation, in lieu of interment, including a suitable urn, at a reasonable cost.

(5) Interment expenses not to exceed $75. See paragraph (a) (6) of this section.

(6) Transportation of remains, including round-trip transportation and subsistence of an escort, to decedent's home or the place where he received orders for the period of training upon which engaged at the time of his death, or to such other place as his relatives may designate provided the distance to such other place is not greater than the distance to his home. When the destination specified is an inland town or an address not in a city or town, the provisions of paragraph (a) (2) (iii) (b) of this section will apply, subject to the limitations imposed by the preceding sentence.

(c) For civilian employees described in paragraph (c) (3) of § 536.50. This subject is within the jurisdiction of the Employees' Compensation Commission.

(d) For civilian employees described in paragraph (c) (4) of § 536.50. (1) Preparation of remains, the cost not exceeding $100, to include:

(i) Embalming.

(ii) Cremation.

(iii) Necessary clothing.

(iv) Casket.

(2) Transportation of the remains to the home or official station of the decedent or to such other place as may be designated as the appropriate place of interment: Provided, That in no case will the expenses payable be greater than the amount which would have been payable had the place of interment been the home or official station, whichever shall be more distant, to include—

(i) Costs of removal of the remains from the place where death occurred to an undertaking establishment.

(ii) Procurement of burial and shipping permits.

(iii) Furnishing an outside case for shipment (including, when necessary, the sealing of such shipping case). No allowance for outside case will be made if conveyance is by hearse.

(iv) Removal to a common carrier.

(v) Transporting body by common carrier. Instead of conveyance by common carrier, removal of the remains overland by hearse (including ferry charges, bridge tolls, and similar items) may be allowed: Provided, That the total charges for transportation shall not exceed the total costs of transportation had conveyance been made by common carrier.

(vi) One removal at the place of interment from the common carrier to an undertaking establishment or other place of immediate delivery.

(vii) Transportation expenses of an escort for the remains will not be allowed. However, this will not be construed to prohibit the use by an escort of one of the two tickets required to ship the remains as baggage by railroad.

(e) For civilian employees described in paragraph (c) (5) of § 536.50. (1) Preparation of remains, to include all the ordinary costs of:

(i) Embalming.

(ii) Cremation.

(iii) Necessary clothing.

(iv) Casket or container suitable for shipment to the place of interment.

(v) Any expenses necessarily incurred in complying with local laws and laws at the port of entry in the United States relative to the preparation of dead bodies for transportation and burial.

(2) Transportation of the remains to the home or official station of the decedent or to such other place as may be designated as the appropriate place of interment, provided that in no case will the expenses payable be greater than the amount which would have been payable had the place of interment been the home or official station, whichever shall be more distant, to include:

(i) Removal of the remains from place where death occurred to an undertaking establishment.

(ii) Removal from the undertaking establishment to a common carrier.

(iii) Transportation by common carrier to the place of interment. The remains may be transported by means other than by common carrier, provided that when conveyance by common carrier is available there will be allowed toward the expense of such other transportation an amount not in excess of the sum allowable had the remains been transported by common carrier.

(iv) One removal at the place of interment from the common carrier.

(v) Transportation expenses of an escort for the remains will not be allowed. However, this will not be construed to prohibit the use by an escort of one of the two tickets required to ship the remains as baggage by railroad.

(3) In addition to preparation and transportation of the remains of these civilian employees, the costs of transportation of dependents of the decedent and of the household effects and other personal property of the decedent and his dependents to his former home or to another place in the United States not more distant than the former home of the decedent are authorized. (See §§ 633.1–633.7 of this chapter for transportation of dependents and § 633.8 of this chapter for transportation of household effects and personal effects.)

(f) For military prisoners. For persons coming under § 536.50 (d) (military prisoners sentenced to discharge or dismissal, where the execution thereof has not been suspended), expenses are limited to the following:

(1) Preparation of remains.

(2) Interment at place of death; or interment expenses not to exceed $75.

§ 536.52 Burial services, how obtained—(a) Within continental limits of United States—(1) Under contract. Burial services proper, as set forth in paragraph (a) (1) of § 536.51, will be obtained by negotiation in accordance with current Procurement Regulations, under contracts entered into with local undertakers in the vicinity of military installations. These contracts will be accomplished on Uniform Burial Service Contract forms in accordance with instructions promulgated by The Quartermaster General. Prior to becoming effective burial service contracts will require the approval of the commanding general of the service command in which the contracting officer is stationed. This information (that contracts will not be effective until approved) will be communicated to the contractor during negotiations. In delegating authority to a member of his staff to approve contracts for burial services, the commanding general of the service command, other qualifications being equal, should select, if available, a quartermaster officer who has had experience in this field. The specifications which form a part of the contract forms will be strictly adhered to and no deviations will be made without first obtaining approval from The Quartermaster General.

(2) Where death occurs at decedent's regular post, camp, or station. (i) If a burial service contract is in effect, the remains will be prepared under such contract and payment will be made by the finance officer designated in the contract to make payments thereunder.

(ii) If no burial service contract is in effect, the purchasing and contracting officer or other supply officer will negotiate with a reputable funeral director for the required embalming, preservation, casket, outside box, and hearse service, in accordance with the specifications in the Uniform Burial Service Contract form, and forward the invoices for same, properly certified, to the local finance officer for payment.

(3) Where death occurs at place other than decedent's regular post, camp, or station, and military authorities nearest to place of death handle disposition of remains. (i) If a burial service contract is in effect at place of death the remains will be prepared under such contract and payment will be made by the finance officer designated in the contract to make payments thereunder.

(ii) If no burial service contract is in effect at place of death, the military authorities nearest to the place of death should be notified to take charge, and such military authorities will obtain through negotiation the services of a reputable funeral director, make necessary arrangements for the required embalming, preservation, casket, outside box, and hearse service. The costs in such cases will vary, depending upon circumstances and cause of death, condition of remains, local facilities, etc. However, costs should be kept to the minimum obtainable under the standard set forth in the Uniform Burial Service Contract form to insure the arrival of the remains at destination in an acceptable state of preservation. Properly certified, itemized invoices in quadruplicate, and a copy of the telegram or other communication from the next of kin (or other person named as emergency addressee in the event there is no surviving next of kin) designating the name and address of the person who will incur interment expenses, will be transmitted by the military authorities negotiating for the services to The Quartermaster General for evaluation and payment.

(iii) The military authorities arranging for preparation will also arrange for necessary transportation to destination and will select an escort from available troops at their station (if remains are to be sent with an attendant). Transportation and escort will not be requested from the decedent's home station.

(4) Where arrangements are made by relatives or others and no military authorities are handling case. (i) If the relatives or other persons arranging for burial services do not pay the undertaker concerned, the undertaker should render an itemized invoice in quadruplicate to The Quartermaster General with the following certificate on each copy thereof:

I certify that the above bill is correct and just; that payment therefor has not been received; that all statutory requirements as to United States production and labor standards, and all conditions of purchase applicable to the transaction have been complied with; and that State or local sales taxes are not included in the amounts billed.

This certificate must be signed by the undertaker.

(ii) If relatives or others arranging for burial services pay the undertaker, reimbursement may be made as set forth in subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph, only upon receipt by The Quartermaster General of written request for reimbursement from the person paying same, accompanied by an itemized receipted bill in quadruplicate.

(iii) In connection with subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph, The Quartermaster General, upon receipt of itemized invoice, will determine the amount to be allowed based upon all factors entering into the case and forward the claim to the General Accounting Office for settlement.

(iv) In addition to expenses for preparation of remains as set forth above, there may be allowed expenses for transportation, flag (in the case of military personnel only), clothing, recovery of bodies, cremation, and interment expenses as set forth in § 536.51.

(5) Next of kin not compelled to use services of contract funeral director. In any case, regardless of whether the decedent's death occurred at his regular post, camp, or station, or away therefrom, or whether or not there was a burial contract in effect under which the remains may be prepared, the next of kin may make their own arrangements and it is not compulsory for them to utilize the services of the contract funeral director. However, reimbursement can be made as set forth below.

(b) Reimbursement—(1) Statutory authority. (i) In any case where funeral expenses authorized in § 536.51 are borne by individuals, reimbursement to such individuals may be made of the amount allowed by the Government for such services, but no reimbursement will be made of any expenses incurred prior to the enactment of the act of May 17, 1938, which would not have been a proper charge against the Government prior to the date of approval thereof.

(ii) When the expenses of the recovery, preparation, and disposition of remains of officers, warrant officers and enlisted men of the National Guard; members of the Officers' Reserve Corps and of the Enlisted Reserve Corps; members of the National Guard of the United States; members of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps and members of the Citizens' Military Training Camps, or any part thereof, are paid by individuals, such individuals may be reimbursed therefor at an amount not exceeding that allowed by the Government for such services.

(2) Limitation. Except in the case of the civilian employees enumerated in paragraph (c) (3), (4), and (5) of § 536.50, if at the time and place of death a properly approved contract was in force, the amount to be allowed for burial expenses proper will be limited to the sum that such contract would have allowed for a similar case. However, if no such contract was in effect at the time and place of death, determination as to the amount to be allowed will be made by The Quartermaster General. It is not compulsory for relatives to utilize the services of the contract undertaker where a contract is in effect, but the Department of the Army may allow for reimbursement on the items covered by the contract only the amount the department would have paid thereunder for such items.

§ 536.53 Shipment after temporary interment. (a) When it is impracticable to ship the remains at the time of death, or if it is impossible to communicate with the emergency addressee before interment, the remains may be subsequently disinterred and shipped home at Government expense at the request of the emergency addressee.

(b) If the emergency addressee states that shipment home is not desired and the remains are interred at Government expense, subsequent disinterment or shipment of the remains will not be made at Government expense.

(c) When remains are interred at place of death during hostilities they subsequently may be disinterred and shipped home at Government expense.

A person entitled to receive the first installment of the mustering-out payment at the time of discharge for the purpose of enlistment, reenlistment, or appointment in the Regular Army shall, at his election, receive the whole of such payment in one lump sum, rather than installments. (See sec. 2 (b), act of Feb. 3, 1944 (58 Stat. 9, as amended; 38 U. S. C., Sup., 691b), as amended by sec. 7, act Oct. 6, 1945 (59 Stat. 540).)

(See sec. 3, act of Feb. 3, 1944 (58 Stat. 9, as amended; 38 U. S. C. Sup., 691c), as amended by sec. 7, act Oct. 6, 1945 (59 Stat. 540).)

(e) Payments to survivors. If any member of the armed forces, after his discharge or relief from active service, shall die before receiving any portion of or the full amount of his mustering-out payment, the balance of the amount due him shall be payable, on appropriate application therefor, to his surviving spouse, if any; and if he shall leave no surviving spouse, then in equal shares to his child or children, if any; and if he shall leave no surviving spouse or child or children, then in equal shares to his surviving parents, if any: Provided, That no payments under this act shall be made to any other person. (h) Payments on behalf of survivors and mentally disabled veterans. The Secretary of the Army or such subordinate officer as he may designate, is authorized to make direct payment to survivors over 17 years of age, and to select a proper person or persons to whom mustering-out payments may be made for the use and benefit of former active members of the armed forces, or survivors thereof, as defined in paragraph (e) of this section without the necessity of appointment by judicial proceedings of a legal representative of any such former member or such survivors when, in the opinion of the Secretary or his designees, the interests of the persons under 17 years of age so justify, or where the former active member or his survivor is suffering from a mental disability sufficient to make direct payment not in the best interests of such person or persons. Payments made under the provisions of this paragraph shall constitute a complete discharge of the obligation of the United States as provided in this act; and the selection of a proper person or persons, as provided herein, and the correctness of the amount due and paid to such person or persons shall have the same finality as that accorded decisions made pursuant to paragraph (g) of this section: Provided, That the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply where a legal guardian or committee has been judicially appointed, except as to any payments made hereunder prior to the receipt of notice of appointment. (See sec. 5 (c), act of Feb. 3, 1944 (58 Stat. 10, as amended; 38 U. S. C., Sup., 691e (c)).)

(i) Statutory definitions. (1) The term "member of the armed forces" means any member of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Marine Corps, the United States Coast Guard, or any of their respective components, and any member of the Women's Army Corps who was discharged under honorable conditions on account of disability.

(2) The term "spouse" means a lawful wife or husband.

(3) The term "child" includes:

(i) A legitimate child;

(ii) A child legally adopted; and

(iii) A stepchild, if, at the time of death of the member of the armed forces, such stepchild was a member of the deceased's household.

(4) The term "parent" includes father and mother, stepfather and stepmother, and father and mother through adoption. (See sec. 6, act of Feb. 3, 1944 (58 Stat. 10; 38 U. S. C., Sup., 691f).)

§ 536.76 Payments on behalf of persons discharged on account of mental disability who are not competent to sign commercial papers—(a) by whom made. Mustering-out payments on behalf of persons discharged on account of mental disability who are not mentally competent to sign commercial papers will be made only by Finance Office, U. S. Army, Washington 25, D. C.

(b) To whom payable. Mustering-out payments on behalf of personnel discharged on account of mental disability may be made only to the following:

(1) Legally appointed guardian or committee of the veteran when he is not mentally competent to sign commercial vouchers, or

(2) Discharged veteran, provided a guardian or committee has not been legally appointed and such an appointment is not contemplated, if a written, dated, and signed statement by a registered practicing physician is furnished to the effect that the veteran is, in the opinion of the examining physician, mentally competent to handle his own personal affairs. (The term "registered practicing physician" includes staff physicians at Government hospitals.)

(3) Where no legal guardian or committee has been appointed, and where payment cannot be made to the veteran under subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, payment is authorized to be made for the use and benefit of the mentally disabled veteran to a person selected under the provisions of § 536.75 (h).

(i) Where a veteran is hospitalized in a Veterans' Administration hospital, or is temporarily absent therefrom for convalescent purposes, the person selected to receive the payment for the use and benefit of the veteran will be the manager of such a hospital unless, in the opinion of the selecting officer, selection of some other person is warranted by the facts in a given case. If a hospital manager applies for payment on behalf of the mentally disabled veteran under his jurisdiction but, prior to the receipt of any one of the checks covering complete payment, the veteran is discharged from the facility, checks received after the veteran's departure from the facility will be returned to the Finance Office, U. S. Army, Washington 25, D. C., accompanied by so much of the following information as is pertinent to the case of the individual concerned:

(a) A statement concerning the mental condition of the veteran at the time of discharge from the hospital, i. e., whether considered mentally competent to handle his own personal affairs. Statements indicating that the veteran was mentally competent to handle his own personal affairs at time of discharge from the hospital will be executed by a physician in accordance with subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

§ 536.85 Claims for relief by contractors. (a) There is hereby constituted in the Office of the Under Secretary of the Army a board to be known as "War Contract Hardship Claims Board" (referred to as the "board" in this section), to consider, adjust, and settle equitable claims of contractors, including subcontractors and materialmen performing work or furnishing supplies or services to the contractor or another subcontractor, for losses (not including diminution of anticipated profits) incurred between September 16, 1940, and August 14, 1945, without fault or negligence on their part in the performance of such contracts or subcontracts. The board shall consist of five members, one of whom shall be designated as president of the board. There will also be a recorder. The Under Secretary of the Army shall recommend appointees for membership on the board and for recorder and shall nominate the president of the board. Appointments will be made by the Secretary of the Army. Upon request of the Under Secretary of the Army, The Judge Advocate General is authorized to assign to the board one or more judge advocates as trial attorneys or examiners, and if and when deemed necessary by the Under Secretary of the Army and upon his request, The Judge Advocate General also may assign an officer or civilian attorney as general counsel.

(b) The board created by paragraph (a) of this section is hereby designated the central authority within the Department of the Army to consider, adjust, and settle all claims of contractors under the act and the Executive order; to make or approve the settlement of any such claim in each case in which the Department of the Army is the war agency considering the claim; to grant in whole or in part, or to withhold, for the Department of the Army approval of that part of any proposed settlement by any other agency considering the claim, which relates to contracts or subcontracts of the Department of the Army and to make any and all determinations and findings for the Department of the Army required by the act and the Executive order with respect to each claim. Except for any reconsideration which the board may in its discretion grant, any approval, finding, determination or settlement by the board shall be final, subject only to the provisions of section 6 of the act. The board shall have all powers necessary and incident to the proper performance of its duties as set forth in this section and shall adopt its own methods of procedure and rules and regulations for its conduct.

(c) Claims under the act and the Executive order filed with the Department of the Army will be examined, reviewed and verified by the technical service, which includes for the purpose of this regulation the U. S. Air Force, under whose contracts or subcontracts the loss is claimed. When a claim is made with respect to contracts or subcontracts of more than one technical service the claim shall be examined, reviewed and verified by the technical service under whose contracts and subcontracts the largest claim for loss is made. In the event a claim is filed with other than the chief of a technical service or the chief of the technical service with which the claim is filed determines that another technical service has a primary interest in the consideration thereof the claim will be forwarded immediately to the president of the board for appropriate assignment. The receiving office in transmitting the claim to the board will transmit also any information in its possession bearing upon the claim. In the event the chief of the technical service which is examining, reviewing and verifying a claim determines that the claim also is of interest to another war agency a copy of the claim will be transmitted to the board, with a statement of the reason for such transmission, for appropriate referral and coordination.

(d) Upon receipt of a claim the technical service will transmit a copy of the claim to the Chief of Finance and request that the claim be transmitted to the General Accounting Office for verification of the list of contracts and subcontracts set forth therein as required by section 301 of the Executive order. The Chief of Finance will transmit such request for verification to the General Accounting Office. Upon receipt of information from the General Accounting Office, the Chief of Finance will advise the technical service concerned with respect to the information obtained from the General Accounting Office.

(e) In addition to such verification by the General Accounting Office as is required by section 301 of the Executive order, all claims under the act will be examined, reviewed and verified by the appropriate technical service or services to the extent that the chief of the technical service in his discretion determines necessary for an adequate consideration of the claim under the act and the Executive order. The chief of the technical service is authorized to arrange directly with the Chief of Finance for any necessary audit of claims. Request for audit will not be made by the chief of the technical service unless preliminary examination by him indicates that the claim appears to fall within the scope of the act and Executive order. Upon completion of such review and consideration as the chief of the technical service may deem adequate for the purposes of the act and the Executive order the chief of the technical service will transmit the original of the claim together with his recommendation as to the disposition thereof and a statement of the basis of such recommendation to the board. He also will designate one or more members of his legal staff as trial attorneys or examiners for processing the claim through his office and before the board. The board will consider the claim and the recommendation and statement by the chief of the interested technical service and approve such adjustment and settlement of the claim as it determines appropriate under the act and the Executive order. The board may direct such further action by the technical service as it deems necessary to the final disposition of the claim.

(f) When the board approves the settlement of a claim, in whole or in part, it will notify the interested technical service of its decision and the technical service will request the Chief of Finance to advise the General Accounting Office of the proposed settlement as approved and request that it be notified of any claims against the claimant. The Chief of Finance will transmit such advice as to the proposed settlement and request for information as to claims to the General Accounting Office. Upon receipt of advice from the General Accounting Office with respect to information available in that office concerning indebtedness the Chief of Finance will notify the technical service of any such indebtedness reported by the General Accounting Office and of any other indebtedness shown by Department of the Army records. If any discrepancies appear between the records of the General Accounting Office and the Department of the Army records as to the verification of contracts and subcontracts, or any indebtedness of the claimant, the technical service will advise the Chief of Finance thereof, who will communicate with the General Accounting Office with respect thereto advising the technical service concerned as to the results thereof. In the case of denial of a claim the board will notify the claimant and the interested technical service of its decision immediately.

(g) Approved claims which involve indebtedness reported by the General Accounting Office, or any other indebtedness shown on the records of the Department of the Army, will be made the subject of an appropriate communication to the Chief of Finance prepared by the technical service concerned, together with a full report of all such indebtedness, which will be transmitted by the Chief of Finance to the General Accounting Office for necessary set-off or other appropriate action. When Certificate of Settlement on such claims, issued by the General Accounting Office and requiring payment, is received in the Office of the Chief of Finance, it will be forwarded to the Finance Office, United States Army, Washington, D. C., for payment in the usual way. Approved claims which do not involve set-off by the General Accounting Office on account of indebtedness will be vouchered on Standard Form 1034 prepared by the technical service concerned and certified by a duly authorized certifying officer of such service, supporting same with the original of the approved award of the board and of the settlement agreement and release. § 537.1 Reimbursement for public property lost, damaged, or destroyed. The Chief of Finance will take action to secure reimbursement for public property lost, damaged, or destroyed through the fault or neglect of any person concerned.

§ 537.2 Recovery of property unlawfully detained by civilians—(a) Legal proceedings. Whenever information is received that any property belonging to the military service of the United States is unlawfully in the possession of any person not in the military service, the property officer or other proper officer will make an immediate report direct to The Judge Advocate General (by telephone or telegraph when the use of such means of communication seems advisable) in order that legal proceedings may be instituted for the recovery of the property and, if the property has been stolen, for the arrest, trial, conviction, and punishment of the guilty person or persons. Each report will contain:

(1) A complete description of the property involved, and its location.

(2) The name and location of the person unlawfully in possession of such property; and

(3) The facts and circumstances surrounding the unlawful possession of the property.

(b) Summary action. (1) Upon satisfactory information that such United States property unlawfully in the possession of any party or parties is likely to be removed beyond the jurisdiction, concealed, or otherwise disposed of before the necessary proceedings can be had in the proper civil tribunal for its recovery, the post or detachment commander will, as hereinafter provided, accomplish its immediate recovery. In the event the property consists of clothes, arms, military outfits or accouterments furnished by the United States to any enlisted man, the Federal statutes (R. S. 3748; 10 U. S. C. 1316; M. L. 1939, sec. 2018) authorizes such property to be seized and taken from any person not an enlisted man or officer of the United States, by any officer, civil or military, of the United States. With respect to other Government property, the post or detachment commander will cause the property to be seized, provided such seizure can be accomplished without committing a breach of the peace or a trespass on private premises, tendering to the person, if any, in possession or custody of the property a receipt or certificate showing that such property has been seized as belonging to the United States, and the post or detachment commander will thereafter hold the property subject to any legal proceedings that may be instituted by other parties.

(2) Persons caught in the act of stealing public property will be summarily arrested by the troops and turned over to the civil authorities for trial.

§ 537.3 Definitions. The words "claim" and "defendant," and the expression "Government property" are used in the regulations in this part as follows:

(a) Claim. The right of the United States to demand from a defendant reimbursement for damage to or loss or destruction of Government property.

(b) Defendant. (1) Any individual, excluding military and naval personnel and civilian employees of the United States acting within the scope of their employment when only simple negligence is involved; and

(2) Any partnership, association, corporation, or governmental body other than an instrumentality of the United States.

(c) Government property. Real or personal property owned by the Government or otherwise in the custody or control of the Army. Where liability to the Government for the particular loss, damage, or destruction is fixed by contract, for example, property furnished to or otherwise acquired by a Department of the Army contractor subcontractor, such liability will be asserted under the contract and not pursuant to the provisions of these regulations.

§ 537.4 Scope. Included within the provisions of the regulations in §§ 537.3 to 537.5, are claims in excess of $25, and claims in lesser amount when the assertion thereof is deemed in the interest of the Government for:

(a) Damage to or loss or destruction of Government property.

(b) Expense or loss to the Government, incurred in other cases, arising from negligence or wrongful act, where the Government's obligation is fixed by common law, Federal or State statute, convention, treaty, or agreement.

§ 537.5 Action by reviewing authorities. Upon receipt by the Army or air matériel commander, or by an office of the command claims service, each claims officer's report will, unless the report is accompanied by a statement that payment in full has been made, be reviewed and, after any corrective action deemed necessary with relation thereto, appropriate administrative action will be taken. Such action, unless the claims officer's report is accompanied by a statement that payment in full has been made or by a compromise offer which such reviewing authority deems it advisable to accept, will include a determination whether the defendant is legally liable to the United States and, if so, the amount of such liability. Upon a determination that the defendant is liable and of the amount of such liability, the Army or air matériel commander, or the chief of the command claims service, will, unless a demand in the same amount has already been made, cause a written demand to be made upon the defendant for payment of the claim. If such demand is complied with, the certified check or money order made payable to the Treasurer of the United States will be accepted and transmitted to the nearest disbursing officer. If the defendant fails to comply with the demand within a reasonable time, and the amount involved, the financial responsibility of the defendant, and other circumstances of the case appear to make advisable the institution of suit, or if the defendant has already made, or on such demand makes, a compromise offer accompanied by a certified check or money order made payable to the Treasurer of the United States, the Army or air matériel commander, or the chief of the command claims service (who will first, however, in cases involving the transmission of foreign funds, convert the tendered check or money order into a United States Treasury check), will forward the original and one copy of the file, including any compromise offer and certified check or money order made payable to the Treasurer of the United States, with his recommendation as to the advisability of acceptance of such compromise offer, if any, or, if none, as to the advisability of instituting suit, to The Judge Advocate General, Washington 25, D. C., for appropriate administrative action.

§ 537.6 Marine casualties; claims—(a) Definitions. See §§ 536.44 (b) and 537.3.

(b) Scope. Included within the provisions of this section are claims in excess of $100 for:

(1) Damage to or loss or destruction of Government property.

(2) Amount of pay and allowances paid or payable by the Government to military personnel for any period of incapacitation incident to injury to such personnel.

(3) Cost of medical treatment, hospitalization, travel, or other expense or loss to the Government in the rehabilitation of military personnel incident to injury to such personnel.

(4) Cost of funeral, burial, transportation, or other expense or loss to the Government incident to death of military personnel.

(c) Action by reviewing authorities. Upon receipt by the commanding general of an army, or a command claims service, or the Chief of Transportation, as the case may be, each investigating officer's report will, unless the report is accompanied by a statement that payment in full has been made, be reviewed and, after any corrective action deemed necessary with relation thereto, appropriate administrative action will be taken. Such action, unless the investigating officer's report is accompanied by a statement that payment in full has been made or by a compromise offer which such reviewing authority deems it advisable to accept, will include a determination whether the defendant is legally liable to the United States and, if so, the amount of such liability. Upon a determination that the defendant is liable and of the amount of such liability, the commanding general of the army, or the chief of the command claims service, or the Chief of Transportation, will cause a written demand to be made upon the defendant for payment of the claim. If such demand is complied with, the certified check or postal money order will be accepted and transmitted to the appropriate fiscal officer. If the defendant fails to comply with the demand within a reasonable time, and the amount involved, the financial responsibility of the defendant and other circumstances of the case appear to make advisable the institution of suit, or if the defendant has already made, or on such demand makes, a compromise offer accompanied by a certified check or postal money order, the commanding general of the army or the chief of the command claims service, or the Chief of Transportation, will forward the original and one copy of the file, including any compromise offer and certified check or postal money order, with his recommendation as to the advisability of acceptance of such compromise offer, if any, or, if none, as to the advisability of instituting suit, to The Judge Advocate General for appropriate administrative action.

DERIVATION: AR 35-5520, 4 June 1947.

§ 538.1 Definitions—(a) Allotment. The word "allotment" as used herein, refers to a definite portion of the pay and allowances of a person in the military service, active or retired, or of a civilian employee of the Department of the Army assigned for duty in Alaska or outside the continental limits of the United States, which is authorized to be paid to an allottee in a manner prescribed by the Secretary of the Army.

(b) Class E allotment. An allotment made to an individual, a fiduciary, a banking institution, or a commercial life insurer, or to other eligible allottees, set forth in § 538.3 is designated as a "class E" allotment.

(c) Class D allotment. An allotment made for the payment of premiums on United States Government life insurance is designated as a "class D" allotment.

(d) Class N allotment. An allotment made for the payment of premiums on National Service life insurance is designated as a "class N" allotment.

(e) Class B allotment. An allotment made for the purchase of United States Savings Bonds is designated as a "class B" allotment.

(f) Allotter. The "allotter" is the person from whose pay the allotment is made, either by himself, or by another on his account.

(g) Allottee. The "allottee" is the person or institution to whom the allotment is made payable.

(h) Dependent. The term "dependent" as used herein includes a lawful wife, unmarried child under 21 years of age, a dependent mother, father, or unmarried dependent stepchild or adopted child under 21 years of age, or such dependent as has been designated in official records, or an individual determined to be a dependent by the Secretary of the Army or by a subordinate designated by him.

§ 538.2 Eligible allotters—(a) Military personnel. Commissioned officers and others who certify their own pay vouchers, and enlisted persons, active or retired, and commissioned officers of other services or departments who may be detailed or assigned to the Department of the Army and who are carried on Department of the Army pay rolls, wherever serving, may make allotments of pay.

(b) Civilian personnel. Civilian employees of the Department of the Army except civilian marine personnel, who have national service life insurance or United States Government life insurance may make Class D and N allotments during such time as they may be permanently assigned for duty outside the continental United States or in Alaska. Civilian employees of the Department of the Army except civilian marine personnel may make Class E allotments during such time as they may be permanently assigned to duty outside the continental limits of the United States or in Alaska. They may also make Class B allotments when stationed where the Class A Pay Reservation Plan for the purchase of United States Savings Bonds is not in effect. The execution and discontinuance of allotments of pay for civilian marine personnel of the Transportation Corps will be effected under such regulations as may be prescribed by the Chief of Transportation. A civilian employee permanently stationed outside the continental limits of the United States or in Alaska is deemed to be one whose oversea assignment is not limited in tenure or which may be expected to exceed 6 months. No allotments will be authorized by civilian employees of the Department of the Army until arrival at the permanent oversea duty station.

§ 538.3 Eligible allottees and authorized purposes—(a) Class E allotments. The following are eligible for designation as allottees for class E allotments:

(1) An individual, for the support of the allotter's family, dependent relative, or divorced wife.

(2) A fiduciary (person or institution acting in a capacity of trust or confidence) for the support of the allotter's family, dependent relative, or divorced wife, or for contribution to a retirement fund.

(3) A banking institution in any country where payment in United States currency is not blocked, for the support of the allotter's family, dependent relatives, divorced wife, or for savings, including a checking account provided the allotter has made satisfactory arrangements with the bank for acceptance of the allotment.

(4) A commercial life insurer for the payment of premiums for insurance on the life of the allotter, or for repayment of loans or interest thereon. All payments to an insurer will be made to the home office of the institution issuing the insurance or to a branch office designated by the home office.

(5) Federal savings and loan associations, and State building and loan association.

(6) A lending institution holding a loan insured by the Federal Housing Administration of the Housing and Home Finance Agency; or the Federal Housing Administration.

(7) Army Emergency Relief.

(8) Air Force Aid Society.

Allotments made to allottees under subparagraphs (7) and (8) of this paragraph will be paid to the organization at the station where the loan was made.

(b) Class D and N allotments. The Veterans' Administration, Washington 25, D. C., will in all cases be designated as allottee for class D or N allotments.

§ 538.4 Power of attorney. A power of attorney will not be accepted to establish a new allotment or to change or discontinue an existing allotment.

§ 538.5 Pay which can be alloted—(a) Military personnel. (1) A commissioned officer or other person who certifies his own pay voucher may, for class E, D, and N allotments, allot his base and longevity pay, monthly subsistence allowance based on a 30-day month, rental allowance, foreign service pay, and any additional pay for distinguished service awards, but no amount in excess of the total thereof.

(2) An enlisted person may, for class E, D, and N allotments, allot so much of his base, longevity, and foreign service pay, additional pay for distinguished service awards, and monetary allowance in lieu of quarters for dependents as will leave, after class F and other deductions have been made, a monthly balance of $10, or such other amount as may be determined by his commanding officer to be necessary to meet his essential personal needs.

(3) For any military person, all items of pay and allowances may be allotted for Class B allotments at any time and in any status, and, in the case of such person officially reported as missing, missing in action, interned in a neutral country, captured by an enemy, beleaguered, or besieged, all items of pay may be allotted for class E, D, and N allotments.

(b) Civilian employees. An eligible civilian employee may allot any amount not in excess of his basic salary, less retirement deductions, and Federal withholding tax. Per diem and other allowances may not be allotted.

§ 538.6 Allotment offices—(a) Active duty personnel—(1) Class E allotments. Class E allotments are processed by the Class E Allotment Division, Army Finance Center, OCF, Building 205, St. Louis 20, Missouri.

(2) Class D and N allotments. Class D and N allotments are processed by the Insurance and Deposits Division, Army Finance Center, OCF, Building 205, St. Louis 20, Missouri.

(b) Retired personnel. Effective May 1, 1948 for officers and effective June 1, 1948 for enlisted personnel, class E, D, and N allotments of such retired personnel wherever located will be processed by the Washington Finance Office, U. S. Army, Washington 25, D. C.

§ 538.7 Payment to allottees in foreign countries. (a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, payment of class E allotments will be made to allottees residing in foreign countries as follows:

(1) By check mailed from the Class E Allotment Division, Army Finance Center, OCF, to those countries where payment in United States currency is not blocked.

(2) In local currency by appropriate disbursing officers (or by military attaché where there is no disbursing officer) in the theater or country or residence of the allottee, where payment in United States currency is blocked by Treasury Department regulations. In this instance disbursing officers will receive from the Chief of Finance, properly certified vouchers on which payment will be made, together with appropriate instructions.

(3) In Military payment certificates by appropriate disbursing officers to dependents acquired through marriage to Germans for the support of such dependents.

(b) Military personnel on duty in Germany or Japan are not authorized to make class E allotments to their dependents when such dependents have departed from the United States to join such personnel at their oversea stations. Allotments will be discontinued during the month in which notification is received by such personnel that their dependents have actually departed.

§ 538.8 Commencing date; Class E allotments. Ordinarily, class E allotments will be made effective the first of the month following that in which the authorization form is executed and payment will be made accordingly, provided the authorization form is received by the Class E Allotment Division not later than the 10th day of the month in which allotment is to become effective. Exceptions will be made for class E allotments covering monetary allowances in lieu of quarters and those covering commercial insurance premiums where because of circumstances beyond the control of the allotter an earlier effective date may be necessary. Class E allotments covering monetary allowances in lieu of quarters may be made effective the first of the month in which authorization form is executed but no earlier. Allotment checks are mailed so as to reach the allottee by the 15th of the month following the month in which allotment became effective; for example, an allotment effective February 1 will be paid by a check dated March 1 which will be mailed to reach the allottee not later than March 15. A class E allotment will not be made effective with the month in which an officer or enlisted person enters on duty except when an enlisted person is commissioned, or appointed a warrant officer, when a warrant officer is commissioned, or when a graduate, United States Military Academy, enters commissioned officer status.

§ 538.9 Allotments to joint bank accounts. Class E allotments to joint bank accounts are acceptable provided the allotter has made satisfactory arrangements with the bank for acceptance of the allotment. In such case, checks will be drawn to the order of the bank for the credit of only one of the two individuals in whose name the account has been established. Therefore, the authorization will bear the name of only one of the individuals to whose credit the allotment will be made. Care must be exercised that the full and correct name, branch, if any, and address of the banking institution where the account is maintained are given.

§ 538.10 Effect of certain changes in status on class E, D, and N allotments—(a) Death of allotter. Allotments are in the nature of powers of attorney, which are revoked by the death of the allotter. No further payment of an allotment will be made after receipt of advice of the allotter's death, even though it is known that deductions were made from the allotter's pay and not paid to the allottee. Such amounts become a part of the estate of the allotter. See 10 Comp. Dec. 208, 26 id. 855. Deaths of allotters occurring outside the continental limits of the United States or in Alaska will be reported to the allotment offices by the Adjutant General. Allotments of personnel who die in the United States will be discontinued as provided in AR 35–5560.[1]

(b) Death of allottee. Upon receipt of information of the death of any person to whom an allotment is payable, the allotment division will discontinue the allotment and report the death to the allotter through his commanding officer giving the date of discontinuance. When an allotment check, even though indorsed, is not collected or negotiated prior to the death of the allottee, the amount thereof does not become a part of the allottee's estate or subject to any expense incurred by, or on behalf of, the allottee before or after death. See 26 Comp. Dec. 855. All such checks should be returned to the allotment officer. Unless the allotter has been separated from the service and has received final payment, the allotment office will, upon receipt of the returned check, give authority to credit the amount on the current pay roll or pay voucher.

(c) Desertion and dishonorable discharge. Allotments of pay do not give a vested right to the money allotted, and an allottee is not entitled to be paid the amount of an allotment made by a person who deserted or who was dishonorably discharged with forfeiture of all pay and allowances before payment of the allotment could be made. If the allottee failed to collect or negotiate the allotment checks prior to the dismissal or dishonorable discharge of the allotter from the service with forfeiture of all pay and allowances then due, payment of the allotment is not authorized. If, however, payment to the allottee was made between the date of commencement of the unauthorized absence and the date when the allotter was reported as AWOL, the amount so paid should be allowed as an offset in settling the allotter's accounts.

(d) Honorable discharge or relief from active duty. When an allotter is honorably discharged or relieved from active duty within the continental United States (excluding Alaska) his allotments will be discontinued as outlined in AR 35–5560.[1]

(e) Retirement. When a member of the Regular Army is retired he may, if he desires, continue Class E allotments for commercial life insurance and also Class D and N allotments.

§ 538.11 Missing, missing in action, beleaguered, besieged, interned in a neutral country, or captured by the enemy—(a) Notification to dependents. Whenever any person is officially reported to be missing, missing in action, beleaguered, besieged, interned in a neutral country, or captured by the enemy (but not when change occurs from one such status to another) the emergency addressee shall be promptly informed, by the office designated to do so, of the beneficial provisions of the act of March 7, 1942, (56 Stat. 145) as amended, of the regulations governing allotments from pay of such persons, of the information required in or to accompany allotment applications, and of the name and address of the allotment division to which applications should be directed. The emergency addressee will be requested to notify interested relatives and dependents of the benefits and to advise insurers, or other persons who may have knowledge of life insurance premiums that should be paid by allotment, to communicate information thereof to the allotment office.

(b) Accounts. The pay and allowance accounts of persons absent in a missing status are maintained by the Finance Officer, U. S. Army, Army Finance Center, OCF, Building 205, St. Louis 20, Missouri. During the period of absence there are credited the pay and allowances due, and for the same period there are charged against such pay and allowances all allotments paid on account of the absent person and all prescribed deductions from pay for family allowances paid on his account. Allotment payments so charged shall be recredited in any case in which it is determined by the Secretary of the Army, or by such subordinate as he may designate, that such payments were induced by fraud or misrepresentation to which the absent person was not a party.

(c) Effective date of allotments. Such allotments will ordinarily be made effective for the month in which they are granted.

(d) Termination of absence. When the absence of any person in a missing status is terminated by death or finding of death, all allotment and allowance payments will be discontinued and the account closed for settlement. When any such status is terminated by a return to the controllable jurisdiction of the Department of the Army the person will be advised of the allotments and family allowances in effect which constitute a charge to his account and will be afforded an opportunity to execute such changes therein as he desires. In the absence of discontinuance or changes by him, the allotments and allowances continued or established during the period of his absence will continue in effect.

Major General,
The Adjutant General.

TITLE 46—SHIPPING

Chapter I—Coast Guard: Inspection and Navigation

Subchapter M—Construction or Material Alteration of Passenger Vessels of the United States of 100 Gross Tons and Over Propelled by Machinery

PART 144—CONSTRUCTION OR MATERIAL ALTERATION OF PASSENGER VESSELS OF THE UNITED STATES OF 100 GROSS TONS AND OVER PROPELLED BY MACHINERY

CONVERSION OF CERTAIN VESSELS TO PASSENGER VESSELS

By virtue of the authority vested in me as Commandant, United States Coast Guard, by section 5, 49 Stat. 1384, sec. 2, 54 Stat. 1028, and sec. 5 (e), 55 Stat. 244, as amended, 46 U. S. C. 369, 463a, 50 U. S. C. 1275, and sec. 101 of Reorganization Plan No. 3 of 1946, 11 F. R. 7875, I find that an emergency exists and the following amendment to the regulations shall be made effective on the date of publication of this document in the FEDERAL REGISTER:

Section 144.29 (a) is amended by the addition of the following sentence:

§ 144.29 Alternate materials. (a) • • • Vessels to be converted for the transportation of personnel to and from salvage operations, offshore oil drilling operations, and similar operations, may be given special consideration.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 1384, sec. 2, 54 Stat. 1028, and sec. 5 (e), 55 Stat. 244, as amended; 46 U. S. C. 369, 463a, 50 U. S. C. 1275)

This amendment to the regulations is published without prior general notice of its proposed issuance for the reason that notice, public rule making procedure, and effective date requirements in connection therewith are hereby found to be impracticable and contrary to the public interest. This emergency is due to the shortage of suitable steel hull vessels and the shortage of steel preventing the conversion or construction of passenger vessels for service in offshore oil drilling or salvage operations. This added regulation allows vessels constructed of material other than steel to be used under certain conditions for the transportation of persons engaged in offshore oil drilling, salvage, and similar operations. Inasmuch as these operations are in the national interest, it will permit the continued operation of certain vessels as well as conversions of others for service in such operations.

Dated: October 8, 1948.

Admiral, U. S. Coast Guard, Commandant.

WISCONSIN EMPLOYMENT RELATIONS BOARD

AGREEMENT RELATING TO WORKING ARRANGEMENTS IN REFERENCE TO ELECTIONS

It is hereby understood and agreed between the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board, the National Labor Relations Board and the General Counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, that the following working arrangements between the parties will be observed in reference to elections conducted pursuant to section 9 (e) of the National Labor Relations Act, as amended, and section 111.06 (1c) of the Wisconsin Statutes:

In each case where there is concurrently pending a Petition for Bargaining Relative to Union Security before the National Labor Relations Board, pursuant to section 9 (e), and a Petition for a Referendum before the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board, pursuant to section 111.06 (1c) of the Wisconsin Statutes, the following procedures shall be followed:

The parties may enter into a Stipulation for Referendum, subject to the approval of the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof.

In order to obviate the necessity of holding two elections within the same bargaining unit, the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board, the National Labor Relations Board, and the General Counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, hereby agree to the arrangements set forth in the Stipulation for Referendum attached hereto and made a part hereof.

It is mutually agreed between the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board, the National Labor Relations Board and the General Counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, that the observer for the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board will have no official duties, responsibilities, or authority in connection with the election, except that of observer as specified in paragraph 4 of the Stipulation for Referendum and, further, except in connection with his duties and responsibilities to the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board. He will be subject to the control and supervision of the agent of the National Labor Relations Board at all times.

It is further agreed by the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board that such Board will not certify the results of any referendum conducted pursuant to this agreement until at least ten (10) days after the date of such election, and in no case will certify until after the Regional Office of the National Labor Relations Board, or the Board, has resolved any question concerning the conduct of the election, or challenged ballots which might be determinative of the results of the election.

It is understood, however, that the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board is not bound to adopt as final the determination of the Regional Director or the National Labor Relations Board on disposition of challenged ballots or objections to the election, based on the commission by either party to the election of any unfair labor practice.

The above agreement is subject to termination by any of the parties at any time.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 7-873]

NORTHERN STATES POWER CO.

FINDINGS AND ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 1st day of October A. D. 1948.

The New York Curb Exchange has made application to the Commission pursuant to section 12 (f) (3) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-12F-1 for permission to extend unlisted trading privileges to the Common Stock, Without Par Value, of Northern States Power Company, a Minnesota Corporation, 15 South Fifth Street, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

A public hearing has been held after appropriate notice.

The Commission, being duly advised, finds:

(1) That the $3.60 Cumulative Preferred Stock, No Par Value, the First Mortgage Bonds, 2¾% Series due October 1, 1975, and the First Mortgage Bonds, 2¾% Series due February 1, 1974, of Northern States Power Company are registered and listed on the New York Stock Exchange; that there is available from registration statements and periodic reports filed pursuant to rules and regulations under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, information substantially equivalent to that which would be available if the common stock of Northern States Power Company were registered on a national securities exchange; that the issuer, its officers and directors and every beneficial owner of more than 10 per centum of the common stock of this company will be subject to duties substantially equivalent to the duties which would arise under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 if the common stock of Northern States Power Company were duly registered and listed on a national securities exchange;

(2) A plan of simplification of a holding company system has been approved by the Commission in the matter of Northern States Power Company (Delaware) and Northern States Power Company (Minnesota) Holding Company Act of 1935, Release Nos. 7950 and 7978. This plan has been confirmed and ordered in force by the District Court of the United States for the District of Minnesota in its opinion dated August 30, 1948 and its order dated September 18, 1948. On October 4, 1948, the shareholders of Northern States Power Company, a Minnesota corporation, will meet to take action on the plan of simplification of this holding company system that has been approved by the Commission and by the Court. This plan involves reclassification of the previously outstanding common stock of Northern States Power Company, a Minnesota corporation, which under the plan will be distributed to holders of the preferred and common stocks of Northern States Power Company, a Delaware corporation. When this plan becomes effective by filing with the Office of the Secretary of State of the State of Minnesota certificates showing the action that has been taken by the shareholders, the date of which filing is not yet ascertained, the new common stock of Northern States Power Company, a Minnesota corporation, will be issued, and will be awaiting distribution to the preferred and common stockholders of Northern States Power Company, a Delaware corporation, who will be entitled to this distribution under the terms of the plan;

(3) That the geographical area deemed to constitute the vicinity of the New York Curb Exchange for the purpose of this application is the states of Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Ohio; that out of a total of 9,527,623 shares of common stock of Northern States Power Company, a Minnesota corporation, that will be issued when the plan becomes effective, there will be 2,716,194 shares owned by 4,787 shareholders in the vicinity of the New York Curb Exchange, according to an estimate based on the number of preferred and common shareholders of Northern States Power Company, a Delaware corporation, in the vicinity of the New York Curb Exchange on December 31, 1945, entitled to receive the new shares of common stock of the Minnesota corporation; the only evidence that is available in respect to the volume of trading that may take place in the new security in the vicinity of the New York Curb Exchange when it is issued is the fact that during the year 1947 103,300 shares of Class A Common Stock of Northern States Power Company, a Delaware corporation, were traded on the New York Curb Exchange and each holder of one of these shares will become entitled under the plan of simplification to receive in exchange 5¼ shares of the new common stock of the Minnesota corporation;

(4) That sufficient public distribution of, and sufficient public trading activity in this security will exist in the vicinity of the applicant exchange when the security is issued to render the extension of unlisted trading privileges thereto appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors; and

(5) That the extension of unlisted trading privileges on the applicant exchange to this security will be otherwise appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors.

Accordingly it is ordered, Pursuant to section 12 (f) (3) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, that the application of the New York Curb Exchange for permission to extend unlisted trading privileges to the Common Stock, Without Par Value, of Northern States Power Company, a Minnesota corporation be, and the same is, hereby granted, effective as of the date of issuance of this security.

By the Commission.

BROCKTON EDISON CO. AND EASTERN UTILITIES ASSOCIATES

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 6th day of October A. D. 1948.

On September 3, 1948, Brockton Edison Company ("Brockton"), a public utility subsidiary company of Eastern Utilities Associates ("EUA"), a registered holding company, and said EUA, filed an application-declaration pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, particularly sections 6 (b) and 12 thereof, and Rules U-42 (b) (2), U-44, and U-50 promulgated thereunder.

The application-declaration stated that Brockton proposed to issue and sell, pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, $4,000,000 principal amount of First Mortgage and Collateral Trust Bonds, _____% Series due 1978, the interest rate (which would be a multiple of ⅛th of 1%) and the price (which would be not less than 100% or more than 102¾% of the principal amount thereof, together with accrued interest from September 1, 1948, to the date of payment and delivery) to be determined by such competitive bidding. The net proceeds from such issue and sale were to be used to retire $2,625,000 principal amount of promissory notes of Brockton presently outstanding and to obtain funds for that company's construction purposes. Said bonds were to be secured by an Indenture of First Mortgage and Deed of Trust to State Street Trust Company, as Trustee, mortgaging and pledging all the assets of Brockton, (with certain specified exceptions), including its investment in the securities of Montaup Electric Company, a subsidiary company of Brockton and EUA. The application-declaration stated that such issue and sale are subject to the jurisdiction of the Department of Public Utilities of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, the State Commission of the State in which Brockton is organized and doing business, which State Commission has expressly authorized the proposed issue and sale of said bonds.

On September 10, 1948, this Commission issued a notice of filing with respect to said application-declaration stating therein that any interested person might, not later than September 22, 1948, request, in writing, that a hearing be held on the above-entitled matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues, if any, of fact or law raised by said application-declaration proposed to be controverted.

On September 22, 1948, within the time period specified in said notice of filing, Roger W. Babson, the owner of 32,850 shares of convertible stock of EUA, filed a protest against the proposed bond issue and a request for a hearing and oral argument.

On September 30, 1948, the Commission heard oral argument on said request and said application-declaration and after consideration of the matter issued the following ruling:

The Commission, having heard oral argument and having considered the matter, is of the opinion that no hearing is necessary on any of the issues raised except that involving the question whether Brockton's holdings of common stock of Montaup should be pledged as part of the security for the proposed bond issue. With respect to that issue the Commission has determined that a hearing should be held unless the applicants-declarants decide to withdraw the proposal to pledge the Montaup stock. It has accordingly directed that the applicants-declarants be given an opportunity, if they so desire, to withdraw said provision, and that if such withdrawal is forthcoming within 5 days the Commission will proceed to dispose of the application-declaration on the merits without any further hearing. If the applicants-declarants decide not to take such action, appropriate notice will be given convening a hearing for the purpose of taking testimony on the issue raised by the inclusion of the Montaup stock as security for the proposed bond issue.

Said ruling was communicated to Brockton and to EUA and on October 5, 1948, Brockton advised the Commission that it did not propose to withdraw the provision with respect to the pledge of Brockton's holdings in the common stock of Montaup Electric Company.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interests of investors and consumers that a hearing be held solely with respect to the limited matters set forth below, and that the application-declaration should not be granted or permitted to become effective except pursuant to further order of the Commission: It is ordered, That:

1. A hearing on the application-declaration with respect solely to the limited matters set forth below, shall be held pursuant to the applicable provisions of the act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, on October 20, 1948, at 10:00 a. m., e. s. t., at the office of the Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington, D. C. On such date the hearing room clerk in Room 101 will designate the room in which such hearing shall be heard. Any person desiring to be heard in connection with this proceeding or proposing to intervene herein shall file with the Secretary of the Commission on or before October 19, 1948, a written request relative thereto as provided by Rule XVII of the Commission's rules of practice;

2. The evidence to be adduced at the hearing shall be limited solely to the issue whether, in the light of the requirements of section 11 of the act, it is appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors and consumers that Brockton's holdings of common stock of Montaup Electric Company should be pledged as partial security for the proposed bond issue;

(3) Allen MacCullen, or any other officer or officers of this Commission designated by it for that purpose, shall preside at such hearing. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the act and to a hearing officer under the Commission's rules of practice;

4. Notice of this hearing shall be given to Brockton, EUA, and Roger W. Babson, or to their respective counsel of record herein, by registered mail, and to all other persons by publication of this order in the FEDERAL REGISTER and by a general release of this Commission distributed to the parties and mailed to the mailing list for releases issued under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935;

5. The protest and request for a hearing filed by Roger W. Babson be and hereby is denied except to the extent hereinabove set forth.

By the Commission.

FEDERAL REGISTER

VOLUME 13 NUMBER 201

Washington, Thursday, October 14, 1948

TITLE 21—FOOD AND DRUGS

Chapter I—Food and Drug Administration, Federal Security Agency

PART 141—TESTS AND METHODS OF ASSAY FOR ANTIBIOTIC DRUGS

PART 146—CERTIFICATION OF BATCHES OF PENICILLIN- OR STREPTOMYCIN-CONTAINING DRUGS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

By virtue of the authority vested in the Federal Security Administrator by the provisions of section 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (52 Stat. 1040, 1055, as amended by 59 Stat. 463 and 61 Stat. 11; 21 U. S. C., Sup. 357), the regulations for tests and methods of assay of antibiotic drugs (12 F. R. 2215; 13 F. R. 439, 2475, 3969, 4186) and certification of batches of penicillin- or streptomycin-containing drugs (12 F. R. 2231, 4369, 8723; 13 F. R. 436, 1087, 2291, 2475, 2950, 3969, 4186, 5152) are amended as indicated below:

1. Part 141 is amended by adding the following new section:

§ 141.32 Procaine penicillin and buffered crystalline penicillin for aqueous injection—(a) Potency, sterility, moisture, pyrogens, toxicity, pH. Proceed as directed in § 141.29.

(b) Buffered crystalline penicillin content—(1) Preparation of sample. Add 20 ml. of distilled water to the contents of a vial of the sample and shake well. Centrifuge, decant, and centrifuge the decanted liquid to obtain 12 to 15 ml. of clear solution.

(2) Iodometric assay for total penicillin. Dilute a 5.0-ml. aliquot of the clear solution prepared in accordance with subparagraph (1) of this paragraph to 50 ml. with 1% phosphate buffer at pH 6.0. Determine the total quantity of penicillin in a 2.0-ml. aliquot of this solution by the iodometric assay procedure described in § 141.5 (e).

(3) Colorimetric determination of procaine penicillin. (i) Transfer a 10.0-ml. aliquot of the solution prepared in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph to a 1-liter volumetric flask and make to volume with distilled water. Determine the quantity of procaine penicillin in a 10.0-ml. aliquot of this solution by the following method:

(ii) Reagents—(a) Sodium nitrite solution. Dissolve 0.1 gm. of sodium nitrite in 100 ml. distilled water. Prepare fresh solution every other day.

(b) Ammonium sulfamate solution. Dissolve 0.5 gm. of ammonium sulfamate in 100 ml. distilled water.

(c) N-(1-naphthyl)-ethylenediamine solution. Dissolve 0.1 gm. of N-(1-naphthyl)-ethylenediamine dihydrochloride in 100 ml. distilled water. Prepare fresh solution every other day.

(iii) Standard curve. Prepare a standard stock solution containing 275.5 ml. of procaine hydrochloride U. S. P. in a liter of distilled water. A standard working solution containing 2.755 mg. per liter is prepared by diluting 10.0 ml. of the standard stock solution to a liter with distilled water. (Each milliliter of the standard working solution is equivalent to 6 units of procaine penicillin.) Transfer, respectively, 2.0, 4.0, 6.0, 8.0, and 10.0 ml. of the standard working solution and 10.0 ml. of distilled water to each of six 25-ml. volumetric flasks. Add 8.0, 6.0, 4.0, and 2.0 ml. of water to the first four flasks, respectively, to give each a volume of 10.0 ml. To each flask add 0.5 ml. of 4N HCl, 1.0 ml. of the sodium nitrite solution, 1.0 ml. of the ammonium sulfamate solution, and 1.0 ml. of the N-(1-naphthyl)-ethylenediamine solution, with mixing after each addition. Make each flask to a volume of 25 ml. with distilled water. Read the percent light transmission of the colored solutions using a 2.0 cm. cell and a 550 μ filter in a suitable photoelectric colorimeter. The instrument is balanced so that the zero concentration reads 100% light transmission. Prepare a standard curve on semilog paper, plotting the percent light transmission on the logarithmic ordinate scale and the concentration as units of procaine penicillin on the abscissa.

(iv) Procedure. By means of a volumetric pipette transfer to a 25-ml. volumetric flask 10.0 ml. of the solution prepared in subparagraph (3) (i) of this paragraph. Add 0.5 ml. of 4N HCl, 1.0 ml. of the sodium nitrite solution, 1.0 ml.

of the ammonium sulfamate solution, and 1.0 ml. of the N-(1-naphthyl)-ethylenediamine solution with mixing after each addition. Make to 25.0 ml. with distilled water. Set the colorimeter at 100% light thansmission with the 0% concentration blank as directed above and obtain the percent light transmission of the sample. The concentration obtained directly from the standard curve corresponding to the percent light transmission of the sample X20 equals the concentration of procaine penicillin in 2 ml. of the solution prepared in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

The content of buffered crystalline penicillin in the sample vial is equal to the difference between the total number of units of penicillin in 2.0 ml. of the solution as determined by subparagraph (2) of this paragraph and the total number of units of procaine penicillin in 2.0 ml. of this same solution as determined above, multiplied by 100.

The content of buffered crystalline penicillin in the batch is satisfactory when determined by the method described in this paragraph if it is not less than 85% of that which it is represented to contain.

(c) Procaine penicillin. The procaine penicillin content of the batch is the difference between the potency determined by the method described in paragraph (a) of this section and the content of buffered crystalline penicillin determined by the method described in paragraph (b) of this section.

The procaine penicillin content of the batch is satisfactory when determined by the method described in this paragraph if it is not less than 85% of that which it is represented to contain.

2. The headnote of § 146.27 is amended to read:

3. Section 146.27 (a) is amended to read:

(a) Standards of identity, strength, quality, and purity. Tablets buffered penicillin is sodium penicillin, calcium penicillin, potassium penicillin, or procaine penicillin and one or more of the buffer substances sodium citrate, sodium benzoate, citric acid, aluminum hydroxide, calcium carbonate, magnesium oxide, aluminum dihydroxyaminoacetate, and sodium salts of fatty acids, in quantities sufficient to exert a buffering action. It is tableted with or without the addition of one or more suitable and harmless diluents, binders, lubricants, colorings, and flavorings. The potency of each tablet is not less than 50,000 units and if it is less than 100,000 units it is "unscored"; its moisture content is not more than 1.0%. The sodium penicillin, calcium penicillin, and potassium penicillin used conforms to the standards prescribed therefor by § 146.24 (a), except subparagraphs (1), (2), (4), and (7) of § 146.24 (a), but its potency is not less than 300 units per milligram. The procaine penicillin used conforms to the requirements of § 146.44 (a), except subparagraphs (2) and (3) of § 146.44 (a). Each other substance, if its name is recognized in the U. S. P. or N. F., conforms to the standards prescribed therefor by such official compendium.

4. Section 146.27, subparagraph (1) (iv) of paragraph (c) Labeling, is amended to read:

(iv) The statement "Expiration date ----------," the blank being filled in, if crystalline sodium or potassium penicillin is used, with the date which is 18 months, or if crystalline sodium or potassium penicillin is not used, with the date which is 12 months after the month during which the batch was certified.

5. Section 146.27, subparagraph (2) (ii) of paragraph (d) Requests for certification; samples, is amended to read:

(ii) The penicillin used in making the batch; potency, toxicity, moisture, pH, penicillin K content (unless it is crystalline penicillin G), crystallinity if it is crystalline penicillin, heat stability if it is crystalline sodium or potassium penicillin, the penicillin G content if it is crystalline sodium or potassium penicillin G, and the procaine penicillin G content if it is crystalline procaine penicillin G.

6. Section 146.27, subparagraph (3) (ii) of paragraph (d) is amended to read:

(ii) The penicillin used in making the batch; 6 packages, or in the case of crystalline penicillin 10 packages, each containing approximately equal portions of not less than 60 mg. if it is not procaine penicillin, and not less than 300 mg. if it is procaine penicillin, packaged in accordance with the requirements of § 146.24 (b) or § 146.44 (b).

7. The headnote of § 146.30 is amended to read:

§ 146.30 Penicillin troches (sodium penicillin troches, calcium penicillin troches, potassium penicillin troches, procaine penicillin troches, penicillin troches sodium salt, penicillin troches calcium salt, penicillin troches potassium salt, penicillin troches procaine salt). • • •

8. Section 146.30 (a) is amended to read:

(a) Standards of identity, strength, quality, and purity. Penicillin troches are troches composed of sodium penicillin, calcium penicillin, potassium penicillin, or procaine penicillin and one or more suitable and harmless diluents, binders, and lubricants, with or without ethyl aminobenzoate or one or more suitable and harmless masticatory substances, colorings, and flavorings. The potency of each troche is not less than 500 units; the moisture content is not more than 1.0%, except that if flavorings are omitted and it contains crystalline penicillin in a base of not less than 50% gelatin by weight, its moisture content is not more than 2%. The sodium penicillin, calcium penicillin, or potassium penicillin used conforms to the requirements of § 146.24 (a) except the limitation on penicillin K content and except subparagraphs (1), (2), (4), and (7) of § 146.24 (a), but the potency is not less than 300 units per milligram. The procaine penicillin used conforms to the requirements of § 146.44 (a), except the limitation on penicillin K content and except subparagraphs (2) and (3) of § 146.44 (a). Each other substance used, if its name is recognized in the U. S. P. or N. F., conforms to the standards prescribed therefor by such official compendium.

9. Section 146.30, subparagraph (2) (ii) of paragraph (d) Requests for certification; samples, is amended to read:

(ii) The penicillin used in making the batch; potency, toxicity, moisture, pH, crystallinity if it is crystalline penicillin, heat stability if it is crystalline sodium or potassium penicillin, the penicillin G content if it is crystalline sodium or potassium penicillin G, and the procaine penicillin G content if it is crystalline procaine penicillin G.

10. Section 146.30, subparagraph (3) (ii) of paragraph (d) is amended to read:

(ii) The penicillin used in making the batch; 5 packages, or in the case of crystalline penicillin 10 packages, each containing approximately equal portions of not less than 60 mg. if it is not procaine penicillin, and not less than 300 mg. if it is procaine penicillin, packaged in accordance with the requirements of § 146.24 (b) or § 146.44 (b).

11. Part 146 is amended by adding the following new section:

§ 146.50 Procaine penicillin and buffered crystalline penicillin for aqueous injection. Procaine penicillin and buffered crystalline penicillin for aqueous injection conforms to all requirements prescribed by § 146.47 for procaine penicillin for aqueous injection, and is subject to all procedures prescribed by § 146.47 for procaine penicillin for aqueous injection, except that:

(a) It contains not less than 50,000 units of buffered crystalline penicillin for each 300,000 units of procaine penicillin. The buffered crystalline penicillin conforms to the requirements prescribed therefor by § 146.37.

(b) In lieu of the directions prescribed for procaine penicillin for aqueous injection by § 146.47 (c) (1) (ii), each package shall bear on the outside wrapper or container and the immediate container the number of units of procaine penicillin and the number of units of buffered crystalline penicillin in the immediate container; the circular or other labeling within or attached to the package, if it is packaged for dispensing, shall bear, in lieu of the statement prescribed by § 146.47 (c) (2) (iii), the statement "Sterile suspension may be kept in refrigerator for one week without significant loss of potency."

(c) In addition to complying with the requirements of § 146.47 (d), a person who requests certification of a batch of procaine penicillin and buffered crystalline penicillin for aqueous injection shall submit with his request a statement showing the batch mark and (unless it was previously submitted) the results and the date of the latest tests and assays of the buffered crystalline penicillin used in making the batch for potency, crystallinity, heat stability, penicillin K content (unless it is buffered crystalline penicillin G) and the penicillin G content if it is buffered crystalline penicillin G, the number of units of procaine penicillin and the number of units of buffered crystalline penicillin in each immediate container of the batch. He shall also submit in connection with his request a sample consisting of three packages containing approximately equal portions of not less than 60 mg. each of the buffered crystalline penicillin used in making the batch. If such batch is packaged for repacking, such person shall submit with his request a sample containing 10 approximately equal portions of at least 400 mg. each packaged in accordance with the requirements prescribed by § 146.47 (b).

(d) The fee for the services rendered with respect to each immediate container in the sample of buffered crystalline penicillin submitted in accordance with the requirements prescribed therefor by this section shall be $4.00.

This order, which provides for the use of procaine penicillin in the manufacture of tablets buffered penicillin and penicillin troches; and for a new product, procaine penicillin and buffered crystalline penicillin for aqueous injection, shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, since both the public and the penicillin industry will benefit by the earliest effective date, and I so find.

Notice and pubic procedure are not necessary prerequisites to the promulgation of this order, and would be contrary to public interest, and I so find, since it was drawn in collaboration with interested members of the affected industry, and since it would be against public interest to delay providing for the use of procaine penicillin in the manufacture of tablets buffered penicillin and penicillin troches and to delay providing for a new penicillin product, procaine penicillin and buffered crystalline penicillin for aqueous injection.

Dated: October 8, 1948.

If the information is given in person, either orally or in writing, the name and official title of the person to whom it is given should be ascertained, as these data, together with the date on which the information was given, must be included in the formal claim for reward when filed.

An informant who intends to claim a reward should notify the person to whom he gives his information of such intention, and should file formal claim therefor as soon thereafter as practicable. Claims for reward under the provisions hereof shall be made on Form 211, which may be obtained from Collectors of Internal Revenue or from the Bureau at Washington 25, D. C. Such claims for reward should be executed before a notary public or other officer duly authorized by law to administer oaths, and should be transmitted to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Washington 25, D. (53 Stat. 467; 26 U. S. C. 3791, 3792)

Because this Treasury decision relates only to the Bureau procedure and practice in the offer of rewards, and because the changes made by this Treasury decision merely remove limitations on the reward offered under existing regulations, it is hereby found that it is unnecessary to issue this Treasury decision with notice of public procedure thereon under section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, or subject to the effective date limitation of section 4 (c) of said act.

SUGAR CONSUMPTION REQUIREMENTS, QUOTAS, AND QUOTA DEFICITS FOR THE CALENDAR YEAR 1949

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Pursuant to the authority contained in the Sugar Act of 1948 (7 U. S. C. Supp. I. 1100), the Secretary of Agriculture is preparing to determine the sugar consumption requirements and to establish sugar quotas for the calendar year 1949 (1) for the continental United States pursuant to sections 201 and 202 of the act, and (2) for local consumption in Hawaii and in Puerto Rico pursuant to sections 201 and 203 of the act. The Secretary is also preparing to determine whether any domestic area, the Republic of the Philippines, or Cuba will be unable to market the quota for such area in 1949 and to reallot, pursuant to section 204, any quota deficit so determined.

Section 201 of the act provides that the Secretary of Agriculture shall determine for each calendar year the amount of sugar needed to meet the requirements of consumers in the continental United States. In making such determinations, the Secretary is directed to use as a basis the amount of sugar distributed for consumption during the 12 months ending October 31 last and to adjust such amount for any deficiency or surplus in inventories of sugar and for changes in consumption because of the changes in population and demand conditions. The Secretary is also directed to take into consideration certain standards with a view to providing such supply of sugar as will be consumed at prices which will not be excessive to consumers and which will fairly and equitably maintain and protect the welfare of the domestic sugar industry. The standards to be taken into consideration include those enumerated above and also the level and trend of consumer purchasing power and the relationship between the prices at wholesale for refined sugar that would result from such determination and the general cost of living in the United States as compared with the relationship between prices at wholesale for refined sugar and the general cost of living in the United States obtaining during 1947 prior to the termination of price control.

Section 202 of the act provides for fixed quotas for the domestic areas and for the Republic of the Philippines and for the apportionment of the balance of the consumption requirements to foreign countries other than the Republic of the Philippines in accordance with stated percentages.

Section 203 of the act provides that the Secretary also shall determine in accordance with such provisions of Section 201 as he deems applicable, the amount of sugar needed to meet the requirements of consumers in Hawaii and in Puerto Rico and shall establish quotas for local consumption in such areas equal to the amounts so determined.

Section 204 of the act provides that the Secretary shall from time to time during the calendar year determine whether in view of various factors specified in the act, any domestic area, the Republic of the Philippines, or Cuba will be unable to market the quota for such area. Section 204 further provides that upon a finding that any such area will be unable to market its quota, the deficit so determined shall be reallotted in accordance with a stated formula.

A public hearing will be held in Washington, D. C., in the Auditorium, South Building, United States Department of Agriculture, on November 15, 1948, at 9:30 a. m. (e. s. t.) for the purpose of affording interested persons an opportunity to present orally any data, views, or arguments with respect to the determination of sugar consumption requirements and the establishment of sugar quotas for the continental United States for the calendar year 1949. The principal matters for consideration at the hearing relate to (1) the manner of determination of deficiencies or surpluses in inventories of sugar, (2) the effect upon consumption requirements of various changes in demand conditions, (3) the effect of the prospective 1949 level and trend of consumer purchasing power upon sugar consumption requirements, (4) the manner in which the relationship between the wholesale refined price of sugar and the general cost of living in the United States should be employed or considered in determining the sugar consumption requirements for 1949, and (5) the relative importance of the foregoing factors and the weighting which should be given each in determining the sugar consumption requirements for 1949.

Prior to the issuance of regulations setting forth the sugar consumption requirements for the continental United States for the calendar year 1949 and the sugar quotas for 1949 for domestic and foreign areas, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are presented at the hearing or which are submitted in writing to the Director, Sugar Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C. Prior to the issuance of regulations setting forth (1) the sugar consumption requirements for Hawaii and for Puerto Rico for the calendar year 1949 and the sugar quotas for 1949 for local consumption in such areas, and (2) the amount by which any domestic area, the Republic of the Philippines, or Cuba will be unable to market the quota for such area in 1949 and the reallotment of such deficits, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing to the Director, Sugar Branch, Production and Marketing Administration. Written data, views, or arguments must be submitted in quadruplicate and filed in person or postmarked not later than November 26, 1948. Such data, views, or arguments submitted at the hearing will be accepted as a part of the record, but will not be copied into the transcript of the oral testimony given at the hearing. All such data, views, or arguments will be available for examination at the office of the Hearing Clerk.

Administrator.

(d) Responsibility of handlers and reclassification of milk. (1) All skim milk and butterfat shall be classified as Class I milk unless the handler who first received such skim milk or butterfat proves to the market administrator that such skim milk or butterfat should be classified otherwise.

(2) Any skim milk or butterfat classified in one class shall be reclassified if used or reused by such handler or by another handler in another class.

(e) Computation of skim milk and butterfat in each class. For each delivery period the market administrator shall correct for mathematical and for obvious errors the delivery period report submitted by each handler and compute the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in Class I milk and Class II milk for such handler.

(iv) Subtract from the pounds of butterfat remaining in each class, in series beginning with the Class II utilization, the pounds of butterfat in non-Grade A milk other than butterfat shrinkage in non-Grade A milk subtracted pursuant to subdivision (i) of this subparagraph. The pounds of butterfat so subtracted shall be the pounds of butterfat in non-Grade A milk allocated to each class: Provided, That to the pounds of such butterfat in Class II shall be added the pounds of butterfat shrinkage in non-Grade A milk subtracted pursuant to subdivision (i) of this subparagraph.

(v) Add to the pounds of butterfat remaining in Class II the pounds of butterfat shrinkage in Grade A milk subtracted pursuant to subdivision (i) of this subparagraph; or if the remaining pounds of butterfat in all classes exceed the pounds of butterfat received in Grade A milk, subtract such excess from the remaining pounds of butterfat in each class in series beginning with the Class II utilization. The pounds of butterfat remaining shall be the pounds in each class allocated to Grade A milk.

(2) Skim milk shall be allocated to each class in a manner similar to that prescribed for butterfat in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph.

SEC. 5. Minimum prices—(a) Basic formula price. The basic formula price per hundredweight of milk to be used in computing the minimum prices for Class I milk provided in this section shall be the average of the basic (or field) prices ascertained to have been paid per hundredweight for milk of 3.5% butterfat content received from farmers during the delivery period at the following plants for which prices are reported to the market administrator by the U. (b) Class I milk prices. The minimum prices per hundredweight to be paid by each handler at his fluid milk plant for skim milk and butterfat received from producers during the delivery period, which is classified as Class I milk, shall be determined as follows:

(1) To the basic formula price add the following amounts for the delivery periods indicated:

April, May, June	$0.90
July, August, February, March	1.00
All others	1.25

(2) Divide the amount determined to be the average wholesale price per pound of 92 score butter on the Chicago market as reported by the U. S. D. A. for the delivery period, times, 1.2, times 3.5, by the sum of this amount plus an amount computed by averaging the carlot prices per pound of nonfat dry milk solids, roller and spray process, f. o. b. Chicago area plants as reported by the U. S. D. A. during the delivery period, deducting 5.5 cents and then multiplying by 8.2.

(3) Multiply the price computed in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph by the quotient determined in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, and then divide by 0.035. The resulting amount shall be the Class I butterfat price per hundredweight.

(4) From the price determined in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph subtract the amount computed in subparagraph (3) of this subparagraph times 0.035, and divide the remainder by 0.965. The resulting amount shall be the Class I skim milk price per hundredweight.

(c) Class II milk prices. The minimum prices per hundredweight to be paid by each handler at his fluid milk plant for skim milk and butterfat received from producers during the delivery period, which is classified as Class II milk, shall be determined as follows:

(1) Average the basic (or field) prices per hundredweight (computed to the nearest tenth of a cent) for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the delivery period at the following plants for which prices have been reported to the market administrator by the U. S. D. A. or by the companies listed below:

Company and Location

Defiance Milk Products Co., Defiance, Ohio
Pet Milk Co., Coldwater, Ohio.
Nestles Milk Products Co., Marysville, Ohio

(2) Multiply the price computed in paragraph (c) (1) of this section by the quotient computed in paragraph (b) (2) of this section and then divide by 0.035. The resulting amount shall be the Class II butterfat price per hundredweight.

(3) Subtract from the price computed in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph the amount computed in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph times 0.035 and divide the remainder by 0.965. The resulting amount shall be the Class II skim milk price per hundredweight.

SEC. 6. Determination of uniform prices—(a) Value of milk. The values of Grade A milk and of non-Grade A milk of each handler for each delivery period shall be the sums of money computed separately by the market administrator by multiplying the pounds of skim milk and butterfat in each class by the applicable class prices and adding together the resulting amounts, provided, that if a handler after the subtraction of other source milk and receipts from other handlers, has disposed of skim milk or butetrfat, in excess of the skim milk or butterfat, which on the basis of his reports for the delivery period pursuant to section 3 (a) has been credited to his producers as having been received from them, there shall be added to the value of Grade A milk an amount computed by multiplying the pounds in each class as subtracted pursuant to paragraph (f) (1) (v) and (2) of section 4 by the applicable class prices.

(b) Computation of prices. For each delivery period the market administrator shall compute separately the uniform prices per hundredweight, on the basis of 3.5 percent butterfat content, for Grade A milk and non-Grade A milk received by each handler from producers as follows:

(1) From the value of Grade A milk computed for such handler pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, deduct, if the weighted average butterfat test of all Grade A milk received by him is greater than 3.5 percent or add, if the weighted average butterfat test of such milk is less than 3.5 percent, an amount computed by multiplying the total pounds of butterfat represented by the variance of such weighted average butterfat test from 3.5 percent by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to section 7 (c) multiplied by 10;

(2) Add or subtract, as the case may be, the amount necessary to correct errors in classification for previous delivery periods as disclosed by audit of the market administrator.

(3) Adjust the resulting amount by the sum of money used in adjusting the uniform price to the nearest cent, pursuant to (5) of this paragraph for the preceding delivery period;

(4) Divide the result by the total hundredweight of Grade A milk represented by the value computed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section; and

(5) Adjust the resulting figure to the nearest cent.

(6) Compute the uniform price per hundredweight for non-Grade A milk for each handler in a manner similar to that prescribed for Grade A milk in subparagraphs (1), (2), (3), (4) and (5) of this paragraph.

(It is also proposed that consideration be given to alternative provisions which would provide for the payment by each handler to all producers or associations of producers delivering milk to each handler of a uniform market price based upon the uses made of all producer milk by all handlers.)

(c) Notification. On or before the 12th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall mail to each handler, at his last known address, a statement showing:

(1) The amount and value of his Grade A milk and non-Grade A milk in each class;

(2) The uniform prices for Grade A milk and for non-Grade A milk for such handler pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section and the butterfat differentials computed pursuant to section 7 (c); and

(3) The totals of the amounts to be paid by such handler pursuant to sections 8 and 9.

SEC. 7. Payment for milk—(a) Time and method of final payment. On or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler shall pay to each producer or to an association of producers, with respect to milk which was caused to be delivered to him by such association either directly or from producers who have authorized such association to collect payment for them, for milk received from each producer or from an association of producers, respectively, during such delivery period at not less than the uniform price for such handler adjusted by the butterfat differential pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section, less the amount of payment made pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Partial payments. On or before the last day of each delivery period, each handler shall pay to each producer, or to an association of producers authorized to receive payment, at not less than the uniform price for such handler for the preceding delivery period, for milk received from such producer or association of producers by such handler during the first 15 days of the delivery period: Provided, That in the event any producer discontinues shipping to such handler during the delivery period, such partial payments shall not be made and full payment for all milk received from such producer during the delivery period shall be made on the 15th day after the end of the delivery period pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Producer butterfat differential. In making payments pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section the uniform price for each handler shall be adjusted, for each one-tenth of one percent of butterfat content in the milk of each producer above or below 3.5 percent, as the case may be, by a butterfat differential (computed to the nearest half cent) calculated as follows: Multiply by 1.2 the average daily wholesale price per pound of 92 score butter in the Chicago market, as reported by the Department of Agriculture during the delivery period, and divide the result by 10.

SEC. 8. Expense of administration. As his prorata share of expense incurred pursuant to section 2 (c) (4), each handler shall pay the market administrator, on or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, 3 cents per hundredweight, or such lesser amount as the Secretary may from time to time prescribe, with respect to receipts, during such delivery period, of (a) milk from producers (including such handler's own production), and (b) other source milk at a fluid milk plant and classified as Class I milk.

SEC. 9. Marketing services—(a) Deductions for marketing services. Except as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, each handler, in making payments to producers pursuant to section 7 (a), with respect to all milk received from each producer (except milk of such handler's own production) at a plant not operated by a cooperative association of which such producer is a member, shall deduct 4 cents per hundredweight, or such lesser amount as the Secretary may from time to time prescribe; and on or before the 15th day after the end of such delivery period, shall pay such deductions to the market administrator. Such moneys shall be expended by the market administrator to verify weights, samples, and tests of milk of such producers and to provide such producers with market information, such services to be performed by the market administrator, or by an agent engaged by and responsible to him.

(b) Cooperative association. In the case of producers whose milk is received at a plant not operated by a cooperative association of which such producers are members, and for whom a cooperative association is actually performing the services described in paragraph (a) of this section, as determined by the market administrator, each handler shall make, in lieu of the deductions specified in paragraph (a) of this section; such deductions from payments required pursuant to section 7 (a) as may be authorized by the membership agreement or contract between such cooperative association and such producers, and pay such deductions on or before the 15th day after the end of such delivery period to the cooperative association rendering such services of which such producers are members.

SEC. 10. Adjustments of accounts—(a) Errors in payments. Whenever audit by the market administrator of any handler's reports, books, records, or accounts discloses errors resulting in moneys due (1) the market administrator from such handler, or such handler from the market administrator pursuant to section 8 or 9, or (2) any producer or cooperative association from such handler pursuant to section 7, the market administrator shall promptly notify such handler of any such amount due; and said payment thereof shall be made on or before the next date for making payment set forth in the provisions under which such error occurred, following the 5th day after such notice.

SEC. 11. Application of provisions—(a) Exempt milk. Milk received at a plant of a handler the handling of which the Secretary determines to be subject to the pricing and payment provisions of any other Federal milk marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act for any fluid milk marketing area shall not be subject to the pricing and payment provisions hereof.

(b) Milk caused to be delivered by cooperative associations. Milk referred to herein as received from producers by a handler shall include milk of producers caused to be delivered directly from the farm to the fluid milk plant of such handler by a cooperative association which is authorized to collect payment for such milk.

(c) Diverted milk. (1) Producer milk diverted by an operator of a fluid milk plant from such plant to a plant not a fluid milk plant shall be deemed to have been received by the fluid milk plant from which such milk was diverted.

(2) Producer milk diverted by a cooperative association from a fluid milk plant to a plant which is not a fluid milk plant shall be deemed to have been received by such association.

(d) Producer-handlers. Sections 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9 and 10 shall not apply to the milk of a producer-handler.

SEC. 12. Effective time. The provisions hereof, or of any amendment hereto, shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended or terminated.

SEC. 13. Suspension or termination—(a) When suspended or terminated. The Secretary shall, whenever he finds that this order or any provision thereof, obstructs or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, terminate or suspend the operation of this order or any such provision thereof.

(b) Continuing obligations. If, upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions of this order there are any obligations thereunder the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any person (including the market administrator), such further acts shall be performed notwithstanding such suspension or termination.

(c) Liquidation. Upon the suspension of the provisions hereof, except this section, the market administrator, or such other liquidating agent as the Secretary may designate, shall, if so directed by the Secretary, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office, dispose of all property in his possession or control, including accounts receivable, and execute and deliver all assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to effectuate any such disposition. If a liquidating agent is so designated all assets, books, and records of the market administrator shall be transferred promptly to such liquidating agent. If, upon such liquidation, the funds on hand exceed the amounts required to pay outstanding obligations of the office of the market administrator and to pay necessary expenses of liquidation and distribution, such excess shall be distributed to contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

SEC. 14. Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions hereof.

SEC. 15. Separability of provisions. If any provision hereof, or its application to any person or circumstances, is held invalid, the application of such provisions, and of the remaining provisions hereof, to other persons or circumstances shall not be affected thereby.

SEC. 16. Liability of handlers. The liability of the handlers hereunder is several and not joint, and no handler shall be liable for the default of any other handler.

Proposed by the Dairy Branch, Production and Marketing Administration:

SEC. 3 (d). Retention of records. All books and records required under this order to be made available to the market administrator shall be retained and made available by the handler for a period of three years to begin at the end of the calendar month to which such books and records pertain: Provided, That if, within such three-year period, the market administrator notifies a handler in writing that the retention of such books and records is necessary in connection with a proceeding under section 8c (15) of the act or a court action specified in such notice, the handler shall retain such books and records until further written notification from the market administrator.

SEC. 17. Termination of obligation. The provisions of this section shall apply to any obligation under this order for the payment of money irrespective of when such obligation arose, except an obligation involved in an action instituted before July 1, 1949, under section 8c (15) (A) of the act or before a court.

(a) The obligation of any handler to pay money required to be paid under the terms of this order shall, except as provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, terminate two years after the last day of the calendar month during which the market administrator receives the handler's report of utilization of the milk involved in such obligation, unless within such two-year period the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that such money is due and payable. Service of such notice shall be complete upon mailing to the handler's last known address, and it shall contain but need not be limited to, the following information:

(1) The amount of the obligation;

(2) The month(s) during which the milk, with respect to which the obligation exists, was received or handled; and

(3) If the obligation is payable to one or more producers or to an association of producers, the name of such producer(s) or association of producers, or if the obligation is payable to the market administrator, the account for which it is to be paid.

(b) If a handler fails or refuses, with respect to any obligation under this order, to make available to the market administrator or his representatives any books or records required by this order to be made available, the market administrator may, within the two-year period provided for in paragraph (a) of this section, notify the handler in writing of such failure or refusal. If the market administrator so notifies a handler, the said two-year period shall not begin to run until the first day of the calendar month following the month during which such books and records are made available to the market administrator or his representatives.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, a handler's obligation under this order to pay money shall not be terminated with respect to any transaction involving fraud or willful concealment of a fact, material to the obligation, on the part of the handler against whom the obligation is sought to be imposed.

(d) Any obligation on the part of the market administrator to pay a handler any money which such handler claims to be due him under the terms of this order shall terminate two years after the end of the calendar month during which the milk involved in the claim was received if an underpayment is claimed, or within two years after payment was made by the handler if a refund on such payment is claimed, unless such handler, within said periods of time, files, pursuant to section 8c (15) (A) of the act, a petition claiming such money.

Copies of this notice of hearing may be procured from the Hearing Clerk, Room 1844, United States Department of Agriculture, South Building, Washington 25, D. C., or may be there inspected.

Dated: October 11, 1948.

Assistant Administrator.

FEDERAL SECURITY AGENCY

Food and Drug Administration

[21 CFR, Part 17]

[Docket No. FDC-31 (b)]

BREAD AND RELATED PRODUCTS

DEFINITIONS AND STANDARDS OF IDENTITY

In the matter of a definition and standard of identity for each of the following foods: (a) Bread, and rolls or buns; (b) enriched bread, and enriched rolls or enriched buns; (c) milk bread, and milk rolls or milk buns; (d) cream bread, and cream rolls or cream buns; (e) butter bread, and butter rolls or butter buns; (f) egg bread, and egg rolls or egg buns; (g) honey bread, and honey rolls or honey buns; (h) butter and egg bread, and butter and egg rolls or butter and egg buns; (i) milk and honey bread, and milk and honey rolls or milk and honey buns; (j) raisin bread, and raisin rolls or raisin buns; (k) whole wheat bread, and whole wheat rolls or whole wheat buns; (l) breads, and rolls or buns made with mixtures of flour, whole wheat flour, cracked wheat, crushed wheat.

Notice of hearing. Notice is hereby given that the Federal Security Administrator in accordance with the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (secs. 401, 701, 52 Stat. 1046, 1055; 21 U. S. C. 341, 371) will reopen the record in the above matter and hold further hearings commencing at 10:00 o'clock in the morning of November 30, 1948, in Room 5140, Federal Security Building, Independence Avenue and Fourth Street SW., Washington, D. C., for the purpose of taking additional evidence for use in the formulation of definitions and standards of identity for bread and rolls or buns; enriched bread and enriched rolls or enriched buns; milk bread and milk rolls or milk buns; raisin bread and raisin rolls or raisin buns; whole wheat bread; graham bread; entire wheat bread; whole wheat rolls or buns; and breads, rolls, and buns made with mixtures of flour, whole wheat flour, cracked wheat, crushed wheat.

Pursuant to notices published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on June 7, 1941, and March 19, 1943, hearings were duly held at which evidence was taken with respect to definitions and standards of identity for the various breads named in such notices. On the basis of evidence received at said hearings a proposed order was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on August 3, 1943 (8 F. R. 10780). Exceptions to the proposed order were duly filed, but promulgation of a final order was postponed at the request of the War Food Administration, due to emergency conditions. In view of the time that has elapsed it is concluded that the record should be reopened to take new and relevant evidence that may have become available and that should be considered together with evidence taken at the previous hearings before a revised proposed order is issued.

Evidence at the hearing will be limited to that which is material and relevant to the proposed order of August 3, 1943, and that is not repetitive or unduly cumulative of evidence at the prior hearings.

The findings of fact and definitions and standards of identity in the proposed order published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on August 3, 1943 (8 F. R. 10780), are as follows:

Findings of fact.[1] 1. The food commonly and usually known as "bread" or "white bread", and that commonly and usually known as "rolls", "white rolls", "buns" or "white buns", are each prepared by baking a kneaded yeast-leavened dough made by moistening flour with water (or with certain other liquid ingredients hereinafter specified, alone or in combination with water), with the addition of salt, and usually with the addition of certain other ingredients, as hereafter set forth. Bread and rolls are sometimes prepared from bromated flour or phosphated flour or both, with or without admixture with plain flour. (R. pp. 30, 49, 57, 59–62, 69, 70, 71, Ex. A)

[1] The page references to certain relevant portions of the record are for the convenience of the reader; however, the findings of fact are not based solely on that portion of the record to which reference is made but on consideration of all the evidence of record.

2. Rolls differ from bread in the size of the units baked, and usually in their shape. A reasonable and satisfactory differentiation is that a loaf of bread weighs after cooling one-half pound or more, whereas a roll after cooling weighs less than one-half pound. (R. pp. 60–62, 69, Ex. A)

3. All bread and rolls contain moisture. Excessive moisture content tends to defraud consumers. A reasonable maximum limitation upon the moisture, which is somewhat in excess of the usual content, is 38 percent by weight, the solids being not less than 62 percent. A satisfactory and reliable method for determining the total solids contained in bread and rolls is the method prescribed in "Official and Tentative Methods of Analysis of the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists", Fifth Edition, 1940, page 229, under "Total Solids in an Entire Loaf of Bread—Official", except that if the baked unit weighs one pound or more one entire unit is used for the determination, and if the baked unit weighs less than one pound such number of entire units as weigh one pound or more are used for the determination. (R. pp. 64, 68, 85–87, 138–142, Ex. A, Ex. 2)

4. Shortening is commonly, but not always, added to bread dough. Any food fat or food oil, including butter, oleomargarine, and cream, or any mixture of two or more of these, is suitable for this purpose. For the purpose of furthering the shortening action of these fats and oils, soybean lecithin (which with its associated phosphatides is commercially known as "lecithin") and monoglycerides and diglycerides of fat-forming fatty acids are sometimes used and are suitable for use in such shortening. (R. pp. 71–73, 194, 198, 209–213, 228–229, 243–244, 269–270, 295, 307, 327, 464–466, 496–497)

5. The quantity of shortening used in bread dough varies rather widely. Although the evidence is not sufficiently definite to establish a maximum limit for shortening, the usual quantities are between 2 to 6 parts by weight for each 100 parts by weight of flour used, and seldom exceed 12 parts except in the cases of "sweet goods" and "specialty goods", products so distinctively different from bread and rolls as to be unlikely to be confused by consumers with bread or rolls. Such products usually contain from 12 to 30 parts of shortening. (R. pp. 368, 2543–2544, 2549, 2594, 2597, Ex. D)

6. Milk and various milk products are widely used in making bread and rolls, and serve to improve their nutritional value and to lend other desirable characteristics. In addition to fluid milk there have been used for these purposes, singly or in combination, concentrated milk, evaporated milk, sweetened condensed milk, dried milk, skim milk, concentrated skim milk, evaporated skim milk, sweetened condensed skim milk, and dried skim milk (including products from which part but not all of the milk fat has been separated). (R. pp. 73–75, 128–130, 438–440, 449, Ex. A)

7. In order to set bread made with any of the dairy ingredients specified in finding 6 apart from milk bread, it is reasonable that such ingredients (together with any butter and cream used) in bread be so limited in quantity or composition as not to meet the requirements prescribed in findings 42 to 45, inclusive, for the quantity and composition of such ingredients in milk bread. (R. pp. 74, 129)

8. Buttermilk, concentrated buttermilk, dried buttermilk, sweet cream buttermilk, concentrated sweet cream buttermilk, and dried sweet cream buttermilk, singly or in combination, are sometimes used in making bread or rolls for purposes similar to those stated for the dairy ingredients specified in finding 6. (R. pp. 75–76, 128, 1627–1629, 1638–1639)

9. Liquid eggs, frozen eggs, dried eggs, egg yolks, frozen yolks, dried yolks, egg white, frozen egg white, and dried egg white, singly or in combinations with each other, are sometimes used in making bread or rolls for the purpose of improving the nutritional value and imparting other desirable characteristics. (R. pp. 76, 130, Ex. A)

10. As the quantity of egg solids or egg yolk solids in the dough is increased the characteristics imparted to the baked product by such solids become more noticeable. The evidence does not establish the point at which the quantity of such solids results in products of different identities from white bread and white rolls, although the evidence indicates that such point lies between 2 parts and 5 parts for each 100 parts of flour. (R. pp. 131, 2669–2672)

11. Certain saccharine products are commonly used in making bread or rolls to furnish fermentable carbohydrates, to control the color of the crust, and to alter the taste, frequently to the extent of imparting some sweetness to the finished product. These include sugar, invert sugar (in sirup or congealed form), light-colored molasses, light-colored brown sugar, refiners sirup, dextrose, honey, corn sirup, dried corn sirup, nondiastatic malt sirup, and nondiastatic dried malt sirup. All of these products, used either singly or in combinations with each other, are satisfactory for the purposes stated. (R. pp. 76–77, 131, 712, 714–715, 740–741, 781, 785, 788, 795–797, Ex. A)

12. So-called "blackstrap molasses" and dark-colored brown sugar, by reason of their color and other properties, are unsuitable for use in bread or rolls. Concentrated water extract of raisins and concentrated water extract of prunes have been proposed as saccharine ingredients in bread or rolls, but are not shown to be suitable for this purpose, especially because of their color and taste. (R. pp. 670–672, 691, 743–744, 754–755, 1759–1761)

13. If carbohydrates are desired only for yeast fermentation, the quantity of saccharine substances added generally does not exceed 3 parts by weight (on a dry basis) for each 100 parts by weight of flour. When the baker wishes to produce some minor change in taste or in the appearance of the crumb or crust, increased quantities are used. Such baked products are considered by consumers as ordinary white bread or rolls unless they are definitely sweet or have acquired other definite characteristics from such ingredients. (R. pp. 327, 359, 791, 1046–1047, Ex. D)

14. It is impracticable to prescribe a maximum limit for saccharine ingredients generally in white bread or rolls because of the wide differences in the respective sweetness and other characteristics of such ingredients and because even where sugar alone is used the evidence is not definite as to the quantity above which an article ceases to be ordinary bread or becomes "sweet goods", although 16 parts by weight of sugar to each 100 parts by weight of flour appears to be about the average for sweet goods. (R. pp. 2744, 2947, 2979, 2983, 2990, Ex. D)

15. Malt sirup, dried malt sirup, malted barley flour, and malted wheat flour, each of which is diastatically active, are frequently used, singly or in combinations with each other, in making bread or rolls. Generally the use of these substances is for the purpose of compensating for a deficiency of natural enzymes in the flour used, and when used for this purpose alone is limited to quantities about 0.25 percent of the weight of the flour. In certain kinds of hearth bread, however, quantities of malt sirup or dried malt sirup as high as 4 percent, or even higher, are used to improve the crust characteristics, especially the color of crust. (R. pp. 505–509, 517–519, 522–523, 527–530)

16. Consumers normally expect white bread and rolls to be essentially products of wheat flour. At various times in the past, however, when there has been a scarcity of wheat flour, other similar grain products, especially corn flour, have been extensively used to replace part of the flour in making bread and rolls. Potato mash was sometimes used to develop a preliminary yeast growth, and was incorporated in the dough. So-called "dusting flour", often consisting in whole or in part of products other than wheat flour, has long been in common use to prevent the dough from sticking to the receptacles or to molding or other machinery; a considerable proportion of such dusting flour becomes incorporated in the dough Dextrinized starch is believed by many to have the property of retaining moisture in bread after baking. The advisory standards issued by the Secretary of Agriculture for white bread, beginning with the first such standard in 1923, have all recognized the propriety of such practices to the extent of the replacement of not more than 3 percent of the wheat flour by some "other edible farinaceous substance". (R. pp. 27, 30, 34, 77–78, 111–112, 1762–1764)

17. Products which have been used and are suitable for one or more of the purposes stated in finding 16 are corn flour (or finely ground corn meal), potato

flour, rice flour, cornstarch, potato starch, sweet potato starch, and wheat starch. Sometimes these products are wholly or in part dextrinized. Dextrinized wheat flour is also suitable for such use. (R. pp. 77–78, 105, 111–115, 132–133, 567–568, Exs. M and O)

18. Use in making white bread or rolls of any one or more of the products specified in finding 17, in a total quantity not greater than 3 parts by weight for each 100 parts by weight of wheat flour used, does not run counter to the normal expectation of present-day consumers. (R. pp. 34, 49, 78, 133, Ex. A)

19. Products referred to as "soybean flour," "peanut flour," and "cottonseed flour" were proposed for use, in quantities up to 3 parts per 100 parts of flour, as optional ingredients in bread and rolls. These products were claimed to serve the same purposes as the products specified in finding 17, and to contribute substantial nutritive values. (The proposal of "cottonseed flour" as an ingredient in white bread and rolls was subsequently withdrawn.) The evidence does not show that any of these products (except the soybean product referred to in finding 23) has been used to any material extent in making bread or rolls. These products contain far more protein and less starch than wheat flour, differ widely from the products specified in finding 17, and do not perform the same functions. (R. pp. 538, 540, 613–630, 640, 1765, 1772, 3897–3908, 3910)

20. Rolled oats, ground oatmeal, and oat flour were proposed as optional ingredients for inclusion with the products specified in finding 17, on the ground that such oat products are economical and nutritious foods and furnish a distinctive and desirable flavor. The evidence does not establish that any of these products has been used in making white bread or rolls, or their suitability for such use. (R. pp. 1768–1769, Ex. P)

21. The evidence does not establish that the use of the products listed in findings 19 and 20 results in any significant improvement when the quantities used are not more than 3 parts to each 100 parts of flour; it does indicate that the inclusion of such products in white bread would run counter to the normal expectation of consumers. The evidence furnishes no basis for a determination as to what quantities of such products should be used with flour to produce such differences from white bread as would result in different identities recognizable as such by consumers. (R. pp. 624–627, 633–643, 1769–1772, 3914–3915, 3937–3938, 3942–3945)

22. Wheat germ processed in various ways to modify its enzymatic activity and to prevent rancidity has been used as an ingredient in some white bread. The processing may consist of heating it, treating it with potassium bromate, removing part of the wheat germ oil, and possibly of treating it in other ways suggested but not described in the record. Such processed wheat germ was proposed as an optional ingredient for the purpose of imparting flavor and improving other characteristics of white bread. No proposal was advanced for recognition of use of unprocessed wheat germ such as that naturally present in small amounts in flour. The testimony as to these benefits from the use of small amounts of wheat germ in white bread (1½ to 2 parts by weight of processed wheat germ per 100 parts by weight of flour) is not convincing.

On the other hand, there was evidence establishing that the use of processed wheat germ in white bread has led to labeling and advertising claims based on its vitamin and mineral content, such as would likely confuse consumers with respect to identity and relative nutritive properties of bread and enriched bread. (Cf. findings 36, 37, 38, and 44 on enriched flour, 6 F. R. 2576–7) (R. pp. 116–118, 559–572, 576–577, 579–580, 584–585, 589–591, 593–605, 1765–1767, 3292–3293, 3298, 3367–3368, Ex. ZZ)

23. Ground dehulled soybeans, with or without heat treatment and with or without removal of oil, but which retain their enzymatic activity, exert a bleaching action upon flour in bread dough. The use of these products in dough permits the production of light-colored bread or rolls from unbleached or slightly bleached flour. For this purpose it is not necessary to use these products in a quantity greater than 0.5 part by weight to each 100 parts by weight of flour used. Ground dehulled soybeans have been used for this purpose in substantial amounts for more than 10 years. (R. pp. 111–113, 165–166, 539–540, 545, 552–555, 3926–3933)

24. In making bread and rolls it has become a widespread practice to add to the dough small quantities of certain mineral salts, commonly known by such designations as "yeast foods", "dough conditioners", "bread improvers". Calcium and ammonium salts are used to stimulate the growth of yeast during fermentation. Other salts, which act as oxidizing agents, are used to regulate the process of fermentation though the evidence establishes no satisfactory scientific explanation of the mechanism of their action. The evidence indicates that the addition of so-called dough conditioners tends to lessen the variability in the qualities of the dough resulting from differences in characteristics of the flour used, differences in water supply, and other factors, and thereby to facilitate the handling of the dough in mechanized bakeries. (R. pp. 78–82, 133–135, 838–858, 875–876, 892–900, 904–905, 995–999, 1014, 1034–1035, 1065, 1071–1074, 1080)

25. Calcium salts used for the purpose described in finding 24 are monocalcium phosphate, dicalcium phosphate, calcium sulfate, and calcium lactate. Ammonium salts used for this purpose are mono-ammonium phosphate, di-ammonium phosphate, ammonium sulfate, ammonium chloride, ammonium carbonate and ammonium lactate. It is not necessary to use any of these salts or any combination of them in a quantity greater than 0.25 part by weight for each 100 parts by weight of flour used. (R. pp. 78–81, 104, 133–135, 831, 838–840, 870, 883–884, 887–888, 990, 992–993)

26. Oxidizing agents used for the purposes described in finding 24 are potassium bromate, potassium iodate, calcium peroxide, ammonium persulfate, potassium persulfate, and sodium chlorite. It is not necessary to use any of these oxidizing agents or any combination of them (including the potassium bromate contained in any bromated flour used) in a quantity greater than 0.0075 part by weight for each 100 parts by weight of flour used. (R. pp. 78–81, 135–136, 840–841, 895–900, 933–935, 990–994)

27. A product described as "grain infusion" was proposed for use as a yeast food and bread improver. It is a mixture of concentrated corn steepwater, neutralized with calcium carbonate, and dextrinized cornstarch with added ammonium chloride, salt, and potassium bromate. The concentrated steepwater, a byproduct of the starch industry now generally used for cattle feed, is made by concentrating the liquid obtained by steeping corn in water containing 0.15 percent of sulfur dioxide. The so-called "grain infusion" as sold to the baker contains approximately 0.002 percent of sulfur dioxide, which is oxidized during fermentation and baking. The evidence does not establish that this so-called "grain infusion" is suitable for use in bread or that it improves the quality of bread otherwise than through the action of the calcium and ammonium salts and the potassium bromate contained in it. (R. pp. 946–981, 1776, 2146–2175, 4106–4112, 4129–4130, 4134)

28. Amino acids, especially cystine, were proposed for use as oxidizing agents. The evidence does not establish the suitability of such acids for use in bread or rolls. (R. pp. 1773–1775 Ex. W)

29. Spice is sometimes added to bread or rolls, usually on the surface but occasionally by incorporation in the dough. Spice oil and spice extracts have been used to a slight extent. Such additions materially affect the flavor of the bread or rolls. Consumers do not ordinarily expect such additions unless announced by appropriate label statement. Such statements which are accurate and informative are "Spiced", "Spice Added", "With Added Spice", or such statements in which the common or usual name of the spice is substituted for the word "spice". (R. pp. 84, 1817–1820)

30. Bread is subject to deterioration and spoilage. The most common form of deterioration is staling. Old bread or stale bread is almost universally regarded as less desirable than fresh bread. Staling in bread may be retarded by various devices. The length of time for staleness to develop varies, depending on several factors, but it is the common practice of many bakers to withdraw bread from sale two days after baking. Some bakers make a price concession on bread over one day old. (R. pp. 435, 1162, 1407–1408, 1438–1440, 2365, Exs. FF, GG)

31. In addition to staling, bread is subject to spoilage from the growth of mold. If the surface of bread is moist, it is a good medium for the growth of mold spores. The temperature of baking effectively destroys any mold spores in the dough, but such spores may be present in the bakery and bread not suitably protected during and after cooling may become contaminated with such spores. When bread is sliced and wrapped, as is the common practice among large bakeries, the moisture remaining in the bread is held inside the wrapper, keeping the surface of bread moist and so creating a favorable environment for the growth of mold spores which may have accumulated on the surface of the loaf or of the slices prior to wrapping. Unwrapped bread from which moisture can evaporate readily is less likely to become moldy. Mold development on bread is most rapid in warm weather, especially when the humidity is high. (R. pp. 1124–1137, 1140, 1143, 1270, 1481, 1500, Ex. AA)

32. The time necessary for the development of visible mold varies greatly, depending on a number of conditions. Under conditions most favorable to mold growth, a visible speck of mold may develop within one or two days after exposure of the bread to the spores. Under normal summer conditions, however, several days will elapse between the time of contamination and the appearance of a mold spot sufficiently large to be noticed. (R. pp. 1143, 1409, 1413, 1473, 1490–1491)

33. A considerable number of bakers take no steps to protect their bread from mold other than controls within the bakery which tend to prevent contamination of the bread with mold spores. A few bakers have installed special precautionary devices for this purpose which are elaborate and beyond the means of bakers generally. Methods available to most bakers do not wholly prevent contamination, and where this occurs in sufficient degree and conditions are favorable to mold growth losses of bread may follow. Many bakers, and probably a majority of wholesale bakers, have adopted the practice of adding to the dough, at least during summer months, some substance which will retard the growth of mold on the bread. Proposals were made to recognize as optional ingredients for this purpose sodium and calcium propionates and sodium diacetate. (R. pp. 1138–1139, 1151, 1154, 1476–1479, 1673, 1674, 3879–3880, 3986, 4046–4047, Exs. X, QQ)

34. In addition to spoilage from mold, decomposition and spoilage in bread are caused on rare occasions by the growth inside the loaf of a type of bacterium which, in spore form, can survive the temperature of baking. This bacterium, Bacillus mesentericus, causes spoilage which in advanced stages is characterized by an unpleasant odor and a pasty consistency of the center of the loaf. This pasty material will pull out into fine threads, and such bread is said to be "ropy". B. mesentericus is known as the rope-forming organism. (R. pp. 1163–1164, 1166, 1231, 1425, 2658, 2993–2994, 3001, 3820–3822, 4045)

35. Technical experts in the baking industry are not entirely in agreement as to how the rope organism enters bread dough but they generally agree that the most probable means is through use in preparing the dough of raw materials contaminated with numerous spores of the organism. There is some possibility that spores may be air-borne and enter the dough from the air circulating in the bakery. In order for spoilage from rope organisms to develop in bread there must be a combination of circumstances, where a considerable number of spores enter the dough and where the bread is held for some time after baking at a high temperature under conditions whereby the moisture in the bread is retained. Where such a combination of circumstances occurs, large losses may occur from such spoilage. (R. pp. 1165–1167, 1169, 1353–1354, 1495, 2190, 3813, 3819, 3824, Exs. HH, II)

36. A considerable number of bakers take no steps for the protection of bread from rope other than by the use of ingredients sufficiently low in spore content. The ordinary baker, however, has no means of quickly testing ingredients to determine if they are contaminated with rope-forming organisms and must rely upon suppliers to furnish ingredients which are safe to use. Much progress has been made by suppliers in safeguarding their product. Many bakers, however, probably including a majority of wholesale bakers, at some time during the year add some type of ingredient to dough as additional assurance against rope development. (R. pp. 1174, 1294–1298, 1502, 3826, 3832, 3870–3871, 4042, 4044, Exs. HH, WWWW)

37. It was found several years ago that materials which render the dough slightly more acid than normal are effective in preventing the development of the rope organism. The acidity of the finished bread need not be greater than pH 5.0. The necessary increase in acidity is frequently effected by adding about a pint of 100-grain vinegar for each 100 pounds of flour used in the dough. Another product used by bakers for increasing acidity is monocalcium phosphate, which is the acidifying ingredient in phosphated flour. About ½ pound or less of monocalcium phosphate per 100 pounds of flour usually increases acidity sufficiently for this purpose, or phosphated flour may be used. Other acids which are said not to interfere with yeast growth have also been tried to a limited extent but have no advantage over vinegar or monocalcium phosphate and, so far as the record shows, such other acids are not now in use. In more recent years it has been found that sodium and calcium propionates are effective in retarding the growth of rope organism without a significant change in acidity. Even more recently sodium diacetate, which liberates acetic acid in the dough, has been used in lieu of vinegar and monocalcium phosphate as insurance against possibility of rope. (R. pp. 137, 1040, 1170, 1174, 1183–1184, 1644, 1674–1679, 3818, 3968–3969, 3976–3977, Exs. JJ, KK)

38. The quantity of calcium propionate or sodium propionate or both, used in white bread for the purposes indicated in findings 33 and 37 need not exceed 0.32 part by weight for each 100 parts by weight of flour used. The quantity of sodium diacetate used for such purposes need not exceed 0.4 part by weight. The quantity of any vinegar used for the purposes indicated in finding 37 need not exceed 1 pint of any vinegar of 100-grain strength for each 100 pounds of flour used, or corresponding amounts of vinegar of less strength to furnish an equivalent amount of acetic acid. The quantity of monocalcium phosphate used for the purposes indicated in finding 37 exceeds the amount used as a yeast food (for which purpose the maximum amount used is 0.25 part for each 100 parts by weight of flour used) but does not exceed 0.75 part for each 100 parts by weight of flour. (R. pp. 1322–1323, 1413, 1486, 1649, 1680, 1687, 3964, 3969, 3976, 3977, Ex. X)

39. The evidence shows that a substantial proportion of the bakers do not consider that they have a mold or rope problem and that they use none of the substances referred to in finding 37. Most bakers consider that they do have a mold or rope problem during the months of relatively high temperature, particularly when the humidity is high, and these bakers use such substances during those months. Some bakers consider that they have a mold and rope problem throughout the entire year and use such substances continuously. The evidence points to possibilities that the use of such substances may result in practices contrary to consumer interest but does not establish that such practices exist or are likely to develop to any material extent. (R. pp. 1412, 1428–1429, 1453–1459, 1478–1479, 1495, 1697, 2187–2191, 3003–3005, 3879, 3880, 3986, 4046–4047, Ex. QQ)

40. All of the substances used as set forth in finding 38 act as preservatives in bread and rolls in that they delay spoilage by certain micro-organisms. All of such substances, except vinegar, are chemicals within the usual meaning of that term. (R. pp. 2046–2048, 2050)

41. The foods commonly and usually known as "milk bread" and "milk rolls" or "milk buns" differ from bread and rolls primarily in that they contain a certain minimum of milk solids. Findings 2 to 5 and 9 to 41, inclusive, are applicable to milk bread and milk rolls. (R. pp. 35, 1830, 1831, 2415, 2527, 2586, Ex. A)

42. Milk bread is prepared in the home and to a considerable extent in commercial bakeries by using milk as the sole ingredient for moistening the flour and other ingredients to make the dough. However, many bakers use, instead of milk, various milk products with or without water, containing essentially the same quantity of milk solids as would be supplied by milk when it is used as the sole wetting agent. Milk products which are used for this purpose and which are suitable for such use are concentrated milk, evaporated milk, sweetened condensed milk, dried milk, and reconstituted milk (see finding 44). (R. pp. 1836–1837, 2527–2528, Exs. A, III)

43. The solids of milk may be divided into two well-recognized components, milk fat and nonfat milk solids. The relative proportion of fat and nonfat milk solids varies somewhat, but in milk of average composition as delivered to consumers the quantity of nonfat milk solids is not more than 2.3 times the quantity of milk fat. In milks of greater richness than average milk the fat content may rise to a point where the nonfat milk solids is about 1.2 times the milk fat. (R. pp. 1838, 2371–2383, 2529, Exs. 4, AAA, LLL)

44. The dairy ingredients used to supply milk constituent solids in the reconstitution of milk for making milk bread are skim milk, concentrated skim milk, evaporated skim milk, sweetened condensed skim milk, dried skim milk, or any two or more of these, combined with butter or cream or both. Unless a maximum limit is set on the proportion of nonfat milk solids to milk fat in reconstituting milk, abuses can easily arise through the use of decreasing quantities of milk fat and increasing quantities of the less expensive nonfat milk solids. It is reasonable to require that when reconstituted milk is used, the proportion of nonfat milk solids to milk fat fall within the range set forth in finding 43. (R. pp. 444–447, 1830, 1833, 1836, 1838, 1846, 2507, 2509, Exs. 2, III)

45. The quantity of water necessary to make flour into dough varies somewhat, but it is generally about 60 pounds to each 100 pounds of flour and in practically no case is less than 58 pounds to 100 pounds of flour. In milk of average composition, 58 pounds of moisture is associated with 8.23 pounds of milk solids; a reasonable minimum requirement for milk solids in milk bread made with dairy ingredients other than fluid milk is 8.2 pounds to each 100 pounds of flour. Because of variation in the total solids content of fluid milk and because of differences in the quantity of moisture absorbed in making the dough it would not be reasonable to prescribe a minimum based on the average composition of milk for the milk solids content of milk bread when fluid milk is used as the sole moistening ingredient. (R. pp. 452–454, 1840, 2445–2446, 2565, 2566, 2607)

46. Milk bread is generally considered by consumers to be made from milk and not from buttermilk. Buttemilk and its products, such as those listed in finding 8, are not appropriate ingredients of milk bread. (R. pp. 443, 1840–1842, 2419)

47. In the announcement of the hearing definitions and standards of identity were proposed for:

Cream bread and cream rolls or cream buns,
Butter bread and butter rools or butter buns,
Egg bread and egg rolls or egg buns,
Butter and egg bread and butter and egg rolls or butter and egg buns,
Honey bread and honey rolls or honey buns,
Milk and honey bread and milk and honey rolls or milk and honey buns.

In each instance the American Bakers Association proposed other definitions and standards differing from the proposals for hearing chiefly in that they would require substantially lesser amounts of the ingredients indicated by the names of the various kinds of bread and rolls or buns. (R. Ex. 1. Also see page references under finding 48.)

48. The quantities of the characterizing ingredients specified in the published proposal and the quantities recommended by the American Bakers Association are shown in the following tabulation ("parts" signify parts by weight for each 100 parts by weight of flour used in preparing dough):

	Published proposals	Proposals by American Bakers Association
Cream bread, Cream rolls, Cream buns	12 parts of milk fat from cream or combination of milk fat and nonfat milk solids in certain specified proportions.	4 parts milk fat.
Butter bread, Butter rolls, Butter buns	12 parts milk fat from butter	Do.
Egg bread, Egg rolls, Egg buns	5 parts of egg solids	2 parts of egg solids.
Butter and egg bread, Butter and egg rolls, Butter and egg buns	12 parts milk fat from butter, 5 parts egg solids.	4 parts milk fat, 2 parts egg solids.
Honey bread, Honey rolls, Honey buns	16 parts honey solids	4 parts.[1]
Milk and honey bread, Milk and honey rolls, Milk and honey buns	Milk content same as for milk bread, 16 parts honey solids.	Milk content same as for milk bread, 4 parts honey solids.

[1] 3 parts of honey solids was recommended by a witness introduced by the American Bakers Association (R. pp. 2808, 2870).

(R. pp. 1849–1854, 2423–2425, 2427–2428, 2476–2479, 2552–2555, 2568, 2623–2625, 2638, 2644–2645, 2673, 2703, 2713, 2717, 2739–2746, 2755–2757, 2759–2760, 2795–2796, 2820, 2837–2838, 2846, 2933, 2965, 3046–3047, 3049–3051, 3061, 3068)

49. There have been sold at times under the names of the products listed in finding 48, or under similar names, breads containing little or none of the ingredients for which the breads have been named. This practice has not been widespread. The amount of such bread is small in comparison with the total amount of bread sold but this practice has tended to mislead the consumer, giving the impression that these ingredients are used in such substantial amounts as to characterize the breads. (R. pp. 1851, 1854, 2339–2340, 2476, 2478, 2497–2498, 2617–2620, 2625, 2627, 2631, 2640, 2740–2742, 2788, 2910–2911, 3044–3046, 3058–3060, Ex. III)

50. The evidence does not establish that products containing these ingredients in the quantities proposed by the American Bakers Association (see finding 48) are distinguishable by the ordinary consumer from the product commonly known as "bread" or "white bread". It is not shown that benefit to consumers would result from the promulgation of definitions and standards of identity for these products as proposed by the American Bakers Association. (R. pp. 2495, 2552–2553, 2555, 2569, 2621–2624, 2632, 2641, 2672, 2742–2743, 2795–2797, 2807, 2820, 3036–3037, 3039, 3046, 3049, 3051)

51. There is not shown to be, or to be likely to develop, a demand on the part of consumers for bread or rolls containing the quantities of these ingredients in the published proposals which were supported by the Food and Drug Administration (see finding 48). The evidence does not establish that such proposed definitions and standards of identity would be reasonable. (R. pp. 1851, 2427, 2476, 2498, 2553, 2570, 2700, 2713–2715, 2867–2868, 2931–2932, 2965–2966)

52. The foods commonly and usually known as "raisin bread" and "raisin rolls" or "raisin buns" differ from bread and rolls primarily in that raisins are added to the dough before baking. Seedless (or seeded) raisins are suitable for such use. They are usually washed and are often soaked in water before being added to the dough. Except as noted in findings 54 and 55, findings 2 to 6 and 8 to 40, inclusive, are applicable to raisin bread and raisin rolls; finding 7 is inapplicable thereto. (R. pp. 35–36, 3076–3084, 3086–3091, 3092–3097)

53. The quantity of raisins used in making raisin bread varies somewhat. A minimum requirement for raisins based on the weight of raisins in the loaf was contained in the advisory standard for raisin bread promulgated some years ago. A more understandable requirement from the standpoint of the baker is a specification of the weight of raisins (before soaking or washing) used with each 100 parts by weight of flour. The requirement of the advisory standard calculated to this basis is about 35 parts of raisins to each 100 parts of flour. In recent years it has become the practice of most bakers to use substantially more raisins and a minimum requirement of 50 parts of raisins to each 100 parts of flour now conforms more nearly to consumer preference and good bakery practice. (R. pp. 35–36, 3076–3080, 3088–3090, 3093–3097, Exs. 2, III, TTT, UUU, VVV)

54. When making raisin bread some bakers use as a saccharine ingredient a raisin sirup made by concentrating a water extract of raisins (referred to in finding 12). Such an extract is suitable for use in raisin bread but such raisin extractives as are incorporated in this manner do not take the place of raisins used in making the raisin bread. Raisin bread and raisin rolls are sometimes prepared with an "icing" or "frosting". (R. pp. 3080, 3125)

55. The method of determining total solids as described in finding 3 must be modified slightly to be applicable to raisin bread and raisin rolls in order to insure the proper mixing of raisins in the sample. This can be accomplished by passing the sample twice through a food chopper and then taking a portion for solids determination without attempting to pass the ground sample through a 20-mesh sieve. (R. pp. 3086–3087, Ex. 2)

56. The foods commonly and usually known as "whole-wheat bread", "graham bread", "entire white bread", and "whole wheat rolls", "graham rolls", "entire wheat rolls", or "whole wheat buns", "graham buns", "entire wheat buns", differ from white bread and white rolls only in that the dough is made with whole wheat flour or bromated whole wheat flour, and no flour, bromated flour, or phosphated flour is used therein. Findings 2 to 6 and 8 to 40, inclusive, are applicable to whole wheat bread and whole wheat rolls, except that the maximum limit for propionates (see finding 38) is 0.38 part by weight to each 100 parts by weight of whole wheat flour used. Finding 7 is inapplicable to whole wheat bread and whole wheat rolls. (R. pp. 34–35, 1323, 1413, 3126–3135, 3160–3161, Exs. 2 and A)

57. Several different kinds of bread and rolls are prepared which differ from white bread and white rolls only in that the dough is made by using various mixtures of two or more of the wheat ingredients flour (including bromated flour and phosphated flour), whole wheat flour, cracked wheat, crushed wheat. In order to obtain in finished bread and rolls of these kinds the definite characteristics of each of the wheat ingredients used, it is necessary that the quantity of each such ingredient be not less than 20 percent by weight of the mixture of wheat ingredients used. Findings 2 to 6 and 8 to 40, inclusive, are applicable to bread and rolls of these kinds, except that the maximum limit for propionates (see finding 38) is 0.38 part by weight to each 100 parts by weight of the mixture of wheat ingredients. Finding 7 is inapplicable to bread and rolls of these kinds. (R. pp. 38, 1323, 1413, 3135–3158, 3160–3161, Exs. 5, 6, 7)

58. Bread and rolls of these kinds are ordinarily labeled with the word "bread" and "rolls", preceded by the name of one of the wheat ingredients (for example, "cracked wheat bread"). Consumers are confused as to the composition of such products by the failure to disclose in the name other wheat ingredients present in characterizing quantities. Names for them which are accurate and informative are the words "bread" and "rolls" or "buns", as the case may be, preceded by words which show the wheat ingredients used in the order of their predominance, if any, by weight in the mixture, as for example, "white and whole wheat bread". (R. pp. 3135–3158, Exs. 5, 6, 7)

59. "Enriched bread" and "enriched rolls" or "enriched buns" are the common and usual names of baked products identical with bread and rolls, respectively, except that they contain added nutrients and are not subject to the limitations indicated in finding 7. The reasons for enriching flour and for regulating such enrichment are applicable to enriched bread and enriched rolls; such reasons are set forth in findings 33 to 41, inclusive, of the order prescribing a definition and standard of identity for enriched flour (6 F. R. 2574–2582), as modified and supplemented by findings 1 to 11, inclusive, of the order amending that definition and standard of identity (8 F. R. 9115–9116). The basis for requiring or permitting the particular enriching ingredients and the particular quantities thereof specified in such findings is also applicable to enriched bread and enriched rolls. Findings 2 to 6, 8 to 21, and 23 to 40, inclusive, are applicable to enriched bread and enriched rolls. (R. pp. 3241–3255).

60. The quantities of vitamins and minerals in enriched bread and enriched rolls are those which result from the use of enriched flour or enriched bromated flour in lieu of flour, bromated flour, or phosphated flour. These quantities may be contributed by any of the following methods, or by any two or more of them in combination:

(a) Enriched flour or enriched bromated flour is used, in whole or in part.

(b) The substances used for enriching flour (including wheat germ or partly defatted wheat germ in a quantity not more than 5 parts by weight to each 100 parts of flour, bromated flour, and phosphated flour used) are added in making the dough, under the conditions permitted by § 15.010, as amended, for the addition of such substances in preparing enriched flour.

(c) Ingredients of bread which contain such vitamins or minerals (e. g., yeast, dried skim milk, monocalcium phosphate) are used within the limits, if any, for such use in bread. (R. p. 3241; Supp. R. pp. 375, 843, 893, 900, 958, 961)

61. It would not be reasonable to subject enriched bread or enriched rolls to any requirement for or limitation on enrichment that cannot be met in ordinary commercial practice by the use of any enriched flour which conforms to the definition and standard of identity prescribed in § 15.010, as amended. (R. p. 3320)

62. The flour content of enriched bread and enriched rolls varies from a minimum of about 60 percent to a maximum of about 75 percent, depending upon such factors as the quantity of ingredients other than flour used and the moisture content of the finished products. In baking such products there is some loss of vitamins, mostly through destruction in the crust. Such losses of niacin, riboflavin, and vitamin D are negligible, and in the cases of niacin and riboflavin are compensated by some contribution of these vitamins by yeast and other ingredients commonly used. Except as noted for thiamine, riboflavin, and calcium in findings 63, 64, and 65, minima for the vitamins and minerals in enriched bread and enriched rolls of 60 percent of the minima prescribed for enriched flour, and maxima of 75 percent of the maxima for enriched flour, are, when rounded off to the nearest significant decimal point, reasonable limitations when enriched flour is used to make enriched bread and enriched rolls. On this basis each pound of enriched bread or enriched rolls contains not less than 10 mg. nor more than 15 mg. of niacin; not less than 8 mg. nor more than 12.5 mg. of iron; and when the optional ingredient vitamin D is used, not less than 150 U. S. P. units nor more than 750 U. S. P. units of such vitamin. It would not be reasonable to prescribe minima and maxima for vitamins and minerals, when they are added in making the dough, different from the minima and maxima prescribed when enriched flour is used. An unnecessarily wide spread between minima and maxima would likely lead to competitive increases between manufacturers, accompanied by such advertising claims as would confuse consumers as to their nutritional needs and the value of enriched bread in supplying those needs. Consumer understanding of the value of enriched bread will be promoted by requiring its composition to be as nearly uniform as practicable as to both quantities and kinds of nutritional factors present. (R. pp. 3241–3252, 3306, 3466–3472, 3474–3488, 3692–3696, 3770–3782, 3786–3800; Supp. R. pp. 287, 362–364, 645, 648, 649, 844–854)

63. In baking enriched bread and enriched rolls losses of thiamine are appreciable. However, if flour enriched to the minimum of 2 mg. of thiamine per pound is used there is sufficient contribution of thiamine from the yeast and other ingredients customarily added that in common commercial practice the finished products contain not less than 1.1 mg. of thiamine per pound. If flour enriched to the maximum of 2.5 mg. per pound is used, the thiamine content of the finished products, after due allowances are made for contributions from such ingredients and for baking losses, will not exceed 1.8 mg. per pound. (R. pp. 3242–3251, 3466–3472, 3474–3488, 3770–3782; Supp. R. pp. 363–368, 372, 647, 844–854)

64. Yeast and milk or its products used in making enriched bread and rolls may contribute as much as 0.48 mg. of riboflavin per pound of bread or rolls. When these are used with enriched flour containing 1.5 mg. riboflavin per pound the riboflavin content of the enriched bread or enriched rolls may aproach 1.6 mg. per pound. When milk and its products are not used and the enriched flour contains the minimum 1.2 mg. riboflavin per pound the riboflavin content of the enriched bread or enriched rolls may fall to nearly 0.7 mg. per pound. (Supp. R. pp. 844, 848)

65. Dried skim milk, so-called "bread improvers", rope inhibitors, and other optional ingredients used in making bread and rolls may contribute nearly 300 mg. of calcium per pound of bread or rolls. When these are used with enriched flour containing 625 mg. calcium per pound the calcium content of the enriched bread or enriched rolls may approach 800 mg. per pound, particularly if water used in making the dough is high in calcium. When these are not used and the enriched flour contains the minimum of 500 mg. calcium per pound the calcium content of the enriched bread or enriched rolls may fall to about 300 mg. per pound. (Supp. R. pp. 849, 858)

66. The following are reasonable limits for the specified vitamins and minerals in enriched bread and enriched rolls or enriched buns:

	Minimum	Maximum
Required ingredients:
Thiamine	1.1 mg. per lb.	1.8 mg. per lb.
Niacin	10.0 mg. per lb.	15.0 mg. per lb.
Riboflavin	0.7 mg. per lb.	1.6 mg. per lb.
Iron	8.0 mg. per lb.	12.5 mg. per lb.
Optional ingredients:
Calcium	300 mg. per lb.	800 mg. per lb.

(Supp. R. pp. 153, 157, 159, 160–162, 221, 278–280, 312–313, 386–388, 773–774, 797–798, 843–848, 888)

Conclusions. On the basis of the foregoing findings of fact it is concluded that:

(a) The evidence does not establish a basis for definitions and standards of identity, which would be reasonable and would promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of consumers, for:

Cream bread and cream rolls or cream buns.
Butter bread and butter rolls or butter buns.
Egg bread and egg rolls or egg buns.
Butter and egg bread and butter and egg rolls or butter and egg buns.
Honey bread and honey rolls or honey buns.
Milk and honey bread and milk and honey rolls or milk and honey buns.

(b) It would not promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of consumers to prescribe definitions and standards of identity for white bread and white rolls permitting the use as optional ingredients of soybean flour (except the soybean product referred to in finding 23 and within the limit set forth in such finding), peanut flour, cottonseed flour, rolled oats, ground oatmeal, or oat flour in quantities insufficient to differentiate the baked products from bread and rolls. The evidence does not establish a basis for a determination as to what provisions should be included in definitions and standards of identity, which will promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of consumers, for baked products containing such ingredients in quantities sufficient to differentiate such products from white bread and white rolls.

(c) It would not promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of consumers to prescribe a definition and standard of identity for any kind of bread or rolls, except enriched bread and enriched rolls, providing for the use of processed wheat germ.

(d) It would not promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of consumers to prescribe a definition and standard of identity for any kind of bread or rolls, except raisin bread and raisin rolls, providing for the use of concentrated water extract of raisins or raisin sirup.

(e) It would not promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of consumers to prescribe a definition and standard of identity for any kind of bread or rolls providing for the use of blackstrap molasses, dark-colored brown sugar, or concentrated water extract of prunes.

(f) The evidence does not establish a basis for a determination that it would promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of consumers to prescribe a definition and standard of identity for any kind of bread or rolls providing for the use of amino acids or of so-called "grain infusion", or a definition and standard of identity for raisin bread or raisin rolls providing for the use of raisins in any quantity less than 50 parts by weight to each 100 parts by weight of any kind of flour ingredient used.

(g) It would not promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of consumers to prescribe a definition and standard of identity for any kind of bread or rolls made from two or more of the wheat ingredients flour (including bromated flour and phosphated flour), whole wheat flour, cracked wheat, and crushed wheat under the name of one of such ingredients, or which provides for the use of any such ingredient in any quantity less than 20 percent by weight of the total of such ingredients.

(h) The record contains no evidence on the interest of consumers in label declaration of the presence of the preservatives calcium propionate, sodium propionate, sodium diacetate, monocalcium phosphate, and vinegar. However, section 403 (k) of the Act requires a statement in the labeling of bread and rolls in which calcium propionate, sodium propionate, sodium diacetate, or monocalcium phosphate is used, disclosing the fact that such chemical preservative is present. An informative and accurate statement of that fact is "_____ added to retard spoilage", the blank being filled in with the name whereby the chemical preservative used is above designated.

(i) Each of the following regulations fixing and establishing definitions and standards of identity for various kinds of bread and rolls or buns will promote honesty and fair dealing in the interest of consumers, and such regulations are hereby promulgated:

§ 17.5 Bread and rolls or buns—identity; label statement of optional ingredients. (a) Each of the foods bread, and rolls or buns, is prepared by baking a kneaded yeast-leavened dough made by moistening flour with water, or with one or more of the liquid optional ingredients hereinafter specified, or with any mixture of water and one or more of such ingredients. (The term "flour", unqualified, as used in this section includes flour, bromated flour, and phosphated flour. The potassium bromate in any bromated flour used and the monocalcium phosphate in any phosphated flour used shall be deemed to be optional ingredients in the bread or rolls.) Each of such foods is seasoned with salt, and in its preparation one or more of the optional ingredients prescribed by the following subparagraphs (1) to (12), of this paragraph, may be used:

(11) (i) Monocalcium phosphate, but the total quantity thereof, including the quantity in any phosphated flour used and any quantity added as permitted by subparagraph (9) of this paragraph, is not less than 0.25 part and not more than 0.75 part by weight to each 100 parts by weight of flour used; or (ii) a vinegar, in a quantity equivalent in acid strength to not more than 1 pint of 100-grain distilled vinegar for each 100 pounds of flour used; or (iii) calcium propionate, sodium propionate, or any mixture of these, but the total weight thereof is not more than 0.32 part for each 100 parts by weight of flour used; or (iv) sodium diacetate, but the weight thereof is not more than 0.4 part for each 100 parts by weight of flour used.

(12) Spice (including spice oil and spice extract). Each of such foods contains not less than 62 percent of total solids as determined by the method prescribed in "Official and Tentative Methods of Analysis of the Association of Official Agricultural Chemists", Fifth Edition, 1940, page 229, under "Total Solids in an Entire Loaf of Bread—Official", except that if the baked unit weighs 1 pound or more 1 entire unit is used for the determination, and if the baked unit weighs less than 1 pound, such number of entire units as weigh 1 pound or more are used for the determination.

(b) Bread is baked in units each of which weighs one-half pound or more after cooling. Rolls or buns are baked in units each of which weighs less than one-half pound after cooling.

(2) When an optional ingredient permitted by paragraph (a) (12) of this section is used, the label shall bear the statement "Spiced" or "Spice Added" or "With Added Spice"; but in lieu of the word "Spice" in such statements the common or usual name or names of the spice may be added.

(3) Wherever the name of the food appears on the label so conspicuously as to be seen under customary conditions of purchase, the words and statements hereinbefore specified in this paragraph shall immediately and conspicuously precede or follow such name, without intervening written, printed, or graphic matter.

§ 17.6 Enriched bread and enriched rolls or enriched buns—identity; label statement of optional ingredients. (a) Each of the foods enriched bread, and enriched rolls or enriched buns, conforms to the definition and standard of identity, and is subject to the requirements for label statement of optional ingredients, prescribed for bread by § 17.5 (a) and (c), except that:

(6) The limitation prescribed by § 17.5 (a) (2) on the quantity and composition of milk and dairy ingredients does not apply.

As used in this section the term "flour", unqualified, includes bromated flour and phosphated flour; the term "enriched flour" includes enriched bromated flour. The prescribed quantity of any substance referred to in subparagraphs (1), (2), and (3) of this paragraph may be supplied or partly supplied through the use of enriched flour; or through the direct addition of such substance under the conditions permitted by § 15.010, of this chapter, as amended, for the addition of such substance in the preparation of enriched flour; or through the use of any ingredient containing such substance, which ingredient is required or permitted by § 17.5 (a), within the limits, if any, prescribed by such section (as modified by subparagraph (6) of this paragraph); or through the use of wheat germ; or through any two or more of such methods.

(b) Raisin bread is baked in units each of which weighs one-half pound or more after cooling. Raisin rolls or raisin buns are baked in units each of which weighs less than one-half pound after cooling.

§ 17.9 Whole wheat bread, graham bread, entire wheat bread, and whole wheat rolls, graham rolls, entire wheat rolls, or whole wheat buns, graham buns, entire wheat buns—identity; label statement of optional ingredients. (a) Each of the foods whole wheat bread, graham bread, entire wheat bread, and whole wheat rolls, graham rolls, entire wheat rolls, or whole wheat buns, graham buns, entire wheat buns, conforms to the definition and standard of identity, and is subject to the requirements for label statement of optional ingredients prescribed for bread and rolls or buns by § 17.5 (a) and (c), except that:

(1) The dough is made with whole wheat flour and no flour is used therein;

(2) The limitation prescribed by § 17.5 (a) (2) on the quantity and composition of dairy ingredients does not apply; and

As used in this section the term "flour", unqualified, includes flour, bromated flour, and phosphated flour; the term "whole wheat flour" includes whole wheat flour and bromated whole wheat flour. The potassium bromate in any bromated whole wheat flour used shall be deemed to be an optional ingredient in the whole wheat bread or whole wheat rolls.

(b) Whole wheat bread, graham bread, or entire wheat bread, is baked in units each of which weighs one-half pound or more after cooling. Whole wheat rolls, graham rolls, entire wheat rolls, whole wheat buns, graham buns, or entire wheat buns, are baked in units each of which weighs less than one-half pound after cooling.

§ 17.10 Breads and rolls or buns made with mixtures of flour, whole wheat flour, cracked wheat, crushed wheat—identity; label statement of optional ingredients. (a) The articles for which definitions and standards of identity are prescribed by this section are the foods each of which conforms to the definition and standard of identity, and is subject to the requirements for label statement of optional ingredients, prescribed for bread and rolls or buns by § 17.5 (a) and (c), except that:

(1) The dough is made with a mixture of two or more of the following wheat ingredients in which the weight of each such ingredient used is not less than 20 percent of the weight of such mixture: (i) Flour (including bromated flour and phosphated flour); (ii) whole wheat flour (including bromated whole wheat flour); (iii) cracked wheat; (iv) crushed wheat;

(2) The limitation prescribed by § 17.5 (a) (2) on the quantity and composition of dairy ingredients does not apply; and

(3) The total weight of calcium propionate, sodium propionate, or mixtures of these used is not more than 0.38 part for each 100 parts by weight of such mixture.

(b) The potassium bromate in any bromated flour or bromated whole wheat flour used, and the monocalcium phosphate in any phosphated flour used shall be deemed to be optional ingredients in the finished baked products.

(c) If such food is baked in units each of which weighs one-half pound or more after cooling, the name of such food is "_____ Bread"; if in units each of which weighs less than one-half pound after cooling, "_____ Rolls" or "_____ Buns", the blank being filled in each instance with the names of the wheat ingredients in the order of predominance, if any, by weight of such ingredients in the mixture used in making the dough, as for example "White and Whole Wheat Bread". For the purposes of this provision the name of the wheat ingredient specified in paragraph (a) (1) (i) of this section is "White"; in paragraph (a) (1) (ii) is "Whole Wheat", "Graham", or "Entire Wheat"; in paragraph (a) (1) (iii) is "Cracked Wheat"; and in paragraph (a) (1) (iv) is "Crushed Wheat".

Additional evidence is particularly invited with respect to the oxidizing chemicals named in proposed finding 26, showing whether the compounds named are harmless and whether they are needed in the production of bread.

Mr. Bernard D. Levinson is hereby designated as presiding officer to conduct the hearing, in the place of the Administrator, with full authority to administer oaths and affirmations and to do all other things appropriate to the conduct of the hearing. The presiding officer is required to certify the supplementary record of the proceedings of this hearing to the Administrator for consideration with the previous record, prior to issuance of a revised proposed order based on the entire record.

The hearing will be conducted in accordance with the rules of practice provided therefor.

LONE STAR GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

OCTOBER 7, 1948.

Notice is hereby given that on October 1, 1948, Lone Star Gas Company (Applicant), a Texas corporation having its principal place of business at Dallas, Texas, filed an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, authorizing the construction and operation of a 6-inch natural-gas pipe line loop, and auxiliary equipment, approximately 10,150 feet in length to parallel Applicant's present 6⅝-inch line which extends southwesterly from a point on Applicant's Line A near Chillicothe, Hardeman County, Texas to a point of connection with Applicant's Line U in said county; and also an 8-inch natural-gas pipe line, and auxiliary equipment, approximately 308 feet in length to extend from Applicant's said 6⅝-inch line to the suction header of United Gas Pipe Line Company's compressor station located near Chillicothe, Hardeman County, Texas.

Applicant proposes, by means of the proposed facilities, to increase the delivery capacity from Applicant's Line A to its U System, thus enabling Applicant to have additional volumes of gas available for peak demand deliveries from said U System during the winter months. It is stated in the application that the construction of the proposed facilities will assist in alleviating the difficulty Applicant has experienced for the last several years in supplying the demands on its U System during periods of peak demand.

The application further states that the proposed facilities will be used to supply the same markets as are now being served by Applicant, and that no change in present rates is contemplated.

The estimated total over-all capital cost of the proposed facilities stated in the application is $20,965.00, which will be paid solely out of Applicant's current funds.

Any interested State commission is requested to notify the Federal Power Commission whether the application should be considered under the cooperative provisions of § 1.37 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure and, if so, to advise the Federal Power Commission as to the nature of its interest in the matter and whether it desires a conference, the creation of a board, or a joint or concurrent hearing, together with reasons for such request.

The application of Lone Star Gas Company is on file with the Commission and is open to public inspection. Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to the application shall file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., not later than 15 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, a petition to intervene or protest. Such petition or protest shall conform to the requirements of §§ 1.8 or 1.10, whichever is applicable, of the rules of practice and procedure (as amended on June 16, 1947).

MESABI PIPE LINE CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

OCTOBER 8, 1948.

Notice is hereby given that on October 4, 1948, an application was filed with the Federal Power Commission by Mesabi Pipe Line Company (Applicant), a Minnesota corporation with its principal office at St. Paul, Minnesota, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, authorizing the Applicant to construct and operate an 18-inch natural gas transmission pipeline commencing at a point in Keokuk County, Iowa, at the terminus of a pipeline proposed by Trunkline Gas Supply Company for which a certificate application is pending as Docket No. G-882, and extending in a generally northerly direction through the states of Iowa, Wisconsin, and Minnesota, to a point in Itasca County, Minnesota, together with necessary facilities for the reception of gas into Applicant's proposed pipeline and for its compression at appropriate points.

Applicant states that its primary proposal is to provide low-grade iron ore processors in the Mesabi Range with such natural gas as may be required for their purposes in processing low-grade iron ore and to serve gas companies tributary to its proposed line supplies of natural gas where no gas service is now available, and to serve other tributary gas companies supplies of natural gas in addition to their already available supplies. It is estimated that a minimum of 100,000 Mcf daily will be required by such mining companies.

Applicant proposes to secure its supply of natural gas from the Trunkline Gas Supply Company at the terminus of its proposed line.

The estimated total over-all cost of the proposed facilities is $19,291,750 which Applicant proposes to finance through the issuance and sale to the public of bonds and preferred stock, supplemented by the procurement and issuance of additional shares of its common stock.

D. natural was transmission pipeline commencing at a point in Keokuk County, Iowa, at the terminus of a pipeline proposed by Trunkline Gas Supply Company (Trunkline) for which a certificate application is pending at Docket No. G-882, and extending in a generally northerly direction approximately 400 miles through the States of Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota to a point in Itasca County, Minnesota, as described in such application on file with the Commission and open to public inspection;

It appears to the Commission that:

(a) Hearings at Docket No. G-882 were held from September 8 through September 16, 1948, at which time Trunkline completed its direct presentation and the hearing was recessed until October 4, 1948.

(b) By order entered September 30, 1948, the date of reconvening hearing on the application at Docket No. G-882 was postponed until October 18, 1948, for the purpose of receiving additional evidence to be presented in support of Trunkline's amended application, and the Commission remanded the record to the Presiding Examiner for such purposes, And further provided, That upon the conclusion of the presentation of such evidence the record shall be forthwith certified to the Commission and the hearing be recessed pending disposition of a motion to strike and a motion to dismiss filed therein.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 1-1241]

ENGINEERS PUBLIC SERVICE CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION TO STRIKE FROM LISTING AND REGISTRATION, AND OF OPPORTUNITY FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 8th day of October A. D. 1948.

The Boston Stock Exchange, pursuant to section 12 (d) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and Rule X-12D2-1 (b) promulgated thereunder, has made application to strike from listing and registration the common stock, $1.00 par value, of Engineers Public Service Company.

The application alleges that (1) Engineers Public Service Company was dissolved on June 30, 1947; (2) all its assets have already been distributed to its preferred and common stock holders with the exception of a small amount of cash and with the exception of common stock of Virginia Electric and Power Company; (3) after deduction of a bank loan of $900,000, there remains a net value for these assets of aproximately $1,864,000; (4) there are now outstanding approximately 1,909,968 shares of common stock of Engineers Public Service Comany; (5) the value of the assets of this corporation remaining undistributed is approximately $1.00 per share; (6) in addition, Engineers Public Service Company has a contingent claim to any portion remaining of an escrow fund set up for the benefit of preferred stock holders in their right to payment of premium upon the liquidation of the preferred stock, which is now in the process of litigation; (7) that assuming the outcome of this litigation is such that this escrow fund reverts to the Engineers Public Service Company, except for the expenses of administration of the fund, this would amount to not to exceed $2.00 per share for the outstanding shares of common stock of Engineers Public Service Company; and (8) the rules of the Boston Stock Exchange with respect to striking a security from registration and listing have been complied with.

Upon receipt of a request, prior to October 20, 1948, from any interested person for a hearing in regard to terms to be imposed upon the delisting of this security, the Commission will determine whether to set the matter down for hearing. Such request should state briefly the nature of the interest of the person requesting the hearing and the position he proposes to take at the hearing with respect to imposition of terms or conditions. In addition, any interested person may submit his views or any additional facts bearing on this application by means of a letter addressed to the Secretary of the Securities and Exchange Commission, Washington, D. C. If no one requests a hearing on this matter, this application will be determined by order of the Commission on the basis of the facts stated in the application, and other information contained in the official file of the Commission pertaining to this matter.

PENNSYLVANIA GAS AND ELECTRIC CORP. AND NORTH SHORE GAS CO.

NOTICE OF FILING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 8th day of October 1948.

The Commission having on September 3, 1948, issued an order pursuant to section 11 (b) (1) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") directing that Pennsylvania Gas and Electric Corporation ("Penn Corp"), a registered holding company, shall, among other things, sever its relationship with North Shore Gas Company ("North Shore"), a wholly owned subsidiary of Penn Corp, by disposing or causing the disposition of its direct or indirect interest, ownership, control and holding of securities issued and properties owned, controlled or operated by North Shore.

Notice is hereby given that Penn Corp and North Shore have filed with this Commission a joint application and declaration pursuant to sections 9, 10, 12 (c) and 12 (d) of the act and Rules U-42, U-44, and U-46 thereunder with respect to the proposed sale by North Shore of all its gas properties and business and the proposed liquidation and dissolution of North Shore.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than October 21, 1948, at 5:30 p. m., e. s. t., request the Commission in writing, that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law raised by said application and declaration which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission orders a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after October 21, 1948, said application and declaration, as filed or as amended, may be granted and permitted to become effective, respectively, as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transaction as provided in Rule U-20 (a) and Rule U-100 thereof.

All interested persons are referred to said application and declaration which are on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed which may be summarized as follows:

North Shore proposes to sell to Haverhill Gas Light Company ("Haverhill"), a non-affiliated public utility company, all of North Shore's properties and business, exclusive of cash, insurance contracts and claims for refund of taxes, for a base price of $145,000 subject to closing adjustments. It is estimated by the company, on the basis of North Shore's balance sheet at August 31, 1948, that retained cash plus closing adjustments will amount to approximately $25,000. North Shore proposes to use $87,500 of the proceeds of the sale to retire all of its outstanding long-term debt consisting of a like principal amount of notes held by Penn Corp, proposes to distribute, after provision for other debts, the balance of such proceeds and all additional cash in the company's treasury to Penn Corp as a liquidating dividend, and proposes to retire all of its capital stock, and, thereafter, to be dissolved.

The properties to be sold by North Shore comprise a manufactured gas distribution system serving gas in and about the Massachusetts towns of Essex, Georgetown, Hamilton, Ipswich, Manchester, Rowley, Topsfield and Wenham. North Shore purchases its entire gas requirements from Haverhill and serves gas to consumers in territory contiguous to that served by Haverhill. The net operating income of North Shore for the 12 months ended August 31, 1948, was $14,456 (after estimated Federal income taxes, computed on the basis of the filing of a consolidated Federal income tax return with its parent, Penn Corp).

The filing indicates that during the last several months, several proposals for the purchase of North Shore's properties were received from various interested parties, and that the price offered by Haverhill was the highest.

The filing states that the proposed sale is subject to the jurisdiction of the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities.

Penn Corp and North Shore request that the Commission's order be issued prior to November 1, 1948, the contract closing date, and that such order become effective forthwith.

By the Commission.

1948 INTERNATIONAL CONVENTION FOR SAFETY OF LIFE AT SEA REVISES RADIO PROVISIONS

NOTICE TO U. S. SHIPOWNERS, SHIP RADIO STATION LICENSEES AND OTHERS CONCERNED

OCTOBER 1, 1948.

The International Convention for the Safety of Life at Sea, 1929, ratified by the United States, underwent extensive revision in London last June. The 1948 Convention with annexed regulations supersedes the 1929 document and comes into force on January 1, 1951.

The purpose of this Convention is to insure, through international treaty agreement, that, from the point of view of safety of life, a ship is fit for the service for which it is intended. Application of the Convention, however, is made only to ships on international voyages, that is, from a country to which the Convention applies to a port outside such country, or conversely.

All aspects of ship safety are dealt with in the revised document, including the fitting and use of radio, contained in Chapter IV. Numerous modifications of and additions to safety radio requirements of the earlier document appear in the revised version. Highlighting these changes is the extension of safety radio requirements to cargo ships between 500 and 1600 gross tons. When cargo ships in this group are not equipped with a radio-telegraph installation, they must be fitted with a radiotelephone installation meeting specified requirements. The radiotelephone requirement takes advantage of the decision made at International Radio Conference held last year at Atlantic City to establish an international calling and distress frequency (2182 kc) for the Maritime Mobile radiotelephone service.

Another outstanding change is the broadened requirement that all ships of 1600 gross tons and upward are to be fitted with an approved radio direction finder. This instrument is not only an important aid to navigation, but has also proved to be most effective in search and rescue work. Through its use rescuing ships can "home" on distress ships and survival craft radio transmissions.

Important because they increase the number of ships available for alerting for distress calls are revised provisions relating to the fitting and use of the auto alarm and listening by human operator. The new basic provision states that each ship required to be fitted with a radio telegraph installation (1600 gross tons and upwards), shall, while at sea, and, if not fitted with an approved auto alarm, listen continuously on the international radiotelegraph distress frequency by means of a qualified operator using some aural method. In the case of ships required to be fitted with a radiotelegraph installation, which are fitted with an approved auto alarm, the number of hours of human listening varies with the kind of ship, its tonnage, duration of voyage, or number of passengers carried. However, the basic provision, with certain exceptions and delay clauses, for listening by means of a qualified operator using some aural method, is at least 8 hours per day in the aggregate.

Many other changes are included. When the required number of lifeboats to be carried by a ship is less than 20, such ships must be provided with an approved portable radiotelegraph apparatus. The portability feature affords considerable flexibility in the placement of the unit to meet a given situation. It may be used in a lifeboat, at various places on the ship, and even taken ashore for use in the case of stranding.

Basically, the revised provisions on the radiotelegraph installation require a main installation and an emergency (reserve) installation, electrically separate and electrically independent of each other. Nevertheless, certain delay clauses in the case of passenger ships and relaxations in the case of cargo ships are included in the provisions.

As regards required radio devices in general, the trend of the revised provisions is toward more details and exacting specifications. This is particularly true of the auto alarm, main and emergency radiotelegraph installations, and the radio direction finder. Specifications for radiotelephone, lifeboat, and portable lifeboat installations appear in the regulations for the first time. This was to be expected in view of the rapid war-inspired developments in the field of electronics since the 1929 Convention.

While the Contracting Governments consider it highly desirable not to deviate from the application of the new mandatory regulations, administrations are permitted to grant individual exemptions of a partial and/or conditional nature, or complete exemption, but only to a ship engaged on a voyage where the maximum distance of a ship from shore, the length of the voyage, the absence of general navigational hazards, and other conditions affecting safety are such as to render full application of the provision requiring a radiotelegraph installation unreasonable or unnecessary. Since the authority to exempt will not be restricted to a specified distance a ship is navigated from the nearest land, as was the case in the 1929 Convention, the new document appears to permit greater interpretive latitude in the administration of exemptions. Under the new regulations each administration must submit annually to the Intergovernmental Maritime Consultative Organization a report showing all exemptions granted during the calendar year.

Apart from the above discretionary exemption provisions for individual ships, the following classes of ships are exempted outright from the provisions of the 1948 regulations:

1. Ships of war and troopships.
2. Cargo ships of less than 500 gross tons.
3. Ships not propelled by mechanical means.
4. Wooden ships of primitive build, such as dhows, junks, etc.
5. Pleasure yachts not engaged in trade.
6. Fishing vessels.

To permit all concerned ample time to develop newly required apparatus and to afford wartorn countries opportunity to rebuild their economy, time delay clauses of from one to three years are included in various forward looking provisions.

Because the safety radio standards imposed by United States statute and, in fact, those voluntarily met by most United States ships have been and still are higher than those prevailing on most foreign ships, the new Convention, it is felt, will produce proportionately lesser effect on the United States marine services.

Further information on the radio aspects of the revised Convention may be obtained by writing to the Secretary, Federal Communications Commission, Washington 25, D. C. It is expected that in due course the Convention with annexed regulations will be made available for public sale by the United States Government Printing Office. A British edition of the final acts of the Conference with annexes is available and may be consulted in the Commission's offices in the meantime.

SCHEDULE OF HEARINGS, OCTOBER 1948 TO JUNE 1949

SEPTEMBER 29, 1948.

The Commission released today its hearing schedule for all standard and FM broadcast applications designated for hearing prior to September 1, 1948. The hearings are scheduled to commence on October 18, 1948. There are 149 hearings scheduled, involving 238 applications.

The schedule is composed of three parts. Part I contains an alphabetical list of all applications scheduled for hearing; Part II is a chronological list of hearings; and Part III is a list of all applications scheduled for hearing according to their docket numbers.

Generally field hearings will be held in the cities where operation is proposed. If a field hearing is upon applications for stations in two or more cities, the hearings will be held in the various cities in the order listed on the date scheduled. The hearings in the District of Columbia will be heard in order of docket numbers, the lowest docket number being heard first.

Included in the schedule is a number of consolidated hearings which have heretofore been scheduled for hearing and then continued indefinitely for various reasons such as a determination of the Clear Channel proceeding, or the pendency of a petition for reconsideration and grant without hearing. These hearings have been given a new hearing date because of the possibility that the reason for which they were heretofore continued indefinitely may have been removed by the time the hearing date is reached. In the event the reasons for which the hearing was continued indefinitely in the past have not been obviated three weeks prior to the hearing, the Commission will continue such cases indefinitely on its own motion.

FEDERAL REGISTER

Washington, Friday, October 15, 1948

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter VIII—Production and Marketing Administration (Sugar Branch)

[General Sugar Quota Regs., Series 10, No. 1, Amdt. 7]

SUGAR QUOTAS FOR 1948

Basis and purpose. This amendment is issued pursuant to the Sugar Act of 1948 and is made for the purpose of prorating area deficits which are hereby determined. Section 204 (a) of the act provides that the Secretary shall from time to time determine whether any domestic area, the Republic of the Philippines, or Cuba will be unable to market its quota. If he so finds, the quotas for the domestic areas and Cuba shall be revised by prorating an amount of sugar equal to any deficit so determined to the other such areas on the basis of the quotas then in effect.

Since the Sugar Act provides that the quota for any domestic area, the Republic of the Philippines, Cuba, or other foreign countries as established under the provisions of section 202 shall not be reduced by reason of any determination of deficit, and makes the proration of such deficits a mere mathematical computation, it is hereby determined and found that compliance with the notice and procedure requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act is unnecessary. Furthermore, in order to afford shippers in affected countries an adequate opportunity to ship the additional sugar authorized by this amendment, and thereby protect the interest of consumers, it is essential that this amendment be made effective immediately. Therefore, it is hereby found and determined that compliance with the effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act is impracticable and contrary to the public interest and the amendment herein shall become effective on the date of its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

By virtue of the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by the Sugar Act of 1948 (7 U. S. C., Supp. I, 1100) and the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237) General Sugar Quota Regulations, Series 10, No. 1 (13 F. R. 133) as amended (13 F. R. 1303, 3109, 4009, 4660, 5015, 5205) are hereby further amended by adding to § 821.5 new paragraphs (i) and (j) as follows:

§ 821.5 Determination and prorations of area deficits. * * *

(i) Deficit in quota for domestic sugar beet area. It is hereby determined, pursuant to subsection (a) of section 204 of the act, that for the calendar year 1948 the domestic beet sugar area will be unable by an amount of 100,000 short tons of sugar, raw value, to market the quota established for that area in § 821.3 and paragraph (b) of this section.

(j) Proration of deficit in quota for the domestic beet sugar area. An amount of sugar equal to the deficit determined in paragraph (i) of this section is hereby prorated, pursuant to subsection (a) of section 204 of the act, as follows:

Area:	Additional quotas in terms of short tons, raw value
Puerto Rico	25,825

Statement of Bases and Consideration

Area deficits. (1) Domestic beet sugar area. Against the 1948 sugar quota of 1,847,738 short tons the domestic beet sugar area delivered an estimated 1,313,000 short tons of sugar, or 71 percent of its total quota during the period January through September 1948. Deliveries of beet sugar for a like period for the past 13 years, 1935–1947, inclusive, averaged 75.2 percent of calendar year total marketings. In the light of this percentage distribution the domestic beet sugar area probably will not market a quantity of sugar significantly in excess of 1,746,000 short tons, raw value, in the calendar year 1948 or 433,000 short tons in the fourth quarter. In only one year, namely, 1938, has the beet sugar area marketed more than 433,000 short tons of sugar in the fourth quarter. In the fourth quarter of that year 532,000 short tons of sugar were marketed, 270,000 short tons of which were marketed during the month of December. However, the 1938 crop exceeded 1,800,000 short tons, raw value, which is considerably in excess of the crop of less than 1,600,000 indicated for 1948. Since the original quota for the domestic beet sugar area, together with the proration of the first deficit in the quota for Hawaii determined in General Sugar Quota Regulations, Series 10, No. 1 (13 F. R. 133), amounts to 1,847,738 short tons of sugar, raw value, it has been determined that the domestic sugar beet area will be unable to market 100,000 short tons of sugar, raw value, of its quota established by such regulations. Therefore, 100,000 short tons of sugar, raw value, have been prorated under section 204 of the act to Puerto Rico, the only domestic producing area able to market in excess of its existing quota, and to Cuba.

Exclusion of domestic areas from prorations. (1) Since under General Sugar Quota Regulations, Series 10, No. 1, and amendments thereto quota deficits have already been declared for the domestic sugar producing areas of Hawaii and the Mainland Cane Sugar Area, these areas are excluded from the proration of the deficit herein established.

(2) Virgin Islands: Current estimates of production show that the Virgin Islands will be unable to market more than their current quota of 6,159 short tons of sugar, raw value, in the calendar year 1948, and, therefore, this area is excluded from the proration of the deficit herein established.

After giving effect to the changes set forth in General Sugar Regulations, Series 10, No. 1, and Amendments 1 to 6 thereto, the current sugar quotas, in terms of short tons, raw value, for the several domestic sugar producing areas, Cuba, the Republic of the Philippines, and "Other Foreign Countries" are as follows:

AUTHORITY: §§ 1111.1 to 1111.21 issued under secs. 111, 403, Pub. Law 472, 80th Cong.

§ 1111.1 Definition of terms. For the purposes of this part:

(a) "The act" shall mean the Foreign Assistance Act of 1948, Pub. Law 472, 80th Cong.

(b) "ECA" shall mean the Economic Cooperation Administration.

(c) "The Administrator" shall mean the Administrator for Economic Cooperation.

(d) "Participating country" shall have the meaning assigned to it in section 103 (a) of the act and shall also include China, and shall include any authorized agent of a participating country.

(e) "Banking institution in the United States" shall mean a banking institution organized under the laws of the United States, any State, territory or possession thereof, or the District of Columbia.

(f) "Approved Applicant" shall mean the Approved Applicant (which may be any participating country or any person or organization, governmental or otherwise) named in any Letter of Commitment issued to a banking institution in the United States pursuant to Subpart C of this part; and shall include any agent authorized to act on behalf of an Approved Applicant.

(g) "Reimbursement" shall mean any of the methods set forth in Subpart C of this part used by ECA to pay for any commodity or service furnished to a participating country under the act.

(h) "Delivery" shall mean the transfer to or for the account of a participating country of custody and right of possession of any commodity or the rendering to or for the account of a participating country of any service.

(i) "Importer" shall mean any person or organization, governmental or otherwise, to which a participating country has made a subauthorization (see § 1111.4).

(j) "Supplier" shall mean any person or organization, governmental or otherwise, which furnishes any commodity or service under the act.

(k) "Source" shall mean country or area of origin.

§ 1111.2 What this part does. (a) Subpart A of this part describes the procedures for enabling participating countries to use ECA dollars to get commodities and services under the act.

(b) In general, the fact that a particular purchase is to be paid for by ECA will not basically affect the way in which an importer or supplier does business. Subpart B of this part, however, describes certain things which an importer must do when he has been told by his Government that he is buying under the act, and which a supplier must do when he obtains an order that is to be paid with ECA dollars.

(c) Subpart C of this part describes the procedures for obtaining reimbursement for assistance furnished under the act.

SUBPART A—AUTHORIZATION PROCEDURE

§ 1111.3 Dollar allotments, commodity applications and procurement authorizations. (a) The ECA will determine, from time to time, the amount of dollars to be made available, normally by calendar quarters, to each participating country to cover commodities and services to be delivered in such quarters. The determination (on Form ECA–201 [1]) will normally be made 120 days in advance of each calendar quarter and will state the full allotment of dollars for such quarter, and partial allotments for subsequent quarters. After this determination is made, the participating country will file with ECA Form ECA–202 [1] (with Forms ECA 202A,[1] 202B,[1] and 202C [1] when required by the quarterly instructions). These forms indicate what commodities and services the country desires to get with its ECA dollar allotment. The forms will be filed with ECA, Washington, D. C., normally 90 days in advance of the first quarter covered by the Form ECA–201.

(b) The ECA will review the Forms ECA–202 to determine that the proposed purchases of commodities and services are in accordance with the objectives of the European Recovery Program or the China Aid Program and the provisions of the act and any acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto. Having decided this, ECA will issue Procurement Authorizations on Form ECA–203.[1] These Procurement Authorizations will cover commodities and services that may be purchased with ECA dollars for delivery in the particular period stipulated by the Procurement Authorization and will specify the source from which the commodities or services (other than ocean transportation) are to be obtained. Procurement Authorizations may provide for delivery in such future calendar quarters as may be necessary. Requests by the participating country for changes in Procurement Authorizations may be made on Form ECA–205.[1]

(c) Each Procurement Authorization will bear a Procurement Authorization number and the issuance of the Procurement Authorization will constitute authority to the participating country to use the Procurement Authorization number in placing orders in accordance with the terms of the Procurement Authorization. The Procurement Authorization number will indicate the participating country to which the authorization is given, the Commodity Code (see par. (d) of this section), the source from which the materials are to be obtained, and the delivery period to which the Procurement Authorization refers.

The following is an example of a Procurement Authorization number:

[1] Filed with the original document.

Participating country	Commodity code	Source	Period
France	Bread grains	United States	First quarter 1949

The first two digits of the last group indicate the year; the last digit, the calendar quarter. In the example above, the number 491 means that orders may be placed for delivery during the first quarter of 1949. In some cases, the last group of digits may be 091. This means that orders may be placed for delivery during the six months ending March 31, 1949.

(d) Application on Form ECA–202 will be made in terms of the three-digit ECA Commodity Codes which are listed in the official ECA Commodity Code Book,[1] as revised September 10, 1948 or in subsequent revisions. Authorization on Form ECA–203 will normally be made in the same Commodity Codes, but in certain instances the Procurement Authorization may be restricted to one or more commodities within a Commodity Code.

§ 1111.4 Sub-authorizations. (a) For all procurement under Procurement Authorizations, the participating country will make sub-authorizations to importers within the terms of the Procurement Authorizations. The participating country will authorize the importer to use the Procurement Authorization number in placing orders and will specify to the importer the commodity or service, source, dollar value, the quarter in which delivery is to be made, and all other terms and provisions of the Procurement Authorization which are applicable to the sub-authorization. Where practicable, this paragraph shall apply to ocean transportation.

(b) Each participating country will maintain a record of the Procurement Authorizations received and procurement authorized thereunder, and will report to ECA on Form ECA–204 [1] with respect to such procurement authorized by the participating country. In the case of ocean transportation, reports on Form ECA–204 will show the extent to which costs have been incurred or authorized under Ocean Transportation Procurement Authorizations.

§ 1111.5 Qualifications on issuance of Procurement Authorizations. (a) On and after November 1, 1948, or such earlier dates as may have been established for specific commodities, no Procurement Authorization will be issued covering the procurement of a commodity or service delivered before the issuance of the Procurement Authorization.

(b) On and after January 1, 1949, or such earlier dates as may have been established for specific commodities, no Procurement Authorization will be issued covering the procurement of a commodity or service contracted for before the issuance of the Procurement Authorization. This paragraph shall not apply to ocean transportation.

[1] Filed with the original document.

§ 1111.6 General provisions incorporated in Procurement Authorizations. Each Procurement Authorization issued shall be deemed to incorporate the following provisions:

(a) Reimbursement. Upon receipt of the documents required for reimbursement by this part, the Administrator will reimburse the participating country up to the amount specified in the Procurement Authorization for the assistance described in the Procurement Authorization. If a Letter of Commitment to a banking institution in the United States is issued under the Procurement Authorization, such reimbursement will be made to or for the account of the Approved Applicant named in the Letter of Commitment in accordance with the terms thereof. If a Letter of Commitment to a supplier is issued under the Procurement Authorization, such reimbursement will be made in accordance with the terms of such Letter of Commitment.

(b) Discounts. If a contract for which reimbursement is claimed provides for a discount and such discount has not been taken in paying the supplier, the Administrator will withhold the amount of such discount in making reimbursement directly to a participating country, or will demand repayment of such discount from the participating country where reimbursement is made under Letter of Commitment to a banking institution in the United States.

(c) Assignment of right to receive reimbursement. The right to receive reimbursement under a Procurement Authorization may be assigned, in whole or in part, to a banking institution in the United States, but no such assignment shall be valid unless the proposed assignee has been approved by the Administrator.

(d) Modification or revocation. The Administrator reserves the right at any time and from time to time, and for any reason or cause whatsoever, to supplement, modify, or revoke any Procurement Authorization (including termination of deliveries under the Procurement Authorization).

In the event of any supplement, modification, or revocation, the right of reimbursement will be modified or terminated accordingly, except that if a Letter of Commitment has been issued, the rights of the holder of any such Letter of Commitment shall not be affected except to the extent specified in such Letter of Commitment.

(e) Refund to Administrator. The participating country will pay promptly to the Administrator upon demand the entire amount reimbursed (or such lesser amount as the Administrator may demand) whenever it appears to the Administrator that the documentation submitted by or on behalf of the participating country (or any approved applicant named in a Letter of Commitment) does not support the expenditure for which the reimbursement was made or whenever the Administrator determines that the reimbursement was improper as being in violation of any of the provisions of the act, any acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto, any relevant appropriation acts, or any rules, regulations or procedures of ECA promulgated under any of said acts.

(f) Export licenses. Where procurement is effected in the United States for any commodity covered by a Procurement Authorization, export licenses must be obtained from the U. S. Department of Commerce. All exports from the United States of commodities furnished under the act are subject to export quotas established and export license control exercised by the U. S. Department of Commerce.

(g) Copy of contract. One copy of all contracts, purchase orders, or other documents constituting the purchase agreement and any amendments thereto including amendments to establish final prices (each of which must be identified by the appropriate Procurement Authorization number) must be sent to the Controller, ECA, Washington, D. C., promptly upon issuance.

As a minimum, all purchase agreements should normally include: contract date; quantity, description, source and dollar value of the commodity or service; delivery basis and period; terms of payment; names and addresses of supplier, importer and commission agent or broker (if any); and amount of commission or brokerage (if any). If the invoice value is subject to adjustment after determination of outturn weight or quality, or for any other reason, the purchase agreement must so indicate. If the final price has not been established, the purchase agreement must state the terms upon which the price is to be ascertained and from which the contract price may be objectively determined. When contract terms and conditions relate to basic trade association contract forms or rules, such forms or rules must be furnished, but need not be furnished more than once.

This paragraph shall not apply to ocean transportation.

(h) Airmail distribution of ocean bills of lading. The participating country will instruct importers to advise shippers to airmail at the time of loading one copy (or photostat) of ocean or charter party bill of lading or airwaybill to the Controller, ECA Mission, American Embassy in the capital city of the participating country receiving the shipment.

(i) Price limitations. ECA will not make reimbursement directly to a participating country for the purchase in bulk of any commodities at prices higher than the market price prevailing in the United States, adjusted as provided in § 1111.19, which establishes the procedures for compliance with section 202 of the Foreign Aid Appropriation Act, 1949. In case reimbursement for such purchase at prices higher than the market price is made under Letter of Commitment, the Administrator will demand repayment from the participating country of the entire amount so reimbursed.

(j) Insurance. No Procurement Authorization may be used to finance directly or indirectly insurance premiums on ocean shipments.

(k) Special provisions. The provisions of this part may be waived, amended or supplemented by special provisions in the Procurement Authorization, or otherwise pursuant to § 1111.21.

§ 1111.7 Ocean transportation. (a) Ocean Transportation Procurement Authorizations and, in the case of c. & f. (cost and freight) shipments, the Procurement Authorization for the commodity involved may be used by the participating country to cover dollar services furnished in connection with shipment of:

(1) ECA-financed cargoes to the participating country on flag vessels other than those of the participating country, to the extent that payment for such services is made in dollars in accordance with the custom of the trade.

(2) Non-ECA-financed cargoes to the participating country on United States flag vessels.

(3) Non-ECA-financed cargoes on flag vessels other than those of the participating country, but only in special circumstances where specifically authorized in writing by ECA to do so pursuant to a request in writing.

(b) In the case of chartered vessels, reimbursement will be made for cost of shipment from ports of loading to ports of discharge at rates established by charter parties (or, for tanker shipments only, by contracts of affreightment). Term charters must be submitted to ECA, Washington, D. C., for prior review and approval. Reimbursement for loading, trimming and other related shipping expenses may be made when such expenses are not for the account of the ship nor included in inland transportation charges.

(c) In the case of tanker shipments only, reimbursement will be made for demurrage.

(d) In the case of bulk dry cargo shipments only, reimbursement will not be made for demurrage incurred in excess of dispatch earnings; amounts earned for dispatch shall be credited first against demurrage, if any, and then against future ECA ocean transportation costs.

§ 1111.8 Project authorizations. (a) A participating country may submit from time to time to ECA for approval major industrial and commercial projects. A project will usually involve the expenditure of one million dollars or more.

(b) ECA will examine project applications to determine if they are in accordance with the objectives of the European Recovery Program or the China Aid Program, and if so may issue a project approval. This approval will cover the total ECA-financed portion of the entire project.

(c) The participating country will submit to ECA from time to time a list of the commodities and services required for the project, in terms of the ECA Commodity Codes, for delivery in specific calendar quarters. ECA will review such applications and may approve them for procurement.

(d) Project Procurement Authorizations will be issued on separate Forms ECA–203.

§ 1111.9 Provisional authorizations. ECA may issue from time to time Procurement Authorizations covering commodities or services for which no current Congressional appropriation is available. Such Procurement Authorizations will indicate that ECA will undertake to finance the furnishings of the commodities or services covered thereby only in accordance with Congressional appropriations when and if made.

§ 1111.10 Procurement by U. S. Government agencies. When a determination has been made that any commodity or service authorized on a Procurement Authorization is to be procured by a U. S. Government agency, ECA will authorize the U. S. Government agency to procure the commodity or service in accordance with procedures established for such procurement.

SUBPART B—RESPONSIBILITIES OF IMPORTERS AND SUPPLIERS

§ 1111.11 Use of Procurement Authorization number. (a) Each importer to whom a sub-authorization has been made by his Government must inform his supplier that the transaction is to be financed by ECA, and must give to his supplier the Procurement Authorization number that has been given to him. The importer must also inform his supplier of any special provisions which affect the supplier in carrying out the transaction.

(b) The supplier must put the Procurement Authorization number on all documents required for reimbursement (see § 1111.18).

§ 1111.12 Placement of orders and delivery dates. (a) Any order placed by an importer must be for delivery within the quarter specified by the sub-authorization from his Government. A supplier must not accept an order identified by a Procurement Authorization number for a quarter in which he has not promised delivery.

(b) If a supplier has accepted, in good faith, an order for delivery in a designated quarter, he may, in agreement with the importer, make delivery not more than 60 days in advance of the beginning of that quarter and not more than 90 days after the end of that quarter, except where delivery is otherwise restricted in the Procurement Authorization and subject to export control exercised by the U. S. Department of Commerce. If it later develops that delivery cannot be made within this period, the supplier must promptly notify the importer who must in turn obtain from his Government a Procurement Authorization number applicable to the new delivery date.

§ 1111.13 Marking requirements. Commodities furnished under the act will be stamped, branded, tagged, stenciled or labeled with the official ECA Emblem, samples of which may be obtained from ECA, Washington, D. C. If it is not practicable to mark the commodities themselves in such manner, the containers in which the commodities are packaged will be so marked. The shipping containers, whether boxes, cases, barrels, drums, hogsheads or of other types, will also bear the official ECA Emblem. The size of the ECA Emblem may vary depending upon the size of the commodity, package, or shipping container to be marked. In addition, the shipping containers will be stamped, branded, stenciled or labeled as follows:

ECA

(Procurement Authorization No.) (Participating country)

(Shipper's marks)

The Procurement Authorization number and name of the participating country shall be in characters at least equal in height to the shipper's marks. The height of the ECA Emblem on the shipping container should, wherever possible, be at least twice the height of the lettering used in the shipper's marks.

Any raw materials (including coal, grain and petroleum, oil and lubricants) not shipped in containers; fibres packaged in bales; and metal and lumber mill products of a semi-finished nature which are not packaged or crated are excepted from these marking requirements. If compliance with the provisions of this section is found to be impracticable with respect to other commodities, the participating country will promptly request ECA, Washington, D. C. for an exemption from the requirements of this section.

SUBPART C—REIMBURSEMENT FOR ASSISTANCE

§ 1111.14 Types of reimbursement. The financing of procurement of commodities or services may be by:

(a) Reimbursement directly to a participating country for payments made by it for procurement. (See § 1111.15);

(b) Issuance of Letters of Commitment to banking institutions in the United States, undertaking to make reimbursement for payments made by them to suppliers through commercial letters of credit or otherwise on behalf of a participating country or an Approved Applicant. (See § 1111.16);

(c) Issuance of Letters of Commitment to suppliers in connection with specific contracts with or on behalf of a participating country providing for payments for commodities or services. (See § 1111.17);

(d) Charges to funds allocated to other departments, agencies, or establishments of the U. S. Government to cover costs incurred in procurement of commodities or services which the Administrator authorizes from time to time.

§ 1111.15 Reimbursement for specific procurement payments by a participating country. (a) Reimbursement shall be allowed only for specific payments made by a participating country for procurement covered by Procurement Authorizations and supported by the documentation required for reimbursement by § 1111.18. The supplier's certificate shall be substantially (1) in the form of Exhibit A; (2) in the case of ocean transportation only, in the form specified in § 1111.18 (b) (5); or (3) in such other form as may be designated by the Administrator.

(b) Claims for reimbursement may be allowed without the supplier's certificate in the form required by paragraph (a) of this section for payments made by a participating country prior to April 3, 1948, to the extent that such payments related to commodities, included within Procurement Authorizations, delivered in such country subsequent to such date.

§ 1111.16 Letter of Commitment to a banking institution. (a) For the purpose of financing procurement through commercial letters of credit or other forms of bank credit, the Administrator may issue a Letter of Commitment to a banking institution in the United States for the purpose of assuring reimbursement, not in excess of a specified amount in dollars and in accordance with the terms of such Letter of Commitment, for sight payments made for the account of an Approved Applicant including sight payments for procurement outside the United States (including its territories and possessions). Any such payments by a banking institution in the United States made in anticipation of a Letter of Commitment and falling within the scope of payments authorized by such Letter when issued will be deemed to be payments to be reimbursed by the Administrator thereunder. The Letter of Commitment shall be substantially in the form of Exhibit B, adapted to special circumstances.

(b) Reimbursement under a Letter of Commitment shall be effected in the amounts specified therein upon presentation of the documentation required for reimbursement by § 1111.18 and by the Letter of Commitment. The supplier's certificate shall be substantially (1) in the form of Annex A or Annex B to Exhibit B; (2) in the case of ocean transportation only, in the form specified in § 1111.18 (b) (5); or (3) in such other form as may be designated by the Administrator.

§ 1111.17 Letter of commitment to a supplier. (a) For the purpose of financing specific procurement contracts, the Administrator may issue a Letter of Commitment to a supplier assuring reimbursement under such contract not in excess of a specified amount of dollars. The Letter of Commitment shall be issued only in connection with a specific contract (identified in terms of quantity, description and price) in connection with which the payments are scheduled, and shall incorporate the contract by reference. The Letter of Commitment shall specify the Procurement Authorization under which it is issued, and such other information as may be specifically required by the Administrator, and shall provide for such safeguards as the Administrator may direct, such as supplier's bond in the case of progress payments.

(b) The Letter of Commitment may be issued in either (1) the short form (substantially in the form of Exhibit C) for single-payment contracts wherein the payment effects a transfer of title to commodities for which the contract price equals the amount of such payments or (2) the long form (substantially in the form of Exhibit D) for multiple-payment contracts, including installment or partial deliveries and arrangements for progress payments. The Letter of Commitment may be sent to the supplier directly by ECA or by the participating country through normal trade and banking channels or in such other manner as may be specified by the participating country.

(c) The monies due or to become due under such Letter shall be assignable by the supplier only through signing the certification in the space provided on the Letter, and only to a banking institution in the United States. If a notice of assignment is sent to the Administrator and the General Accounting Office under the Assignment of Claims Act of 1940, such notice shall not be effective unless the date and fact of such notice is indicated in the space provided for such purpose on the Letter of Commitment.

(d) To obtain reimbursement under the short-form Letter of Commitment (Exhibit C), the supplier shall execute the certification required on the reverse side thereof and shall attach such documents as are specified in the Letter of Commitment, and may submit the Letter of Commitment (with attachments) for reimbursement by the Administrator directly or through normal banking channels on an assignment basis as specified on the Letter of Commitment.

(e) To obtain reimbursement under the long-form Letter of Commitment (Exhibit D), the supplier or his assignee shall present to the Administrator at the times scheduled a properly executed voucher (Standard Form 1034 (Revised))[1] supported by documentation required for reimbursement as set forth in the Letter of Commitment. The original Letter of Commitment signed by the Administrator or his designee shall be returned to ECA at the time of final reimbursement.

§ 1111.18 Standard documentation required for reimbursement. Claims for reimbursement must be supported by the following documents (each of which must be identified by the appropriate Procurement Authorization number), except when and to the extent specifically waived in writing by the Administrator:

(3) One copy (or photostat) of ocean or charter party bill of lading or airwaybill. In the case of any commodity sold on an f. o. b. or f. a. s. basis under Letter of Commitment to a banking institution in the United States, ECA will accept a certification from the banking institution to the effect that (i) it has been informed that the terms of sale make it impracticable for the supplier to furnish such bill of lading or airwaybill and (ii) a common carrier bill of lading, warehouse receipt at port of loading, dock receipt, or master's receipt for the commodities authorized has been received from the supplier and, in accordance with the instructions of the Approved Applicant, has been delivered to the authorized shipping agent of the Approved Applicant against his written undertaking both to arrange for ocean shipment and to deliver to the banking institution a copy (or photostat) of ocean or charter party bill of lading or airwaybill which is to be forwarded to ECA.

(b) For cost of ocean transportation:

(3) One copy (or photostat) of ocean or charter party bill of lading or airwaybill. In the case of tanker shipments only, if the bill of lading is not immediately available, one copy (or photostat) of cablegram from ship's agent showing loaded cargo figures and a certification by the supplier of the ocean transportation that a copy (or photostat) of the bill of lading will be submitted to ECA, Washington, D. C., within 90 days from date of loading.

(4) One copy (or photostat) of the detailed invoice of the supplier indicating the vessel, flag and the dollar cost of ocean freight and related transportation charges, either marked "Paid" by the supplier or endorsed by, or accompanied by a certificate of, an officer of a banking institution indicating that payment has been made in the amount shown on the invoice. If the bill of lading (required as item (3) above) complies with the requirements of this subparagraph, no invoice is required. Claim for cost of tanker demurrage may be submitted separately and must be supported by the documentation required by this paragraph except for items (2) and (3).

(5) Supplier's certificate, which shall be set forth in or be attached to the bill of lading or the invoice, in substantially the following form:

(c) For cost of services (other than ocean transportation):

(1) Voucher SF 1034 (Revised) in original and three copies.

(2) One copy (or photostat) of supplier's detailed invoice showing description of services and price, and either marked "Paid" by the supplier, or endorsed by, or accompanied by a certificate of, an officer of a banking institution indicating that payment has been made in the amount shown on the invoice.

(3) Such additional documentation as may be required for reimbursement by endorsement upon the Procurement Authorization.

§ 1111.19 Purchase in bulk of commodities—(a) Definition. The term "adjusted market price" means the market price prevailing in the United States at the time of the purchase, adjusted for differences in the cost of transportation to destination, quality, and terms of payment, as determined by the Administrator.

(b) Scope. This section establishes the procedures for compliance with section 202 of the Foreign Aid Appropriation Act, 1949, which section 202 applies to all purchases in bulk, except those where, before the effective date of the Foreign Aid Appropriation Act, 1949 (June 28, 1948) both (1) a binding purchase contract was in effect between the parties in which the price, or the method for determining the price, was established, and (2) the Procurement Authorization was issued.

(c) Determination of adjusted market price. Determination of the adjusted market price may be made by the Administrator in such manner as to reflect commonly accepted trade practices. In the case of purchases in bulk made outside the United States, the Administrator may determine that the purchase price complies with said section 202 if he determines that such price, plus cost of transportation and related charges from place of purchase to the participating country at established rates, does not exceed the market price prevailing in the United States (adjusted for differences in quality and terms of payment), plus cost of transportation and related charges at established rates to the participating country. If the price of any purchase in bulk exceeds the adjusted market price, the participating country shall pay promptly to the Administrator upon demand the entire amount of the purchase price.

§ 1111.20 Procurement by U. S. Government agencies. When procurement of a commodity or service is made through U. S. Government procurement facilities in accordance with § 1111.10, an allocation of funds to the procuring department, agency or establishment will be made by the Administrator.

§ 1111.21 Saving clause. The Administrator may waive, withdraw, or amend at any time or from time to time any or all of the provisions of this part.

HOWARD BRUCE,
Acting Administrator for Economic Cooperation.

In any event every application for a Letter of Credit and every request for payment shall include the substance of the directions as to documentation required for reimbursement contained in § 1111.18 of ECA Regulation 1, as in force on the date of acceptance of the Procurement Authorization.

2. (a) Each Letter of Credit shall specify as a document required to be presented with each draft drawn thereunder a supplier's certificate, in the form annexed hereto,[1] as Annex A, signed by the beneficiary named in such Letter of Credit.

(b) Each agreement covering payments to be made by you shall similarly require that a supplier's certificate in the form annexed hereto[1] as Annex B be presented against each payment.

2. Reimbursement shall be made by the Administrator promptly (but in no event later than 30 days) after receipt by the Administrator of the documents required for reimbursement by Sec. 1111.18 of ECA Regulation 1, as in force on the date of acceptance of the Procurement Authorization, which documents in normal course should be forwarded to the Administrator promptly after you have made the payment for the amount of which reimbursement is sought.

(a) The Voucher SF 1034 (Revised) shall bear the following certification by the payee: "I certify that the above bill is correct and just; that payment therefor has not been received," shall be addressed to the Economic Cooperation Administration and shall be signed as "Payee" by the Approved Applicant, or by you as agent for and in behalf of the Approved Applicant;

The term "Procurement Authorization" as used in this Letter of Commitment shall be deemed to include each such supplement or modification from and after receipt by you from the Administrator of written notice of the same, subject always however to the foregoing terms and provisions preserving rights of reimbursement in your behalf.

8. In the event the Administrator shall direct termination of deliveries under the Procurement Authorization or revoke such Procurement Authorization or supplement or modify the same in relation to the disposition of any document or documents and shall give you written notice thereof, you shall in all respects comply with the instructions of the Administrator to the extent you may do so without impairing or affecting any irrevocable obligation or liability theretofore incurred by you under any Letter of Credit issued or confirmed by you, and you shall be repaid and reimbursed hereunder by the Administrator for the costs, expenses and liabilities paid or incurred by you in relation to such instruction. You shall have no obligation or liability whatsoever to the Approved Applicant for anything done or omitted to be done by you pursuant to such instructions of the Administrator.

REAL ESTATE

§ 552.1 Real estate defined. The term "real estate," as used in connection with the activities of the Department of the Army, includes land; buildings; piers, docks, and wharves; office and storage space; rights of way or easements, whether temporary or permanent; and any interests which may be acquired or held therein for the use or benefit of the United States by the Army or any branch thereof.

§ 552.2 Real estate; how acquired—(a) Methods of acquiring real estate. Real property and interests therein may be acquired by the Department of the Army by:

(1) Purchase or condemnation.
(2) Donation.
(3) Lease or similar instrument.

(b) Authority to acquire real estate—(1) Congressional authority necessary. No land shall be acquired on account of the United States except under a law authorizing such acquisition. See R. S. 3736; 41 U. S. C. 14.

(2) Acts authorizing Secretary of the Army to acquire real estate. The Secretary of the Army is authorized to acquire land, interest therein, or rights pertaining thereto needed for military purposes by purchase, condemnation, donation, or lease. See sec. 1, act August 1, 1888 (25 Stat. 357; 40 U. S. C. 257); act July 2, 1917 (40 Stat. 241), as amended by the act of April 11, 1918 (40 Stat. 518; 50 U. S. C. 171); sec. 1, act February 26, 1931 (46 Stat. 1421; 40 U. S. C. 258a); sec. 2, act August 12, 1935 (49 Stat. 611; 10 U. S. C. 1343b).

§ 552.3 Functions of Chief of Engineers. (a) The Chief of Engineers, under the authority of the Secretary of the Army, is charged with the acquisition of all real estate and interests therein for the use of the Department of the Army, including the procurement of leases, permits, and the transfer of lands and interests therein from other Government departments and agencies (See 55 Stat. 787; 10 U. S. C. Sup. 181b), except:

(1) In those areas outside the continental limits of the United States where the theater commander has responsibility for such real estate activities.

(2) The acquisition of trespass rights.

(3) Such other exceptions as may be specifically authorized from time to time.

(b) The Chief of Engineers is responsible that acquisitions are accomplished in accordance with Department of the Army directives and that tracts are eliminated whenever this action will not decrease the general usefulness of the area for the purpose for which it is being acquired. Boundaries or priorities of acquisition will not be changed without the approval of the Chief of Engineers.

(c) To avoid any possibility of misunderstanding by property owners, and resultant embarrassment to the Department of the Army, under no circumstances will commitments be made, either by negotiation or by the dissemination of information to the public, by any authority other than the Chief of Engineers.

§ 552.4 Leases and similar instruments—(a) Authority of certain commanders and others. (1) Oversea commanders reporting direct to the Department of the Army are charged with the direction of all work pertaining to real estate matters in occupation zones and in any location where temporary work is accomplished by troops under control of the oversea commander. The Chief of Engineers will provide technical advice and assist in technical inspections as requested by such oversea commander or as directed by the Department of the Army. Continental commanders having oversea areas under their jurisdiction are considered oversea commanders for those areas.

(2) Except in occupation zones the Chief of Engineers, under the authority of the Secretary of the Army, is responsible for the acquisition of all real property and interests therein.

(b) Authority of local officers. (1) The following classes of leases are authorized to be made by local commanders without approval by higher authority, when funds are available and the rental consideration conforms to the prevailing rate in the locality concerned: Leases for hire of camp sites, buildings, and grounds for troops; office and storage space for small detachments; garage space; and space for recruiting stations; provided the premises are to be occupied not longer than 3 months and the rental for the entire period of occupancy is $500 or less.

(2) Leases in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph may be by informal written agreements, unless the rental for the period exceeds $100, in which case execution on Standard Form 2 (Lease Between ---------- and the United States of America) is preferable.

(i) Informal written agreements may be worded substantially as follows:

---------- (Place)

---------- (Date)

The undersigned hereby agrees to allow the use of premises ----------
by ---------- (Designation of detachment)
at a rental of $------ per month, or proportionate part thereof, for the time of occupancy.

---------- (Signature of property owner)

(ii) The following certificate should be indorsed on informal agreements:

I certify that I have this day entered into an informal agreement with ---------- ---------- covering rental
(Name of property owner) of ----------, same being
required and absolutely necessary for the successful operation of my detachment.

---------- (Name)

---------- (Grade and organization)

---------- 19 ----

(iii) Informal agreements will be executed in duplicate; one number to be furnished the property owner; and one number, with a true copy thereof, to be furnished the disbursing officer designated to pay the account. If more than one payment of rent will be involved only the true copy will be furnished the disbursing officer, and the remaining executed number will be forwarded to the division engineer, marked for transmittal to the General Accounting Officer, Army Audit Branch, 4300 Goodfellow Boulevard, St. Louis 20, Missouri.

(c) Authority of Chief of Engineers. Except as provided in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, all leases and similar instruments must be approved by the Chief of Engineers or his duly authorized representative.

USE OF WAR DEPARTMENT REAL ESTATE

§ 552.5 Temporary use; how granted. There are three methods by which the temporary use of real estate under the control of the Department of the Army may be granted: lease, easement, and license or permit.

§ 552.6 Rights which may be granted by Secretary of the Army—(a) General. (1) The Secretary of the Army is authorized with or without advertising, to provide for the operation and maintenance of certain plants, buildings, facilities, utilities, and appurtenances thereto and, when he deems it necessary in the interest of the National Defense, to lease, sell or otherwise dispose of, any such plants, buildings, facilities, utilities, appurtenances thereto, and land, under such terms and conditions as he may deem advisable, and without regard to the provisions of section 321 of the act of June 30, 1932 (47 Stat. 412), which requires the consideration to be in money only. See secs. 1 and 5, act July 2, 1940 (54 Stat. 712; 41 U. S. C. prec. § 1 note).

(2) The above provisions applied only to the fiscal year ending June 30, 1941. They were first extended to cover the fiscal year ending June 30, 1942, and later to cover the period of the present war and 6 months thereafter, or until such earlier time as the Congress by concurrent resolution or the President by proclamation may designate. See sec. 9, act June 30, 1941 (55 Stat. 393; sec. 13, act June 5, 1942).

(3) The Secretary of the Army may acquire any real property, temporary use thereof, or other interest therein, together with any personal property located thereon or used therewith, that shall be deemed necessary for military purposes, and may dispose of such property or interest therein, by sale, lease, or otherwise, in accordance with section 1 (b) of the act of July 2, 1940 (54 Stat. 712). See Second War Powers Act, 1942 (56 Stat. 177; 50 U. S. C. App., Sup., 632).

(b) Leases. The Secretary of the Army is authorized, whenever he shall deem it to be advantageous to the Government, to lease such real or personal property under his control as is not surplus to the needs of the Department of the Army within the meaning of the Surplus Property Act of 1944 (58 Stat. 765), and is not for the time required for public use, to such lessee or lessees and upon such terms and conditions as in his judgment will promote the national defense or will be in the public interest. Each such lease will be for a period not exceeding 5 years unless the Secretary of the Army shall determine that a longer period will promote the national defense or will be in the public interest. Each such lease will contain a provision permitting the Secretary of the Army to revoke the lease at any time unless the Secretary of the Army shall determine that the omission of such provision from the lease will promote the national defense or will be in the public interest. In any event, each such lease will be revocable by the Secretary of the Army during a national emergency declared by the President. Notwithstanding section 321, act June 30, 1932 (47 Stat. 412; 40 U. S. C. 303b), or any other provision of law, any such lease may provide for the maintenance, protection, repair, or restoration by the lessee, of the property leased or of the entire unit or installation where a substantial part thereof is leased, as a part or all of the consideration for the lease of such property. In the event utilities or services are furnished by the Department of the Army to the lessee in connection with any lease, payments for utilities or services so furnished may be covered into the Treasury to the credit of the appropriation or appropriations from which the costs of furnishing any such utilities or services to the lessee were paid. Except as otherwise hereinabove provided, any money rentals received by the Government directly under any such lease will be deposited and covered into the Treasury as miscellaneous receipts. The authority granted does not apply to oil, mineral, or phosphate lands. The act of July 28, 1892, as amended (27 Stat. 321; 45 Stat. 988; 40 U. S. C. 303), is repealed. The lessee's interest will be made subject to State or local taxation. Any such lease of property will contain a provision that if and to the extent that such property is made taxable by State and local governments by act of Congress, in such event the terms of such lease will be renegotiated. See act August 5, 1947 (Pub. Law 364, 80th Cong.).

(c) Roads. The Secretary of the Army may permit the extension of State, county, or territorial roads across military reservations or the changing of the location of any such roads as may already exist. See act July 5, 1884 (23 Stat. 104; 10 U. S. C. 1348).

(d) Poles and wires. The Secretary of the Army may grant rights of way, for periods not exceeding 50 years, for pole lines for electric-power transmission, or telephone and telegraph purposes over lands under his jurisdiction. See act March 4, 1911 (36 Stat. 1253; 43 U. S. C. 961.

(e) Pipe lines. The Secretary of the Army may grant easements for rights of way for gas, water, and sewer pipe lines, provided such grant is in the public interest and will not substantially injure the interest of the United States in the property affected thereby. See act May 17, 1926 (44 Stat. 562; 10 U. S. C. 1351.

(f) Licenses. The Secretary of the Army may, by revocable license terminable at his discretion as the public interest may require, grant to private interests the temporary use of real estate belonging to the United States which is under his control and which is not for the time being required for public use, provided such license conveys no interest therein and such use does not conflict with the purpose for which the property is held. As a matter of policy, the term of such licenses will be limited to 5 years.

(g) Ferries, bridges, livestock. The Secretary of the Army may permit the landing of ferries and erection of bridges on, and the driving of livestock across military reservations. See act July 5, 1884 (23 Stat. 104; 10 U. S. C. 1348).

(h) Archaeological excavations. The Secretary of the Army may grant permits for the examination of ruins, the excavation of archaeological sites, and the gathering of objects of antiquity upon Department of the Army lands, to institutions which are deemed properly qualified to conduct such examination, excavation, or gathering, subject to prescribed rules and regulations. Such examinations, excavations, and gatherings must be undertaken for the benefit of reputable museums, universities, colleges, or other recognized scientific or educational institutions, with a view to increasing the knowledge of such objects, and the gatherings shall be made for permanent preservation in public museums. See act June 8, 1906 (34 Stat. 255; 16 U. S. C. 432).

(i) Post offices. The Secretary of the Army shall assign proper and suitable room or rooms for post office purposes at all military posts where post offices have been established. See sec. 1, act August 1, 1914 (38 Stat. 629; 10 U. S. C. 1345).

(j) American National Red Cross. The Secretary of the Army may grant revocable licenses permitting the erection and maintenance on military reservations by the American National Red Cross of buildings suitable for the storage of supplies available for the aid of the civilian population in case of serious national disaster, or the occupation for that purpose of buildings erected by the United States. See sec. 127a, act June 3, 1916, as amended by act June 4, 1920 (41 Stat. 785; 10 U. S. C. 1347).

(k) Young Men's Christian Association. The Secretary of the Army may grant revocable licenses permitting the erection and maintenance on military reservations by the Young Men's Christian Association of such buildings as their work for the promotion of the social, physical, intellectual, and moral welfare of the garrisons may require. See act May 31, 1902 (32 Stat. 282; 10 U. S. C. 1346).

(l) Temporary buildings. The Secretary of the Army may grant, by revocable licenses of lease, permission to erect or construct temporary buildings other than public, on military reservations; in the lease or license the condition for occupancy will be clearly set forth, except with respect to unimportant structures and temporary structures incident to the work of contractors on Government jobs. (§ 552.18 (e).)

§ 552.7 Rights which may be granted by Secretary of the Interior. (a) Subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Army, the Secretary of the Interior may grant rights-of-way through military reservations for:

(1) Electrical lines for telephone and telegraph purposes and for the transmission of current, other than that generated by water power, for power purposes.

(2) Canals, ditches, pipes, and pipelines, flumes, tunnels, or other water conduits, for purposes other than the production of water power.

(3) Water plants, dams, and reservoirs used to promote irrigation, mining or quarrying; for the manufacturing or cutting of timber or lumber; or for the supplying of water for domestic, public, or other beneficial uses. See act February 15, 1901 (31 Stat. 790; 43 U. S. C. 959).

(b) Subject to like approval, rights may also be similarly granted to canal or ditch companies to take material, earth, and stone necessary for the construction of a canal or ditch, for which a right of way has been granted, from public lands adjacent to the line of such canal or ditch. See act March 3, 1891 (26 Stat. 1101), as amended by the acts of March 4, 1917 (39 Stat. 1197), and May 28, 1926 (44 Stat. 668; 43 U. S. C. 946).

§ 552.8 Rights which may be granted by Secretary of Agriculture. (a) National forests on certain military reservations were created by executive orders pursuant to the provisions of section 9 of the act approved June 7, 1924 (43 Stat. 655; 16 U. S. C. 471), which provides for administration by the Secretary of Agriculture under such rules and regulations and in accordance with such general plans as may be jointly approved by the Secretary of Agriculture and the Secretary of the Army, for the occupation and protection of such lands and for the sale of products therefrom, subject to the unhampered use by the Department of the Army for purposes of national defense and without affecting or restricting the authority over such lands for such purposes now vested in the Secretary of the Army. See sec. 9, act June 7, 1924 (43 Stat. 655; 16 U. S. C. 471, 505).

(b) The use of portions of reservations may be authorized for rights of way or sources of material for constructing and maintaining Federal-aid projects, if determined reasonably necessary by the Secretary of Agriculture, and if not objected to by the Secretary of the Army. See act November 9, 1921 (42 Stat. 216; 23 U. S. C. 18).

§ 552.9 Rights which may be granted by Federal Power Commission. The Federal Power Commission, subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Army, may grant licenses for waterpower projects upon, or partly upon, a military reservation, including dams, reservoirs, conduits, transmission lines, and other project works. See act June 10, 1920 (41 Stat. 1063), sec. 202, Title II, act August 26, 1935 (49 Stat. 840; 16 U. S. C. 797).

§ 552.10 Rights which may be granted by President of the United States. The President is authorized, through the head of any executive department, upon terms and conditions considered advisable by him or such head of department, to lease real property acquired by the United States since April 6, 1917, for storage purposes for the use of the Army which in the judgment of the President or the head of such department is no longer needed for use by the United States, and to execute and deliver in the name of the United States and in its behalf, any and all contracts or other instruments necessary to effectuate any such lease. See act July 11, 1919 (41 Stat. 129; 10 U. S. C. 1263).

§ 552.10a Rights which may be granted by division engineers. (a) Authority has been delegated by the Secretary of the Army to division engineers to grant licenses for bus and taxicab service on military reservations upon the recommendation of commanding officers. In the case of an installation under the command of the commanding general of a major command, except Air Force major subordinate commands, the approval of such commanding general must be obtained by the division engineer. In the case of an installation utilized by and under the direct command of the U. S. Air Force, the written approval of the commanding general of the specific Air Force command having jurisdiction over the installation will be obtained by the division engineer. The following policies are published for guidance in granting such licenses:

(1) One or more revocable licenses for such operation may be granted by the division engineer, based upon the free competitive proposals of all reputable available companies or individuals.

(2) Transportation license (Military Reservation) (CR Form 121, WD, OC of E) will be used in the preparation of such licenses. These forms will be supplied by the Office of the Chief of Engineers upon request.

(b) None but duly licensed agencies will be permitted to operate in or upon military reservations.

(c) No distinction will be drawn between taxicab and bus transportation.

(d) No taxicab or bus company will be operated as a concessionaire of an Army exchange.

(e) Unless strictly confined to military personnel or civilians employed or resident at a Department of the Army installation as passenger, an exchange is not authorized to operate a taxicab transportation facility nor to compete in any manner with civilian enterprise in such activity. See § 554.5 (a) (24) of this chapter, as to the authorized activities of an Army exchange in connection with taxicab operation.

(f) The operation of a bus transportation facility by an Army exchange will be in accordance with current Department of the Army instructions governing the furnishing of local transportation.

(g) The revocable license will contain no reference to the Army exchange and will not obligate the exchange to any duties or liabilities. The Army exchange has no connection therewith, and the licensee may not obligate itself to the exchange in any manner under the license.

§ 552.11 Limitations on rights which may be granted—(a) Consideration. (1) Notwithstanding section 321, act June 30, 1932 (47 Stat. 412; 40 U. S. C. 303b), or any other provision of law, leases of Department of the Army property may provide for the maintenance, protection, repair, or restoration by the lessee, of the property leased or of the entire unit or installation where a substantial part thereof is leased, as a part or all of the consideration for the lease of such property.

(2) The consideration for any use of Department of the Army property must be adequate. This consideration may consist of either money or some direct or indirect adequate benefit to the United States.

(b) Competitive conditions. It is the policy of the Department of the Army to recommend the granting of leases to the highest responsible bidder, after advertising for bids, unless competition is impracticable.

(c) Private use. It is the policy of the Department of the Army not to permit the use of public quarters by organization or societies other than those of a purely military character, nor to permit private uses of military reservations or parts thereof to the exclusion of the general public, nor to grant licenses or other instruments for the establishment at military posts of activities, the revocation of which may prove embarrassing to the Department of the Army.

§ 552.12 Rights which cannot be granted without specific statutory authority. Except when specifically authorized by Congress, the Secretary of the Army is without authority to grant an interest in real estate of the United States for any of the following purposes:

(a) Mining.

(b) Quarrying of rock, sand, or gravel, or sale, thereof.

(c) Cutting of timber, or sale thereof. See R. S. 1241 (10 U. S. C. 1261), under which timber that has reached maturity, so that it begins to deteriorate, may be regarded as damaged and unsuitable, and may be sold in the manner prescribed therein.

(d) Permanent rights-of-way for railroad purposes.

(e) Sinking of oil wells, or sale of oil or other minerals.

(f) Use of surplus water from post water systems. See AR 100–80.[1]

(h) Construction by private interests of permanent structures on military reservations. See § 552.18 (e); 21 Op. Atty. Gen. 537; and 10 Comp. Gen. 395. But temporary permission in exceptional cases may be granted for structures on military reservations pending the enactment of statutory authority therefor. See 35 Op. Atty. Gen. 485.

§ 552.13 Forms to be used—(a) Applications for leases, easements, licenses, and permits. Applications ordinarily will consist of a simple written request, and no particular form is required.

(b) Form of instruments. Instruments will be prepared on forms prescribed by the Chief of Engineers.

§ 552.14 Payments. Payments made by private interests for privileges granted by leases, licenses, easements, or permits will be collected by the Chief of Engineers or his duly authorized representative. The initial payment, which will be made at the time the instrument is signed by the grantee, and all deferred payments will be collected by the authorized representative of the Chief of Engineers and will be promptly turned over to the nearest Army disbursing officer with appropriate instructions as to the disposition of such funds, i. e., for credit to "miscellaneous receipts" or to be held as special deposits. Collections will be scheduled on Standard Form No. 1044, Revised (Schedule of Collections), prior to forwarding to the disbursing officer. The Chief of Engineers or his authorized representative will advise at the proper time of the final disposition to be made of funds held as special deposits by preparation and submission of Standard Form No. 1046 Revised (Schedule of Transfers-Special Deposits) or Standard Form No. 1049 (Public Voucher for Refunds) whichever is applicable. All payments made by the grantee will be made payable to the Treasurer of the United States.

[1] Administrative regulations of the Department of the Army relating to repairs and utilities.

§ 552.15 Refund of rental paid. On the termination of a grant by the lessee between rent days, refund of rental paid in advance is not authorized unless provided for in the instrument. (See 8 Comp. Gen. 643.) But a refund of rental may be made under a supplemental lease which is in the interest of the United States. (MS. Comp. Gen. A 40803 February 20, 1932.) Where the revocation or termination of a grant is in contemplation, collections of rental will be made only to the effective date of such revocation or termination, and temporarily placed in the special deposit account.

§ 552.16 Revocation of grants—(a) When permissible; by whom revoked. All grants or rights for the temporary use of real estate by private interests are subject to revocation at will by the Secretary of the Army, except as follows:

(1) Rights-of-way granted by the Secretary of the Interior (§ 552.7 (a)) are revocable by him at his discretion.

(2) Rights-of-way granted for the purpose specified in § 552.6 (e) are not revocable, but may be terminated for nonuse or abandonment.

(3) Unless specific provision for revocation is made therein, permits of the character specified in § 552.6 (d) and § 552.6 (h) constitute easements upon and across said reservations and are not revocable.

(4) Leases of property, acquired for storage purposes since April 6, 1917, granted after determination that such property is no longer required for public use, are not revocable unless the lease so provides.

(b) When and by whom recommended. Any officer becoming aware of any facts or receiving any information indicating that the interest of the United States requires the revocation of an existing grant, lease, license, permit, or privilege will immediately report the facts, or transmit the information, together with his remarks and recommendations to the Chief of Engineers, through the Division engineer.

(c) Instruments of revocation; by whom prepared; how disposed of. If revocation is determined upon, the Chief of Engineers will prepare the necessary instruments of revocation and transmit them to the commanding officer concerned, together with instructions for the necessary action.

§ 552.16a Real estate; claims for rent, damage, and other payments—(a) Scope. The regulations in this section provide a method of investigation, processing, and settlement of claims against the United States for rent, damages, and other payments arising under the terms and conditions, whether express or implied, of leases or other contracts for the use or occupancy of real estate by the Army, or arising from the use or occupancy of real estate by the Army with the express or implied consent of the owner thereof in the absence of any formal lease or other contract therefor. Utilization of the provisions of these regulations in cases where provisions of regulations referred to in paragraph (b) of this section are also applicable is optional in any case. Utilization of the provisions of these regulations outside the United States, its territories and possessions, is optional with the commander concerned.

(b) Regulations applicable to particular cases—(1) Claims for damage to or loss or destruction of property incident to noncombat activities of the Army. The act of July 3, 1943 (57 Stat. 372; 31 U. S. C., Sup., 223b, 223c) provides for the payment of claims, arising on or after May 27, 1941, for damage to or loss or destruction of real property caused by military personnel or civilian employees of the Army while acting within the scope of their employment, or otherwise incident to noncombat activities of the Army, including claims for damage to real property (but not for rent or other payments) incident to the use and occupancy thereof under a lease, express or implied, or otherwise, and including claims of the foregoing categories arising out of civil works, provided they do not exceed $500 or, if approved in time of war, provided they do not exceed $1,000. See §§ 536.12 to 536.23.

(2) Claims under Article of War 105. Article of War 105 (Sec. 1, Ch. II, act of June 4, 1920; 41 Stat. 808; 10 U.S.C. 1577) provides for the payment, by the offender through stoppage of pay, of certain claims for damage to or loss or destruction of property by persons subject to military law provided such damage, loss, or destruction is caused by riotous, violent, or disorderly conduct, or acts of depradation, willful misconduct, or such reckless disregard of property rights as to carry an implication of guilty intent. See § 536.25 of this chapter.

(3) Claims for damage to or loss or destruction of property caused by Army forces in foreign countries. The act of January 2, 1942 (55 Stat. 880; 31 U.S.C., Sup., 224d), as amended by the act of April 22, 1943 (57 Stat. 66), provides for the payment of claims for damage to or loss or destruction of real property (but not for rent or other payments) caused by Army forces, or individual members (whether military personnel or civilian employees) thereof, or otherwise incident to non-combat activities of such forces, in a foreign country to public property located therein or to the privately owned property of inhabitants of such country. See § 536.26 of this chapter.

(c) Procedure—§§ 536.1 to 536.5 of this chapter applicable. So far as applicable, the procedure set forth in §§ 536.1 to 536.5 of this chapter will be followed as to claims within the provisions of this section.

PHOTOGRAPHS; HARBOR DEFENSE

§ 552.17 Photographs of works of defense. No photographs of permanent works of defense or materiel will be taken except as authorized by the harbor defense commander, or other commanding officer responsible for the works, for official use. The giving of information or the publication of pictorials or printed descriptions of such works, not contained in public printed reports and documents, is prohibited when, in the opinion of the harbor defense commander, or other commanding officer responsible for the works, such views or description would disclose the location of any elements of the defense or furnish information about features of the works which should be considered secret or confidential. (Sec. 1, 40 Stat. 217; 50 U. S. C. 31)

POST COMMANDER

§ 552.18 General duties—(a) Assignment of quarters, civilians. The post commander may grant permission to civilian employees and other civilians whose presence on the post is desirable because of the nature of their duties, to occupy such quarters as are available, and will be responsible that payment for or deduction from salary of the value of such quarters is affected as prescribed in Civilian Personnel Regulations. Bona fide servants occupying rooms built in existing quarters for such purpose will not be required to pay rental.

(b) Employment of civilian mess attendants—(1) Units stationed outside the zone of interior. The employment and payment from voluntary contributions of civilians as mess attendants is authorized in Army messes of units stationed outside the zone of interior under the following conditions:

(i) When the oversea commander determines that local conditions are favorable and such employment is in the best interest of the service.

(ii) Payment for such employment will be from moneys contributed, strictly on a voluntary basis, from military personnel using the mess.

(iii) The contributions collected will be taken into and disbursed from unit funds in order to insure adequate control.

(iv) Such attendants will be used only as KP's, dining room orderlies, dishwashers, and other personnel who do not perform duties of cooks, cook's helpers, bakers, and butchers.

(2) Units stationed within zone of interior. (i) The employment and payment from voluntary contributions of civilians as mess attendants is not authorized in Army messes of units stationed within the zone of interior.

(ii) Civilians may not be employed as mess attendants in enlisted men's messes (field ration and garrison) nor in officers' field ration messes in the zone of interior except under the following conditions:

(a) In Class I installations the approval of the army commander in each instance must be obtained.

(b) In Class II installations the approval of the chief of the appropriate administrative or technical service must be obtained.

(c) Civilians will be paid from appropriated funds only.

(d) Sufficient appropriated funds for this purpose must be available to the commander concerned.

(e) The hiring of civilians for this purpose will not exceed the civilian ceiling allotted to the installation.

(f) Civilian mess attendants are to be used only as kitchen police, dining room orderlies, or dishwashers. At no time are they to be used as cooks, food service apprentices, bakers, butchers, or food service technicians. This is not to be construed as limiting the authority of hospitals as presently outlined in Army Regulations and directives of The Surgeon General to hire civilians as cooks, food service apprentices, bakers, butchers, or food service technicians.

(g) Welfare—(1) Young Men's Christian Association. At posts where Young Men's Christian Association buildings have been constructed pursuant to the act of 31 May, 1902 (32 Stat. 282; 10 U. S. C. 1346), the Young Men's Christian Association will be permitted to continue to conduct thereat helpful physical, intellectual, and nonsectarian religious activities. The post commander will assist and facilitate these activities in such ways as he may deem appropriate and desirable.

(2) American National Red Cross. The activities of the American National Red Cross at posts will be as prescribed or implied in AR 850–75, and the post commander will assist and facilitate such activities in every appropriate manner.

(d) Competition with civilian enterprises. The post commander is charged with the responsibility that no military member of his command will be detailed, ordered, or permitted to leave his post to engage in any pursuit, business or performance in civil life, for emoluments, hire, or otherwise, when it will interfere with the customary employment and regular engagement of local civilians in the respective arts, trades or professions. He will prohibit the use of military personnel or civilian employees of the Army during normal working hours, in conducting cooperatives (other than Army exchanges and Army and Air Force Motion Picture Service) which operate in competition with civilian enterprises.

(e) Construction—(1) New construction. New construction will be performed only in accordance with and within limitations of Department of the Army and implementing directives. See AR 100–70, AR 100–80, and TM 5–600 (administrative regulations relative to the Corps of Engineers.)

(2) Construction of buildings other than public. No buildings other than public will be erected or constructed on military reservations unless authority is granted by the Secretary of the Army under a revocable license in which the conditions for occupancy will be clearly set forth. Exceptions may be made with respect to unimportant or temporary structures such as are necessary and incident to the work of contractors on Government work, provided that such temporary buildings will be removed at the expiration of the permit. Construction outside the continental United States will conform to such instructions as may be issued by the Department of the Army from time to time. (R. S. 161; 5 U. S. C. 22)

§ 552.19 Hunting and fishing permits. All permits to hunt, catch, trap, or kill any kind of game animal, game or nongame bird, or to fish on a military reservation or the waters thereof will be issued by the commanding officer.

INSPECTION OF STEAM BOILERS

§ 552.21 Inspection of steam boilers—(a) Boilers requiring inspection. All steam boilers located at military installations will be inspected at least once a year, except (1) those which are operated at 15 pounds per square inch steam pressure or less, (2) those which are not in service, and (3) equipment tested at class I railroad shops and at Army railroad repair shops.

(b) By whom inspected. All Government-owned boilers located at military installation operated by private contractors and all privately-owned boilers located at military reservations will be inspected by recognized insurance companies or other agencies qualified for such work.

(c) Responsibility for arranging inspections. The commanding officer or officer in charge of the military installation at which boilers designated in paragraph (b) of this section are located will be responsible for requiring the owner or operator of such boilers to have inspections made at the proper time. The owner or operator will arrange with a recognized insurance company or with a boiler inspection agency specializing in such work, for necessary inspections, will bear the cost of such inspections, and will make such repairs as are recommended.

(d) Reports of inspection. The commanding officer or officer in charge of the military installation will obtain for his files from the owner or operator a copy of the report rendered by the inspecting agency and will require that steps be taken to correct all deficiencies. (R. S. 161; 5 U. S. C. 22)

PART 553—NATIONAL CEMETERIES

Sec.
553.1 Authority for establishment.
553.2 Control and supervision.
553.3 Records, custody.
553.4 Burials in national cemeteries.

AUTHORITY: §§ 553.1 to 553.4 issued under R. S. 161, 4870, 4878, 41 Stat. 552, 49 U. S. C. 339; 5 U. S. C. 22, 24 U. S. C. 271, 281.
DERIVATION: AR 30–1840, Oct. 9, 1947.

§ 553.1 Authority for establishment. National cemeteries are established under orders of the Secretary of the Army when empowered by act of Congress.

§ 553.2 Control and supervision. The direct control and supervision of national cemeteries are exercised by the army commander in whose area they are located, except those cemeteries which are specifically exempted. General supervision over all national cemeteries is a function of The Quartermaster General.

§ 553.3 Records, custody. The Quartermaster General is charged with the preservation of all records of national cemeteries. Historical records will be prepared and maintained for all national cemeteries, utilizing the same Quartermaster Corps forms as for historical records of posts and stations.

§ 553.4 Burials in national cemeteries—(a) Eligibility. Under the provisions of R. S. 4878, as amended by act April 15, 1920 (41 Stat. 552; 24 U. S. C. 281) and act June 13, 1935 (49 Stat. 339; 24 U. S. C. 281), the following persons are entitled to burial in a national cemetery:

(1) Those who served in the Federal forces of the United States either during peace or war and whose last discharge therefrom was honorable, including service in the:

(i) Army.
(ii) Navy.
(iii) Marine Corps.
(iv) Coast Guard.
(v) Coast and Geodetic Survey, who were transferred to and served with the Army or Navy by authority of the President.
(vi) Public Health Service, who were detailed for duty with and served with the Army or Navy by authority of the President.
(vii) Trainees under the act approved September 16, 1940.

(2) Any citizen of the United States who served in the army or navy of any government at war with Germany or Austria during the World War and who died while in such service or after honorable discharge therefrom, and who was a citizen of the United States at the time of such service.

(3) Persons dying in the District of Columbia or in the immediate vicinity thereof who served in the Confederate armies during the Civil War may be buried in the Confederate Section of Arlington National Cemetery as provided in paragraph (b) of this section.

(4) Any member of the Cabinet of the President of the United States at any time during the period between April 6, 1917, and November 11, 1918.

(b) Evidence of right. For those who were not in the service of the United States at the time of death, it is a prerequisite that they shall have been honorably discharged from the service. In all cases the last service of a decedent must have been honorable. The production of the honorable discharge covering the last service of a decedent will be sufficient authority for the superintendent of a national cemetery to permit interment. In cases where the honorable discharge cannot be produced or where there is a reasonable doubt as to eligibility for interment in a national cemetery, the superintendent will telegraph The Quartermaster General for verification of service and authorization for interment, furnishing all the information it is possible to obtain concerning the service of the decedent including the full name, organization, serial number, if any, and dates of service. In the case of citizens of the United States who served in the army or navy of any government at war with Germany or Austria, the superintendent will request evidence of citizenship at time of service, correct name of decedent, grade, and military organization in the army in which he served and will communicate with The Quartermaster General by telegraph for the necessary permit for burial. Pension certificates will not be accepted as authority upon which to authorize interment.

In the case of Confederate veterans, the certificate of Camp No. 171, United Confederate Veterans of the District of Columbia, that such persons are entitled to burial in Arlington National Cemetery, is required.

In the case of members of the President's Cabinet as indicated in paragraph (a) of this section, authority for interment will be requested of The Quartermaster General.

(c) Interment of members of families. (1) The wives of both officers and enlisted men may be buried with their husbands in a national cemetery. The wife may be interred prior to the death and burial of her husband provided the officer or enlisted man gives assurance that regardless of whether or not he remarries he will eventually be buried in the adjacent grave site reserved for the purpose. In those cemeteries where lots are assigned to an individual, the burial of his minor children and unmarried adult daughters (this includes daughters who have never married, widows, and divorcees) is permitted under the following conditions, provided there is room in the lot:

(i) That the fact of the interment shall be entered on the records of the cemetery, but the name shall not appear on any monument on the lot.

(ii) That the grave shall be marked, if so desired, at private expense, only with a footstone sunk flush with the ground, not exceeding 10 by 20 inches at the top, with a suitable identifying inscription and dates of birth and death.

(iii) That the written concurrence in the above conditions by the legal next of kin be forwarded to The Quartermaster General.

(2) No lots or grave sites will be assigned in advance of their actual requirement for burial purposes.

(ii) The exchange may enter into a separate contract with any taxicab or bus company operating on the post, camp, station, or installation under a revocable license from the post commander, under which contract the exchange agrees to act as agent for such company for the sale of tickets entitling the holder to transportation.

(iii) The contract under subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph requires the approval of the commanding general of the army area.

(iv) For its service as such ticket agent the exchange may receive a legal commission. This will not exceed 10 percent of the sales price of such tickets, and no part of such commission will be rebated or allowed in any manner as a credit to the purchaser of such ticket.

(3) Concessions will not be granted private individuals, firms, or corporations to operate any of the activities of the type listed in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph without the approval of the commanding general of the army area, and if the furniture, fixtures, and equipment necessary to operate any such activity are owned by the exchange, in the absence of extenuating circumstances, such approval will not be given.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 70–1946]

STANDARD GAS AND ELECTRIC CO.

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION AND PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 8th day of October 1948.

Standard Gas and Electric Company ("Standard"), a registered holding company and a subsidiary of Standard Power and Light Corporation, also a registered holding company, has filed an application-declaration and amendments thereto, pursuant to section 12 (d) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"), and Rules U-44 and U-50 promulgated thereunder relating to the transactions summarized below:

Standard, which presently owns 750,025 shares (or 84.27%) of the outstanding Common Stock, $20 par value, of Oklahoma Gas and Electric Company ("Oklahoma"), proposes to sell pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, 250,000 shares of such stock and to apply the net proceeds towards the payment of interest and principal on its outstanding notes payable to banks, due April 10, 1949, aggregating $20,694,384.95 as of June 30, 1948. Standard also proposes to make purchases of Oklahoma Common Stock, if such purchases at the time are deemed necessary or desirable, for the purpose of stabilizing the market price of the said stock. Such purchases will be made during the period from and including October 11, 1948, to the time of the acceptance or rejection of proposals for the purchase of said 250,000 shares of Oklahoma Common Stock, or through October 20, 1948, whichever is earlier. Any shares so acquired by Standard will be retained by it, subject, however, to the provisions of the order of the Commission, dated August 8, 1941, in File No. 59-9, wherein Standard was directed, among other things, to sever its relationship with Oklahoma.

As the application-declaration was originally filed, Standard proposed to sell to underwriters 400,000 shares of its holdings of Oklahoma Common Stock and requested an exemption from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50 in connection with such sale. Pursuant to an order of the Commission, dated September 24, 1948, Holding Company Act Release No. 8535, public hearings were held to consider whether Standard's request for an exemption from Rule U-50 should be granted. During the course of such hearings, Standard filed a further amendment to its application-declaration and modified the proposed transactions, as stated above.

Standard has requested that the Commission's order herein become effective on the date of issuance, that such order contain appropriate findings and tax recitals required by sections 371 (b), 371 (f) and 1808 (f) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended, and that the 10-day period for inviting bids as provided in Rule U-50 be shortened to 6 days.

The application-declaration having been filed on September 13, 1948, and amendments thereto having been filed on September 23, 1948, and October 6, 1948, notice of said filing having been given in the manner and form prescribed b. said Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said act and the Commission not having received a request for a hearing with respect to said application-declaration, as amended, within the period specified in said notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon except as hereinabove noted; and

The Commission finding with respect to said application-declaration, as amended, that the requirements of the applicable provisions of the act and the rules and regulations thereunder are satisfied and that no adverse findings are necessary thereunder and deeming it appropriate in the public interest that said application be granted and that said declaration be permitted to become effective, forthwith, and that it is not necessary to impose any terms and conditions other than those set forth below:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act that said application-declaration, as amended, be, and the same hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective, forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24 and subject further to the condition that the proposed sale of the Common Stock of Oklahoma Gas and Electric Company shall not be consummated until the results of the competitive bidding pursuant to Rule U-50 with respect to said stock shall have been made a matter of record herein and a further order shall have been entered with respect thereto, which order may contain such further terms and conditions as may be deemed appropriate.

It is further ordered, That the Commission's order, dated August 8, 1941, requiring, among other things, that Standard Gas and Electric Company sever its relationship with Oklahoma Gas and Electric Company by disposing, or causing the disposition, in any appropriate manner not in contravention of the applicable provisions of the act, or the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, of its direct and indirect ownership, control and holding of securities issued and properties owned, controlled, or operated by Oklahoma Gas and Electric Company, shall be deemed to require the disposition of any shares of Common Stock of Oklahoma Gas and Electric Company acquired as a result of stabilizing the market price of such Common Stock, as authorized herein, with the same force and effect as if said shares had been held by Standard Gas and Electric Company as of the date of said order.

It is further ordered, That the 10-day period for the reception of bids with respect to the stock proposed to be sold, prescribed by Rule U-50, be, and same hereby is, shortened to 6 days.

It is further ordered, recited and the Commission finds that the proposed sale and transfer by Standard Gas and Electric Company of 250,000 shares of Common Stock, par value $20 per share, of Oklahoma Gas and Electric Company, an Oklahoma corporation (represented by Certificates Nos. CC108 and CC111) now held by Standard Gas and Electric Company, is necessary or appropriate to the integration or simplification of the holding company system of which Standard Gas and Electric Company is a member and is necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, within the meaning of sections 371 and 1808 (f) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

NORTHERN NEW ENGLAND CO. AND NEW ENGLAND PUBLIC SERVICE CO.

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 8th day of October A. D. 1948.

New England Public Service Company ("NEPSCO"), a registered holding company, has filed an application, and an amendment thereto, proposing to renew its notes payable to banks, dated October 9, 1947 and presently outstanding in the aggregate amount of $11,900,000, for the period of one year, and requesting a one year extension to October 9, 1949 of the time within which it must sell sufficient of its utility stocks to repay in full its notes, as provided by the amended plan of NEPSCO for the retirement of its Prior Lien Preferred stock, approved by the Commission, pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, on June 27, 1947 and September 12, 1947.[1] After appropriate notice, a public hearing was held with respect to said application, as amended. Two preferred stockholders' committees appeared in support of said application, and no one appeared in opposition thereto.

The amended plan of NEPSCO provided, inter alia, for a one year loan from The First National Bank of Boston and four other banks and trust companies in an amount not in excess of $16,000,000 at an interest rate of 2¼% per annum. It further provided that NEPSCO would within one year after the date of the loan sell at competitive bidding, or in such manner as the Commission may approve, sufficient of its holdings of utility stocks to repay the loan in full unless the Commission granted one or more extensions. On October 9, 1947, NEPSCO, in the consummation of its plan, borrowed an aggregate amount of $13,500,000 for the period of one year with the right to two successive renewals of one year each, provided the Commission approved such renewals. Under the loan agreement, the notes are payable ratably to the holders in proportion to the face amounts of such notes at the rate of $400,000 on the first days of January, April, July and October of each year, to be applied to the reduction of the principal. The notes have now been reduced to $11,900,000. The loan may be prepaid in whole or in part without penalty out of earnings or proceeds from sales of assets. No dividends will be paid on any class of stock of NEPSCO so long as any part of the loan remains unpaid.

NEPSCO's investments in utility stocks consist of 1,315,181 shares (77.8%) of the common stock of Central Maine Power Company ("Central Maine"), 493,856.8 shares (58.9%) of the common stock of Public Service Company of New Hampshire ("New Hampshire") and 231,668.5 shares (35.5%) of the common stock of Central Vermont Public Service Corporation ("Central Vermont"). NEPSCO has pledged, as collateral for its loan, all of its holdings of common stock of New Hampshire and 904,226 shares of its holdings of common stock of Central Maine. NEPSCO has also pledged all of its holdings of common stock of Central Vermont as collateral for an additional loan of $500,000, made in connection with the issue and sale of common stock by Central Vermont and the exercise of subscription rights of NEPSCO in July, 1948.[2] The total outstanding indebtedness of NEPSCO now amounts to $12,400,000.

[1] New England Public Service Company, — S. E. C. — (1947), Holding Company Act Release No. 7511; enforced In re New England Public Service Company, — F. Supp. —, Civil Action No. 477 (D. C. Me. August 8, 1947); Holding Company Act Release No. 7713.

On November 24, 1947, shortly after NEPSCO consummated its plan, New Hampshire filed an application with this Commission for the issue and sale of 139,739 additional shares of common stock for its own account, which sale was not fully consummated until May 4, 1948. The testimony is to the effect that the delay in effectuating the sale of such stock for New Hampshire's own account required postponement of NEPSCO's sale of its portfolio holdings of New Hampshire. The testimony further indicates that circumstances relating to the proposed sale of common stock by Central Maine and the sale of common stock by Central Vermont as described in our findings, opinions and orders of December 1 and 9, 1947,[3] and April 30, 1948, July 21 and 23, 1948,[4] respectively, made it inadvisable for NEPSCO to proceed with the sale of its common stock holdings in Central Maine and in Central Vermont. NEPSCO now represents that it will sell, during the fall of 1948, 200,000 shares of its holdings of common stock of New Hampshire. In this connection, NEPSCO has filed concurrently herewith a declaration (File No. 70-1951) for such sale at competitive bidding under Rule U-50. We have ordered a hearing with respect to said declaration on October 19, 1948. Among the issues at the hearing will be whether NEPSCO, in view of the provisions of the plan approved by us and the District Court, should not sell a larger block of its portfolio holdings of New Hampshire than is proposed in said declaration.

Under the circumstances, we believe that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors to permit the renewal of the bank notes for the period of one year from October 9, 1948. However, we see no necessity for granting NEPSCO a one year extension to October 9, 1949 of the time within which it must sell sufficient of its holdings of utility stocks to repay in full its bank loan.

We conclude that no adverse findings are necessary with respect to the proposed renewal of the notes under the applicable standards of the act, and we observe no basis for the imposition of terms and conditions other than those contained in Rule U-24. Accordingly, we find that the application as amended, should be granted insofar as it relates to the renewal of the notes for the period of one year, and we take no action at this time with respect to the requested extension of time within which NEPSCO was to sell sufficient of its holdings to repay in full its bank loan.

It is ordered, That the application, as amended, of New England Public Service Company insofar as it relates to the renewal of its notes, dated October 9, 1947, and presently outstanding in the aggregate amount of $11,900,000, for the period of one year, as provided by the amended plan of NEPSCO for the retirement of its Prior Lien Preferred stock, approved by the Commission, on June 27, 1947, and September 12, 1947, be, and the same hereby is, granted forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions contained in Rule U-24.

By the Commission.

Secretary.

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

[Rev. Supplement 1]

PART 60—AIR TRAFFIC RULES

SEGMENTED CIRCLE AIRPORT MARKER SYSTEM; RIGHT TURN INDICATORS

Under section 601 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, the Civil Aeronautics Board is empowered to delegate to the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics the authority to prescribe rules, regulations, and standards which promote safety of flight in air commerce.

Under § 60.108 (a) of the Civil Air Regulations, the Civil Aeronautics Board has authorized the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics to approve standard visual markings which, when displayed at airports, require pilots operating aircraft to make turns to the right.

Acting pursuant to the foregoing statute and regulation, the following rules are hereby adopted. They supersede the CAA Specifications published in 13 F. R. 172–173 and made effective on January 13, 1948, and they impose no additional burdens upon interested persons. They are made effective on the date indicated in order to promote safety of the flying public. Compliance with the notice, procedures, and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act would be impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest, and therefore is not required.

§ 60.108 Operation on and in the vicinity of an airport. * * *

RIGHT-TURN INDICATORS

The "L" shaped marker described hereinafter is approved as a standard visual marker which indicates that turns are to be made to the right. The marker shall be prepared in such size and color, and located in such area, that when displayed between sunrise and sunset it will be readily visible to pilots using the airport. The marker shall be placed in such a position that the short member of the "L" will show the direction of traffic in the air, the long member of the "L" will point out the landing strip to be used, and the entire "L" will indicate the course of the turn to be executed by pilots using the landing strip.

NOTE: The "L" shaped marker is applied to the Segmented Circle Airport Marker System in Technical Standard Order TSO-N5.

Administrator of Civil Aeronautics.

The International Aviation Facilities Act (Public Law 647, 80th Congress; 62 Stat. 450) vests directly in the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics and the Chief of the Weather Bureau certain authorities in connection with the transfer and operation of air navigation facilities abroad formerly vested in the Department of Commerce by virtue of Executive Order 9709. In view of this legislative transfer of authority, the delegations of authority made to the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics and the Chief of the Weather Bureau in § 12.10 are no longer necessary.

TITLE 41—PUBLIC CONTRACTS

Chapter II—Division of Public Contracts, Department of Labor

PART 202—MINIMUM WAGE DETERMINATIONS

MEN'S HAT AND CAP INDUSTRY; DETERMINATION OF THE SECRETARY

This matter is before me pursuant to the act of June 30, 1936 (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U. S. C., secs. 35–45) entitled "An act to provide conditions for the purchase of supplies and the making of contracts by the United States, and for other purposes," otherwise known as the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act, and upon the petition of the United Hatters, Cap and Millinery Workers International Union, that I determine the prevailing minimum wage for skilled workers in the men's hat and cap industry, except furfelt hats, to be 85 cents an hour, and the prevailing minimum wage for auxiliary workers to be 65 cents an hour. The existing rate of 67.5 cents for skilled workers was established in the determination of the Secretary of Labor dated July 28, 1937 and continued in the amendment dated January 24, 1938 (41 CFR, 202.11), and the existing rate of 40 cents per hour for auxiliary workers was established in the amending determination of February 2, 1944 (41 CFR, 1944 Supp., 202.11).

Notice of a hearing in this matter was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (13 F. R. 2661) and copies were sent to Government agencies, associations, unions and individuals known to be interested, and a press release was distributed to the national press, trade publications and firms in the industry advising of the time and place for interested parties to appear and offer testimony for or against the proposal of the Union, and as to whether any amendment to the prevailing minimum wage determination should include provision for the employment of learners for skilled occupations at a rate lower than the minimum wage hereinbefore stated. The notice also provided that written statements in lieu of personal appearance might be filed at any time prior to the hearing or with the presiding officer at the hearing, and stated that copies of a recent survey of wages prepared by the Union were available upon request. The hearing which was held on June 15, 1948, and at which representatives of the Union and of employers appeared and testified, was intended to obtain evidence on the wages being paid to employees who make caps and cloth hats, and no evidence was received relative to wages paid in the furfelt hat branch of the industry. Following consideration of the record by him, the Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions recommended approval of the petition of the union.

I have considered this matter and I am satisfied that the rate of 85 cents an hour proposed in the petition of the Union is the prevailing minimum wage in the cap and cloth hat branch of the industry and that an amendent of the current determination is required pursuant to the act. The evidence presented at the hearing clearly supports an 85-cent minimum. There was no opposition to the fixing of such rate for experienced workers by the employer representatives who testified at the hearing. The employer representatives, however, suggested the inclusion of adequate provision in the amendment permitting the employment of learners at a subminimum rate, and the Administrator has proposed a learner provision as hereinafter shown.

The survey of wages submitted by the Union was based on reports from employers on wages paid in 20.4 percent of the number, according to the 1939 Census of Manufacturers, of cap and cloth hat manufacturing establishments. The survey was a representative sample of the wages paid to employees in the various producing areas. The plants were selected not on the basis of knowledge of their wage scales but on the basis of an adequate representation of uniform cap shops and civilian shops and on the basis that they had the necessary number of employees to make up a one-third sample of all employees in the industry. The covered areas employed, according to the 1939 Census, 80.7 percent of the cap workers in the United States in that year, and the survey embraced 34.4 percent of the workers on the basis of such Census, 88 percent being skilled workers. On the basis of Census figures the proportion of workers covered by the survey was lower in the highest-wage area and substantially lower on the basis of Union membership, resulting in a downward bias in the computation of average earnings, and of frequency distribution of earnings for the United States as a whole; for example, the average straight-time hourly earnings for skilled workers in February–March of 1948 was $1.51, which was raised to $1.57 by adjustment to equal coverage of all areas according to the 1939 Census and to $1.63 by such adjustment to 1947 membership figures.

The range in the average straight-time hourly earnings of skilled workers, 90 percent of whom were unionized employees, was from $1.07 in the lowest wage area to $1.97 per hour in the highest wage area, there being no marked differences in the other areas, which ranged between $1.36 and $1.55. Only 7.2 percent of such workers were earning less than 85 cents per hour; moreover, the 7.2 percent is lowered to 6.9 and 6.7 percent, respectively, by adjusting the distribution figures to equal distribution of workers according to the 1939 Census and the 1947 membership. There were no skilled workers earning less than 85 cents an hour in one area. The range in the other surveyed areas was, without adjustment to Census and membership figures, from 1.2 percent to 19.7 percent, but in the latter area only 10.5 percent earned less than 75 cents per hour and only 5.9 percent earned less than 70 cents. The survey also shows that nearly all cap and cloth hat contracts which are covered by the act are for uniform caps and hats, and that workers in uniform cap shops generally earn higher wages than workers in other cap shops, the average for the former being $1.66 and for the latter $1.40; only the St. Louis area deviated from this pattern of wage differentials. Additional evidence that the prevailing minimum wage is 85 cents an hour may be derived from the survey's table showing the percentage distribution of hourly earnings; the largest cluster of employees earning less than one dollar an hour occurs in the 80–89 cents brackets, with 7.0 percent receiving such earnings; only 1.5 percent of such employees are shown in the 75–79 cents brackets, and only 1.3 percent are shown as receiving 70 to 74 cents per hour.

A manufacturer of the St. Louis area who represented five manufacturers in that area pointed out alleged inadequacies in the Union's statistical method and testified that he had made a wage survey which indicated lower average earnings than shown in the Union's survey, but it appeared that the employees involved were predominantly hourly-rate employees who traditionally earn less than pieceworkers and that his survey was made at a time when employment had increased with a resultant influx of inexperienced employees; however, the detailed data upon which his conclusions were based were not presented in evidence, and counsel stated that a wage differential for the area was not proposed. The Pennsylvania employer representative who appeared at the hearing entered no objection to the methods or results of the Union survey, and, as heretofore indicated, none of the representatives of cap and cloth hat manufacturers considered the proposed 85-cent minimum wage for experienced employees a problem if appropriate allowance were made for the employment of learners. Also, subsequent to the hearing a letter was received from a national association representing 186 firms which make uniform headwear stating that they approved the proposed minima and expressing the thought that some provision should be made for a limited number of learners.

The Union proposed a learner tolerance for the occupations of operating, cutting, blocking, pressing and overhand sewing, limited to not exceeding 10 percent of workers employed in each craft, and the period of learning to be 240 hours of employment in the industry. The Union proposal was satisfactory to the Pennsylvania representative at the hearing in all respects except as to the proposed percentage limitation of 10 percent on the number of learners to be permitted. The St. Louis representative opposed such limitation as well as the 240-hour learning period, and urged that a learner tolerance be granted permitting subminimum learner rates on a graduated scale for a period of one year with no limitations on the number of learners which may be employed at such subminimum rates.

It is my opinion that the evidence and testimony presented at the hearing supports a finding that a 10% learner tolerance is appropriate and sufficient to take care of normal needs in the industry. It seems clear, however, that in some abnormal situations such as establishing of new plants and expansion of plants and plant facilities a greater proportion of learners in the skilled occupations is required, and that adequate provision for an increase in the tolerance under certain specified conditions should be included in the determination. The evidence also shows that under the section-work system which prevails in this industry any extension of the learning period at subminimum rates beyond six weeks would be unwarranted.

There was no substantial objection to the Union's proposal of a 65-cent rate for auxiliary workers, which constituted approximately 13 percent of the total working force, and there is no indication that the Union survey does not give a substantially correct picture of the wage structure for such workers. The average straight-time hourly earnings for auxiliary workers in February and March of 1948, according to the Union survey, were 76 cents, the range among the various areas being from 67 to 85 cents. Of all such workers, 32.4 percent earned less than 65 cents but only 15.1 percent earned less than 60 cents and only 1.4 percent earned less than 55 cents; and the 32.4 percent is reduced to 20.3 percent and 15.4 percent by adjustment to Census and membership figures. In the New York area no auxiliary workers would be affected by the proposed minimum and the range of the other areas is, without adjustment, from 16.7 percent in Chicago to 46 percent in Philadelphia, but in the latter area only 24.4 percent earned less than 60 cents per hour and none earned less than 55 cents per hour. The largest cluster of low-wage employees in the survey's table showing the percentage distribution of hourly earnings is in the 60–69 cents brackets, with 32.4 percent of the workers receiving such hourly earnings; only 13.7 percent were in the 55–59 cents brackets, and only 1.4 percent received hourly earnings of 50 to 54 cents.

There was no objection to the continued exclusion from the definition of the industry of washable service articles such as hats and caps worn by cooks, bakers, hospital employees, et al., as set forth in the notice of hearing. However, this exclusion does not cover white sailor hats, work hats, or similar caps and hats which, even though they may be washable, are not contemplated by the term "washable service" hats and caps. The Union contended, however, that since hat and cap manufacturers did in fact manufacture leather and sheeplined hats and caps such articles should be covered in amending the current determination, but since they are also made by companies which manufacture leather and sheeplined clothing and in about equal proportions, and since the notice of the hearing contained a proposed clarification of the definition which specifically excluded such articles, I see no purpose in disturbing the Department's present structure of industry definitions, nor do I feel justified in making any such change in the definition at this time, particularly since there is now before the Department a union petition to amend current determinations for other industries, one of which now includes the manufacture of leather and sheeplined hats and caps, and the petitioned rate is the same as in the current petition.

After consideration of the entire record of this proceeding the prevailing minimum wage determination for the men's hat and cap industry is amended to read as follows:

§ 202.11 Men's hat and cap industry. (a) (1) The cap and cloth hat branch of the men's cap and hat industry shall be defined as the manufacture and supply of men's and boys' hats (other than fur-felt) and caps, hat and cap covers, cap frames, helmets and hoods, and women's hat and cap products of similar construction and design: Provided, however, That the definition shall not include the following types of hats and caps: Leather and sheeplined; washable service (such as cooks', bakers', hospital, etc.); rainwear; straw; knitted; metal; molded plastic; vulcanized fiber; and similar types.

(2) That the prevailing minimum wage for employees engaged in the performance of contracts with agencies of the United States Government subject to the provisions of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act for the manufacture or supply of products of the cap and cloth hat branch of the men's hat and cap industry is 85 cents an hour or straight-time earnings of $34 per week of 40 hours, arrived at either upon a time or piece-rate basis, except that auxiliary workers in such branch, as defined in the determination of February 2, 1944, shall be paid not less than 65 cents an hour or straight-time earnings of $26 per week of 40 hours, arrived at either upon a time or piece-rate basis and that learners in such branch may be employed subject to the following terms and conditions:

(i) Learners may be employed in the non-auxiliary occupations of machine operating, cutting, blocking, pressing and overhand sewing;

(ii) Learners may be paid 67½ cents per hour or straight-time earnings of $27 per week of 40 hours, unless experienced workers in the same plant and occupation are paid on a piece-rate basis, in which case learners must be paid the same piece rates paid to experienced workers and earnings based upon those piece rates, if such earnings are in excess of 67½ cents per hour;

(iii) The length of the learning period shall be 240 hours unless the learner has had experience in the industry within the previous five years in which case, the total number of hours of such experience must be deducted from the 240 hour learning period;

(iv) The number of learners may equal 10 percent of the number of workers employed in the crafts in which learners may be employed; except where, upon application to the Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions or his authorized representative, a special certificate has been issued authorizing employment of learners in excess of such 10 percent to meet a plant's abnormal situation created by establishment of new plants, expansion of production or plant facilities, and the like. Such special certificates will not be issued where it appears that experienced workers are available to the employer within the area from which he customarily draws his supply of labor, or that the issuance of a special certificate will create unfair competitive labor cost advantages, or will impair or depress working standards established for experienced workers for work of a like or comparable character in the industry.

(3) There shall be no limitation upon the number or proportion of auxiliary workers employed in the cap and cloth hat branch of the industry.

(4) The term "auxiliary workers" as applied to the employees in the cap and cloth hat branch of the industry shall include only those employees engaged in auxiliary occupations enumerated and defined as follows:

Hand clipping. The operation of separating component parts of the article after they have been sewn.

Hand cleaning. The operation of removing excess threads from the article or removing stains or dust.

Shipping and receiving. The operation of unloading and checking stock and preparing containers for shipment.

Waste material sorting. The operation of separating paper from the rags whether performed in the cutting room or elsewhere.

Hand stapling. The operation by hand pressure of a wire stapling machine to join together parts of the article, to attach labels, bows or cloth to the article or part of the article, or to join ends of a cardboard strip to form a packing ring.

Drawstring pulling. The operation of slipping a cord or drawstring through part of a cap, hood or helmet.

Basting pulling. The operation of pulling out basting threads.

Porter. The operation of cleaning floors or carrying boxes.

Band and braid fitting. The operation of placing by hand but not sewing on a cap a prepared band or braid.

Wire stiffener inserting. The operation of slipping a wire ring into the cap.

Hand buckling. The operation of slipping a buckle on a strap.

Visor inserting. The operation of inserting a canvas stiffener into a cloth pocket before the visor is attached.

Pasting. The operation of attaching a label or ticket to a part of hat with paste or glue.

Hand hole punching. The operation of punching a hole into material by use of an ice pick or similar pointed hand instrument.

Wire cutting and ring forming. The operation of cutting a wire to length and joining the ends to form a stiffener ring.

Hand eyeletting. The operation by hand pressure of a machine to attach an eyelet to the article.

Hand snap fastening. The operation by hand pressure of a machine to attach a snap fastener to the article.

(b) (1) The minimum wage for employees engaged in the performance of contracts with agencies of the United States Government subject to the provisions of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act for the manufacture or supply of products of the fur-felt hat branch of the men's hat and cap industry is 67½ cents an hour or $27 per week of 40 hours, arrived at either upon a time or piece-work basis.

(2) A tolerance of not more than 20 percent of the employees in any one factory whose activities at any given time are subject to the provisions of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act is permitted for auxiliary workers in the fur-felt hat branch of the men's hat and cap industry: Provided, That any auxiliary workers in this branch of the Industry shall be paid not less than 40 cents an hour or $16 per week for 40 hours arrived at either upon a time or piece-rate basis.

(c) Nothing in this section shall affect such obligations for the payment of minimum wages as an employer may have under any law or agreement more favorable to employees than the requirements of this determination.

This determination shall be effective and its provisions shall apply to all contracts subject to the Public Contracts Act, bids for which are solicited or negotiations otherwise commenced by the contracting agency on or after November 16, 1948.

PART 202—MINIMUM WAGE DETERMINATIONS

TEXTILE INDUSTRY; DETERMINATION OF THE SECRETARY

This matter is before me pursuant to the act of June 30, 1936 (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U. S. C., secs. 35–45) entitled "An act to provide conditions for the purchase of supplies and the making of contracts by the United States, and for other purposes," otherwise known as the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act, and upon the petition of the Textile Workers Union of America, that the current minimum wage determination for the textile industry be amended by determining that the prevailing minimum wage in the industry is eighty-seven (87) cents an hour. The existing rate of forty (40) cents was established in the determination of the Secretary of Labor dated May 25, 1942 (41 CFR, Cum. Supp., 202.43).

Notice of a hearing was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (13 F. R. 3051) and copies were mailed to trade associations, unions and Government agencies having an interest in the industry; in addition a press release was distributed to the national press, trade publications, and firms which had received awards since January 1, 1947. This notice and press release advised interested parties of the time and place at which they could appear and offer testimony for or against the proposal of the Union and as to whether any amendment should include provisions for the employment of apprentices and learners at rates lower than the petitioned minimum wage. The notice also provided that written statements in lieu of personal appearances could be filed at any time prior to the hearing or with the presiding officer at the hearing, and stated that copies of a recent survey of wages prepared by the Union were available upon request. The hearing was held on July 8, 1948 at which representatives of employees and employers appeared and testified. Briefs and written statements were filed by several interested parties.

I have considered the matter and I am satisfied that the rate of 87 cents an hour proposed in the petition of the Union and as recommended by the Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions is the prevailing minimum wage for this industry and that an amendment of the current determination is required pursuant to the act.

Well over 50 percent of the employees in the Textile Industry as herein defined are concentrated in the Southern States. Accordingly, in making a determination of the prevailing minimum wage, particular emphasis must be given to the rates which are paid in this predominant segment of the industry. While the Union's survey was representative of all principal textile areas, it included an unusually large representation of mills in the South. According to the Union's petition, mills organized by other unions and unorganized mills follow the wage pattern in contracts negotiated by the Textile Workers Union of America and the survey listed all mills in the low-wage areas known to have a minimum wage of 87 cents an hour or higher. Approximately three-fourths of the textile employees in the South are shown to be employed in such mills, and the Union contended that there were many additional mills having such minima, which contention appears to be supported by the results of a limited survey of wages in certain mills made by the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the Department.

The petition also stated that the Union had a very large proportion of the industry in the New England and Middle Atlantic States under contract and that the present minimum wage in cotton and rayon spinning and weaving in those areas is 97 cents an hour. In other branches of the industry the union minimum rate varied from 87½ cents upwards. The listing of mills and establishments in those areas having minimum rates of 87 cents or higher covered approximately half of the estimated number of employees in the former area and about 40 percent in the latter region.

Well over 90 percent of the industry's employees are concentrated in the three areas consisting of the South, the Middle Atlantic States and New England, and the Union contended that plants in the Middle Western States and on the Pacific Coast follow the Northern scale or have a higher scale. The listing of mills presented by the Union appears to be comprehensive and generally representative of the industry with respect to types of fiber, stages of processing and end products. A Union representative testified that 87 cents an hour "is truly the point of the lowest cluster of rates in the industry."

The employer representatives who appeared at the hearing offered no wage data and made no attempt to disprove or refute the economic data submitted by the Union in support of the proposed rate nor did they contend that 87 cents was not the prevailing minimum wage actually existing in the industry. They did, however, present arguments against the issuance of any amendment to the current determination for the industry. These arguments were directed against the basic public policy expressed in the act and therefore have no relevancy to the issues presented in this proceeding. In this connection it is pointed out that in the words of the Supreme Court in "Perkins v. Lukens Steel Co.," 310 U. S. 113 (1940), "This act's purpose was to impose obligations upon those favored with Government business and to obviate the possibility that any part of our tremendous national expenditures would go to forces tending to depress wages and purchasing power and offending fair social standards of employment." The act, as the embodiment of a permanent policy, simply directs that specified contracts shall include, among other things, stipulations that persons employed in the manufacture or furnishing of the contract commodities "will be paid not less than the minimum wages as determined by the Secretary of Labor to be the prevailing minimum wages." The proceeding was instituted upon the petition of the Union to ascertain the prevailing wage in this industry. The petition is not for an initial determination for this industry but for an amendment of a currently existing determination and only for the purpose of changing the determined rate so as to reflect the prevailing minimum wage as required by the act. The wage data presented provide adequate support for a finding that the prevailing minimum wage in the industry is 87 cents an hour.

There was no opposition to the Union proposal of a learner tolerance of 80 cents per hour for a six weeks period for the occupations now included in the learner regulations issued under the Fair Labor Standards Act and incorporated by reference in the current wage determination. The testimony also shows that apprentices are uniformly paid more than the petitioned minimum, making it unnecessary to provide for a subminimum rate for this group of employees.

After consideration of the entire record of this proceeding, the prevailing minimum wage determination for the textile industry is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 202.43 Textile industry. (a) For the purpose of this determination the term "textile industry" means:

(1) The manufacturing or processing of yarn or thread and all processes preparatory thereto, and the manufacturing, bleaching, dyeing, printing and other finishing of woven fabrics (other than carpets and rugs containing any wool) from cotton, flax, jute, other vegetable fiber, silk, grass, or any synthetic fiber, or from mixtures of these fibers; or from such mixtures of these fibers with wool or animal fiber (other than silk) as are specified in subparagraphs (7) and (8) of this paragraph; except the chemical manufacturing of synthetic fiber and such related processing of yarn as is conducted in establishments manufacturing synthetic fiber;

(2) The manufacturing of batting, wadding, or filling and the processing of waste from the fibers enumerated in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph;

(3) The manufacturing, bleaching, dyeing, or other finishing of pile fabrics or cords (except carpets and rugs containing any wool) from any fiber or yarn;

(4) The processing of any textile fabric, included in this definition of this industry, into any of the following products: bags; bandages and surgical gauze; bath mats and related articles; bedspreads; blankets; diapers; dishcloths; scrubbing cloths and wash-cloths; sheets and pillow cases; table-cloths, luncheloths and napkins; towels; window curtains; shoe laces and similar laces;

(5) The manufacturing or finishing of braid, net or lace from any fiber or yarn;

(6) The manufacturing of cordage, rope or twine from any fiber or yarn including the manufacturing of paper yarn and twine;

(7) The manufacturing or processing of yarn (except carpet yarn containing any carpet wool) or thread by systems other than the woolen system from mixtures of wool or animal fiber (other than silk) with any of the fibers designated in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, containing not more than 45 percent by weight of wool or animal fiber (other than silk);

(8) The manufacturing, bleaching, dyeing, printing or other finishing of woven fabrics (other than carpets and rugs) from mixtures of wool or animal fiber (other than silk) containing not more than 25 percent by weight of wool or animal fiber (other than silk), with any of the fibers designated in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, with a margin of tolerance of 2 percent to meet the exigencies of manufacture;

(9) The manufacturing, dyeing, finishing or processing of rugs or carpets from grass, paper, or from any yarn or fiber except yarn containing any wool but not including the manufacturing by hand of such products.

(b) The minimum wage for persons employed in the performance of contracts with agencies of the United States Government subject to the provisions of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U. S. C., secs. 35–45) for the manufacture or furnishing of the products of the textile industry shall be eighty-seven (87) cents an hour or straight-time earnings of thirty-four dollars and eighty cents ($34.80) for a week of forty (40) hours, arrived at on a time or piecework basis, except that learners may be employed subject to the following terms and conditions:

(1) Learners may be employed in the occupations of machine operating, machine tending, machine fixing and jobs immediately incidental thereto;

(2) Learners may be paid a subminimum rate of eighty (80) cents per hour or straight-time earnings of thirty-two dollars ($32) per week of forty (40) hours, unless experienced workers in the same plant and occupations are paid on a piece-rate basis, in which case learners must be paid the same piece rates paid to experienced workers and earnings based upon those piece rates, if such earnings are in excess of eighty (80) cents per hour;

(3) The length of the learning period shall be two hundred and forty (240) hours unless the learner has had previous experience in the industry in which case the number of hours of such experience must be deducted from the two hundred and forty (240) hour learning period;

(4) The number of learners may not exceed three (3) percent of the total number of machine operators, machine tenders, machine fixers and persons engaged in jobs immediately incidental thereto except where, upon application to the Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions or his authorized representative, a special certificate has been issued authorizing employment of learners in excess of three (3) percent to meet a plant's abnormal situation created by establishment of new plants, expansion of production or plant facilities, and the like. Such special certificates will not be issued where it appears that experienced workers are available to the employer within the area from which he customarily draws his supply of labor, or that the issue of a special certificate will create unfair competitive labor cost advantages, or will impair or depress working standards established for experienced workers for work of a like or comparable character in the industry.

(c) Deductions from the wages of employees may be made in accordance with the present regulations under the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, which I hereby adopt for the purpose of this wage determination.

(d) Nothing in this determination shall affect any obligation for the payment of minimum wages that an employer may have under any law or agreement more favorable to employees than the requirements of this determination.

(e) This determination shall be effective and its provisions shall apply to all contracts subject to the Public Contracts Act, bids for which are solicited or negotiations otherwise commenced by the contracting agency on or after November 16, 1948. (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U. S. C. 35)

HANDLING OF WALNUTS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA, OREGON, AND WASHINGTON

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING WITH RESPECT TO BUDGET OF EXPENSES FOR MARKETING YEAR BEGINNING AUGUST 1, 1948

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by the provisions of § 987.7 (a) of the marketing agreement and order (13 F. R. 4344), regulating the handling of walnuts grown in California, Oregon, and Washington, effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601, et seq.; 61 Stat. 208, 707), the Secretary of Agriculture is considering the approval of the budget of expenses of the Walnut Control Board (the administrative agency for operations under the regulatory program) in the sum of $59,800 for the marketing year beginning August 1, 1948. A proposed budget in this amount for the marketing year beginning August 1, 1948, has been recommended by the aforesaid Walnut Control Board, pursuant to a resolution adopted by said board at the duly called meeting in Los Angeles, California, on August 26, 1948.

It is anticipated that adequate funds will be provided to cover the proposed operational expenses by an assessment of one-tenth of a cent per pound of merchantable walnuts handled or certified for handling by handlers. This is the assessment rate for operational expenses prescribed by § 984.7 (b) of the marketing agreement and order in the absence of the fixing of a higher rate of assessment by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Prior to final approval of the aforesaid proposed budget in the amount specified, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writting to the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, Room 1844, South Building, Washington, D. CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[14 CFR, Parts 40, 41, 61]

PILOT AND DISPATCHER ROUTE AND AIRPORT QUALIFICATION AND RESCISSION OF SPECIAL CIVIL AIR REGULATION SERIAL NUMBER SR–323

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Pursuant to authority delegated by the Civil Aeronautics Board to the Bureau of Safety Regulation, notice is hereby given that the Bureau will propose to the Board amendments of Parts 40, 41, and 61 of the Civil Air Regulations and the rescission of Special Civil Air Regulation Serial No. SR–323 as hereinafter set forth.

Interested persons may participate in the making of the proposed rule by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted to the Civil Aeronautics Board, attention Bureau of Safety Regulation, Washington 25, D. C. All communications received within 45 days after the date of this publication will be considered by the Board before taking further action on the proposed rule.

Special Civil Air Regulation Serial No. SR–323 provides that certain domestic long-range high-altitude flights need not comply with certain of the provisions of the Civil Air Regulations applicable to scheduled air carriers. Experience has shown that safety has been in no way adversely affected during operations conducted under this and similar preceding Special Civil Air Regulations and that certain of the provisions and results should be incorporated into the permanent regulations. Therefore, the following proposals are being made applicable to Parts 40 and 61 (domestic scheduled air carriers) and Part 41 (scheduled air carriers operating to points outside the continental limits of the United States). If the proposed amendments are adopted, Special Civil Air Regulation Serial No. SR–323 will be rescinded.

For some years emphasis has been placed on that part of the qualifying procedures requiring the pilot to make a number of flights over a route prior to serving as first pilot thereover. With the advent of modern radio directional facilities and the incorporation into the regulations of higher en route minimum altitudes, en route terrain familiarity has lost much of its original importance. This is particularly true since a great many air carrier operations are conducted under instrument flight rules when the ground is not visible from shortly after take-off to final approach. It appears evident that such operations no longer require en route qualification but rather airport and approach facility familiarity. The amendments hereafter proposed embody this concept. Provision is made, however, to require actual flight over any particular route or segment thereof where operations are to be conducted in mountainous areas at or below the level of adjacent terrain within specified distances.

The route qualifications previously required of dispatchers are deleted since it is believed unnecessary to require this trip of the dispatcher when it is not required of the pilot.

The provision of the regulations placing a maximum altitude of 17,000 feet on scheduled air carrier operations is recommended for deletion. This rule, a wartime measure, now serves no further useful purpose and unduly restricts high-altitude long-range operations.

It is proposed to amend Parts 40, 41, and 61 as follows:

1. By amending § 40.2611 and §§ 41.302 through 41.3020 to read as follows:

Requirements for pilot route and airport qualification. Prior to serving as first pilot over a route in scheduled operations a pilot shall be thoroughly qualified and certified as competent thereto by an authorized check pilot of the air carrier. The qualifying procedures shall include at least the following:

(a) A written or practical examination on the route to be flown covering the following subjects, appropriate portions of which may be accomplished in a synthetic-type trainer:

(1) Weather characteristics,
(2) Navigational facilities,
(3) Communication procedures,
(4) The type of terrain and obstructional hazards,
(5) Minimum safe flight levels,
(6) Position reporting points,
(7) Holding procedures,
(8) Pertinent traffic control procedures, and
(9) Congested areas, obstructions, physical layout, and instrument approach procedures for each regular, provisional, refueling, and alternate airport approved for the route.

(b) Each pilot shall fly through all letdown procedures for the facilities to be used at each regular, provisional, and refueling airport for the trip to which he is to be assigned.

(c) When flight in mountainous areas is to be conducted at or below the level of the adjacent terrain within a horizontal distance of 25 miles on either side of the center line of the route to be flown, the pilot shall be familiarized with such terrain by actual flight.

(d) During the flight(s) required by paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section the qualifying pilot must be accompanied by a qualified first pilot of the air carrier, and, unless impracticable, such flight shall be conducted under day VFR conditions.

(e) Where an airport on a regularly assigned route is to be used into which the pilot has not flown within the preceding 12 months, he shall comply with the provisions of § 40.2611 (b) with respect to such airport.

2. By amending §§ 41.3021 and 61.514 to read as follows:

Maintenance of pilot route and airport qualifications. To maintain qualifications for a particular trip, a pilot must have made, within the preceding 12 calendar months, at least one entry into each regular, provisional, and refueling airport authorized for use on such trip. Additionally, where the trip is to be conducted in the type of terrain considered in § 40.2611 (c), the pilot shall have made, within the preceding 12 calendar months, at least one trip over such terrain.

3. By rescinding § 61.742.

4. By amending §§ 41.342 and 61.553 to read as follows:

Route qualification. Prior to dispatching aircraft over any route or part thereof a dispatcher shall be familiar with the following items:

(a) The contents of the air carrier operating certificate and the operations manual,
(b) The peculiarities of aircraft to be operated,
(c) The cruise control data and cruising speeds for such aircraft,
(d) The maximum authorized loads for the aircraft for the routes and airports to be used,
(e) The company radio facilities,
(f) The peculiarities and limitations of each radio and navigational facility to be used,
(g) The effect of weather conditions on aircraft radio reception,
(h) The airports to be used and general terrain,
(i) The prevailing weather phenomena,
(j) The sources of weather information available,
(k) The pertinent traffic control procedures,
(l) And any other pertinent phases of the air carrier operation.

5. By rescinding §§ 41.343, 41.344, 61.554, and 61.556.

6. It is also proposed to rescind Special Civil Air Regulation Serial Number SR–323.

These amendments are proposed under the authority of Title VI of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended.

(Secs. 205 (a), 601–610, 52 Stat. 984, 1007–1012; 49 U. S. C. 425 (a), 551–560)

TEXAS GAS TRANSMISSION CORP.

ORDER FIXING DATE OF HEARING

OCTOBER 12, 1948.

Upon consideration of the application filed August 19, 1948, by Texas Gas Transmission Corporation (Applicant) a Delaware corporation with its principal office at Owensboro, Kentucky, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, authorizing the construction and operation of certain natural-gas facilities, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, as fully described in such application on file with the Commission and open to public inspection;

It appearing to the Commission that:

(1) Temporary authorization to construct and operate the requested facilities was granted by the Commission on October 6, 1948; and

(2) This proceeding is a proper one for disposition under the provisions of § 1.32 (b) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, Applicant having requested that its application be heard under the shortened procedure provided by the aforesaid rule for noncontested proceedings, and no request to be heard, protests or petitions having been filed subsequent to the giving of due notice of the filing of the application, including publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER on September 24, 1948 (13 F. R. 5574-5).

The Commission, therefore, orders that:

(A) Pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing be held on October 28, 1948, at 9:30 a. m. (B) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the said rules of practice and procedure.

Date of issuance: October 12, 1948.

PANHANDLE EASTERN PIPE LINE CO. ET AL.

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE

OCTOBER 12, 1948.

It appearing to the Commission that:

(a) By its order issued November 25, 1947, and accompanying Opinion No. 161, at Docket Nos. G-200 and G-207, the Commission prescribed certain emergency service rules and regulations to govern the deliveries and sales of natural gas by Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company (Panhandle) during periods between November 25, 1947, and June 1, 1948, when the demands of Panhandle's customers exceeded the capacity of its system.

(b) By its order issued July 17, 1948, and accompanying Opinion No. 166, at Docket Nos. G-1023, G-1029, G-1031 and G-1013, the Commission, among other things, issued certain directives concerning deliveries by Panhandle to Michigan Consolidated Gas Company and Michigan Gas Storage Company during a period ending October 31, 1948.

(c) The record of the proceedings at Docket Nos. G-1023, et al. disclosed that the designed sales capacity of the pipeline facilities of Panhandle was estimated by Panhandle at 425,000 Mcf of natural gas per day, and that no increases in such sales capacity can be expected until February 1, 1949, at the earliest, at which time Panhandle hopes to have installed additional facilities which will increase its system sales capacity by approximately 40,000 Mcf per day.

(d) By its order issued July 17, 1948, at Docket No. G-880, the Commission continued in force and effect until April 30, 1949, the provisions of its order of October 10, 1947, requiring Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation to deliver not in excess of 20,000 Mcf of natural gas per day for the account of Panhandle or its customers.

(e) Estimates of firm requirements (based on zero degree temperature) to meet the consumer demands of distributing companies supplied from the Panhandle system, as compiled by the staff of the Commission from data submitted by Panhandle and by such distributing companies, show that peak day requirements for the winter season of 1948-1949 will approximate 526,000 Mcf, and that in so estimating firm requirements for the 1948-1949 winter season there was not included any amount whatsoever for interruptible sales.

(f) Considering estimates of requirements of distributing companies dependent upon Panhandle for their supply of natural gas, the estimate of delivery capacity from the Panhandle system during the winter season of 1948-1949 (giving due consideration to the continuing deliveries by Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation to the Panhandle area and the possible increase of such delivery capacity as a result of the completion of construction of additional facilities during the winter season of 1948-1949) and the deficiency in delivery capacity when compared with estimates of firm requirements of its attached customers, it is clearly indicated that the Panhandle system cannot meet such requirements during the coming winter season.

(g) Representatives of Panhandle and members of a committee representing the distributing companies served by Panhandle, through the Committee's Chairman, were invited by letter of August 25, 1948, to confer with representatives of this Commission for the purpose of formulating satisfactory emergency service rules and regulations to be established to govern the service from the pipe-line system when curtailment of deliveries of natural gas by Panhandle becomes necessary during the winter season of 1948–1949. However, such conference has not been held because of requests of Panhandle for postponement thereof and Panhandle has filed no proposed emergency service rules and regulations to govern deliveries of natural gas by Panhandle during the winter season of 1948–1949.

The Commission finds that:

(1) Consumer demands upon distributing companies dependent upon the Panhandle system for their supply of natural gas will exceed the available pipe-line capacity of the Panhandle system for the coming winter and the establishment of emergency service rules and regulations is necessary and required in the public interest.

(2) Unless reasonable and nondiscriminatory emergency rules and regulations are filed by Panhandle as supplements to existing and presently effective rate schedules, such reasonable and nondiscriminatory service rules and regulations must be established by order of this Commission.

The Commission, therefore, orders that:

(A) At a public hearing to be held commencing at 10:00 a. m. (e. s. t.) on October 21, 1948, in the Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C.:

(i) Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Company, if it has not filed with this Commission on or before October 18, 1948, supplements to its existing and presently effective rate schedules providing emergency service rules and regulations to govern the service from its pipeline system when curtailment of deliveries of natural gas by Panhandle becomes necessary during the winter season of 1948–1949, shall show cause, if any there be, why it has failed so to do.

(ii) In the event Panhandle does file the supplements referred to in paragraph (i) above, the companies dependent upon Panhandle Eastern for their supply of natural gas will be afforded opportunity at said hearing to show why such supplements should not be allowed to become effective as proposed.

(iii) In the event Panhandle does not file the supplements referred to in paragraph (i) above on or before October 18, 1948, or in the event such filings are made and found by the Commission to be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory, or preferential, Panhandle and the companies depending upon the Panhandle system for their supply of natural gas shall show cause, if any there be, why the Commission should not by order establish for the coming winter the same emergency service rules and regulations which were in effect during the winter season of 1947–1948, with such modifications if any, as are required in the public interest.

(B) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) of the rules of practice and procedure.

Date of issuance: October 12, 1948.

By the Commission.

(d) If the local board with which the registrant files such request finds that he has a good reason for his absence from his own local board area and that he is so far from his own local board area that it would be a hardship for him to return to his own local board area for induction, it shall endorse its approval upon the Request for Transfer for Delivery (SSS Form No. 260), mail the original and two copies by air mail (unless ordinary mail is as expeditious) to the registrant's own local board, mail a copy to the registrant, and file the remaining copy. When necessary for the accomplishment of the early induction of the registrant, the local board with which the registrant files his request may telegraph the registrant's own local board notifying it of the approval of the registrant's application for such transfer and requesting that the necessary records of the registrant be immediately forwarded to the local board of transfer. In such instances, the local board of transfer shall confirm the telegram by immediately mailing the original and two copies of the Request for Transfer for Delivery (SSS Form No. 260), with the endorsement of approval thereon, to the registrant's own local board.

(e) When the registrant's own local board receives the approved Request for Transfer for Delivery (SSS Form No. 260), or receives a telegraphic approval of a request for transfer as provided in paragraph (d) of this section, it shall take the following action:

(1) Complete on the original of the Request for Transfer for Delivery (SSS Form No. 260), immediately it is received, the order transferring the registrant for induction.

(2) Prepare in triplicate the Transfer for Delivery (SSS Form No. 263) and the Report of Delivery of Transferred Registrant (SSS Form No. 263–A).

(3) Mail one copy of the Request for Transfer for Delivery (SSS Form No. 260), one copy of the Transfer for Delivery (SSS Form No. 263), and one copy of the Report of Delivery of Transferred Registrant (SSS Form No. 263–A) to its State Director of Selective Service for his further action as provided in paragraph (1) of this section, and file one copy of the Request for Transfer for Delivery (SSS Form No. 260), one copy of the Transfer for Delivery (SSS Form No. 263), and one copy of the Report of Delivery of Transferred Registrant (SSS Form No. 263–A) in the registrant's Cover Sheet (SSS Form No. 101).

(4) Mail to the local board to which the registrant is being transferred for induction the original of the Request for Transfer for Delivery (SSS Form No. 260), the original of the Transfer for Delivery (SSS Form No. 263), the original and three copies of the Record of Induction (NME Form No. 47), all the records referred to in subparagraph (2) of paragraph (a) of § 632.5, and any other records designated by the Director of Selective Service.

(5) When the registrant's own local board receives a telegraphic approval of a request for transfer all actions required by this paragraph shall be taken immediately except such as relate to the completion, filing, and mailing of the original and copies of the Request for Transfer for Delivery (SSS Form No. 260), which actions shall be taken immediately that form is received from the local board of transfer.

c. Paragraph (c) of § 632.10 is amended to read as follows:

(c) To accomplish the transfer for induction under paragraph (a) or (b) of this section, the registrant's own local board shall:

(1) Prepare in triplicate the Transfer for Delivery (SSS Form No. 263) and the Report of Delivery of Transferred Registrant (SSS Form No. 263–A).

(2) Complete in duplicate the Request for Transfer for Delivery (SSS Form No. 260) by inserting the name and present address of the registrant and the words "By direction of the Director of Selective Service" and by completing the second endorsement on such form.

(3) Mail one copy of the Request for Transfer for Delivery (SSS Form No. 260), one copy of the Transfer for Delivery (SSS Form No. 263), and one copy of the Report of Delivery of Transferred Registrant (SSS Form No. 263–A) to its State Director of Selective Service and file one copy of the Request for Transfer for Delivery (SSS Form No. 260), one copy of the Transfer for Delivery (SSS Form No. 263), and one copy of the Report of Delivery of Transferred Registrant (SSS Form No. 263–A) in the registrant's Cover Sheet (SSS Form No. 101).

(5) Place a notation of the transfer of the registrant in the "Remarks" column of the Classification Record (SSS Form No. 102).

d. Paragraphs (c) and (d) of § 632.15 are amended to read as follows:

(c) The leader shall be given the following in a sealed packet:

(1) The original and two copies of the Delivery List (SSS Form No. 261).

(2) For each registrant being forwarded, the original and three copies of the Record of Induction (NME Form No. 47), all other records referred to in subparagraph (2) of paragraph (a) of § 632.5, and any other records designated by the Director of Selective Service.

(d) When it is necessary, travel tickets or transportation requests, and meal and lodging requests for the group, covering their trip to the place of induction, shall be issued. The leader shall be instructed to deliver the sealed packet containing the original and two copies of the Delivery List (SSS Form No. 261), the originals and three copies of the Record of Induction (NME Form No. 47), and all other information concerning the registrants in the group to the commanding officer of the induction station or to his representative.

e. Section 632.20 is amended to read as follows:

§ 632.20 Records returned to local board. (a) The commanding officer of the induction station will return to the local board the following documents concerning registrants forwarded for induction:

EXECUTIVE ORDER 10009

REVOKING IN PART EXECUTIVE ORDERS NO. 589 OF MARCH 14, 1907, AND NO. 1712 OF FEBRUARY 24, 1913

WHEREAS Executive Order No. 589 of March 14, 1907, recited in part that passports issued by the Government of Japan to Japanese or Korean citizens who were skilled or unskilled laborers to go to Mexico, Canada, or Hawaii were being used for the purpose of enabling the holders thereof to come to the continental territory of the United States to the detriment of labor conditions therein, and ordered that such citizens of Japan or Korea be refused permission to enter the continental territory of the United States; and

WHEREAS Executive Order No. 1712 of February 24, 1913, recited that passports issued by certain foreign governments to their citizens or subjects, skilled or unskilled laborers, to go to countries or places other than the continental territory of the United States were being used for the purpose of enabling the holders thereof to come to the continental territory of the United States to the detriment of labor conditions therein, and ordered that such alien laborers, skilled or unskilled, be refused permission to enter the continental territory of the United States; and

WHEREAS the continued restraint imposed by the said Executive orders upon the freedom of Japanese or Korean citizens or subjects who entered the Territory of Hawaii under the passports referred to above to come to the continental United States has resulted in considerable personal hardship to such persons; and

WHEREAS the number of Japanese or Korean citizens or subjects thus prohibited from entering the continental United States from the Territory of Hawaii is so small, and the age of such persons is so advanced, that their entry into the continental United States would no longer be a detriment to labor conditions therein:

NOW, THEREFORE, by virtue of the authority vested in me by section 3 of the Immigration Act of 1917 (39 Stat. 875; 8 U. S. C. 136), I hereby revoke the said Executive Orders No. 589 of March 14, 1907, and No. 1712 of February 24, 1913, to the extent that they are applicable to Japanese or Korean citizens or subjects who entered the Territory of Hawaii under the aforesaid passports and who are now precluded from legally entering or remaining in the continental territory of the United States by reason of such Executive orders.

The Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization is hereby authorized and directed, with the approval of the Attorney General, to take such action and to issue such rules and regulations as may be necessary for carrying out the provisions of this order.

PART 951—TOKAY GRAPES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA

DETERMINATION RELATIVE TO BUDGET OF EXPENSES AND FIXING OF RATE OF ASSESSMENT FOR 1948-49 SEASON

Notice was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (13 F. R. 5317), dated September 11, 1948, that consideration was being given to proposals regarding the budget of expenses and the fixing of the rate of the assessment for the 1948-49 season under the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 51, as amended (7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 951.1 et seq.), regulating the handling of Tokay grapes grown in the State of California. This regulatory program is effective under the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended. After consideration of all relevant matters presented, including the proposals set forth in the aforesaid notice which were submitted by the Industry Committee (established pursuant to said amended marketing agreement and order), it is hereby found and determined that:

§ 951.203 Budget of expenses and rate of assessment for the 1948-49 season. The expenses necessary to be incurred by the Industry Committee, established pursuant to the provisions of the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, for the maintenance and functioning of such committee during the season beginning April 1, 1948, and ending March 31, 1949, both dates inclusive, will amount to $23,470.00; and the rate of assessment to be paid, in accordance with the amended marketing agreement and order, by each handler who first handles Tokay grapes shall be $0.014 per hundred pounds of Tokay grapes shipped by him during such season as the first handler thereof and such rate of assessment is hereby fixed as each such handler's pro rata share of the aforesaid expenses.

It is hereby further found and determined that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to postpone the effective date of this determination until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1946 ed. 1001 et seq.) in that (a) shipments of Tokay grapes covered by the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order have already commenced; (b) the aforesaid rate of assessment is applicable to all Tokay grapes shipped during the aforesaid season; (c) Tokay grape shipments are currently regulated (13 F. R. 5147, 5307, 5485); (d) the mandatory inspection requirements of said amended marketing agreement and order are in effect; (e) in order for the aforesaid necessary assessments to be collected it is essential that the specification of the assessment rate be issued immediately so as to enable the said Industry Committee to perform its duties and functions under said amended marketing agreement and order; and (f) a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective date.

As used in this section, the terms "handler," "handles," "shipped," and "season" shall have the same meaning as when used in the said amended marketing agreement and order. (48 Stat. 31, as amended, 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq. 7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 951.1 et seq.)

GRADING AND CERTIFICATION OF MEATS, PREPARED MEATS AND MEAT PRODUCTS

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Notice is hereby given in accordance with section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1946 ed. 1003 (a)) that the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States is considering amending § 53.23 (d) of the regulations governing the grading and certification of meats, prepared meats, and meat products (7 CFR Supp 53.23 (d); 13 F. R. 1275) under the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (7 U. S. C. 1946 ed. 1621 et seq.) and the item for market inspection of farm products in the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1949 (Pub. Law 712, 80th Congress; 7 U. S. C. 1946 ed. Supp. 414) to read as follows:

(d) What grade-identifying device shall show. Each grade identifying device shall bear a name or appropriate symbol approved by the Administrator, clearly indicating the grade of the product as determined by an official grader, and such other marks or symbols as may be required by the Administrator for the proper identification of the product and the service rendered.

The purpose of the proposed amendment is to clarify the authority of the Administrator to require that meats when graded shall be officially identified as to class, so as to prevent their being mistaken for meats of other classes.

Any person who wishes to submit written data, views or arguments concerning the foregoing proposed amendment may do so by filing them with the Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than 15 days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Done at Washington, D. C. this 14th day of October 1948. Witness my hand and the seal of the United States Department of Agriculture.

UNITED PUBLIC UTILITIES CORP. ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING OF AMENDMENT TO PLAN AND OF AN APPLICATION; ORDER CONSOLIDATING PROCEEDINGS AND RECONVENING HEARINGS

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 11th day of October 1948.

In the matter of United Public Utilities Corporation, Applicant, File No. 54-97; United Public Utilities Corporation and its Subsidiary Companies, Respondents, File No. 59-73; United Public Utilities Corporation and its Subsidiary Companies, Respondents, File No. 59-38; Ohio Valley Gas Company, Applicant, File No. 70-1954.

Notice is hereby given that United Public Utilities Corporation ("UPU"), a registered holding company, has filed, pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 (the "Act"), an amendment to Part III of its over-all plan for liquidation and dissolution. The amendment is designated as "Supplement 2 to Part III" (Supplement 2) and is described as the final step in the liquidation and dissolution of UPU Supplement 2 consists of two plans, hereinafter referred to as "Plan A" and "Plan B."

Briefly stated, Plan A provides for the sale by UPU to Ohio Valley Gas Company ("Ohio Valley"), a non-affiliated operating public utility company, of all of the outstanding securities of UPU's remaining subsidiaries, Indiana-Ohio Public Service Company, Lynn Natural Gas Company, and Peoples Service Company ("Indiana subsidiaries"), with the exception of 3.5% of the common stock of Peoples Service Company which is publicly held.

Plan B provides for the dissolution of UPU and the distribution of its assets, after provision for the payment of its liabilities, to the holders of its common stock and of voting trust certificates for common stock.

Notice is further given that Ohio Valley has filed an application pursuant to sections 9 (a) (2) and 10 of the act for approval of the acquisition of the securities of the Indiana subsidiaries owned by UPU.

All interested persons are referred to the aforesaid Supplement 2 of UPU and the application of Ohio Valley which are on file in the office of the Commission for a full statement of the transactions therein proposed which may be summarized as follows:

SUPPLEMENT 2 OF UPU

Plan A: Sale of Indiana subsidiaries. UPU proposes to sell to Ohio Valley all of the outstanding securities of UPU's Indiana subsidiaries owned by it for the sum of $700,000. The agreement of sale provides, among other things, that the Indiana subsidiaries shall pay to UPU all interest accrued and unpaid to the date of closing on income notes and debt securities of the Indiana subsidiaries owned by UPU and that the Indiana subsidiaries shall not declare or pay any dividends on their outstanding capital stocks between June 30, 1948, and the date of closing.

Plan B: Dissolution of UPU. UPU proposes that, upon consummation of the sale of the Indiana subsidiaries and at such time as UPU's board of directors may determine, it will dissolve. UPU further proposes that, after provision for the payment or discharge of its liabilities, it will distribute all its remaining assets to holders of its common stock and its voting trust certificates for common stock.

It is proposed that the directors of UPU shall be Trustees in Dissolution ("Trustees"), and that upon dissolution of UPU, such Trustees shall settle and adjust the affairs of UPU and shall, from time to time, distribute the remaining assets of UPU ratably to the holders of UPU's common stock and to the holders of voting trust certificates for common stock upon the surrender of such certificates in exchange for common stock, and that the Trustees shall be authorized to retain for such time as they elect such portion of the remaining assets as they consider necessary or appropriate to satisfy fully the liabilities of UPU. UPU proposes that such liquidating distribution or distributions be made by the Provident Trust Company or such other corporation as the Trustees shall select as "Paying agent", the final distribution to be subject to the giving of notice as prescribed in Supplement 2.

UPU further proposes that upon the deposit by the Trustees with the Paying agent of the remaining assets of UPU for a final distribution to the common stockholders, the Trustees shall be discharged from their duties and from any liability to UPU's common stockholders, and the sole right of such stockholders shall be to claim the payments made under Supplement 2.

UPU also proposes that the period within which holders of common stock may claim payment of the liquidating distribution under Supplement 1 may be extended to a date not later than five years from the date of the divestment of the last subsidiary of UPU.

General provisions. The consummation of Plan A and Plan B is subject to the following conditions:

(a) That the Commission shall have found the plans necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act and fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby and shall have entered an order or orders approving the plans and, if UPU requests, that such order contain appropriate recitals as required by sections 371 (f) and 1808 (f) of the Internal Revenue Code to obtain for UPU and its stockholders certain benefits under Supplement R and Sections 1801, 1802, 1821 (b) and 3481 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(b) That a competent court, upon application by the Commission, shall have entered an order to enforce and carry out the provisions of Supplement 2, including the appointment of trustees and such other appropriate provisions as may be necessary or desirable to accomplish the dissolution of UPU in the manner provided in Plan B, and, at the option of UPU, such order shall have become final and no longer subject to review.

UPU reserves the right to request separate enforcement of Plan A and Plan B.

All expenses and fees incurred in connection with the consummation of Supplement 2 shall be subject to the approval of the Commission.

APPLICATION OF OHIO VALLEY

Ohio Valley is engaged in the purchase of natural gas and the distribution of such gas principally in Tell City and Cannelton, in the southern part of Indiana.

Ohio Valley proposes to acquire all of the securities of UPU's Indiana subsidiaries owned by UPU for the cash consideration described in the foregoing summary of Plan A.

Ohio Valley contemplates financing the proposed acquisition of securities through the issue and sale of common stock and bonds. In this connection, Ohio Valley contemplates that Lynn Natural Gas Company will be merged into Indiana-Ohio Public Service Company, that Indiana-Ohio Public Service Company and Peoples Service Company will issue mortgage bonds to Ohio Valley in substitution for the notes of such companies proposed to be acquired by Ohio Valley, that Ohio Valley will issue and sell $550,000 principal amount of mortgage and collateral trust bonds at par and will sell 21,000 shares of its common stock at the par value of $10 a share.

Ohio Valley states that it will file with this Commission exemption statements under Rules U-2 (a) (1) and U-9 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act.

The Commission being required by the provisions of section 11 (e) of the act before approving any plan thereunder to find, after notice and opportunity for hearing, that the plan as submitted or as modified is necessary to effectuate the provisions of subsection (b) of section 11 and is fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby, and it appearing appropriate to the Commission that notice be given and a hearing be held with respect to Supplement 2 and with respect to said application of Ohio Valley to afford all interested persons an opportunity to be heard with respect thereto; and it also appearing to the Commission that Supplement 2 has been filed in the consolidated proceedings pending with respect to UPU and its subsidiaries under sections 11 (b) (1), 11 (b) (2), and 11 (e) (File Nos. 59-38, 59-73, and 54-97); and it further appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate that the proceedings on the application of Ohio Valley be consolidated for hearing with the consolidated proceedings involving UPU and its subsidiaries:

It is ordered, That the proceedings on the application of Ohio Valley be consolidated for the purpose of hearing with the aforementioned consolidated proceedings and that a hearing be held on October 28, 1948 at 11 a. m., e. s. t., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. On such date the hearing room clerk in Room 101 will advise as to the room in which such hearing will be held. In the event that amendments to Supplement 2 are filed during the course of said proceedings, no notice of such amendments will be required by the Commission unless specifically ordered by it. Any person desiring to receive further notice of the filing of amendments by UPU should request such notice of UPU. Any person desiring to be heard or otherwise wishing to participate in this proceeding shall file with the Secretary, on or before October 26, 1948, a written request relative thereto as provided by Rule XVII of the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That Harold B. Teegarden or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose, shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (e) of the act, and to a hearing officer under the Commission's rules of practice.

The Division of Public Utilities of the Commission having advised the Commission that it has made a preliminary examination of Supplement 2 and the application of Ohio Valley and that, upon the basis thereof, the following matters and questions are presented for consideration without prejudice to its specifying additional matters or questions upon further examination:

1. Whether the aforementioned Plan A and Plan B, as submitted or as modified, are necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act and are fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby.

2. Whether the standards of section 11 (e) are met by Plan B insofar as it vests discretion in the directors of UPU or Trustees with respect to (a) the time of dissolution of UPU, (b) the times for making distributions to the security holders and the amounts of such distributions, (c) the time for creditors or others to file claims, and (d) the possible extension of the date for security holders to claim the liquidating distribution under Supplement 1.

3. Whether the proposed sale and acquisition of securities are in conformity with section 12 (d) and sections 10 (b) and 10 (c) of the act, and particularly whether the proposed acquisition of securities will unduly complicate the capital structure of the proposed holding company system of Ohio Valley or will be detrimental to the public interest or the interest of investors or consumers or the proper functioning of Ohio Valley's proposed holding company system.

4. Whether the fees, expenses and remuneration to be paid by UPU and Ohio Valley in connection with the proposed transactions are for necessary services and reasonable in amount.

5. Whether, in the event that the proposed transactions are approved, it is necessary or appropriate to impose terms or conditions in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers, and particularly whether the Commission should condition its approval of the proposed acquisition of securities upon such a fair offer by Ohio Valley to purchase the publicly held common stock of Peoples Service Company as the Commission may find necessary or appropriate.

It is further ordered, That particular attention shall be directed at said hearing to the foregoing matters and questions.

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be, and it hereby is, reserved to separate, either for hearing, in whole or in part, or for disposition, in whole or in part, any of the issues which may arise in these proceedings.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall give notice of this hearing by mailing a copy of this order by registered mail to the Federal Power Commission, the Public Service Commission of Indiana, and to UPU, Indiana-Ohio Public Service Company, Lynn Natural Gas Company, Peoples Service Company, Ohio Valley and the Lincoln National Life Insurance Company of Fort Wayne, Indiana; that notice shall be given to all other persons by general release of this Commission, which shall be distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases under the act; and that further notice shall be given to all persons by publication of this order in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

It is further ordered, That UPU shall mail a copy of this notice and order to each of its security holders (insofar as the identity of such security holders is known to UPU), including the holders of its voting trust certificates, at least 10 days prior to the date set for hearing; and that UPU shall enclose therewith a statement that UPU may amend Supplement 2 without giving notice thereof to security holders, unless ordered to do so by the Commission, except that any security holder requesting UPU to give him notice of further amendments shall be given such notice by UPU.

By the Commission.

PUBLIC SERVICE CO. OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

ORDER GRANTING APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 11th day of October A. D. 1948.

Public Service Company of New Hampshire ("New Hampshire"), a public utility subsidiary of New England Public Service Company, a registered holding company, having filed an application, and amendments thereto, pursuant to the third sentence of section 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, and Rule U-50 of the Rules and Regulations promulgated thereunder, regarding the following transactions:

New Hampshire proposes to issue and sell, pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, $7,000,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds, Series D, --% due 1978, to be issued under and secured by a First Mortgage to Old Colony Trust Company, as Trustee, dated as of January 1, 1943 as supplemented by various supplemental indentures, including a proposed Fourth Supplemental Indenture to be dated as of October 1, 1948. The interest rate and the price to the company for the bonds will be determined by competitive bidding except that the invitation for bids will specify that the interest rate shall be a muliple of ⅛ of 1% and that the price to the company shall be not less than 100% nor more than 102.75% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest.

The application states that the company will use $3,600,000 of the proceeds from the sale of the bonds to repay the company's short-term bank borrowings. The balance of the proceeds in the amount of $3,400,000 will be deposited initially with the Trustee under the indenture and will be withdrawn from time to time upon certification to the Trustee of additional property. It is anticipated by the company that the $3,400,000 deposited initially with the Trustee will be withdrawn by January 31, 1949 and will be similarly applied to repay short-term bank borrowings or will be used for other corporate purposes. New Hampshire has requested that the ten-day notice period for inviting bids as provided by subdivision (b) of Rule U-50 be shortened to not less than six days so as to permit the opening of bids on October 18, 1948, and that the order with respect to said application, as amended, become effective forthwith.

The application having been filed on September 10, 1948, and the last amendment thereto having been filed on October 8, 1948, and notice of said filing having been given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said act, and the Commission not having received a request for hearing with respect to the application, as amended within the period specified in said notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding that New Hampshire is entitled to an exemption from the provisions of section 6 (a) of the act pursuant to the provisions of section 6 (b) thereof, it appearing that the proposed issue and sale of bonds are solely for the purpose of financing the business of applicant and have been expressly authorized by the New Hampshire Public Service Commission, the Commission of the State in which New Hampshire is organized and doing business and by the Vermont Public Service Commission, the Commission of the State in which New Hampshire is also doing business; and

The Commission being of the opinion that it is appropriate to grant said application, as amended, without the imposition of terms and conditions other than those hereinafter stated; and the Commission also deeming it appropriate to grant the request of New Hampshire to shorten the bidding period provided by Rule U-50 to not less than six days and that the order herein become effective forthwith;

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of said act, that said application, as amended, be, and the same hereby is, granted forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions contained in Rule U-24 and subject to the additional conditions:

(1) That the proposed sale of bonds of New Hampshire shall not be consummated until the results of competitive bidding have been made a matter of record in this proceeding and a further order shall have been entered by this Commission in the light of the record so completed, which order may contain such further terms and conditions as may then be deemed appropriate, jurisdiction being reserved for this purpose.

(2) That jurisdiction be reserved with respect to all legal fees incurred or to be incurred in connection with the proposed bond financing.

It is further ordered, That, in accordance with the request of the applicant, the ten-day period for inviting bids as provided in Rule U-50 be, and the same hereby is, shortened to a period of not less than six days.

By the Commission.

Payments will be made for participation in the 1949 Naval Stores Conservation Program (hereinafter referred to as "this program") in accordance with the provisions of this bulletin and such modifications thereof as may hereafter be made. Payments are predicated upon the economic use and conservation of soil and timber resources on turpentine farms, and computed on the faces in the tract or drift where an approved conservation practice is carried out.

This program provides for payments for conservation practices only on turpentine farms having tracts or drifts of faces which were installed during, or after, the 1946 season.

706.1 General provisions.
706.2 Conservation practices and rates of payment.
706.3 General provisions relating to payments.
706.4 Total payments limited.
706.5 Application for payment.
706.6 Appeals.
706.7 Definitions.
706.8 Authority and availability of funds, and applicability.
706.9 Administration.

AUTHORITY: §§ 706.1 to 706.9 issued under secs. 7-17, 49 Stat. 1148, as amended, 52 Stat. 746, 62 Stat. 507, 1247; 16 U. S. C. 590g-590q.

§ 706.1 General provisions—(a) Loan and purchase programs. Producers who participate in this program including those producers operating within the public domain (see § 706.8 (c)), will meet the conservation requirements of any loan or purchase programs which may be set up for producers during 1949.

(b) Required performance. Each participating producer shall, on every turpentine farm owned or operated by him during the 1949 turpentine season, carry out one of the approved conservation practices in every tract or drift of faces that were installed during the 1946, 1947, 1948, and 1949 seasons, unless the Forest Service approves face installations made without carrying out a conservation practice. In cases where such approval is given for specific drifts or tracts of the turpentine farm, no payment will be made for any faces in such drifts or tracts.

(c) Inspection assistance. Each producer shall assist representatives of the Forest Service in the administration of this program by: (1) Giving them free access to his turpentine farm or farms, (2) counting all faces and keeping written records thereof separately by tracts and drifts, (3) furnishing court records and satisfactory evidence of control of faces to the local inspector when requested, (4) furnishing information on burned areas, cutting operations, and interest in other turpentine farms as requested, (5) furnishing competent labor to assist the local inspector in counting faces, (6) submitting an application for payment (Form NSCP-1303) and other prescribed forms, (7) notifying the Forest Service promptly of any change in ownership or control, and (8) otherwise facilitating the work of the inspector in checking compliance with the terms and conditions of this program.

(d) Fire protection. Each producer shall cooperate with any existing cooperative fire control system serving the general area where his turpentine farm is located, unless he is otherwise following good forest fire protection on his turpentine farm.

§ 706.2 Conservation practices and rates of payment. No tract or drift can qualify for more than one conservation practice. In each of the practices the faces are to be worked sufficiently to obtain at least one dipping of gum.

(a) Cupping only trees 9 inches or over d. b. h.; 2¢ per face. Payment for this practice is limited to tracts or drifts having only virgin working faces, i. e., faces installed for the first working during the 1949 season.

Performance: Trees on which faces are installed shall be selected in a manner that will result in having no faces (except back faces on trees having a worked-out face) on trees which are less than 9 inches d. b. h., and only one face on trees less than 14 inches d. b. h., provided that the installation of two cups on trees less than 14 inches d. b. h. in any tract or drift may be approved by the Forest Service as meeting the performance requirements of this paragraph where the Forest Service has determined such action conforms to sound forestry conservation practice. If faces have been installed contrary to these performance requirements, the cups and tins for such faces shall be removed within 30 days after being discovered unless a longer period of time for their removal is approved by the Forest Service. The shoulder of the first streak on any face installed on a round tree which is not deformed shall be not more than 18 inches from the ground. When this requirement is not met, no payment will be made for the faces in the tract or drift.

(b) Continuation of working faces on trees 9 inches or over d. b. h. ½¢ per face. Payment for this practice is limited to tracts or drifts having faces installed during the 1946, 1947, and 1948 seasons, together with any new faces that may have been installed within such tracts or drifts during the 1949 season.

Performance: With the exception of back faces on trees having a worked-out face, the only faces that may be continued as working faces are those on trees which are at least 9 inches d. b. h., and not more than any one face may be continued on any tree which is less than 14 inches d. b. h.: Provided, however, That faces installed during or after the 1946 season which do not meet the above requirements, but were approved for payment under a previous program, will be accepted under this practice if such faces are still being worked in 1949. If faces have been installed contrary to the requirements, the cups and tins on such faces shall be removed within 30 days after being discovered unless a longer period of time for their removal is approved by the Forest Service. The shoulder of the first streak on any face installed on a round tree which is not deformed shall be not more than 18 inches from the ground. When this requirement is not met, no payment will be made for the faces in the tract or drift.

(c) Cupping only trees 11 inches or over d. b. h., 4¢ per face. Payment for this practice is limited to tracts or drifts having only virgin working faces, i. e., faces installed for the first working during the 1949 season.

Performance: Trees on which faces are installed shall be selected in a manner that will result in having no faces (except back faces on trees having a worked-out face) on trees which are less than 11 inches d. b. h. and only one face on trees less than 14 inches d. b. h.: Provided, That the installation of two cups on trees less than 14 inches d. b. h. in any tract or drift may be approved by the Forest Service as meeting the performance requirements of this paragraph where the Forest Service has determined such action conforms to sound forestry conservation practice. If, upon inspection, it is found that these requirements are not met, the producer may qualify for payment under the practice specified in paragraph (a) of this section. No continuation payment will be made until 1950 when the 1949 virgin, which was installed under this practice, will be considered for qualification. The shoulder of the first streak on any face installed on a round tree which is not deformed shall be not more than 18 inches from the ground. When this requirement is not met, no payment will be made for the faces in the tract or drift.

(d) Selective cupping; cupping only trees to be removed in timber stand improvement; 5¢ per face. Payment for this practice is limited to tracts or drifts having only virgin working faces, i. e., faces installed for the first working during the 1949 season.

Performance: Trees on which faces are installed shall be selected in a manner that will result in leaving well distributed over the area at least as many round trees 9 inches or more d. b. h. uncupped as are cupped. The working area shall have a minimum of 25 uncupped round trees per acre which are 9 inches or more d. b. h. Under both of these conditions the cupped trees may be of any size. When these requirements are not met, the area will be considered for qualification under one of the diameter cupping practices as specified in paragraph (a) or paragraph (c) of this section. The shoulder of the first streak on any face installed on a round tree which is not deformed shall be not more than 18 inches from the ground. When this requirement is not met, no payment will be made for the faces in the tract or drift.

(e) Continuation of practice under (d) on selected trees; 2¢ per face. Payment for this practice is limited to those tracts or drifts which qualified for the selective cupping practice in the 1946, 1947, or 1948 programs, or the restricted cupping practice in the 1946 program.

Performance: No new faces shall be installed on round trees in these tracts or drifts. If, however, new faces have been installed on round trees, the entire drift or tract will be considered for qualification under the provisions of paragraph (b) of this section. There may be withheld, or required to be refunded, 4¢ per face for each such working face in the tracts or drifts in which such installation occurs. The shoulder of the first streak on any face installed on a round tree which is not deformed shall be not more than 18 inches from the ground. When this requirement is not met, no payment will be made for the faces in the tract or drift.

(f) Pilot plant tests; 5¢ or 8¢ per face. Payment under this practice will be limited to a small number of producers who are selected by the Forest Service to conduct controlled experiments in chemical stimulation. The 5¢ per face payment will apply to faces installed in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section. The 8¢ per face payment will apply to faces installed in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (c) or paragraph (d) of this section.

Performance: The experiments are to be carried out in accordance with provisions prescribed by the Forest Service.

§ 706.3 General provisions relating to payments—(a) Increase in small payments. The total payment computed for any producer with respect to his turpentine farm shall be increased as follows: (1) Any payment amounting to 71 cents or less shall be increased to $1.00; (2) any payment amounting to more than 71 cents but less than $1.00 shall be increased by 40 percent; (3) Any payment amounting to $1.00 or more shall be increased in accordance with the following schedule:

(b) Practices defeating purposes of programs. If the Forest Service finds that any producer has adopted or participated in any practice which tends to defeat the purposes of this program or previous programs, it may withhold or require to be refunded all or any part of any payment which has been or otherwise would be made to such producer under this program. Practices which tend to defeat the purposes of this and previous programs shall include, but are not restricted to, the following:

(1) The cutting contrary to good forestry practice of turpentine trees in drifts or tracts (including current nonworking areas) on which conservation payments have been or would be made under this or the 1946, 1947, or 1948 programs. There may be withheld or required to be refunded 3¢ per face for each face that was worked in 1946, 1947, or 1948 in the tracts or drifts in which such cutting occurs. Conformity to the following rules shall be considered good cutting practices:

Round or scarred turpentine trees should only be cut for thinnings or higher economic use. When such trees are cut for thinnings at least 150 trees per acre of approximately the same size as the trees which are cut should be left uncut and undamaged and well distributed over the cutting area.

When an area contains less than 150 round or scarred turpentine trees per acre which are 8 feet or more in height, at least six thrifty turpentine seed trees per acre, 10 inches or more d. b. h., shall be left uncut and undamaged.

When round or scarred trees are cut for higher economic use, such as high-quality timbers, poles, or piling, at least six thrifty turpentine seed trees per acre, 10 inches or more d. b. h., shall be left uncut and undamaged.

(2) The burning by the producer on any drift or tract of his turpentine farm which will destroy natural reforestation on land which is not fully stocked with turpentine trees or which will result in damage to established turpentine tree reproduction. There may be withheld or required to be refunded all or any part of the payment earned on the drifts or tracts in which such improper burning occurs.

(3) The installation of new faces on round trees less than 9 inches d. b. h. or more than one face on round trees less than 14 inches d. b. h. in tracts or drifts having working faces installed during or prior to the 1945 turpentine season. There may be withheld or required to be refunded, 2¢ per face for each such working face in the tracts or drifts in which such installation occurs.

(c) Payment computed and made without regard to claims. Any payment or share of payment shall be computed and made without regard to questions of title under State law; without deduction of claims for advances (except as provided in paragraph (d) of this section, and except for indebtedness to the United States subject to set-off under orders issued by the Secretary (12 F. R. 1187)) and without regard to any claim or lien against any crop, or proceeds thereof, in favor of the owner or any other creditor.

(d) Assignments. Any producer who may be entitled to any payment in connection with this program may assign his payment, in whole or in part, as security for cash loaned or advances made for the purpose of financing the making of a crop in 1949. No assignment will be recognized unless it is made in writing on Form ACP-69 in accordance with the applicable instructions (ACP-70), witnessed, however, by an inspector or the program supervisor of the Forest Service and filed with the Forest Service, Valdosta, Georgia.

(e) Death, incompetency, or disappearance of producer. In case of death, incompetency, or disappearance of any producer, his share of the payment shall be paid to his successor, determined in accordance with the provisions of the regulations in ACP-122, as amended. (5 F. R. 2875; 6 F. R. 1647, 4430; 9 F. R. 12237)

§ 706.4 Total payments limited—(a) Payments limited to $750. The total of all payments made in connection with the 1949 Naval Stores Conservation Program and the 1949 Agricultural Conservation Program to any producer participating in said program(s) shall not exceed the sum of $750.00.

(b) Evasion. All or any part of any payment which has been or otherwise would be made to any producer participating in this program may be withheld or required to be refunded if he has adopted or participated in adopting any scheme or device designed to evade, or which has the effect of evading, the provisions of this section.

§ 706.5 Application for payment—(a) Persons eligible to file applications. An application for payment may be filed by any producer who is working faces for the production of gum naval stores, during the 1949 turpentine season, which were installed during or after the 1946 season. If one producer conducts the operation of a turpentine farm during a portion of the 1949 turpentine season and another producer conducts the operation of the turpentine farm during the remainder of the season, the producer who completes the conservation practices shall file the application.

(b) Time and manner of filing applications and information required. Payments will be made only when a report of performance is submitted on or before January 15, 1950, on the prescribed form (NSCP-1303) to the Forest Service. Payment may be withheld from any producer who fails to file any form or furnish any information required with respect to any turpentine farm which is being operated by him.

§ 706.6 Appeals. Any producer may, within 15 days after notice thereof is forwarded to or made available to him, request the regional forester in writing to review the recommendation or determination of the program supervisor in any matter affecting the right to or the amount of payment with respect to the producer's turpentine farm. The regional forester shall notify the producer of his decision in writing within 30 days after the submission of the appeal. If the producer is dissatisfied with the decision of the Regional Forester he may, within 15 days after the decision is forwarded to or made available to him, request the American Turpentine Farmers Association Cooperative, Valdosta, Georgia, in writing to appoint a committee of fellow producers to review the case. If the committee does not concur with the decision of the regional forester, the producer may request the Chief of the Forest Service to review the case and render his decision, which shall be final.

(b) Producer. Any person, firm, partnership, corporation, or other business enterprise, doing business as a single legal entity, producing gum naval stores from turpentine trees controlled through fee ownership, cash lease, percentage lease, share lease, or other form of control.

(c) Turpentine tree. Any tree of either of the two species, longleaf pine (Pinus palustris) or slash pine (Pinus caribaea).

(d) Turpentine farm. This includes (1) land growing turpentine trees, owned or leased by a producer in one general locality, which are currently being worked for gum naval stores, hereinafter referred to as a working area; and (2) all commercially valuable or potentially valuable forest land, owned by a producer, on which turpentine trees are growing and which are not being currently worked for gum naval stores, hereinafter referred to as a nonworking area.

(e) Tract. A portion of a working area having a continuous stand of trees supporting faces of one age class or intermingled age classes.

(f) Drift. A portion or subdivision of a tract set apart for convenience of operation or administration.

(g) Crop. 10,000 faces.

(h) Face. The whole wound or aggregate of streaks made by chipping, streaking, or pulling the live tree to stimulate the flow of crude gum (oleoresin), hereinafter referred to as gum.

(i) Cup. A container made of metal, clay, or other material hung on or below the face to accumulate the flow of gum.

(j) Tins. The gutters or aprons, made of sheet metal or other material, used to conduct the gum from a face into a cup.

(k) D. b. h. Diameter breast height; i. e., diameter of tree measured 4½ feet from the ground.

(l) Round tree. Any tree which has not been faced or scarred.

(m) Scarred tree. A tree having an idle face not over 36 inches in vertical measurement from the shoulder of the first streak to the shoulder of the last streak.

(n) Worked-out face. An idle face which is 60 inches or more in vertical measurement between the shoulder of the first streak and the shoulder of the last streak, or a dry face.

§ 706.8 Authority and availability of funds, and applicability—(a) Authority. This program is approved pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture under sections 7 to 17, inclusive, of the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act, as amended.

(b) Availability of funds. The provisions of this program are necessarily subject to such legislation affecting said program as the Congress of the United States may hereafter enact; the making of the payments herein provided for is contingent upon such appropriation as the Congress may hereafter provide for such purpose; and the amounts of such payments will be finally determined by such appropriation and by the extent of participation in this program.

The funds provided for this program will not be available for the payment of applications filed after December 31, 1950.

(c) Applicability. The provisions of this program are not applicable to any turpentining operations within the public domain of the United States, including the lands and timber owned by the United States which were acquired or reserved for conservation purposes, or which are to be retained permanently under Government ownership (such lands include, but are not limited to, lands owned by the United States which are administered by the Forest Service or the Soil Conservation Service of the Department of Agriculture, or by the Bureau of Land Management or the Fish and Wildlife Service of the Department of the Interior).

This program is applicable to turpentine farms on lands owned by a State or a political subdivision or agency thereof, or owned by corporations which are either partly or wholly owned by the United States provided such lands are temporarily under such government or corporation ownership and are not acquired or reserved for conservation purposes. Only turpentine farms on lands that are administered by the Farmers' Home Administration, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, or the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation, Federal Land Banks, Production Credit Associations, or the Departments comprising the National Military Establishment, shall be considered eligible unless the Forest Service finds that land administered by any other agency complies with all of the foregoing provisions for eligibility.

§ 706.9 Administration. The Forest Service shall have charge of the administration of this program and is hereby authorized to prepare and to issue such bulletins, instructions, and forms (subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942), and to make such determinations as may be required to administer this program, pursuant to the provisions of this bulletin; and the field work shall be administered by the Forest Service through the office of the Regional Forester, United States Forest Service, Glenn Building, Atlanta, Georgia. The procedural requirements of this bulletin, such for example as those relating to notice of proposed action and consent thereto, may be waived by the Forest Service when in its judgment such waiver does not otherwise materially affect compliance with program practices. Information concerning this program may be secured from the Forest Service, Valdosta, Georgia, or from any local Inspector of the Forest Service.

NOTE: The record keeping and reporting requirements in this bulletin have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Chapter IX—Production and Marketing Administration (Marketing Agreements and Orders)

PART 960—IRISH POTATOES GROWN IN MICHIGAN, WISCONSIN, MINNESOTA, AND NORTH DAKOTA

DETERMINATION RELATIVE TO BUDGET OF EXPENSES AND FIXING RATE OF ASSESSMENT FOR 1948-49 FISCAL PERIOD

The North Central Potato Committee, established under Marketing Order No. 60 (7 CFR Cum. Supp. 960.2 et seq., 7 F. R. 370) regulating the handling of Irish Potatoes grown in Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and North Dakota is the agency authorized to administer the terms thereof, among which the provisions of § 960.12 authorize said committee to incur such expenses and collect such assessments as the Secretary finds may be necessary. Said committee has presented a proposed budget of expenses and a proposed rate of assessment for the current fiscal period ending June 30, 1949. After considering all relevant matters, including the proposed budget of expenses and the proposed rate of assessment submitted by said committee, it is hereby found and determined that:

§ 960.202 Budget of expenses and rate of assessment—(a) Budget. The expenses necessary to be incurred by the North Central Potato Committee, established pursuant to the aforesaid marketing order, to enable such committee to perform its functions pursuant to provisions of the aforesaid marketing order and regulations duly issued thereunder during the fiscal period ending June 30, 1949, will amount to $42,000.

(b) Assessment rate. The rate of assessment to be paid by each handler who first handles potatoes shall be $1.00 per railroad car or per truck load of more than 20,000 lbs., and 50 cents per truck load of 20,000 lbs. or less, of potatoes shipped by him as the first handler thereof during such fiscal period, except for shipments specifically exempt therefrom by § 960.12 (b) of Order No. 60, and such rate of assessment is hereby fixed as each such handler's pro rata share of the aforesaid expenses.

It is hereby found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this order until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because:

(a) Harvesting and shipping of potatoes grown in the production area covered by Order No. 60 have already begun;

(b) Regulations limiting shipments from the production area are now in effect and the North Central Potato Committee is incurring expenses incidental to administration of such regulations;

(c) Itinerant truckers handle potatoes grown in the production area included under Order No. 60;

(d) In order for assessments to be collected, especially from those handlers, such as itinerant truckers, who do not have a definite or an established place of business within the production area, it is essential that the assessment rate be fixed immediately so as to enable the committee to perform its duties and functions under said marketing order;

(e) Pursuant to the requirements of the aforesaid marketing order, the assessment rate is applicable to all potatoes, except as otherwise provided in § 960.12 of said marketing order, handled by first handlers during the aforesaid fiscal period; and

(f) Compliance with the requirements of this section will not require any special preparation on the part of handlers.

Terms used in this section shall have the same meaning as is given to such terms in §§ 960.2 to 960.21, in Order No. 60.

After consideration of all relevant matters, it is hereby ordered by said Walnut Control Board, acting pursuant to the aforementioned authority, that such pack specifications and minimum standards, and information to be contained in certificates, with respect to merchantable unshelled walnuts shall be as follows:

§ 984.101 Pack specifications for merchantable (unshelled) walnuts, including minimum standards of quality and maturity—(a) Size grade specifications—(1) Mammoth Size. Walnuts of which not over 12 percent by count pass through a round opening $^{36}/_{64}$ inches in diameter

(2) Jumbo Size. Walnuts of which not over 12 percent by count pass through a round opening $^{32}/_{64}$ inches in diameter;

(a) Excessively dirty nuts. Walnuts with shells coated or caked with adhering dirt or other foreign matter so as to seriously damage the appearance. Walnuts with slightly chalky deposits on the shells shall not be considered excessively dirty;

(b) Adhering hull. Walnuts the shells of which have adhering to them any portion of the hull;

(c) Dark spots. Discoloration or stains contrasting with the color of the remainder of the shell which result in unclean or unsightly appearance or render a given pack of walnuts unattractive;

(d) Perforated shells. Walnuts with improperly developed areas on the shell resembling abrasions and usually including small holes penetrating the shell wall, if an area of surface aggregating more than three-eights of an inch in diameter is affected;

(e) Broken shells. Walnuts with any material portion of the shell missing or with the halves completely broken apart or separated;

(f) Split shells or splits. Walnuts with the shell halves completely separated but held together by the kernel.

(c) Internal or kernel quality—(1) Quality grade specifications and tolerances. The quality grade of any lot of walnuts, within the limits of tolerances specified for external appearance and condition, shall be the highest quality grade to which such lot is eligible under the following specifications: Within a 5 percent tolerance, no quality grade shall be given any lot of walnuts unless the kernels are well dried (firm and crisp). A kernel, as referred to herein, means all of the non-fibrous content of one individual walnut, i. e., two halves, four quarters, etc.

The color chart referred to in these specifications as the WCB color chart is the chart adopted June 15, 1944 by the then Program Committee, War Food Order 82, and is available for inspection at the office of the Walnut Control Board, 213 Wholesale Terminal Building, Los Angeles 21, California.

(i) First Quality Grade Walnuts. First Quality Grade Walnuts shall contain not less than 90 percent (by count) of nuts the kernels of which are free from defects, except that not less than 95 percent (by count) shall be free from insect damage. At least 50 percent of the kernels in any lot shall be light in color in accordance with the WCB color chart; only sound kernels shall be scored "light". In determining the percentage of sound kernels in a lot of walnuts for qualification as of "First Quality Grade", all walnuts the kernels of which show the following defects shall not be considered as sound:

(a) Insect damage. Kernels affected in any way by codling moth larvae, ants, moths, beetles, or any other insects;

(b) Moldy kernels. Kernels showing on their surface mold readily discernible to the eye, except that kernels bearing a few loose filaments of white or light gray mold which are easily blown off shall not be considered moldy;

(c) Shriveled kernels. Kernels which are noticeably shrunken, leathery or tough as distinguished from kernels which are fully developed. A kernel with one-eighth or more of its surface affected by shriveling shall be considered as noticeably shrunken and scored as unsound. Kernels which are thin in cross section but which otherwise are normally developed shall not be considered shriveled: Provided, That with respect to walnuts produced in the States of Oregon and Washington, kernels shriveled one-eighth or more but less than one-half shall be scored one-half sound. However, in any 100 nuts not more than 10 such nuts may be combined to make 5 percent sound; each additional such nut shall count as 1 percent defective;

(d) Blanks. Walnuts with kernels so shrunken or improperly matured as to be inedible or worthless;

(e) Rancid kernels. Kernels which have a decomposed appearance or a rancid taste;

(f) Black kernels. Kernels as dark or darker in color than those illustrated in row "E" of the WCB color chart.

(ii) Second Quality Grade Walnuts. Second Quality Grade Walnuts shall contain not less than 86 percent (by count) of kernels practically free from defects, except that 90 percent of the kernels shall meet the minimum specifications established herein for "Third Quality Grade". At least 30 percent of the kernels in any lot shall be light in color in accordance with the WCB color chart; only sound kernels shall be scored "light".

In determining the percentage of sound kernels in a lot of walnuts for qualification as of "Second Quality Grade", all walnuts showing the defects described under "First Quality Grade", shall not be considered as sound, except that:

(a) Partially moldy kernels. Kernels affected by a slight covering of white or gray mold which does not affect more than one-fourth of the surface of the kernel shall be classed as sound;

(b) Shriveled kernels. The provisions under "First Quality Grade" for scoring shriveled kernels in walnuts produced in the States of Oregon and Washington shall apply to California walnuts in scoring for shriveling under "Second Quality Grade";

(iii) Third Quality Grade Walnuts. Third Quality Grade Walnuts shall contain not less than 90 percent (by count) of passable kernels. In determining the percentage of passable kernels in a lot of walnuts, all walnuts, the kernels of which show the following defects, shall not be considered passable:

(a) Insect damage. Kernels affected in any way by codling moth larvae, ants, moths, beetles, or any other insects;

(b) Moldy kernels. Kernels on which there is fruiting mold of any description, or mold mycelia affecting more than one-fourth of the surface of the kernel;

(c) Shriveled kernels. Kernels which are edible but so shriveled as to be one-half or less than half the normal size. Each shriveled kernel shall be classed as half sound, that is, two such kernels shall be counted as one sound and one defective kernel;

(d) Blanks. Walnuts with kernels so shrunken or improperly matured as to be inedible or worthless;

(e) Rancid. Kernels which have a decomposed appearance or a rancid taste.

(d) Minimum standards. The specifications for (1) Baby Size, (2) Third Quality Grade with respect to internal or kernel quality, and (3) External Appearance and Condition, applicable to Second and Third Quality Grades, as herein prescribed including respective tolerances, shall be the minimum standards of quality and maturity prescribed pursuant to § 984.3 of the marketing agreement and order (13 F. R. 4344).

§ 984.102 Certification of merchantable walnuts—(a) Information to be contained in certificates for shipment. Every certificate issued for each lot of merchantable walnuts handled or to be handled for shipment, shall contain, in addition to the information required by § 984.3 (b) of Order No. 84, regulating the handling of walnuts grown in California, Oregon and Washington, the following information: Crop year of production of each lot; if shipment is made by rail the car number; if shipment is made by truck the name of the transportation company; and on all copies except those submitted to the Walnut Control Board, the shipping mark or consignee's name.

(b) Information to be contained in certificates for surplus. Every certificate issued for each lot of surplus walnuts shall contain in addition to the information required by § 984.3 (b) of Order No. 84 regulating the handling of walnuts grown in California, Oregon and Washington, the following information: Handler's lot number; brand, if any; crop year of production; and the location where the surplus walnuts are withheld and stored.

It is necessary to make effective not later than five days after the publication of this document in the FEDERAL REGISTER, these pack specifications and minimum standards, and information to be contained in certificates, with respect to merchantable unshelled walnuts. The shipping season for such walnuts normally begins during the latter part of September of each year, and it is necessary to have regulations of this nature in effect as near the beginning of such shipping season as is practicable.

Therefore, any delay beyond five days after the publication of this document in the FEDERAL REGISTER in the effective date of these regulatory requirements will be impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest. (See section 4 (c) of the Administrative Procedure Act, Pub. Law 404, 79th Congress, 60 Stat. 237.)

These regulatory requirements shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., on the 5th day after the publication of this document in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

PART 226—SURETY COMPANIES ACCEPTABLE ON FEDERAL BONDS

TERMINATION OF AUTHORITY OF FIREMAN'S FUND INSURANCE CO., SAN FRANCISCO, CALIF., AS REINSURING COMPANY ONLY ON FEDERAL BONDS

OCTOBER 14, 1948.

Notice is hereby given that the certificate of authority issued by the Secretary of the Treasury to the Fireman's Fund Insurance Company, San Francisco, California, under the provisions of the act of Congress approved August 13, 1894 (28 Stat. 279–80), as amended by the act of March 23, 1910, (36 Stat. 241) (6 U. S. C., sec. 6–13) to qualify as a reinsuring company only on recognizances, stipulations, bonds and all other undertakings permitted or required by the laws of the United States to be given with one or more sureties, terminates on this date.

The Fireman's Fund Insurance Company received its initial authority from the Secretary of the Treasury on April 21, 1948, which certificate of authority was revoked on September 17, 1948, and a new certificate of authority was issued by the Secretary of the Treasury on that date to the Fireman's Fund Insurance Company, San Francisco, California, to qualify as a reinsuring company only on bonds and other obligations executed in favor of the United States.

The company has stated that it had reinsured in part a few bonds running in favor of the United States written by the Fireman's Fund Indemnity Company, but that such reinsurance is being canceled as of their effective dates with the liability being retained by the Fireman's Fund Indemnity Company or reinsured with some other surety holding a certificate of authority from the Secretary of the Treasury. It has also stated that none of the reinsurance on bonds accepted by the Fireman's Fund Insurance Company from the Fireman's Fund Indemnity Company were in excess of the underwriting limitation established by the Treasury for the Fireman's Fund Indemnity Company.

Section 226.1 Surety companies acceptable on Federal bonds; acceptable reinsurance companies is hereby amended by deleting from the list set forth therein under the sub-heading Companies authorized to do a reinsurance business only "Fireman's Fund Insurance Company, San Francisco, California".

PART 27—SOUTHEASTERN REGION NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGES

BLACKBEARD ISLAND NATIONAL WILDLIFE REFUGE, GEORGIA; HUNTING

Basis and purpose. On the basis of observations and reports of field representatives of the Fish and Wildlife Service it has been determined that the population of deer on the Blackbeard Island National Wildlife Refuge is in excess of the available habitat for such animals and that the necessary reduction in the population can best be accomplished by a bow and arrow hunt.

§ 27.79 Blackbeard Island National Wildlife Refuge, Georgia; hunting. During the open season for the hunting of deer, as prescribed by the Georgia Game and Fish Commission, deer and raccoon may be taken by means of bow and arrow only on all of the lands of the Blackbeard Island National Wildlife Refuge, Georgia, except for the area in the immediate vicinity of the headquarters of the Refuge and in the immediate vicinity of State deer trapping sites as posted by the refuge manager.

(a) Entry. Entry on and use of the Refuge for any purpose are covered by the regulations for the Administration of National Wildlife Refuges dated December 19, 1940, (50 CFR, Cum. Supp., Part 12), as amended, and strict compliance therewith is required. Hunters must follow such routes of travel within the refuge as are designated by posting. In addition all hunters must comply with State hunting laws and regulations and must have on their person and exhibit at the request of any authorized Federal or State officer whatever license or licenses may be required by such laws and regulations, which license shall serve as a Federal permit for hunting deer and raccoon on the Refuge. The use or possession of firearms on the Refuge of any description is prohibited.

(b) Dogs. Each person hunting deer on the Refuge may be permitted to take one hunting dog on the Refuge for the purpose of trailing wounded deer provided that such dog shall at all times be on a leash and shall not be permitted to range at will on the Refuge.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[47 CFR, Part 3]

[Docket Nos. 8736, 8975, 9175]

TELEVISION ALLOCATION

NOTICE OF FURTHER PROPOSED RULE MAKING

In the matter of amendment of § 3.606 of the Commission's rules and regulations, Docket Nos. 8975 and 8736; in the matter of amendment of the Commission's rules, regulations and standards concerning the television and frequency modulation broadcasting services, Docket No. 9175.

I. Notice is hereby given of further proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter.

II. During the hearing held by the Commission in the above-entitled proceeding (Docket Nos. 8975 and 8736) to consider proposed revisions of the Commission's table of television channel allocations, evidence was presented concerning (A) tropospheric interference to existing and proposed television stations, (B) the use of directional antennas, (C) the use of increased power, and (D) conflicting proposals for closer spacing and wider spacing between television stations than is presently provided for by the Commission. In order to assure that the Commission's national television allocation plan should be based on the soundest engineering foundation, an Industry-Commission Conference was held on September 13 and 14, 1948. The issues for decision at the Conference were:

1. Whether the Commission should initiate proceedings to revise the television allocation rules and standards prior to final decision in Dockets 8975 and 8736.

2. If the standards are to be revised, what policy should be adopted with respect to applications now pending before the Commission.

3. What procedures should be adopted in order that the revised standards can be based on the best available engineering information.

III. At the conclusion of said Conference it was announced that the Commission would call an engineering conference to consider questions regarding revisions of the Commission's rules, regulations and standards with respect to the technical phases of television allocations. This notice deals with issues "1" and "3" set forth above. On September 30, 1948, the Commission issued its Report and Order herein concerning issue number "2". Further, since the Frequency Modulation Broadcasting Service is directly affected by any action taken with respect to propagation in the VHF band, revisions of the rules, regulations and standards of that service are made a part of this proceeding.

IV. In order to facilitate and expedite the promulgation of rules, regulations and standards herein, the following schedule will be followed:

(A) On or about October 20, 1948, the Commission will make public:

(1) A report containing (a) a summary of available measurements of tropospheric fields, (b) empirical method of treating measurements to formulate field intensity vs. distance curves for various frequencies for various percentages of the time and (c) representative tropospheric field intensity curves for antenna heights of 500 feet and 30 feet for various frequencies and percentages of time derived by the foregoing method.

(2) A study of the effects on service of the simultaneous fading of both the desired and undesired fields from tropospheric causes.

(3) A report on measurements made at Princeton, Southampton and Laurel on frequencies of 47.1, 106.5 and 700 Mc. radiated from transmitters in New York City.

(4) A study of the effects of terrain upon average signal levels as compared to smooth earth values and upon the variability of signal levels within limited areas.

(B) On or about November 15, 1948, the Commission will make public:

(1) A TV channel study showing the effects of ground wave and tropospheric interference on representative service areas of stations allocated in accordance with the Commission's notice herein of May 5, 1948, as amended in the Commission's Supplemental Notice of July 15, 1948.

(2) A TV channel study in a representative area showing the effects of ground wave and tropospheric interference on the service areas of presently operating stations and CP's, but with other allocations spaced so as to protect the 500 u/m contours 90% of the time. (All allocations to be based on 50 kw/500 ft. in the center of the principal city).

(3) Channel study for FM showing the effects of ground wave and of tropospheric interference for 1% and 10% of the time on representative channels.

(C) On or about November 30, 1948, December 1, 1948, and December 2, 1948, the Commission will hold a series of engineering conferences in Washington, D. C.[1] All interested persons are invited to attend said conferences, participate fully therein, and to submit written data, views, or arguments with respect thereto. To assist the Commission in the expeditious conduct of said conferences, it is requested that persons who plan to participate therein file (by letter) notice of their intention to do so at least one week prior to the date of commencement of said conferences. Written statements may be filed on or before the dates of the respective conferences.

(D) The first conference to be held on or about November 30, 1948, will be on VHF propagation standards to arrive at standard methods of evaluating the effects upon propagation of the following factors:

(1) Tropospheric effects:

(a) Variations with time in the field intensities to be expected at various distances from the transmitter, as functions of transmitting antenna height and of frequency.

(b) Range of diurnal variations.

(c) Range of seasonal variations.

(d) Effects on service of the simultaneous fading of both the desired and undesired signals.

(2) Terrain effects:

(a) Shadows—relation of the average field intensity in a limited area or limited section of a radial to calculated values as a function of the profile between the area and the transmitter.

(b) Urban field intensities—validity of the FCC standards on Ground Wave Signal Range charts for predicting near-in fields in city areas.

(c) Local terrain effects—variability of field intensities as compared to the average over a limited area or distance.

(d) Receiving antenna height—gain factor—validity of assuming a uniform variation of field intensity with receiving antenna height for relating mobile measurements made at low antenna height to the standard receiving antenna height of 30 feet. Consideration of the alternative method of spot measurements at 30 feet height.

(e) Apparent transmitting antenna height—validity of the 2–10 mile rule for estimating the apparent height of the transmitting antenna.

(f) Validity of the method presently prescribed in the Commission's Standards for equalizing coverage obtained by transmitters of varying antenna heights and power.

(3) Antennas:—

(a) Practical limitations on vertical and horizontal directivity of transmitting antennas.

(b) Methods for establishing and maintaining the performance of directional antennas.

(c) The engineering basis for utilizing horizontal directivity in allocation problems.

(E) The second conference to be held on or about December 1, 1948, will consider the following items with respect to VHF television broadcasting:

(1) Tropospheric effects:

(a) Specification of grade or grades of service resulting from variations in the intensities of desired and undesired fields.

(b) Discussions of the effects of the specification of various grades of service on particular channel allocation plans.

(c) The development of standard tropospheric curves for various frequencies and antenna heights, calculated in accordance with methods approved at the propagation conference.

(2) Examination of current standards for the prediction of service areas to determine whether any modifications are dictated by the terrain effects considered in the propagation conference.

(3) Reexamination of cochannel and adjacent channel ratios at the receiver terminals in the light of more recent information; and a determination whether a terrain factor should be included in the field intensity ratios.

(4) Reexamination of the contours specified for protection and for recognized service levels at various frequencies.

(5) Reexamination of assumptions as to typical receiving antenna heights for urban and rural areas and of methods of proving station performance by measurement of received fields at such heights.

(6) Examination of the effects of horizontal increases in power upon protected contours in the channel allocation plans.

(7) Examination of the effects of differential increases in power on the protected contours and on the allocation plans.

(8) Examination of the effects of directional antennas on allocation plans.

(F) The third conference to be held on or about December 2, 1948, will consider the following items with respect to FM broadcasting:

(1) Tropospheric effects:

(a) Specification of grade or grades of service resulting from variations in the intensities of desired and undesired fields.

(b) Study of the areas provided with various grades of service under the present channel assignments and under the tentative allocation plan.

(c) The development of standard tropospheric curves for various antenna heights, calculated in accordance with methods approved at the propagation conference.

(2) Examination of current standards for the prediction of service areas to determine whether any modifications are dictated by the terrain effects considered in the propagation conference.

(3) Reexamination of assumptions as to typical receiving antenna heights for urban and rural areas and of methods of proving station performance by measurement of received fields at such heights.

V. Authority to issue amendments of the Commission's rules, regulations and standards with respect to the matters to be discussed at the conferences listed above is vested in the Commission by sections 301, 303 (b), (c), (d), (f), (h) and (r), and 4 (i) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

VI. In accordance with the provisions of § 1.764 of the Commission's rules and regulations, an original and 14 copies of all written data, views, or arguments filed shall be furnished the Commission.

Adopted: October 14, 1948.

Released: October 15, 1948.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE

Office of International Trade

[Case 37]

AMERICAN HELLENIC CORP. ET AL.

ORDER DENYING LICENSE PRIVILEGES

In the matter of American Hellenic Corporation, T. E. Kazantzis, and Peter Pelonis.

This proceeding was instituted on August 5, 1948 by the transmission of a charging letter to the above named respondents, wherein the Office of International Trade charged respondents with having violated section 6 of the act of July 2, 1940 (54 Stat. 714), as amended, and the regulations promulgated thereunder, by filing, on or about April 27, 1948, an application, to which No. 1224239 was assigned, for a license to export gift parcels of wheat flour on behalf of 5,603 donors to specific donees in Greece, which application was false and fraudulent in that, contrary to the representations made therein by respondents, the list of donors submitted as a part thereof was false and misleading in material respects, and was knowingly and willfully submitted as such by respondents.

Pursuant to notice given by the charging letter, a hearing on the charges was held before the Compliance Commissioner of the Office of International Trade on August 25, 1948, in the office of the Department of Commerce Field Service, 60th floor, Empire State Building, New York, New York, and, upon proper continuance, a further hearing was held thereon on September 17, 1948, in Washington, D. C. Respondents were represented by counsel, as was the Office of International Trade, and the Compliance Commissioner, after receiving the evidence presented and after due consideration of the record, on October 12, 1948, filed his report in the matter.

It appears from the record and the report of the Compliance Commissioner that respondent American Hellenic Corporation is a New York corporation having its principal place of business at 17 Battery Place, New York, New York; that said respondent corporation was at all times relevant to this proceeding engaged in the business of making multiple gift shipments of flour and other food parcels, for which export licenses are required, on behalf of donors in the United States to donees in Greece; that respondent Theodore E. Kazantzis is, and at all times relevant to this proceeding was, the president of the corporate respondent, in active control of its affairs and responsible for its acts; but that the relation of respondent Peter Pelonis to the other respondents and his participation in and responsibility for their acts were not established in this proceeding.

It further appears from the record and from the report of the Compliance Commissioner that, under date of April 27, 1948, respondent corporation submitted to the Office of International Trade its application, to which No. 1224239 was assigned, for a license to export gift parcels of wheat flour on behalf of 5,434 (rather than 5,603) named donors to named donees in Greece, that said respondent corporation thereby represented to the Office of International Trade that it then held orders from each of said donors for the purchase of one or more gift parcels of flour for shipment to one or more of said donees; and that such representation was made for the purpose of securing a license for the export of such gift parcels to Greece.

The record discloses and the Compliance Commissioner has found as a fact that the export license application was false and fraudulent, and when submitted was known by respondent corporation and its president to be so, and constituted an intentional and planned misrepresentation by said two respondents for the purpose of securing an export license to which respondent corporation would not otherwise have been entitled, in that there were listed as donors in such application a substantial number of persons with whom respondent corporation did not, on the date said application was submitted, hold orders for the shipment of gift parcels of wheat flour to the named donees in Greece; that said list of donors was made up by respondent corporation from old invoices and order books which did not represent current orders but against which shipment had in many cases already been made or had been previously licensed for export; that such falsification of said list of donors has not only been admitted under oath but has been expressly condoned by respondent Theodore E. Kazantzis and that he has thus manifested his indifference toward and disregard for compliance with export control regulations; and that submission of such false list of donors constituted a violation of section 6 of the act of July 2, 1940 (54 Stat. 714), as amended, and the regulations promulgated thereunder, and demonstrated the unreliability of representations which might be made by said respondents in any future applications for export licenses.

The Compliance Commissioner has accordingly recommended that this proceeding be dismissed as to respondent Peter Pelonis but that respondents American Hellenic Corporation and Theodore E. Kazantzis be denied the privilege of obtaining or using or participating directly or indirectly in the obtaining or using of export licenses, including general licenses, for the duration of export control, and, further, that such denial be made applicable not only to said respondent individually but also to any other business organization with respect to which either of them may hold a position of control or responsibility.

The findings and recommendations of the Compliance Commissioner have been carefully considered together with the record in this matter and it appears that such findings are supported by the record and that such recommendations should be adopted. Now, therefore, It is ordered as follows:

(1) This proceeding is hereby dismissed as to respondent Peter Pelonis.

(2) Respondents American Hellenic Corporation and Theodore E. Kazantzis are hereby denied the privilege of obtaining or using or participating directly or indirectly in the obtaining or using of export licenses, including general licenses, for such time and to such extent as licenses for exports are required by law.

(3) Such denial of export license privileges shall extend not only to said respondents individually but also to any affiliate or successor of the respondent corporation and to any firm, corporation, or other business organization in which respondent Theodore E. Kazantzis shall have a controlling interest or with which he shall hold a position of responsibility.

[Docket No. G–1139]

SOUTHERN NATURAL GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

OCTOBER 13, 1948.

Notice is hereby given that on October 8, 1948, Southern Natural Gas Company (Applicant), a Delaware corporation having its principal place of business at Birmingham, Alabama, filed an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, authorizing the construction and operation of the following natural-gas transmission facilities:

(a) A main line loop pipe line, 24 inches in diameter, commencing at mile post 352.478 on Applicant's main line (i. e., the Eastern terminus of the loop line known as the Pell City, Alabama, loop) and extending eastwardly 5.3 miles to mile post 357.8 near Lincoln, Alabama, including a submarine crossing consisting of three lines 12¾-inches in diameter and approximately 1,260 feet in length under the Coosa River.

(b) A main line loop pipe line, 24 inches in diameter, commencing at mile post 401.898 on Applicant's main line (i. e., the Eastern terminus of the loop line known as the Heflin, Alabama, loop extension) and extending eastwardly 2.9 miles to mile post 404.798 in Cleburne County, Alabama.

(c) A branch line loop pipe line, 12 inches in diameter, commencing at a point near Applicant's McConnell's compressor station on Applicant's Montgomery branch line and extending approximately 9 miles southwardly along said branch line.

Applicant proposes, by means of the facilities described in (a) and (b), above, to increase the capacity of that portion of its system between Birmingham, Alabama, and Atlanta, Georgia, thereby providing greater flexibility in Applicant's ability to meet different load patterns, and increasing its system delivery capacity for the future upon the subsequent construction of additional facilities between Birmingham, Alabama, and Applicant's sources of supply. The application states that construction of said facilities will not, of itself, presently increase Applicant's general system delivery capacity. Applicant proposes, by means of the facilities described in (c), above, to increase the delivery capacity of its Montgomery branch line by approximately 3,500 Mcf daily in order to provide capacity needed in the immediate future on that line.

The estimated total overall capital cost of the facilities stated in the application is $865,160, which will be financed from Applicant's current funds.

Any interested State commission is requested to notify the Federal Power Commission whether the application should be considered under the cooperative provisions of § 1.37 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure and, if so, to advise the Federal Power Commission as to the nature of its interest in the matter and whether it desires a conference, the creation of a board, or a joint or concurrent hearing, together with reasons for such request.

The application of Southern Natural Gas Company is on file with the Commission and is open to public inspection. Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to the application shall file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., not later than 15 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, a petition to intervene or protest. Such petition or protest shall conform to the requirements of §§ 1.8 or 1.10, whichever is applicable, of the rules of practice and procedure (as amended on June 16, 1947).

(2) That jurisdiction be reserved with respect to all fees and expenses to be paid in connection with the proposed transaction.

Washington, Thursday, October 21, 1948

TITLE 5—ADMINISTRATIVE PERSONNEL

Chapter II—The Loyalty Review Board

PART 210—THE OPERATIONS OF THE LOYALTY REVIEW BOARD

APPENDIX A—LIST OF ORGANIZATIONS DESIGNATED BY THE ATTORNEY GENERAL PURSUANT TO EXECUTIVE ORDER NO. 9835

In a letter received by the Loyalty Review Board on May 27, 1948, and disseminated to all departments and agencies on June 2, 1948, the Attorney General ruled that in view of the legislative history of section 9A of the Hatch Act, and of the action heretofore taken by executive agencies, the Loyalty Review Board should consider the Communist Party and the German-American Bund (the latter being now defunct) as organizations within the scope of that section.

The Attorney General stated that from the legislative history preceding passage of section 9A, it is clear that it was the intention of the Congress to exclude from Government employment members of "the Communist, Fascist, or German Bund parties" (84 Cong. Rec. 9635, 9638). Illustrations of like congressional policies are found not only in the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940 (section 8 (i), 54 Stat. 885, 892), but also in the acts of June 26, 1940, 54 Stat. 611, c. 432, section 15 (f); July 1, 1941, 55 Stat. 396, c. 266, section 10 (f); and July 2, 1942, 56 Stat. 634, c. 479, section 9 (f). The latter acts provide that—

> No alien, no Communist, and no member of any Nazi Bund Organization shall be given employment or continued in employment on any work project prosecuted under the appropriations contained in this joint resolution. • • •

The congressional intention was further expressed in Public Law 135, 77th Congress, approved June 28, 1941, which provided funds for the Federal Bureau of Investigation on the following terms:

> At least $100,000 shall be available exclusively to investigate the employees of every department, agency, and independent establishment of the Federal Government who are members of subversive organizations or advocate the overthrow of the Federal Government, and report its findings to Congress.

Following the passage of Public Law 135, instructions were promptly given by the Department of Justice to the Federal Bureau of Investigation as to the carrying out of its functions under the act. The Bureau was directed to consider members of the Communist Party and of the German American Bund as being subversive. This was entirely in accord with the legislative history of Public Law 135. (See 87 Cong. Rec. 3025 ff.) Later, when the Interdepartmental Committee on Employee Loyalty was established under Executive Order 9300, dated February 5, 1943, the policies adopted by that Committee were of like nature. The Civil Service Commission's regulations reflected similar policies. Section 3 of Regulation II of the Commission's War Service Regulations provided for disqualification for appointment where there was "reasonable doubt as to the loyalty to the Government of the United States." The policies of the Civil Service Commission with respect to loyalty, and as to the disqualifying effect of membership in the Communist Party or the Bund, are described at length in a statement which appears in 89 Congressional Record, 10254–10255. See, also, the statement of Commissioner Flemming on December 9, 1943. (Hearings before the Subcommittee of the Committee on Appropriations, House of Representatives, 78th Cong., 2d sess., Independent Offices Appropriation Bill for 1945, pp. 1083–1087).

The Attorney General stated it has thus been the intention of the legislative branch, reinforced by positive action on the part of the executive branch, to bar from government service persons having membership in the Communist Party or the German American Bund. Enforcement of the Hatch Act was based upon the combined authority of the legislative and executive branches—the power of the Congress over appropriations and the organization of the government on the one hand, and the authority of the President on the other hand to appoint and dismiss officers and employees of the Executive Branch. In the latter connection, the following excerpt from the opinion of the court in "Friedman v. Schwellenbach" is pertinent:

> The United States has the right to employ such persons as it deems necessary to aid in carrying on the public business. It has the right to prescribe the qualifications of its employees and to attach conditions to their employment. The War Service Regulation which permits the removal from federal service of one concerning whose loyalty to the government the Civil Service Commission entertains a reasonable doubt undoubtedly was reasonable and proper and the making of it was well within the scope of the authority conferred on the Commission by the Act and the two executive orders. We are not concerned here with the question as to whether Friedman was in fact disloyal. Under the regulation he could be removed from service if the Commission had a reasonable doubt as to his loyalty. "Friedman v. Schwellenbach," 159 F. 2d 22, cert. denied 330 U. S. 838.

The Attorney General stated the duty of dismissing an employee belonging to an organization of the character described in section 9A of the Hatch Act has rested on the appointing authorities at all times subsequent to the passage of the act. This duty is parallel to that imposed by paragraph 1 of Part II of Executive Order 9835, which makes the head of each department or agency "personally responsible to assure that disloyal civilian officers or employees are not retained." In Hatch Act cases, as in other cases, the Executive order leaves ultimate responsibility with the appointing officers, placing in the Loyalty Review Board the power to make "advisory recommendations" to them. (Part III, par. 1 (a).) All the cases in which the Board may be called upon to render advisory opinions to the various departments and agencies of the Government are essentially loyalty cases. In all such cases any relevant statute must, of course, be taken into consideration by the Board, and the Board's action must be consistent with the statutory requirements. If in the consideration of a case the Board finds as a fact that an employee is a member of an organization proscribed by the Hatch Act, the Board must recognize in its recommendations to the agency that the dismissal of the employee is mandatory.

The Attorney General stated further that when in the consideration of cases which may come before the Loyalty Review Board, a determination is made by the Board as to whether section 9A of the Hatch Act is applicable, such a determination does not include power by the Board to review the designations of organizations made by the Attorney General upon authority of Executive Order 9835. In any case in which the dismissal of an appellant employee has been predicated upon a finding of membership in the organizations designated herein, the function of the Board is to determine whether or not the employee was accorded all the procedural rights and privileges to which he was entitled and whether there was evidence to support the finding of the agency board. If the answers to both of these questions are in the affirmative, the provisions of the Hatch Act come into operation and the Board's advisory opinion must necessarily affirm the dismissal.

The Attorney General stated that in all other cases arising under Executive Order 9835, in which dismissals are predicated upon organizational memberships, in addition to reviewing the record with respect to procedural steps the Board is invested with discretion to determine whether or not, upon all the evidence, reasonable grounds exist for belief that the person involved is disloyal to the Government of the United States. This determination will serve as the basis for the Board's recommendation for dismissal or retention, as the case may be.

By letter of September 17, 1948, which was disseminated to all departments and agencies on September 21, 1948, the Attorney General furnished the Loyalty Review Board with a consolidated list containing the names of all of the organizations previously designated by him as within Executive Order 9835, segregated according to the classifications enumerated in section 3, Part III, on the basis of dominant characteristics. This list is set out below.

The Attorney General stated that section 3, Part III, of Executive Order 9835 sets forth six classifications of organizations within its contemplation. The language of Part V, section 2f, is substantially identical. Applying the elementary rule of statutory construction, each of these classifications must be taken to be independent and mutually exclusive of the others. It may well be that a designated organization, by reason of origin, leadership, control, purposes, policies or activities, alone or in combination, may fall within more than one of the specified classifications. In such cases a reasonable interpretation of the Executive order would seem to require that designation be predicated upon its dominant characteristics rather than extended to include all other classifications possible on the basis of what may be subordinate attributes of the group. In classifying the designated organizations the Attorney General has been guided by this policy. Accordingly, it should not be assumed that an organization's dominant characteristic is its only characteristic.

AUTHORITY: §§ 245.225 to 245.239 issued under sec. 4 (a), 55 Stat. as amended, secs. 1 (b), 2, Pub. Law 897, 80th Cong., Pub. Law 806, 80th Cong. 15 U. S. C. 713-a-8 (a).

§ 245.225 Administration. The program will be administered by PMA through State PMA Committees, County Agricultural Conservation Committees (hereinafter referred to as county committees), and PMA Commodity offices. The program will be under the general supervision of the Manager of CCC. County committees will determine or cause to be determined the eligibility of growers to participate in the program and may designate in writing certain employees of the County Agricultural Conservation Association to execute certificates on behalf of the committees. State PMA Committees will determine the eligibility of dealers.

§ 245.226 Availability of program. Purchases by CCC will be made from eligible vendors to the extent required to afford eligible growers price support at 90 percent of parity. Purchase operations will terminate generally by April 30, 1949, although the exact date may be later in any particular State or area if prevailing conditions in that State or area are such that a continuation of purchase operations after April 30, 1949 is necessary to bring about orderly termination of the program.

§ 245.227 Eligibility of growers. (a) Only those growers shall be eligible for participation in the price support program who:

(1) Have been determined to be in compliance with 1948 potato acreage goals established pursuant to 12 F. R. 8875, December 31, 1947.

(2) Have applied for a certificate of eligibility prior to final dates established for the locality by the State PMA Committee, using the form prescribed for such purpose.

(3) Have paid a nominal initial service fee determined on the basis of individual goal acreage and an estimated yield. (See § 245.230.)

(b) No grower shall be eligible for participation in the price support program who sold potatoes of the 1947 crop which he had agreed under the 1947 program to withhold from commercial markets, or who sells from the 1948 crop ungraded or field-run potatoes, or potatoes of or below U. S. No. 1 grade or quality, Size B, or U. S. No. 2 grade or quality regardless of size, except as follows:

(1) Ungraded or field-run potatoes may be sold to the Department whenever covered in applicable Purchase Announcements, or to contracting dealers;

(2) Graded potatoes of or below U. S. No. 1 grade or quality, Size B, or U. S. No. 2 grade or quality, regardless of size, may be sold to the Department or contracting dealers for disposition as directed by the Department; or upon prior approval of the Department to processors, livestock feeders, or for export; and

(3) Cull potatoes (those below the grades or qualities specified above and those less than 1⅞ inches minimum diameter if of U. S. No. 2 grade or quality) may be sold to contracting dealers; or upon prior approval of the Department, to processors, livestock feeders, or for export.

The restrictions contained under paragraph (b) of this section do not apply to sales of seed potatoes officially certified and tagged by an official State seed certifying agency.

§ 245.228 Eligibility of dealers. An eligible dealer shall be any person, partnership, association or corporation operating under the "1948 Potato Dealer Agreement," or under a similar agreement entered into with CCC. Such eligible dealers are hereinafter referred to as "contracting dealers." Information on requirements and forms of the agreement may be obtained from State PMA Committees or from county committees.

§ 245.229 Eligibility of potatoes. All Irish potatoes harvested in 1948 by eligible growers shall be eligible for price support except:

(a) Potatoes failing to meet at least the quality requirements of U. S. No. 2 grade, 1⅞ inches minimum diameter or the requirements of U. S. No. 1 grade, Size B;

(b) Potatoes (regardless of grade) damaged or affected by disease, insects, frost, or other injury to an extent rendering them unfit for normal consumption or unable to withstand normal shipment or storage;

(c) Potatoes harvested from land infested at harvest time with golden nematode or from land officially designated by a State or Federal agency as unfit for potato production because of disease or insect infestation;

(d) Potatoes the distribution of which is restricted or limited by State or Federal quarantine regulations; and

(e) Potatoes found objectionable because of odor, flavor, internal discoloration, or other invisible damage whether or not apparent at time of shipment and whether or not subject to determination by customary shipping point inspection procedure.

§ 245.230 Service fee. Application for eligibility by a grower shall be made prior to a final date established by the State PMA Committee and shall be accompanied by payment of an initial service fee. The amount of initial service fee shall be a standard rate per acre times number of goal acres times grower's interest in the potato crop. Minimum amount shall be $3.00 per application. The standard rate per acre shall be two cents times normal yield in cwt. for the county, or for an area within the county if wide differences in productivity exist from one area to another. Normal yield for the purpose of determining the standard rate shall be established by the State PMA Committee based upon recommendations of county committees.

Growers who file applications prior to an earlier final date established by the State PMA Committee, which is early enough in the growing season to permit orderly determination of eligibility, shall pay an initial service fee computed at one-half the standard rate, but not less than $3.00.

No refund of service fees will be made.

§ 245.231 Approved forms. The approved forms together with the provisions of this bulletin, govern the rights and responsibilities of the vendors and CCC. All forms except the Inspection Certificate which is furnished by the Federal or Federal State Inspection Service may be obtained from the offices of county committees or State PMA Committees. Any fraudulent representation made by a vendor in obtaining price support or in executing any of the purchase documents will render him subject to criminal prosecution.

(a) Eligibility. Approved form shall consist of Form-48 Potatoes-5 (Revised) "Producer's Application for Certificate of Eligibility," signed by the producer and approved by the county committee.

(b) Dealer agreement. Approved form shall consist of Form-48 Potatoes-3 "1948 Potato Dealer Agreement" signed by a potato dealer and by a CCC Contracting Officer.

(c) Inspection certificate. Approved form shall consist of Form FV-47 "Inspection Certificate," signed by a Federal or Federal-State Inspector.

(d) Payment. Approved forms for claiming payment from CCC shall consist of Form CCC-125 (or SMA-120) "Public Voucher—Purchase Programs" properly executed and signed by the vendor and administratively approved by the Purchase Representative, and such other forms as may be prescribed.

§ 245.232 Determination of quantity. Eligible potatoes purchased in containers will be purchased, loaded f. o. b. carrier, on the basis of the net weight or net content stamped or marked on the containers. If purchased in bulk, the vendor is required to furnish weight certificates substantiating the quantity to be purchased, or the Purchase Representative may direct that such weight be determined on the basis of 2.4 cubic feet per hundred pounds.

§ 245.233 Purchases by CCC. CCC will make purchases only from eligible growers and contracting dealers and only on the basis of offers made to CCC pursuant to purchase announcements applicable to a State or area within a State, and issued under the direction of the State PMA Committee. Such announcement, signed by a CCC Contracting Officer, will prescribe the terms and conditions under which purchases will be made, such as: (a) period of purchase operations; (b) method of purchase; (c) prices applicable to grades, sizes and varieties to be purchased; (d) packaging; (e) loading; (f) inspection; (g) weight certificate and protective service requirements; (h) evidence required to support claim for payment, and (i) name and address of the Purchase Representative and such other persons as are qualified to furnish information to vendors with respect to the program. Copies of such announcement may be obtained from State PMA Committees or county committees.

§ 245.234 Inspection. All potatoes offered for purchase must have been inspected by the Federal-State inspection service within 48 hours prior to acceptance by CCC unless provided otherwise in the purchase announcement. Vendors must arrange for the inspection and furnish official inspection certificates without cost to CCC unless otherwise directed.

§ 245.235 Delivery. Potatoes offered to CCC for purchase shall be accepted only if they are delivered in accordance with delivery instructions issued by the Purchase Representative. CCC may prescribe time periods within which only such quantities, grades, or varieties as are determined to be a reasonable portion of the maximum quantity eligible for price support will be accepted. If potatoes are delivered to CCC and are later found objectionable because of odor, flavor, internal discoloration or other invisible damage, whether or not apparent at the time of shipment and whether or not subject to determination by customary shipping point inspection procedure, CCC may claim reimbursement of any sums received by the vendor plus transportation and handling costs which CCC may have expended on such potatoes.

§ 245.236 Liens. Any potatoes tendered to CCC for purchase must be free and clear of liens and encumbrances or if liens or encumbrances exist on the potatoes, proper waivers must be obtained.

§ 245.237 Set-offs. A vendor who is listed on the county debt register as indebted to any agency or corporation of the United States Department of Agriculture shall designate such agency or corporation to which he is indebted as the payee of the proceeds of the sale to the extent of such indebtedness, but not to exceed that portion of the proceeds remaining after deduction of amounts due prior lienholders. Indebtedness owing to CCC shall be given first consideration after claims of prior lien holders.

§ 245.238 Support prices for eligible Irish potatoes of the 1948 crop. Shown below are basic support prices per 100 pounds for U. S. No. 1 grade potatoes packed in new burlap or cotton bags, and loaded f. o. b. through carrier in carlots or trucklots at country shipping points. Basic support prices for potatoes of U. S. No. 1 grade Size B, and U. S. No. 2 grade 1⅞ inches minimum diameter packed and loaded as prescribed for U. S. No. 1 grade, are 50 percent of those shown in the following schedule. Purchases for price support purposes will be made at these prices. Purchases of potatoes packed in used burlap or cotton bags shall be at prices 10 cents less than basic prices shown. Purchases of potatoes in positions other than sacked and loaded f. o. b. country shipping points shall be at prices determined (a) by subtracting from basic prices the cost as established by PMA, of all marketing services customarily required to move the potatoes from a farm to a sacked and loaded position, and then (b) by adding the cost as established by PMA, of such marketing services as CCC recognizes to be necessary to move the potatoes from a farm position to the position of authorized purchase. Prices are as follows:

[1] The Cooperative Associations through which the loans are made for Virginia fire-cured, Type 21, and Virginia sun-cured, Type 37, are authorized to deduct from the amount paid to growers 12 cents per hundred pounds to apply against the overhead costs to the associations of the loan operations. Tobacco can be placed under loan only by the original producer and at these rates only if produced on a cooperating farm. Tobacco graded "W" (wet), "U" (unsound), DAM (damaged), N2L, N2R, or N2G will not be accepted, except in Types 22, 23, 24, 35, and 36, where the tobacco graded "W" (wet) will be accepted at an advance rate of 20 percent below the regular grade advance rate. Tennessee and Kentucky fire-cured, Types 22, 23, and 24, grades marked with special factor "OS" in addition to the regular grade symbols shall have an advance rate 20 percent below the advance rate for the regular grades without such special factor.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

[S. D. 89, Revision 2]

DETERMINATION OF SUGAR COMMERCIALLY RECOVERABLE FROM SUGAR BEETS

Pursuant to the provisions of section 302 (a) of the Sugar Act of 1948, the following determination is hereby issued:

§ 802.11 Determination of sugar commercially recoverable from sugar beets. The amount of sugar, raw value, commercially recoverable from sugar beets shall be deemed to be as follows: (a) In the case of sugar beets marketed under that type of agreement commonly known as an "individual test" contract, 93.6 percent of the amount of sugar calculated by applying to the net weight of the sugar beets, at the time of delivery to a processor, the percentage of sugar content on which the settlement under the marketing contract is based; (b) in the case of sugar beets marketed under any type of agreement other than an "individual test" contract in the district of a beet sugar factory located in Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Utah, Washington or Wyoming, 96.1 percent of the amount of sugar calculated by applying to the net weight of the sugar beets, at the time of delivery to a processor, the weighted average percentage of sugar content of all the sugar beets of the next preceding 7 crops marketed in the settlement area comprising such district, according to cossette tests made by the processor; and (c) in the case of sugar beets marketed under any type of agreement other than an "individual test" contract in the district of a beet sugar factory located in any State not named in paragraph (b) of this section, 96.1 percent of the amount of sugar calculated by applying to the net weight of sugar beets, at the time of delivery to a processor, the average percentage of sugar content of all the sugar beets of the current crop marketed in the settlement area comprising such district, according to cossette tests made by the processor.

This determination supersedes, with respect to the 1948 and subsequent crops, the determination entitled "Determination of Sugar Commercially Recoverable from Sugar Beets (Revised)," issued August 5, 1943 (8 F. R. 10967).

Statement of Bases and Considerations

Sugar Act requirements. Determinations of sugar commercially recoverable from domestic sugar beets and sugarcane are required under section 302 (a) of the Sugar Act of 1948 for the purpose of calculating the amounts of sugar upon which payments under the Act may be made.

General basis of determination. Under former determinations, the amount of sugar commercially recoverable from sugar beets was based on (a) the net weight of the sugar beets, (b) the percentage of sugar content of the beets, and (c) a stated percentage reflecting the average rate of sugar extraction obtained by the beet sugar industry during a representative prior period. The revised determination continues this general basis but incorporates certain changes with respect to items (b) and (c).

Percentage of sugar content of sugar beets. About 45 percent of each crop of sugar beets is marketed under contracts which provide for separate tests for sugar content of the beets marketed by individual growers. Such tests are made at the time of delivery of the beets to a processor. These contracts are commonly called "individual test" contracts.

Approximately 55 percent of each crop is marketed under contracts which do not provide for separate tests of deliveries of individual growers. For this part of the crop the sugar content is determined only at the time of processing by the so-called "cossette test" (cossettes are the long, narrow segments into which beets are cut in the processing operation).

Computation of Sugar Act payments. In "individual test" areas, the Sugar Act payments may be computed as soon as the processor submits reports on the marketings of growers showing the tonnages of beets and percentages of sugar content. Such marketing reports could not be completed for any "cossette test" area under the former determination until all of the beets had been processed.

Consequently, when the processing continued for a considerable period after the beets had been delivered, the delay in ascertaining the sugar content of the crop retarded the work of completing Sugar Act payments.

Change for certain western States. To accelerate payments, this determination provides that in the "cossette test" areas comprising the districts for factories located in Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Utah, Washington and Wyoming, the payments shall be based on the weighted average percentage of sugar content of the next preceding seven crops, rather than on the sugar content of the current crop as formerly. The change is limited in applicability to these districts, primarily because the factories in these western States generally operate for longer periods than the factories in the States to the eastward. The factories in all "cossette test" areas operated an average of 75 days for each of the crop years 1943 through 1947. The average for such factories located in the States named above was 85.5 days, while the average for the States to the east thereof was but 61.5 days. Accordingly, the opportunity for accelerating payments is greater in the western States.

Percentage of extraction. Under the original determination, rates of recoverability were based on the average percentage of extraction obtained by the beet sugar industry from the 1934, 1935, and 1936 crops. The determination was revised in 1940 on the basis of the average extraction obtained from the 1937, 1938, and 1939 crops. Through a further revision, which became effective for the 1943 crop, recoverability was based on the average extraction obtained from the five crops of 1937 through 1941. The 1942 crop was not included since the recovery from that crop was reduced substantially because of war conditions. The average recovery from the crops of 1937 through 1941, as calculated upon a basis of the tonnage of beets purchased and the percentage of sugar content of the cossettes thereof, was 90.57 percent.

The establishment of ceiling prices for sugar and for beet molasses, the operation of a War Production Board order limiting the desugarization of molasses, the scarcity, cost, and inefficiency of factory labor, and recent developments in mechanization were factors which affected the rate of extraction during the emergency period. As a result, recoveries from the crops of 1942 through 1947 were reduced substantially, reaching a low point of 85.00 percent on the 1945 crop, although the average percentage of sugar content of the crops was only slightly subnormal. While a significant upturn in recovery was recorded on the 1947 crop, the recovery rate reflected the continuation of abnormal conditions. Under these circumstances, the extraction rates obtained from the crops of 1942–47 are not representative of the recoveries expected in the future.

The recoveries from the 1948 and subsequent crops are expected to reflect a more normal price relationship between sugar and molasses. It is assumed, therefore, that so far as this particular factor is concerned recoveries from future crops will reflect the performance obtained in the prewar period. Likewise, the problems of labor in the factories should be largely eliminated. However, it appears that changes resulting from the increasing use of machinery in harvesting will tend to hold recoveries somewhat below prewar levels. These changes relate to (1) variations in the shrinkage of the beets in the field at the time of harvest and following delivery to the processor which result from accelerated harvesting operations, (2) the deterioration of stored beets due to the delivery of abnormal amounts of clods, stones, and tops, and (3) the effect of mechanical harvesting operations on extraction efficiency.

Extraction in "straight house" factories. In order to eliminate the effects of changes made in processes to increase the production of molasses, an analysis was made of the operations of "straight house" factories in which the customary processes were carried out. With respect to the crops from 1937 through 1947, it was found that 25 straight house factories had operated on all of the crops and 3 such factories had operated on all but one of the crops. The average recovery for the 28 factories with respect to the crops on which the former recovery rates were based (1937–41) was 82.14 percent. The average extraction for these factories from the crops of 1942–47 was 81.41 percent, a decline of 0.73 percent. The difference in the average percentage of sugar content for the two periods is insignificant. The lowest recoveries were obtained from the last three crops, and these recoveries were low in proportion to the percentage of sugar content. Although part of the decline may have been due to lack of satisfactory factory labor, this appears to be offset by the fact that the latter period used in the comparison includes several crops of which only a negligible portion was harvested by machinery.

Adjustment in basic extraction rate. Neither the use of the rates of extraction obtained from recent crops, nor the continued use of rates based solely on the crops of 1937–41 would be representative of expected performance because of changes brought about by mechanization. Consequently, the rates in the determination reflect an adjustment in the basic average rate of extraction equivalent to the decline indicated by the record of the 28 straight house factories, or 0.73 percent. A reduction of 0.73 percent from the average rate of extraction of 90.57 percent obtained from the crops of 1937–41 gives an adjusted rate of 89.84 percent. The conversion of this rate to "raw value," in conformity with the basis of payment under the Sugar Act, gives a rate of recoverability of 96.1 percent to be applied to sugar beets in "cossette test" areas. The former rate was 97.0 percent.

Differential rate for "individual test" beets. The percentage of recovery applied to beets marketed under "individual test" contracts, as provided in the former determination, reflected the average shrinkage in sugar content which occurred between the time of delivery and the time of processing of all beets of the crops of 1935–41 marketed on that basis. The calculated average rate of extraction from such beets was 88.68 percent.

An analysis of the data for the crops of 1943–47 shows that the average shrinkage in percentage of sugar content for all beets marketed on this basis has increased to 2.65 percent as compared to the average of 2.12 percent for the crops of 1935–41. Consequently, the determination reflects the shrinkage rate of 2.65 percent, reducing the calculated average rate of extraction from 88.68 to 88.21 percent. A reduction from this figure of 0.73 percent, to reflect the reduction in rates of extraction shown by straight house operations, gives 87.48 percent. The conversion of this rate to "raw value" gives 93.6 percent as the rate to be effective for beets marketed under "individual test" contracts. The former rate was 95.0 percent.

Conclusion. Accordingly, I hereby find and conclude that the foregoing determination will effectuate the purposes of section 302 (a) of the Sugar Act of 1948.

DETERMINATION OF FAIR AND REASONABLE WAGE RATES FOR PERSONS EMPLOYED IN HARVESTING OF 1948 CROP OF SUGARCANE IN LOUISIANA

Pursuant to the provisions of section 301 (c) (1) of the Sugar Act of 1948, after investigation, and due consideration of the evidence obtained at the public hearing held in Thibodaux, Louisiana, on July 22, 1948, the following determination is hereby issued:

§ 802.24 Fair and reasonable wage rates for persons employed in the harvesting of the 1948 crop of sugarcane in Louisiana. The requirements of section 301 (c) (1) of the Sugar Act of 1948, shall be deemed to have been met with respect to the harvesting of the 1948 crop of sugarcane in Louisiana if the producer complies with the following:

(a) All persons employed on the farm in the harvesting of the 1948 crop of sugarcane shall have been paid in full for all such work and shall have been paid wages in cash therefor at rates as agreed upon between the producer and the laborer but, after the date of issuance of this determination, not less than the following:

(1) For adult males and adult females when employed on time basis.

(2) Workers between 14 and 16 years of age when employed on a time basis. For workers between the ages of 14 and 16 years, the rate per day of 8 hours (maximum hours per day for such workers without deduction from Sugar Act payments to the producer) shall be not less than three-fourths of the applicable rate established under subparagraphs (1) and (4) of this paragraph for adult workers for a 9-hour day. For a working day shorter than 8 hours, the rate shall be in proportion.

(3) All workers when employed on a piecework basis.

Operation	Basic wage rates per ton (raw sugar price of $5.60 to $6.25 per 100 pounds, inclusive)
	Large barrel varieties[1]	Small barrel varieties[1]
Cutting top and bottom, and stripping	$1.35	$1.65
Cutting top and bottom	.85	1.05

The piece rate for any operation specified above when performed on a unit basis other than a ton unit, or the piece rate for any operation not specified above, shall be that agreed upon between the producer and the laborer: Provided, however, That the hourly rate of earnings of each worker, for the time involved, shall be not less than the applicable hourly rate specified in subparagraphs (1) or (2) of this paragraph.

(4) Wage rate adjustments when price of raw sugar is more than $6.25 or less than $5.60 per one hundred pounds. For each full ten cents that the price of raw sugar (duty paid basis) shall average more than $6.25 or less than $5.60 per one hundred pounds for the two weeks' period immediately preceding the two weeks' period during which the work is performed, the time and piecework rates provided in subparagraphs (1), (2), and (3) of this paragraph shall be increased or decreased in the following indicated amounts:

(i) Time basis: $0.065 per 9-hour day.

(ii) Piecework basis (per ton):

	Large barrel	Small barrel
Cutting top and bottom, and stripping	$0.025	$0.030

The two weeks' average price of raw sugar shall be determined by taking the simple average of the daily "spot" quotation of 96° raw sugar (duty paid basis) of the Louisiana Sugar and Rice Exchange and the Cane Products Trade Association Exchange, except that if the Director of the Sugar Branch determines that for any two weeks' period such average price does not reflect the true market value of sugar, because of inadequate volume or other factors, the Director may designate the average price to be effective under this determination. For the purpose of this determination the wage rates for the period from the date of issuance of the determination through October 21, 1948, shall be determined by the average price of raw sugar during the two weeks' period September 24 through October 7, 1948. The wage rates for the period October 22 through November 4, 1948, shall be determined by the average price of raw sugar during the two weeks' period October 8 through October 21, 1948, and thereafter wage rates for each successive two weeks' period shall be based on the preceding two weeks' average price of raw sugar.

(b) Perquisites. In addition to the foregoing, the producer shall furnish to the laborer without charge the customary perquisites, such as a habitable house, medical attention, and similar items.

(c) Subterfuge. The producer shall not reduce the wage rates to laborers below those determined herein through any subterfuge or device whatsoever.

Statement of Bases and Considerations

(a) General. The foregoing determination provides fair and reasonable wage rates to be paid by producers to persons employed in the harvesting of the 1948 crop of sugarcane in Louisiana as one of the conditions for payment under the Sugar Act of 1948. In this Statement the foregoing determination, as well as determinations for prior years, will be referred to as "wage determination", identified by the crop year for which effective.

(b) Requirements of the Sugar Act and standards employed. In determining fair and reasonable wage rates, the Sugar Act requires that a public hearing be held, that investigations be made, and that consideration be given to (1) the standards formerly established by the Secretary under the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended, and (2) the differences in conditions among various sugar producing areas.

A public hearing was held in Thibodaux, Louisiana on July 22, 1948, at which time interested persons presented testimony with respect to fair and reasonable wage rates for harvesting of the 1948 crop of sugarcane. In addition, investigations have been made of the conditions affecting wage rates in Louisiana. In this determination, as in prior determinations, consideration has been given to testimony presented at the hearing and to the information resulting from investigations. The primary factors considered were: (1) prices of sugar and by-products; (2) income from sugarcane; (3) cost of production; (4) cost of living; and (5) relationship of labor cost to total cost. Other economic influences also were considered.

(c) Background. Wage determinations for harvesting sugarcane in Louisiana have been issued each year beginning with the 1937 crop. The earlier determinations provided specific time rates for adult males and females as well as alternative piece work rates. Subsequent coverage was extended to include semi-skilled and skilled workers and workers between 14 and 16 years of age. As the need arose, adjustments have been made in certain time and piece work rates to conform to changes in production and harvesting methods.

The 1937 wage determination increased basic adult male wages for harvest work 25 cents per day over those of the previous year. An increase in producer income at the same time permitted the maintenance of the customary relationship of wages to income that had existed in prior years. The basic wage rates were not changed during the years from 1938 to 1940 and the wage-income relationship remained relatively constant. Beginning with the 1941 wage determination, the basic wage rates were increased 15 cents per day and have been increased in varying amounts each subsequent year except 1944. Throughout these years, wage rates have been established primarily on the basis of the historical wage-income relationship. However, this relationship has been altered in some of these years to give recognition to significant changes which have occurred in other factors customarily considered in establishing wage rates. Since the base period 1938–40, the weighted average basic time rates for harvesting have been increased from 17.3 cents per hour to 40.9 cents in 1947, an increase of 136.4 percent.

(d) 1948 wage determination. The 1948 wage determination is changed in two major respects from the 1947 wage determination:

(1) Wage rates are related to the average price of raw sugar by the use of a modified wage escalator scale. This replaces the fixed wage structure in effect in 1947. Under the scale, wage rates are geared to the average price of raw sugar (duty paid basis) for the two weeks' period immediately preceding the two weeks' period during which the work is performed. When the average price of raw sugar for a two weeks' period ranges between $5.60 and $6.25 per one hundred pounds, inclusive, basic time rates remain the same as in 1947. These basic rates are subject to upward or downward adjustments (6½ cents per 9 hour day) if the average price of raw sugar increases or decreases a full 10 cents above or below such price range. For example, if sugar prices average $5.50, basic time rates per 9-hour day are reduced 6½ cents. Conversely, if sugar prices average $6.35 per one hundred pounds, basic time rates are increased 6½ cents. Similar adjustments are made for each subsequent full 10 cent price change.

The average price of raw sugar is determined by taking the simple average of the daily "spot" quotations of 96° raw sugar (duty paid basis) of the Louisiana Sugar and Rice Exchange and the Cane Products Trade Association Exchange. Such average prices are subject to review by the Director of the Sugar Branch and, if he determines that for any two weeks' period such average price does not reflect the true market value of sugar, because of inadequate volume or other factors, he may designate the average price to be effective. Each producer will be responsible for ascertaining the average price of raw sugar and the effective wage rates. The two weeks' average price of raw sugar and the effective wage rates will be announced by and will be available in the Louisiana State and Parish Offices of the Production and Marketing Administration, Department of Agriculture.

An examination of changes in the economic factors affecting wage rates since the base period 1938–40 reveals that substantial increases have occurred in all such factors, although the price of raw sugar has declined somewhat from the high point reached in 1947 and early 1948. In recognition of such trends, the 1948 wage determination provides a variable wage structure adjustable to significant price and income changes.

At the recent fair wage hearing, it was recommended that wage decreases be based upon income of producers from sugarcane and molasses. Although consideration was given to using income as a basis for the modified escalater scale, it is believed that the use of average raw sugar prices will be readily understood by producers and laborers and will provide a more practicable method of administering this provision. Accordingly, the scale employed in this determination is based upon average raw sugar prices.

(2) The basic piece work rates for harvesting operations other than loading sugarcane have been reduced 15 cents per ton from the 1947 rates. Testimony at the 1948 public hearing indicated that there has been a disproportionate spread in wage rates which enabled workers employed on a piece work basis to earn substantially more than those employed on a time basis. This inequity has been brought about largely by changes in harvesting methods in recent years. Available information indicates that the average earnings of an adult male cane cutter for a 9-hour day employed on a piece work basis during the 1947 harvest ranged between 55 and 75 percent more than a cane cutter employed on a time basis. The reduction in piece work rates will provide a more reasonable relationship between the earnings of workers on a time basis and those on a piece work basis. The piece work rates specified should enable piece work employees to earn approximately 45 to 55 percent more per 9-hour day than those on a time basis. As in the case of basic time rates, upward or downward adjustments in the piece rates are provided when the average price of raw sugar increases or decreases a full 10 cents per hundred pounds above $6.25 or below $5.60.

In addition to the changes explained above, two varieties of sugarcane (C.P. 29/120 and C.P. 36/105) have been classified as large barrel rather than small barrel as was provided in the 1947 determination. This reclassification was made because of testimony at the recent public hearing which indicated that these cane varieties were similar to the other designated large barrel varieties with respect to handling and worker accomplishment.

Accordingly, I hereby find and conclude that the foregoing wage determination will effectuate the wage provisions of the Sugar Act of 1948.

(4) If the airport was damaged while owned by the United States or a Federal agency, the nucleus of such airport must have been owned by a non-Federal agency and used for airport purposes, prior to its acquisition by the United States or by a Federal agency.

(b) To meet the requirements of paragraph (a) of this section, it is not necessary that the public agency controlling an airport be the public agency owning its landing area, or that the public agency controlling an airport or owning its landing area, at the time a request is filed, be the public agency which controlled the airport or owned the landing area at the time the damage occurred.

(c) If an airport is operated by a private person or concern under a lease or contract from a public agency, such airport will be regarded as "used by and for the benefit of the public" and "under the control of a public agency", as required by paragraph (a) (3) of this section, if the airport is being so used and the lease or contract reserves to the public agency sufficient control over the manner in which the airport is operated to permit such public agency to compel its operation for the use and benefit of the public.

(b) The rehabilitation or repair must be, or have been, for the purpose of remedying damage to an area or facility which was owned by the petitioner or other non-Federal public agency at the time the damage occurred, unless, at that time, the area or facility was owned by the United States or a Federal agency, in which case the area or facility must have been owned by the petitioner or other non-Federal public agency prior to its acquisition by the United States or a Federal agency.

(c) The rehabilitation or repair must have or must have had as its principal object the remedying of damage for which the petitioner, the airport owner, or any other person or agency has never been adequately compensated, reimbursed, or recompensed by the United States or any Federal agency.

(d) The circumstances must be such that reimbursement would be in the public interest.

§ 560.8 Amount of reimbursement. In determining the amount due with respect to any particular item of eligible rehabilitation or repair, the Administrator will be guided by the following principles:

(a) If the damage occurred while the airport was in the management or control of the United States or a Federal agency, reimbursement will be made in an amount equal to the actual or estimated cost of restoring the damaged area or damaged facility to a condition equivalent to its condition on the date the United States or a Federal agency assumed management or control of the airport.

(b) If the damage occurred while the airport was not under the management or control of the United States or a Federal agency, reimbursement will be made in an amount equal to the actual or estimated cost of restoring the damaged area or damaged facility to a condition equivalent to its condition immediately prior to such damage.

(c) The principles stated in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section will apply whether the damaged area or damaged facility is actually restored to its condition at the time specified or the rehabilitation or repair results in the construction or improvement of a new area or facility or the improvement of the damaged area or damaged facility to a condition better than its condition at the time specified in paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section, whichever is applicable, or is accomplished in accordance with higher standards of airport construction than the original construction.

§ 560.9 Claims filed with other Federal agencies. A request for reimbursement may be filed under the regulations in this part notwithstanding the fact that the petitioner has filed prior thereto a claim against the United States relating to the subject matters of such request: Provided, however, That the petitioner notifies the Administrator, as hereinafter provided, as to the basis for, and the current status of, such claim.

§ 560.10 Form and content of requests. (a) No particular form is required for a request under the regulations in this part. However, each petitioner should submit a request stating that the request is made pursuant to section 17 of the Federal Airport Act, as amended, and containing the following pertinent information: (Documents, maps, affidavits, records, and other materials necessary to support the request should be submitted with such requests or as soon thereafter as possible, if available or procurable).

(b) Determination by the Administrator: The Administrator will consider, ascertain, and determine each request submitted.

§ 560.13 Certification of requests to the Congress. (a) The Administrator will certify to the Congress such amount as he determines to be the actual or estimated cost of the eligible rehabilitation or repair. The certification will include a brief statement of the character of the damage upon which the request is based and of the work performed or to be performed to accomplish the eligible rehabilitation or repair.

(b) The Administrator will recommend to the Congress that the amount certified be appropriated to the Administrator for disbursement to the petitioner as provided in § 560.14.

§ 560.14 Payment from sums appropriated by Congress. (a) Funds appropriated pursuant to a certification based upon the actual cost of completed rehabilitation or repair will be paid to the petitioner upon submission of proper releases.

(b) Progress payments will be made from funds appropriated pursuant to a certification based upon the estimated cost of proposed rehabilitation or repair as the work progresses and up to 85% of the total monies appropriated. Such payments will be made on a monthly basis, unless otherwise determined by the Administrator after consultation with the petitioner, and only after receipt of an application from the petitioner for a progress payment covering eligible rehabilitation or repair accomplished. Each such application shall be submitted in quadruplicate to the District Airport Engineer. (Where the damaged area or facility is to be reconstructed to a better area or better facility, the estimated proportion of the total cost of such better area or better facility attributable to rehabilitation or repair will remain constant as fixed by the Certification to the Congress. Progress payments will be made as the construction of the better area or better facility is accomplished and payment will be based upon the percentage of completion of the better area or better facility.)

(c) If the Administrator shall determine at any time that the aggregate of such progress payments exceeds the actual cost of the work then performed, the United States shall be entitled to recover such excess.

(d) Final payment will be made after all eligible rehabilitation or repair has been accomplished to the satisfaction of the Administrator, after inspection by CAA, the cost established by a final CAA audit, and proper releases submitted.

§ 560.15 Supplemental requests. (a) Where it is found upon completion of the eligible rehabilitation or repair that the actual cost of such rehabilitation or repair exceeds the estimate certified to the Congress by the Administrator, the petitioned may file a supplemental request in quadruplicate with the District Airport Engineer for the amount by which such actual cost exceeds such estimate. The supplemental request must be verified in the same manner as the original request and must set forth the amount requested. Such supplemental request must be supported by vouchers or other evidence establishing the actual cost.

(b) If upon receipt of a supplemental request the Administrator determines that the actual cost of the completed rehabilitation or repair exceeds the amount of the estimate certified by him to Congress, the Administrator shall certify to Congress the amount by which such actual cost exceeds such estimate, including in such certification a brief statement of the cause of the variation between the estimated and actual cost of such rehabilitation or repair.

This amendment shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Chapter I—Post Office Department

PART 17—MONEY ORDER SYSTEM

INTERNATIONAL MONEY-ORDER SERVICE; GENERAL INFORMATION

A new § 17.83a is added to read as follows:

§ 17.83a Information in regard to international money orders. (a) The maximum amount for which a single money order payable in Egypt, Morocco (Shereefian, Tangier and Tetuan), the Azores, Madeira, Iran, Tibet and Portuguese India (Goa) through the Postal Administration of Great Britain can be drawn is £10. Postmasters therefore should not draw money orders for payment in those places for sums over £10.

(b) Although $100 is the maximum amount allowed by law for a single order issued in the United States, either domestic or international, $10 is the maximum amount for which a single order payable in Honduras may be drawn, and Florins 100 is the maximum amount for a single order payable in the Netherlands.

(c) Money-order business has been resumed with Austria, Denmark, the Netherlands, Poland and Switzerland, and it has been suspended with Palistine. Money orders of course cannot now be sent to Saudi Arabia and Trans-Jordan because Palestine formerly acted as intermediary in transmitting there the amounts of orders issued in the United States.

(d) Money orders still cannot be drawn for payment in Angola (Portugese West Africa) nor in the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan, and recently money-order service was suspended with Bahrain, Kuwait and Muscat in the Persian Gulf, and with the State of Hyderabad, India, so orders should not be issued for payment in any of these places. However, money-order service is still in operation with the town of Hyderabad in the Province of Sind and with other places in India and Pakistan.

(e) This Department still has no arrangement for effecting payment of money orders in Libya (Cyrenaica, Tripoli), Eritrea and Italian Somaliland, and the French postal authorities recently reported that they cannot arrange for the payment of orders in Indo-China.

(f) Although money-order service to China is in effect, money orders cannot be drawn for payment in Macao, nor in Hong Kong. The island of Formosa (Taiwan) now belongs to China, so orders intended for payment there should be drawn on China, and of course the payee's name and complete address should be entered in the body of the advice.

(g) The amounts of money orders payable in, or through, Great Britain are paid by means of new orders reissued at the London exchange office. The original order forms, therefore, should not be given to the remitters for transmission to the payees but they should be marked "Canceled" and sent to the New York Exchange office with the advices and coupons. On the other hand, orders payable in Ireland (Eire, formerly the Irish Free State), New Zealand, the Union of South Africa and the States in the Commonwealth of Australia should be given to the remitters who should forward them to the payees, as payment will be effected thereon. (R. S. 161, 396, 4027, 4028, sec. 1, 25 Stat. 654, secs. 304, 309, 42 Stat. 24, 25, 48 Stat. 943; 5 U. S. C. 22, 369, 372, 39 U. S. C. 711, 712)

JAPAN; IMPORTS FOR MISSIONARIES OR CHURCH WORKERS

In § 127.284 Japan, of Subpart D, (13 F. R. 997, 2044, 4392), make the following change:

Amend paragraph (b) Parcel post, (3) Observations, by the addition of subdivision (vii) to read as follows:

(vii) The controlling authorities in Japan permit the importation of ordinary items of merchandise in commercial quantities without import license, provided the merchandise is for the sole use and consumption of full-time church workers or their dependents in Japan. The following notation should be placed on the wrapper of each parcel containing such merchandise: "This shipment of -------- is for the sole use and consumption of missionaries, full-time church workers, or their dependents in Japan and will not be used for any other purpose."

(R. S. 161,369, secs. 304, 309, 42 Stat. 24, 25; 5 U. S. C. 22,369; R. S. 398)

MAILABLE MEDICINES ADMITTED IN DUTY-PREPAID LETTER PACKAGES FOR UNION OF SOVIET SOCIALIST REPUBLICS

Information has been received from the Postal Administration of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics that duty-prepaid packages not exceeding 18 ounces in weight containing medicines may be imported into that country in letter packages (surface or air) and will be delivered on condition that the prescription of the treating physician in the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics is presented by the addressee at time of delivery. Only the quantities of medicines mentioned in the prescription will be delivered.

The import duties must be prepaid by the senders through the facilities of one of the several firms in the United States authorized by the appropriate Soviet Agency to accept prepayment of Soviet customs duties. Interested patrons should communicate with the U. S. S. R. Branch, Office of International Trade, Department of Commerce, Washington 25, D. C., or with any field office of the Department of Commerce.

When the import duties have been paid to one of the authorized firms, the mailer of the package must place the following endorsement on the wrapper: "Soviet Import Duties Paid. License No. ------." The placing of this endorsement on the wrappers of letter-packages weighing not more than 18 ounces and containing mailable medicines may be regarded as authority for accepting the packages for mailing to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, even though merchandise is normally prohibited transmission to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics in letter-packages. These packages may be accepted for transmission by surface or air mail and may be registered on payment of the registry fee of 20 cents in addition to the postage. Such packages must bear the green customs label, Form 2976 (C 1), and have the paper customs declaration (Form 2976-A) enclosed.

The newly established air parcel-post service to the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics (supra) may be used to send mailable medicines and pharmaceutical products in doses or prescribed quantities, not exceeding a yearly quota of two pounds gross for any addressee.

JOSEPH J. LAWLER,
Acting Postmaster General.

RELIEF PARCELS

Effective at once, "U. S. A. Gift Parcels" at the reduced postage rate will be accepted for mailing to Berlin, Germany, and to Trieste only if it is indicated on the parcels that their addresses are located in the sector or zone under occupation by the United States, Great Britain or France. Accordingly, the paragraph numbered "3" of the instructions published under the above caption (13 F. R. 4767) is rescinded, and the following provisions are made applicable to the mailing of "U. S. A. Gift Parcels" to Germany and Trieste:

Parcels for Germany. On all parcels, including "U. S. A. Gift Parcels", destined to places in Germany outside the city of Berlin, it is required that the zone of occupation be shown in the address. All parcels accepted as "U. S. A. Gift Parcels" at the reduced postage rate of 10 cents per pound for the city of Berlin must show in the address the sector of occupation, viz., "U. S. Sector", "British Sector", or "French Sector". Parcels addressed to the Soviet Zone of Germany or the Soviet Sector of Berlin, or parcels for Germany on which no zone or sector is indicated, must be prepaid at the regular postage rate of 14 cents per pound.

Parcels for Trieste. All parcels accepted as "U. S. A. Gift Parcels" at the reduced postage rate of 10 cents per pound must show in the address the words "U. S.-British Zone". Parcels addressed to the Yugoslav Zone of Trieste, or parcels for Trieste on which no zone is indicated, must be prepaid at the regular postage rate of 14 cents per pound.

NOTE: The Department is not in position to answer inquiries as to the sector of Berlin or zone of Trieste in which specific addresses are located. It is incumbent upon senders to ascertain that the addressees of their parcels reside in the United States, British, or French sector or zone, and to address their parcels accordingly, before they can be accepted at the reduced postage rate as "U. S. A. Gift Parcels."

WALTER MYERS,
Acting Postmaster General.

DEPARTMENT OF THE TREASURY

Bureau of Internal Revenue

RELIEF FROM EXCESS PROFITS TAX BECAUSE OF AN INADEQUATE EXCESS PROFITS CREDIT

ALLOWANCES DURING FISCAL YEAR ENDED JUNE 30, 1948

Subchapter E of Chapter 2 of the Internal Revenue Code imposes an excess profits tax on corporations for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1939. Under the provisions of this subchapter, excess profits are measured by comparing the earnings for the current taxable year with a statutory excess profits credit.

Section 722 of Subchapter E reflects the recognition by Congress of the desirability and necessity of granting relief in meritorious cases to corporations which bear an excessive tax burden because of an inadequate excess profits credit. This section provides for the recomputation of excess profits tax on the basis of a reconstructed excess profits credit.

As required by section 722 (g) the following list, containing the cases arranged alphabetically by internal revenue districts, shows the name and address of each corporation to which relief has been allowed, business, taxable years involved, excess profits credit before allowance of relief, increase in excess profits credit claimed, increase in excess profits credit allowed, decrease in excess profits tax, and increase in income tax. Allowances by the Tax Court of the United States have been made in sixty-nine cases, which are included in the list with appropriate notations. There are included as a supplement to this list thirty-three cases in which relief was allowed by the Commissioner during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1947. These cases were not included in the list of allowances made during the fiscal year 1947 previously published.

In order to determine the relief granted and the relevant data required to be published, intermediate computations of the excess profits tax and the income tax showing the amount of taxes which would have been due without the benefits of section 722 were made. Comparison of the pertinent items and figures appearing in the application for relief and the tax computations after the allowance of relief with those appearing in the intermediate tax computations developed the required data.

Explanations of certain of the items, as displayed in their respective column headings of the list, and the data involved, follow:

Business in Which Engaged, Column 2. The business in which taxpayer is engaged is that reported in the income tax return of the corporation for the taxable year or years involved, therefore, it does not necessarily correspond with the business during the base period. In those instances where the return for the year involved failed to disclose the nature of business, information from other sources was utilized. Moreover, since the nature of business shown usually represents a general description of the predominant business activity, it does not necessarily represent or reflect the business activity with respect to which an inadequate excess profits credit was established.

Excess Profits Credit Before Allowance of Relief, Column 4. The excess profits credit before allowance of relief is the credit originally claimed by the taxpayer, as corrected, whether based on income or capital.

Increase in the Amount of Excess Profits Credit Claimed by Taxpayer, Column 5. The increase in the amount of excess profits credit claimed by taxpayer is the excess of the credit based on the constructive income claimed by the taxpayer over the credit before allowance of relief shown in column 4.

Increase in the Amount of Excess Profits Credit Allowed, Column 6. The increase in the amount of excess profits credit allowed is the excess of the recomputed credit based on constructive income finally allowed over the credit before allowance of relief shown in column 4.

Gross Reduction in the Excess Profits Tax, Column 7. Gross Increase in the Income Tax, Column 8. The gross reduction in the excess profits tax and the gross increase in the income tax resulting from the operation of section 722 are the differences between the gross taxes which would have been due without the benefits of section 722 and the gross taxes due after relief had been granted. The gross excess profits tax is the tax due prior to the deferment under section 710 (a) (5), the foreign tax credit under section 729, the credit for debt retirement under section 783 or section 784, and the adjustment under section 734. The gross income tax is the tax due prior to the foreign tax credit under section 131.

The changes in the income and excess profits taxes shown reflect the effect of the increases attributable to section 722 in the unused excess profits credit carried forward from prior taxable years as well as the effect of the increase in unused excess profits credit carried back from subsequent taxable years to the extent that claims with respect to unused credit carry-overs and carry-backs determined under section 722 were allowed within the same fiscal year.

While the decrease in excess profits tax is directly related to the increase in excess profits credit allowed, a number of factors serve to invalidate a comparison of the relationship of these two items applicable to a corporation for different taxable years or to different corporations for the same taxable year. Among the most important factors affecting this comparison are (1) increase in excess profits tax rates, (2) changes in rate structure from a graduated to a flat rate system, (3) effect of unused excess profits credits of prior and subsequent years attributable to section 722, (4) variation of provisions applicable to fiscal years, (5) limitation of excess profits tax to the amount by which 80 per cent of net income exceeds the income tax, applicable to certain taxable years, and (6) relation of excess profits before the application of section 722 to the increase in excess profits credit allowed.

For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940, a portion of the amount by which the excess profits tax is reduced by reason of the application of section 722 is offset by an increase in income tax. This offset arises from the provisions which permit the deduction of the income subject to excess profits tax (or excess profits tax in certain taxable years) in arriving at income subject to income tax.

Lists containing the cases in which relief has been allowed for prior fiscal years have been published in the various issues of the FEDERAL REGISTER as follows:

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

AIGELTINGER & CO.

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER PERMITTING BROKER-DEALER REGISTRATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 15th day of October A. D. 1948.

In the matter of Aigeltinger & Company, 76 William Street, New York 5, New York.

Aigeltinger & Co., a partnership composed of Frank W. Aigeltinger and Ennis K. Aigeltinger as general partners, and William F. Mullan as limited partner, is registered as a broker and dealer under section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.[1] Ennis K. Aigeltinger is withdrawing from the partnership and it is proposed to admit Sydney G. Vickers as a general partner.

An application has accordingly been filed on Form 4-M for registration of the proposed new partnership of Aigeltinger & Co. as a broker and dealer. We instituted this proceeding under section 15 (b) of the act to determine whether the application should be denied.

After appropriate notice a hearing was held. A recommended decision by the hearing examiner has been waived. No proposed findings and briefs have been filed, nor has oral argument been requested.[2] Our findings are based on an independent review of the record.

Section 15 (b) of the act provides in part as follows:

> The Commission shall, after appropriate notice and opportunity for hearing, by order deny registration to • • • any broker or dealer if it finds that such denial • • • is in the public interest and that • • • any partner • • • of such broker or dealer • • • whether prior or subsequent to becoming such • • • is permanently or temporarily enjoined by order, judgment or decree of any court of competent jurisdiction from engaging in or continuing any conduct or practice in connection with the purchase or sale of any security • • •

The record shows that, by a decree of the United States District Court for the District of Massachusetts dated April 3, 1936, Vickers was permanently enjoined from engaging in or continuing certain fraudulent practices in connection with the sale of securities.[3] It is therefore clear that a statutory basis exists for denying the application, provided we find that such denial is in the public interest.

The record does not indicate that Vickers has ever violated the terms of the injunction. Since 1942 he has been employed as a trader by Aigeltinger & Co., under the personal supervision of Frank W. Aigeltinger. Aigeltinger testified in support of Vickers' good character, honesty and reliability. Schedules of Vickers' transactions for Aigeltinger & Co., during the 2½-year period from the beginning of 1946 through July 1948, were introduced in evidence. These schedules disclose that, under all the circumstances, the transactions handled by Vickers were effected at prices not unreasonably related to current market quotations and that such charges as were made in connection with these transactions were not unfair or unreasonable. Aigeltinger further testified that he would continue to be the controlling and dominant factor in the partnership, and that he would continue to exercise supervision over Vickers' transactions as heretofore.

It also appears that Vickers was twice convicted in State courts of offenses involving securities transactions. While these convictions took place more than ten years prior to the filing of the instant application, and, under the provisions of the act, cannot supply an independent statutory basis for denial, the facts relating to the offenses may be properly considered in connection with all other factors relating to the public interest.

In 1935 Vickers was convicted in New Hampshire on charges of selling securities without having been licensed as a broker or dealer in that State. He received a suspended sentence and restitution was made to the complaining purchasers. In 1936 Vickers was indicted in Massachusetts on a charge of larceny of a stock certificate valued at $500. He pleaded guilty, was placed on probation, and made restitution.

In weighing factors bearing on the public interest, we must not only give consideration to the protection of public investors, but in appropriate cases, we must also give weight to the hardship inherent in the permanent denial to individuals of the opportunity to engage in chosen forms of activity, including the securities business.[4]

The conduct and practices which led to the injunction and the two convictions all took place more than twelve years ago. Under these circumstances, we believe that the evidence of Vickers' activities since that time, and the evidence as to his subsequent good character and reputation, persuasively indicate that infractions are not likely to be repeated in the future.

After due consideration of all the circumstances, we are of the opinion that the public interest does not require a denial of the application for registration.

Accordingly, it is ordered, Pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, that the registration as a broker and dealer of Aigeltinger & Co., a partnership consisting of Frank W. Aigeltinger, Sydney G. Vickers and William F. Mullan, be and it hereby is permitted to become effective.

ELECTRIC BOND AND SHARE CO. ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C. on the 14th day of October A. D. 1948.

In the matter of Electric Bond and Share Company, File No. 54–127; Electric Bond and Share Company and its Subsidiary Companies, respondents, File No. 59–3; Electric Bond and Share Company, American Power & Light Company, National Power & Light Company, Electric Power & Light Corporation et al., respondents, File No. 59–12.

The Commission by order dated September 6, 1946, having approved Plan II–A filed by Electric Bond and Share Company ("Bond and Share"), a registered holding company, pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, said plan providing among other things, that Bond and Share dispose of all of its holdings of 423,408 shares of the common stock of Carolina Power & Light Company ("Carolina") not later than October 6, 1947, unless such time be extended by the Commission; and

The Commission by orders dated October 10, 1947 and July 27, 1948 having extended the time within which Bond and Share must dispose of its holdings of the common stock of Carolina until October 8, 1948;

Notice is hereby given that Bond and Share has filed an application-declaration proposing the disposition by means of a negotiated sale to underwriters of not in excess of 350,000 shares of its holdings of 423,408 shares of the common stock of Carolina, plus not in excess of 17,500 additional shares of such stock which Bond and Share may purchase in connection with stabilizing operations. The application-declaration states that it is expected that the underwriters will make a public offering of such shares. In order to effectuate such private sale to underwriters, Bond and Share has requested an exemption from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50. The details of the underwriting arrangement will be filed by amendment.

In connection with its proposed stabilizing operations, Bond and Share requests permission to acquire not more than 17,500 shares of the common stock of Carolina by purchase on the New York Stock Exchange at any time from the date of the Commission's order authorizing such purchase until the time of the execution of a purchase contract between Bond and Share and the underwriters but in no event for a period in excess of 14 days. Any purchases effected will commence at a price (exclusive of commissions) not higher than the last preceding sale price of the Carolina common stock on such exchange.

The proceeds of the sale of the common stock of Carolina will be used by Bond and Share to reduce its outstanding bank loans.

Bond and Share requests that the order of the Commission contain findings and recitations conforming to the provisions and requirements of section 1808 (f) of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest that a hearing be held with respect to said application-declaration and that said application-declaration shall not be granted or be permitted to become effective except pursuant to a further order of this Commission;

It is ordered, That a hearing on said application-declaration pursuant to the applicable provisions of the act and the rules of the Commission be held on October 22, 1948 at 10:00 a. m., e. s. t., at the offices of the Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C., in such room as may be designated on that date by the Hearing Room Clerk.

It is further ordered, That James G. Ewell or any other officer or officers of this Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at such hearing. The officer or officers so designated to preside at such hearing are hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18(c) of the act and to a hearing officer under the Commission's rules of practice.

The Division of Public Utilities of the Commission having advised the Commission that it has made a preliminary examination of the application-declaration and that, upon the basis thereof, the following matters and questions are presented for consideration by the Commission without prejudice, however, to the presentation of additional matters and questions upon further examination:

(1) Whether the proposed sale of common stock of Carolina by Bond and Share shall be exempted from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50.

(2) Whether in the event that an exemption from the provisions of Rule U-50 is granted, the terms and conditions of the proposed sale of the common stock of Carolina meet the standards of section 12(d) of the act, particularly with respect to the maintenance of competitive conditions, the receipt of adequate consideration or the reasonableness of any fees or commissions to be paid.

(3) Whether the proposed acquisition by Bond and Share of shares of the common stock of Carolina on the New York Stock Exchange for the purpose of stabilizing the price of such stock meets the requirements of sections 9 and 10 of the act.

(4) Whether the accounting entries to be recorded in connection with the proposed transactions are proper and conform to the standard principles of accounting.

(5) Whether it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers to impose terms and conditions with reference to the proposed transactions and, if so, what such terms and conditions should be.

It is further ordered, That particular attention be directed at said hearing to the foregoing matters and questions.

It is further ordered, That any person desiring to be heard or otherwise wishing to participate in this proceeding shall file with the Secretary of the Commission on or before October 21, 1948, a written request relative thereto as provided by Rule XVII of the Commission's rules of practice, stating the nature of his interest, which of the foregoing matters and questions he desires to controvert and what additional matters and questions, if any, he deems are raised by the said application-declaration.

It is further ordered, That the Secretary of the Commission shall serve a copy of this order by registered mail on Bond and Share, and that notice of said hearing shall be given to all other persons by general release of this Commission which shall be distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases issued under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and by publication of this order in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

INTERSTATE POWER CO.

SUPPLEMENTAL ORDER PERMITTING DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE AND RELEASING JURISDICTION OVER FEES AND EXPENSES

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 14th day of October A. D. 1948.

Interstate Power Company ("Interstate"), a registered holding company, having filed with this Commission a declaration, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and certain rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, regarding the issuance and sale by Interstate, at competitive bidding pursuant to Rule U-50, of $5,000,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds due 1978, the proceeds from the sale of said bonds to be used for the repayment of outstanding indebtedness in the amount of $2,400,000 and the balance thereof for other corporate purposes;

The Commission having, by an order dated September 30, 1948, permitted the declaration to become effective, subject, among other things, to the condition that the proposed issuance and sale of these bonds should not be consummated until the results of competitive bidding had been made a matter of record in this proceeding and a further order entered by the Commission in the light of the record as so completed;

Interstate now having filed an amendment to the declaration setting forth the action taken by it to comply with the requirements of Rule U-50 and stating that, pursuant to the invitation for competitive bids, the following bid was received:

Bidder	Interest rate	Price	Cost of money to the company
	Percent	Percent	Percent
Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc....	4½	100	4.5

It appearing that Interstate has accepted the bid of Halsey, Stuart & Company, Inc.; that these bonds are to be resold to the public at 103% of the principal amount thereof plus accrued interest from July 1, 1948, representing a spread to the underwriters of 3.0% on said securities;

The record also having been completed with respect to fees and expenses to be paid in connection with the proposed issuance and sale of these bonds, including fees and expenses to be borne by the successful bidders, these fees being $10,000 payable by Interstate to Matthews & Springer, Chicago, Illinois; $6,000 payable to Winthrop, Stimson, Putnam, & Roberts, as counsel for the successful bidders; and $3,000 of expenses as reimbursements for disbursements of Matthews & Springer;

The Commission having examined such amendment and having considered the record as now completed and finding no basis for imposing terms and conditions with respect to such matters;

It is ordered, That said declaration, as amended, be and the same hereby is permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed by Rule U-24 and to the further condition that the reservation of jurisdiction with respect to the payment of fees and expenses applicable to these transactions and heretofore reserved by the Commission, be and the same hereby is released.

Because this amendment partially removes the restrictions set forth in said regulation proclaimed October 1, 1941 and imposes no new obligation upon the general public with respect to the area described herein, it is found that it is unnecessary to issue said amended regulation subject to the general notice provision and the effective date limitation of sections 4 (a) and 4 (c), respectively, of the Administrative Procedure Act.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto subscribed my name and caused the seal of the Department of the Interior to be affixed this 5th day of October 1948.

PART 364—REGULATIONS

FARM OWNERSHIP LOAN LIMITATIONS

Section 364.2, Loan limitations, in Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations (6 CFR, 1947 Supp., 364.2), is amended to read as follows:

§ 364.2 Loan limitations—(a) General. The Secretary of Agriculture has determined average values and investment limits for most of the counties and parishes in the United States, its territories and possessions, in accordance with the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, as amended. Direct or insured Farm Ownership loans will not be made in any county, parish, or locality until such determinations have been made for the county, parish, or locality (see § 364.11).

(b) Average value. The "average value" for a county, parish, or locality means the average value, as determined by the Secretary of Agriculture for the purposes of title I of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, as amended, of efficient family-type farm-management units situated in the county, parish, or locality.

(c) Investment limit. The "investment limit" for a county, parish, or locality is the amount to which the total investment of a Farm Ownership applicant in a farm is limited, unless the Administrator authorizes a greater total investment as provided in paragraph (h) of this section. The total investment of a Farm Ownership applicant in a farm will be computed in accordance with paragraph (e) of this section.

(d) Fair and reasonable value of farm. The fair and reasonable value of a farm is determined by the County Committee in accordance with § 366.3 of this chapter, and is the amount certified by the Committee (on Form FHA-491, "County Committee Certification," or on Form FHA-499, "Recertification by County Committee") to be the fair and reasonable value of the farm, based upon its normal earning capacity, after contemplated improvements are made.

(e) Total investment in farm. The computation of the total investment of a Farm Ownership applicant in a farm depends upon the type of Farm Ownership financial assistance for which application is made. In computing total investment, the cost of property insurance, or the initial mortgage insurance charge is not included.

(1) For an initial direct or insured Farm Ownership loan (Tenant Purchase, Farm Enlargement, and Farm Development), the applicant's total investment in the farm will consist of the sum of the following items:

(i) The purchase price of all land or interests in land to be acquired by the applicant.

(ii) The amount necessary for all planned repairs and improvements, both immediate and deferred.

(iii) The amount of any necessary fees and expenses incident to making and closing the loan which are required to be paid by the applicant, whether included in the Farm Ownership loan as a service fee or paid by the applicant from personal funds.

(iv) In the case of a Farm Enlargement or a Farm Development loan:

(a) The value, as determined by the County Committee (on Form FHA-493, "Value of Applicant's Unit"), of the applicant's equity in the tract of land owned by the applicant which is to be enlarged or improved.

(b) The amount necessary to refinance indebtedness against the tract of land owned by the applicant which is to be enlarged or improved, or to pay the balance due on a purchase contract covering such land.

(v) If a Tenant Purchase loan involves a tract of land in which the applicant owns an undivided fractional interest, by reason of inheritance or otherwise, and the applicant is to purchase the interests of the other heirs or joint owners (see § 365.1 of this chapter):

(a) The value of the applicant's interest in the tract.

(b) The amount necessary to satisfy the applicant's share of liens or encumbrances against the tract.

(2) For a subsequent direct Farm Ownership loan (see § 367.3 of this chapter) not in connection with the voluntary transfer of a farm or the sale of land by the Farmers Home Administration, the applicant's total investment in the farm will consist of the sum of the following items:

(i) The unpaid amount of the applicant's Farm Ownership indebtedness.

(ii) The amount of the requested subsequent loan, except such part, if any, of the requested subsequent loan as will be used for refinancing outstanding Farm Ownership indebtedness.

(iii) The amount of any necessary fees and expenses incident to making and closing the subsequent loan which are required to be paid by the applicant and which are not included in the subsequent loan as a service fee.

(iv) Any other amounts which will be paid by the applicant from personal funds in connection with accomplishing the purposes of the subsequent loan.

(v) The value, as determined by the County Committee (on Form FHA-493, "Value of Applicant's Unit"), of the applicant's equity in land owned by him.

(3) For a sale by the Farmers Home Administration of a family-type farm on terms and in a manner consistent with title I of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, as amended (see § 387.35 of this chapter), the applicant's total investment in the farm will be computed in a manner consistent with the computation of total investment for an initial Tenant Purchase loan.

(4) For a voluntary transfer of a farm which secures a direct Farm Ownership loan (see § 387.31 of this chapter), if a subsequent loan is requested in connection with the transfer, the applicant's total investment in the farm will be computed as in the case of an initial Tenant Purchase loan. If no subsequent loan is requested, the investment limit and the average value do not apply in connection with the transfer of a family-type farm.

(5) Each case involving a type of Farm Ownership financial assistance not described in this paragraph will be referred to the Administrator for specific instructions.

(f) Application of average values and investment limits. No direct (initial or subsequent) or insured Farm Ownership loan for the acquisition, enlargement, or development of any farm, and no credit sale by the Farmers Home Administration of a farm on title I terms, will be approved:

(1) If the fair and reasonable value of the farm, as certified by the County Committee, exceeds the applicable average value, or

(2) If the applicant's total investment in the farm will exceed either:

(i) The investment limit (in the absence of authority from the Administrator as provided in paragraph (h) of this section) or

(ii) The fair and reasonable value of the farm, as certified by the County Committee.

(g) Limit on amount of insured loan. In addition to the limitations contained in paragraph (f) of this section, no insured Farm Ownership loan for the acquisition, enlargement, or development of any farm will be approved in an amount which exceeds either:

(1) Ninety percent (90%) of the fair and reasonable value of the farm, as certified by the County Committee, or

(2) Ninety percent (90%) of the applicant's total investment in the farm, if such investment is less than the certified value.

(h) Action by Administrator regarding total investment in farm greater than $12,000 if county average value exceeds $12,000. In a county where the average value exceeds $12,000, each case involving a proposed total investment in a farm greater than $12,000 may be submitted to the Administrator by the State Director for consideration and determination in conformity with this paragraph. Each request for action under this paragraph shall be accompanied by a detailed statement of the circumstances necessitating the request, together with the original loan docket and the recommendations of the County Supervisor, the County Committee, and the State Field Representative. Pending determination by the Administrator, no commitment, or statement which might be interpreted as a commitment, shall be made as to whether a total investment in the farm greater than $12,000 will be approved. The Administrator may approve a total investment in the farm greater than $12,000: Provided, That all of the following conditions are satisfied:

(1) The applicant's total investment in the farm will not exceed the fair and reasonable value of the farm, as certified by the County Committee.

(2) The fair and reasonable value of the farm, as certified by the County Committee, does not exceed the average value, as determined by the Secretary.

(3) The Administrator determines that it is not possible for the applicant to acquire, enlarge, or improve the farm and make it an efficient family-type farm-management unit with a total investment of $12,000 or less.

(4) The Administrator determines that the proposed loan will be an unusually sound investment and is safely within the applicant's ability to repay as evidenced by one or more of the following factors:

(i) The proposed total investment is substantially less than the normal earning capacity value of the farm.

(ii) The applicant has assets or debt paying ability greater than the minimum required for a Farm Ownership loan.

(iii) The applicant has clearly established managerial ability or farming experience superior to the minimum required for a Farm Ownership loan.

(iv) The proposed farm and home plan indicates debt paying ability substantially in excess of that shown in the earning capacity report.

(i) Farm situated in more than one county. For the purposes of this section, if a farm lies in more than one county, parish, or locality, it will be deemed to be located in the county, parish, or locality in which the residence building of the farm is located or is to be constructed. PART 366—FARMS

PERFORMING FARM DEVELOPMENT

Section 366.33, Performing farm development, in Chapter III of Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations (13 F. R. 1105), is amended to read as follows:

§ 366.33 Performing farm development—(a) General—(1) Methods of performance. All farm development planned on Form FHA-643, "Farm Development Plan," will be performed (i) by or under the direction of the borrower, (ii) by contract, or (iii) by a combination of the two methods.

(2) Time limits. Every effort will be made to complete all immediate development performed by or under the direction of the borrower or by contract within 15 months after the borrower occupies his farm as owner.

(3) Time of starting construction and land development. All farm development will be started as soon as practicable after the loan is closed. Before making commitments or starting any item of farm development, the County Supervisor and the borrower should be reasonably sure that the item can be completed according to plans and specifications and within available funds.

(i) If it appears that any change is necessary in the plans and specifications for any item, the procedure for effecting changes on Form FHA–643, as provided in paragraph (d) of this section, will be followed.

(ii) When the loan is approved, the State Office will notify the Engineer so that he may prepare any necessary plans, specifications, and instructions for the farm development work, as planned on Form FHA–643, in order that his responsibilities with respect to the initiation of farm development work may be discharged without delay as soon as the loan is closed.

(4) Extension of time for completing construction and land development. Upon expiration of time limits, recorded in Part II of Form FHA–643, for completion of planned items of immediate farm development, the County Supervisor will take the following action with respect to any planned items which have not been completed.

(i) For farm development items performed by or under the direction of the borrower, the extension of time will be accomplished by preparing Form FHA–924, "Request for Development Changes," in the following manner. The County Supervisor will discuss with the borrower the reasons why the work was not completed within the time limit and will reach an understanding as to when the work will be completed. The agreed upon extension of time for completion of each item will be recorded under "Description of Changes." The reasons why the construction was not completed as planned will be listed under "Justification." Form FHA–924 will be distributed in accordance with paragraph (d) (4) (i) (a) of this section.

(ii) For farm development items being performed by contract, extensions of time will be granted only in accordance with the terms of Form FHA–296, "Construction Contract" (see paragraph 6 of Form FHA–296). Extensions of time for contract work will be processed on Form FHA–925, "Contract Change Order," in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (d) (2) (i) of this section, and will become a supplement to the contract.

(iii) For farm development items set up in "Part II–Narrative" of Form FHA–643 for construction by contract method, but for which no contract has been executed at the expiration of the period of 15 months after the borrower occupies his farm as owner, the extension of time will be accomplished in accordance with paragraph (a) (4) (i) of this section.

(5) Real property insurance. The County Supervisor will be responsible for ascertaining that all structures involving construction, regardless of the method of performance, are insured adequately at the proper time.

(6) Use of supervised bank account. The County Supervisor will explain clearly to the borrower the use of the supervised bank account in disbursing funds for farm development.

(7) Authorized substitute for Engineer. The State Director, with the advice of the Engineer, if available, is authorized to delegate to any qualified and properly trained Farmers Home Administration employee the duties and functions of the Engineer with respect to performing farm development, which other staff members can do or can be trained to do effectively. Whenever the term "Engineer" appears in this section, it shall include his authorized substitute.

(b) Implementing farm development performed by or under the direction of the borrower. When Form FHA–643 indicates that farm development is to be performed by or under the direction of the borrower, he will (1) purchase the material and do the work, or (2) purchase the material and hire labor to do the work under his direction.

(c) Implementing farm development performed by contract. Ordinarily, all of the farm development of a single farm to be accomplished by the contract method will be included in a single contract to one contractor. However, in those instances where it is plainly in the best interest of the borrower and the Government, the farm development of a single farm may be split into two or more separate contracts. In other words, separate contracts with respect to one or more planned items of farm development of a single farm may be awarded for materials, labor, or both materials and labor. When separate contracts are used in connection with the development of a single farm, each contract must be awarded to a different contractor. However, this will not prohibit the awarding of another contract to the same contractor for work on the same farm in connection with deferred or subsequently planned development. When Form FHA–643 indicates that farm development is to be performed by contract, the following steps will be taken:

(1) Preparation of bid docket. The State Office will notify the Engineer when the loan is closed. Upon receipt of such notice, the Engineer will transmit to the County Supervisor an appropriate number of bid dockets to be used by bidders. Each docket will contain Form FHA–927, "Invitation for Bid," Form FHA–928, "Bid," Form FHA–296, "Construction Contract," and appropriate technical specifications and drawings. Appropriate entries will be made on Forms FHA–927, FHA–928, and FHA–296.

(i) Selection of contractor. Caution must be exercised in the selection of the contractor and no contractor will be awarded more contracts than he reasonably can be expected to perform.

(ii) Surety bonds. (a) In cases where it has been determined by the Engineer that the provision in Form FHA–296 requiring the contractor to furnish surety bonds will prevent otherwise qualified local contractors from bidding on the work, the Engineer may waive this provision. Modification of Form FHA–296 to provide for the waiving of surety bond requirements shall be made by crossing out item V "Surety Bond" of the "General Conditions" and by adding the following notation under item 7 of the contract: "Item V 'Surety Bond' of the 'General Conditions' is deleted from this contract."

(b) When a contractor bidding on a contract is required to furnish Form FHA–200, "Performance and Payment Bond," the bond will be obtained from a surety company legally doing business in the state.

(2) Securing bids. Each prospective bidder will be supplied with a bid docket, together with appropriate instructions for bidding. The County Supervisor, with the assistance of the Engineer, will secure on Form FHA–928 bids from as many qualified contractors as practicable.

(3) Bid opening. Bids will be opened in public at the time and place designated in Form FHA–927. The borrower and the County Supervisor must be present and, if practicable, the Engineer should be present when the bids are opened and tabulated.

(4) Awarding the contract. (i) The award will always be made by the borrower to the lowest responsible bidder after approval by the Engineer: Provided, That:

(a) All requirements of the loan closing instructions have been met.

(b) The cost of all items in any category, namely; dwelling, other construction, and land development, does not exceed the estimate made for the same category on Form FHA–643, Part III, by more than ten percent. The ten percent limitation applies separately to immediate development and to deferred development in each category. If the ten percent is exceeded, authority shall be required from the State Field Representative before making the award.

(c) The total cost of all immediate development items to be performed under the contract does not exceed the total estimated cost of such items as shown on Part I of Form FHA–643.

(ii) If the Engineer is present at the opening of the bids, the award may be made immediately. If the Engineer is not present at the opening of the bids, the County Supervisor will forward all bids, together with his recommendations and the recommendations of the borrower, to the Engineer for review. The Engineer will return the bids, together with his written approval, disapproval, or recommendations, to the County Supervisor. When, in special cases, the Engineer deems it necessary, he also will prepare Form FHA–296 in an original and four copies. If he deems it advisable, he may request the advice of the representative of the Office of the Solicitor relative to the provisions which must be inserted in the form before forwarding them to the County Supervisor.

(5) Preparation of Form FHA–296 for signature. Unless prepared previously by the Engineer, the County Supervisor will prepare an original and four copies of Form FHA–296 after the award has been made. In instances in which the Engineer has authorized the waiver of the requirement with respect to surety bonds and the successful bidder will not be required to furnish such bonds, the County Supervisor will modify Form FHA–296 in accordance with subparagraph (1) (ii) of this paragraph. The County Supervisor then will secure the required signatures of the contractor and the borrower on the original and two copies.

(6) Distribution of Form FHA–296. Form FHA–296 will be distributed as follows: The original will be forwarded promptly to the State Office; one signed copy given to the borrower; one signed copy delivered to the contractor; one copy placed in the borrower's field folder; and one copy will be sent to the Engineer.

(7) Notice to proceed. After the signatures have been secured on Form FHA–296, the County Supervisor will advise the borrower to issue notice to the contractor to proceed.

(8) Subcontracts. (i) Contractors will not be permitted to enter into agreements with subcontractors for any farm development work until written consent is received by the County Supervisor from the Engineer. Before approval of any subcontract the Engineer will determine that the subcontract contains the following provisions: (a) The subcontractors will comply with the terms of Form FHA–296 entered into between the contractor and the owner, and (b) the contractor will have the same powers regarding the termination of the subcontract as the owner has with respect to Form FHA–296.

(ii) Two copies of the executed subcontract will be furnished the County Supervisor by the contractor. One copy will be submitted to the State Office where it will be placed in the borrower's State Office case file and one copy will be placed in the borrower's County Office case file.

(9) Pay rolls. In compliance with the requirements of Form FHA–296 pertaining to the "Kickback Statute," the contractor and any subcontractor will submit each week to the County Supervisor one copy of their pay rolls for the previous week on Form FHA–173A, "Weekly Pay Roll." The statement of compliance with the "Kickback Statute," as stated on the back of Form FHA–173A, must be sworn to by the contractor or subcontractor as the case may be. Each copy of Form FHA–173A thus received will be placed in the borrower's County Office case file.

(d) Changes in Form FHA–643. If a subsequent loan is not required, changes in Form FHA–643 may be made at any time at the request of the borrower and with the consent of the State Field Representative or the County Supervisor as hereinafter provided by the use of Form FHA–924 or Form FHA–925. Form FHA–924 will be used when farm development is performed by or under the direction of the borrower. Form FHA–925 will be used when farm development is performed by contract. (If a subsequent loan is required, see § 367.3 of this chapter.)

(1) Limitations. The State Field Representative and the County Supervisor are authorized to approve changes in Form FHA–643, as specified in subparagraphs (2) and (3) of this paragraph: Provided, That:

(i) Such a change is for an authorized purpose.

(ii) Such a change has been discussed with and approved in writing by the County Committee in the case of any basic change which affects substantially the method of operation of the farm or the Government's security.

(iii) Such a change does not result in a total investment in the farm in excess of the County Investment Limit, or the fair and reasonable value of the farm as certified by the County Committee on Form FHA–491, "County Committee Certification," whichever is the lesser.

(iv) Sufficient funds have been deposited in the borrower's supervised bank account to cover the contemplated change when the change involves additional funds to be furnished by the borrower.

(v) When the change involves additional funds to be furnished by the borrower which will bring the total investment in the farm above the fair and reasonable value of the farm as determined previously by the County Committee, a revised Form FHA–491 will be required, prepared, and distributed in the regular manner. Such a change may be authorized provided the County Committee finds that:

(a) The earning capacity of the farm will support the increased investment.

(b) The fair and reasonable value does not exceed the "average value" for the county.

(c) The total investment does not exceed the County Investment Limit.

(vi) The recommendation of the Engineer has been secured when a change in construction done by or under the direction of the borrower involves technical engineering.

(vii) The recommendation of the Engineer has been secured when there is any change in construction done by contract.

(viii) The recommendation of the employee authorized to appraise farms has been secured when a change in land development is involved.

(2) Changes authorized by State Field Representative. Subject to the limitations set forth in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, the State Field Representative is authorized to approve changes which involve:

(i) Extension of time to complete work done under contract.

(ii) Extension of time to complete work done by or under the direction of the borrower. Before granting such extensions of time a definite understanding must be reached that the work will be completed within the additional time allotted.

(iii) Changes in method of performing farm development.

(iv) Deletion from Form FHA–643 of planned farm development items found not to be necessary.

(v) Basic changes in the original farm and home plans.

(vi) Transfer of loan funds within or between development categories when the cost of the items in any category exceeds ten percent of the amount shown on Form FHA–643.

(vii) An increase in cost of planned farm development to be paid from the borrower's own funds.

(3) Changes authorized by County Supervisor. Subject to the limitations set forth in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, the County Supervisor is authorized to approve minor changes in Form FHA–643 which do not require the approval of the State Field Representative. He also is authorized to approve changes which involve transfers of funds as follows:

(i) Between farm development categories. Part III of Form FHA–643 establishes three categories of farm development: (1) Dwelling, (2) other construction, and (3) land development. Funds may be transferred between these categories to the extent necessary to meet the difference between estimated costs on Form FHA–643 and actual costs: Provided, That:

(a) No planned item on Form FHA–643 is omitted and no basic changes are made in the farm and home plans upon which the loan was authorized.

(b) Such transfers do not result in increasing or decreasing the funds for immediate development in any category more than ten percent.

(ii) From unexpended service fee. Ordinarily any unexpended amount of the service fee which will not be needed shall be applied as a refund on a loan (see paragraph (a) (6) of § 364.1 of this chapter). However, any such unexpended amount may be transferred to any one of the three above categories of immediate development to meet the difference between estimated costs on Form FHA–643 and actual costs.

(4) Preparation of Form FHA–924 and Form FHA–925.—(i) Approval by State Field Representative. (a) Form FHA–924 requiring the approval of the State Field Representative will be prepared in an original and three copies. The original and all copies will be signed as follows: The borrower will sign as requesting the change; the Engineer and/or the employee authorized to appraise farms will sign as recommending the change, if the nature of the change requires his recommendation; the County Supervisor will sign as recommending the change; and the State Field Representative will sign if he approves the change. Form FHA–924 will be distributed as follows: The original will be forwarded to the State Office where it will be placed in the borrower's State Office case file; one copy sent to the Engineer; one copy placed in the borrower's field folder; and one copy will be delivered to the borrower.

(b) Form FHA–925 requiring the approval of the State Field Representative will be prepared in an original and four copies. The original and all copies will be signed as follows: The borrower will sign as requesting the change; the contractor will sign as accepting the change; the Engineer and/or the employee authorized to appraise farms will sign as recommending the change, if the nature of the change requires his recommendation; the County Supervisor will sign as recommending the change; and the State Field Representative will sign if he approves the change. Form FHA–925 will be distributed as follows: The original will be forwarded to the State Office where it will be placed in the borrower's State Office case file; one copy sent to the Engineer; one copy placed in the borrower's field folder; one copy delivered to the borrower; and one copy will be sent to the contractor.

(ii) Approval by County Supervisor. (a) Form FHA–924 requiring the approval of the County Supervisor will be prepared in an original and two copies. The original and all copies will be signed as follows: The borrower will sign as requesting the change; the Engineer and/or the employee authorized to appraise farms will sign as recommending the change, if the nature of the change requires his recommendation; and the County Supervisor will sign if he approves the change. Form FHA–924 will be distributed as follows: The original will be placed in the borrower's field folder; one copy sent to the Engineer; and one copy will be delivered to the borrower.

(b) Form FHA–925 requiring the approval of the County Supervisor will be prepared in an original and four copies. The original and all copies will be signed as follows: The borrower will sign as requesting the change; the contractor will sign as accepting the change; the Engineer and/or the employee authorized to appraise farms will sign as recommending the change, if the nature of the change requires his recommendation; and the County Supervisor will sign if he approves the change. Form FHA–925 will be distributed as follows: The original will be forwarded to the State Office and placed in the borrower's State Office case file; one copy sent to the Engineer; one copy placed in the borrower's field folder; one copy delivered to the borrower; and one copy will be sent to the contractor.

(a) Inspections—(1) Work done by or under the direction of the borrower—(i) Periodic inspections. The County Supervisor will make periodic inspections of all farm development work in progress. After each inspection, the County Supervisor will record in the borrower's field folder the date the inspection was made, the percentage of work completed, and any other pertinent information. The inspection and acceptance of material as delivered to the site and the storage of material will be the responsibility of the borrower. The County Supervisor will advise the borrower of these responsibilities. When construction is involved, the Engineer also will make such additional inspections as the nature and character of the work may require.

(ii) Final inspections. The County Supervisor will make a final inspection of immediate development within sixty days after all such development has been completed, provided that no construction item has exceeded a cash cost of $500. If any construction item exceeds a cash cost of $500, the Engineer will make the final inspection. When all immediate development performed by or under the direction of the borrower has been completed and the Engineer's inspection is required, the County Supervisor will notify the Engineer in writing. At the earliest feasible date, but within sixty days after such notification, the Engineer will make a final inspection of all farm development items not covered by a previous inspection.

(2) Work done by contract—(i) Periodic inspections. As the work proceeds, the Engineer will make necessary periodic inspections to determine whether construction and/or land development work conforms with plans, specifications, and change orders, and whether the contractor is complying with other provisions of Form FHA–296.

(a) When adverse conditions involving plans, specifications, change orders, or labor provisions are found at the time of inspection by the Engineer, he will request the contractor in writing to correct such adverse conditions in conformance with the contract. A copy of this request will be sent to the County Supervisor who will endeavor to have the contractor comply with the Engineer's request. If the County Supervisor cannot secure compliance, he will report the facts to the State Director who will determine the action to be taken.

(b) The County Supervisor will make such periodic inspections as he and the Engineer agree upon. After each inspection, the County Supervisor will report his findings to the Engineer in writing and place one copy of the report in the borrower's County Office case file.

(ii) Final inspections. (a) The Engineer will make a final inspection as soon as possible after the County Supervisor advises him that the contract work has been completed.

(b) When a separate contract is awarded for material only, it will be the responsibility of the Engineer to inspect all material delivered under the contract to ascertain if the material is acceptable as to quantity, grade, and quality. The Engineer will make this final inspection after the County Supervisor has advised him that all deliveries under the contract have been made.

(3) Use of Form FHA–926, "Certificate of Final Inspection." All final inspections of farm development work performed by or under the direction of the borrower or by contract will be reported on Form FHA–926. The official making the final inspection shall include recommendations for correcting any discrepancies.

(i) Form FHA–926, submitted by the County Supervisor, will be prepared in an original and two copies. The original will be transmitted to the State Office to be placed in the borrower's State Office case file; one copy sent to the Engineer; and one copy will be placed in the borrower's County Office case file.

(ii) Form FHA–926, submitted by the Engineer, will be prepared in an original and one copy. The original will be transmitted to the State Office to be placed in the borrower's State Office case file; and the copy given to the County Supervisor who will place it in the borrower's County Office case file.

(f) Payments—(1) Work done by or under the direction of the borrower; payment of laborers and material suppliers. The County Supervisor will encourage borrowers to pay obligations promptly. Payment of bills for labor and material will be made as soon as practicable after the bills are received and will be made by check signed by the borrower and countersigned by the County Supervisor.

(i) The County Supervisor will have in his possession itemized statements from the creditor covering material furnished and/or labor performed before countersigning checks. Such statements will be signed by the borrower as correct and received. Statements covering labor will show the names of persons hired, dates they worked, number of hours (or days) worked, total hours (or days) worked, rate per hour (or day) and total amount due. The check number and the date of payment will be indicated on all invoices and hired labor statements. These invoices and statements then will be placed in the borrower's County Office case file.

(ii) Whenever the County Supervisor has reason to believe that there may be danger of claims, because of disputes, dissatisfaction, or other causes, he will require the borrower to secure one copy of Form FHA–205, "Release by Claimants," before countersigning the check for final payment. The signed Form FHA–205 will be placed in the borrower's County Office case file. It is not necessary to have Form FHA–205 notarized when used in this manner. The State Director, at his discretion, may require the use of Form FHA–205 in all instances.

(iii) Under no circumstances will the County Supervisor permit funds to be withdrawn from a borrower's supervised bank account to pay the borrower for labor performed by himself on his farm.

(2) Work done by contract—(i) Payment of contractors. When Form FHA–200 is not used, payment will be made by check signed by the borrower and countersigned by the County Supervisor and in the following manner:

(a) In one lump sum for the whole contract after the work is finished, inspected, and accepted. This payment will be made only after the contractor has executed Form FHA–232, (Form Letter—Certificate of Contractor's Release), in which he (1) acknowledges payment in full for his services, (2) certifies that he has paid for all labor employed and materials purchased by him in performance of his contract, and (3) certifies that there are no claims against him because of injuries sustained by his employees. The contractor will attach to Form FHA–232 a completed Form FHA–205, notarized properly. The County Supervisor then will send Form FHA–232 and the notarized Form FHA–205 to the State Office where they will be examined and placed in the borrower's State Office case file.

(b) Upon completion of any major item, partial payments may be made up to 80 percent of the contract price of that item upon final inspection and approval by the Engineer. When this method is used, payment will be made only when the applicable provisions of the previous paragraph have been met with respect to the completed major item. Form FHA–232 will be signed by the contractor and will indicate only the amount of payment received, which will not be in excess of the 80 percent permissible. When Form FHA–232 is to be used in this manner, as a receipt for partial payments, it will be rewritten with the necessary changes. Final payment shall be made on all items only after the contractor complies with the requirements of the previous subparagraph.

(c) When a separate contract is awarded for the furnishing of material only, one payment will be made by check signed by the borrower and countersigned by the County Supervisor for the entire amount of the material contract price. The check for this payment will not be issued until (1) the Engineer has reported in writing that he has inspected the material delivered under the contract and finds it acceptable as to quantity, grade, and quality, (2) the borrower has signed the itemized statement of material as correct and received, and (3) the contractor has signed Form FHA–232, and has attached completed Form FHA–205, notarized properly. The County Supervisor will advise the borrower to store properly and care for all material delivered under the contract.

(ii) When Form FHA–200 is used, partial payments may be made after the Engineer has inspected the work and has indicated in writing that all of the terms of the contract are being complied with. The percentage of completion and the maximum payment will be determined by the Engineer. Final payment will be made to a contractor only when the work is finished, inspected, and accepted by the Engineer, at which time the entire amount will be due and payable. When Form FHA–200 is used, Form FHA–232 will be required of the contractor only to acknowledge payment in full. Form FHA–205 will not be required.

(iii) Circumvention of the above methods of payment through modification of Form FHA–296 by inclusion of special conditions, or any other device whatsoever, expressly is prohibited. Subchapter I—Account Servicing

PART 387—SECURITY

FARM OWNERSHIP SECURITY

Part 387, "Security," in Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations (6 CFR, 1947 Supp.), is amended by the addition of §§ 387.32, 387.33, 387.35, and 387.36.

Sec.
387.32 Farm Ownership program; general security servicing.
387.33 Farm Ownership program; voluntary conveyance of farms to the Government.
387.35 Farm Ownership program; management and disposition of acquired farms.
387.36 Farm Ownership program; sale of farms not suitable for purposes of Title I.

AUTHORITY: §§ 387.32 to 387.36, issued under 60 Stat. 1062; Pub. Law 249, 80th Cong., 61 Stat. 493; Pub. Law 720, 80th Cong., 62 Stat. 534; Order, Sec. Agric., Oct. 14, 1946, 11 F. R. 12520, 7 CFR, 1946 Supp., page 524; Order, Acting Sec. Agric., Oct. 30, 1947, 12 F. R. 7137, 7 CFR, 1947 Supp., page 879.

§ 387.32 Farm Ownership program; general security servicing—(a) General—(1) Purpose. This section prescribes the authorities, policies, and procedures for use in general security servicing with respect to direct Farm Ownership loans and insured loans which have been assigned to the Government. However, paragraph (c) of this section also applies to insured loans prior to assignment to the Government.

(2) Applicability. For the purpose of this section, Farm Ownership farms include farms which are security for direct loans made pursuant to Title I of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act; insured loans which have been assigned to the Government; credit sales of farms pursuant to sections 43 and 51 of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, as amended, and Public Law 563, 79th Congress; loans and credit sales by the State Rural Rehabilitation Corporations directly or under transfer agreements with the Secretary of Agriculture; loans made out of loans, grants and Rural Rehabilitation funds for farm improvement or farm development; mortgages assigned to the Government as security for, or the payment of, loans to, or in liquidation of, Defense Relocation Corporations, and Land Leasing and Land Purchasing Associations, including Georgia Pine Mountain Valley Rural Community Corporation, Cherry Lake, Inc., and Dyess Farms, Inc.

(3) General policies. Security servicing actions, must be guided by the general purposes of the Farm Ownership program to assist a borrower who cannot get credit elsewhere in achieving ownership of an efficient family-type farm-management unit. No servicing action should be taken which will have the effect of reducing the farm unit in size or in capacity below that required by the borrower for the orderly repayment of his loan, the maintenance of a reasonable standard of living, and to assure that he and his family will continue to have a farm which at least will meet the minimum standards prescribed for the Farm Ownership program.

(b) Delegation of authority. Subject to the policies and procedures prescribed herein with respect to direct Farm Ownership loans and insured loans which have been assigned to the Government:

(1) The State Director is authorized to:

(i) Determine when it appears that a borrower can secure refinancing credit and require refinancing when other acceptable credit is available.

(ii) Approve grant of easements and rights-of-way by borrowers.

(iii) Approve sale or exchange of portion of farm.

(iv) Approve sale or exchange of water rights.

(v) Approve sale or lease of mineral rights owned by borrowers.

(vi) Approve leases by, or to lease on behalf of, the borrowers.

(vii) Execute caretaker's agreement.

(viii) Make advance of funds on behalf of the borrower and charge the amounts to the borrower's Farm Ownership account.

(ix) Approve the sale of a farm outside the program.

(x) Assign, without recourse, Farm Ownership notes and security instruments.

(2) The State Field Representative is authorized to:

(i) Consent to the construction or alteration of buildings other than planned when the labor and material cost will exceed $500 and is paid by the borrower.

(ii) Approve the sale or exchange (including removal) of timber when the proceeds of the sale or sales within a 12-month period will exceed $100.

(iii) Approve the sale (including removal) of sand, gravel, stone, or coal which the borrower owns when the proceeds of the sale or sales within a 12-month period will exceed $100.

(3) The County Supervisor is authorized to:

(i) Consent to the construction or alteration of buildings other than planned when the labor and material cost will not exceed $500 and is paid by the borrower.

(ii) Approve the sale or lease of naval stores.

(iii) Approve the sale or exchange (including removal) of timber when the proceeds of the sale or sales within a 12-month period will not exceed $100.

(iv) Approve the sale (including removal) of sand, gravel, stone, or coal which the borrower owns when the proceeds of the sale or sales within a 12-month period will not exceed $100.

(c) Refinancing with respect to loans made on and after November 1, 1946. The Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, as amended, and the security instruments executed on or after November 1, 1946, require the borrower, upon request of the Secretary, to apply for and accept a loan from cooperative or private credit sources in sufficient amount to repay the secured indebtedness. As soon as possible after March 31, 1949, and each March 31 thereafter, the County Supervisor will review all outstanding direct and insured Farm Ownership loans made on or after November 1, 1946, and will present for consideration of the County Committee those loans on which 35 percent or more of the principal of the loan has been repaid. The County Committee will consider and make its recommendation as to those borrowers who it believes may be able to secure other financing on reasonable rates and terms prevailing in the community but not to exceed the interest rate of 5 percent. Before making its recommendation, the County Committee may deem it advisable to make a preliminary check in the area to determine if such credit appears to be available. Their findings will be included in their recommendation to the State Director. Each borrower who the County Committee believes may be able to secure such refinancing, shall be notified by a letter from the County Supervisor to attempt to secure other financing and to report the results of his efforts to the County Supervisor within 60 days. In the case of an insured loan, a copy of the letter will be forwarded to the holder of the mortgage or deed of trust. At the expiration of the 60-day period, the County Supervisor will submit to the County Committee a list of those borrowers who have reported that other financing is available, a list of those who have reported that other financing is not available, and a list of those borrowers who have not responded to the letter. Borrowers who are able to secure other financing will be instructed to proceed and their cases will be handled in the same manner as repayments of loans in full. The County Committee will recommend to the State Director the action which should be taken with respect to borrowers who reported that they are unable to secure other financing and the borrowers who have failed to respond to the County Supervisor's letter. The State Director will determine whether to give the borrower another opportunity to refinance, to assist in locating other lenders who might refinance the borrower's indebtedness, or to proceed with liquidation of the borrower's security. The State Director will take into consideration the progress the borrower has made, his continued need for supervision and whether his failure to secure other financing demonstrates a lack of good faith. In any case where the borrower has not attempted in good faith to secure other financing when it appears that other financing is available, and that with such other financing the borrower is likely to succeed in the repayment of the refinanced balance, the State Director will proceed with the liquidation of the security.

(d) Partial release of, subordination of, or consent under, the terms of Farm Ownership security instruments— (1) Purposes and conditions. The security instruments generally provide that the written consent of the Government must be obtained for (i) the making of improvements, (ii) the granting of easements and rights-of-way, (iii) the sale of any portion of the farm, (iv) the sale or exchange of water rights, (v) the sale or lease of sand, gravel, coal, oil, gas, and other minerals, (vi) the leasing of naval stores, and (vii) the cutting and sale (including removal) of timber. However, the security instruments permit the use of such timber, gravel, oil, gas, coal, or other minerals as may be necessary for ordinary domestic purposes. It is the responsibility of the borrower to keep the land in a good state of cultivation, as well as the farm buildings and fences in good repair, so that the farm will continue to meet minimum Farm Ownership standards. Therefore, a Farm Ownership borrower will not be required to obtain consent for normal maintenance, repairs, or for the construction of movable buildings. A proposed purchaser or lessee will be informed that the proposed sale or lease is contingent upon approval by the authorized representative of the Farmers Home Administration. The consent of the Government will usually be given by the appropriate approving official to each application for release: Provided, That (i) the Government will suffer no financial detriment by reason of the transaction, (ii) the consideration (monetary or other) for any sale, exchange, or lease is adequate, (iii) the borrower enters into a satisfactory arrangement with the Government with respect to the disposition of any proceeds, (iv) the farm will not be rendered less than an efficient family-type unit, and (v) the following applicable conditions are met:

(a) Making of improvements other than planned. The request of a borrower to make structural improvements, after planned improvements have been completed, such as the alteration of existing buildings or construction of new buildings not contemplated in his Farm Development Plan, may be approved as follows:

(1) The County Supervisor may consent, on behalf of the Government, to the borrower making minor structural improvements, such as erecting a poultry house, a small granary, a small hog house, a machine shed, a privy, an addition to a barn, and so forth, when the labor (including that of the family computed at prevailing wages for such labor) and material cost of such minor improvements is borne by the borrower and will not exceed $500.

(2) The State Field Representative may consent, on behalf of the Government, to the construction or alteration of any building, such as the adding of new rooms to or the altering of the design of an existing dwelling, construction of a new dwelling, barn, or other durable and stationary building, when the labor (including that of the family computed at prevailing wages for such labor) and material cost of such improvements is borne by the borrower and will exceed $500. No consent will be granted for the construction of a dwelling designed for occupancy by tenants, sharecroppers, or farm laborers of the borrower. Consent to construct buildings not essential to the farming operations will be granted only when it appears that the making of the expenditure will not prevent the repayment of the loan by the borrower in accordance with his repayment schedule after the expenditure for such improvements.

(b) Grant of easements and rights-of-way. The State Director may approve, on behalf of the Government, a borrower's application for permission to grant an easement or right-of-way, and such approval will be given as a general rule upon the determination by the State Director that the granting of the easement or right-of-way will not render the unit less than an efficient family-type unit and the compensation received by the borrower, whether monetary or in the nature of services or facilities made available, compensate the borrower sufficiently.

(c) Sale or exchange of portion of farm. The State Director may approve, on behalf of the Government, the sale of a portion of a Farm Ownership farm, provided that such sale does not render the farm less than an efficient family-type unit. The State Director also may approve the sale of a portion of the farm where the acreage to be sold is to be replaced by the acquisition of other land. If the transaction involves merely an exchange of property, the existing security instrument on the portion of the farm to be conveyed may be released and a new security instrument taken on the land to be acquired. If the exchange involves sale and purchase, approval of sale will be withheld until the acceptance of the option on the tract to be acquired and the proceeds of sale will be held in the borrower's supervised bank account, or in escrow, for application on the purchase price of the additional land. Any excess proceeds will be applied as an extra payment on the loan. Each application for the sale or exchange of a portion of a farm will be sent to the State Director accompanied by a recommendation signed by the County Supervisor and at least two members of the County Committee.

(d) Sale or exchange of water rights. The State Director may approve, on behalf of the Government, the sale or exchange of water rights. An application of a Farm Ownership borrower for permission to sell or exchange water rights will be approved only upon the recommendation of the County Committee, and a determination that the sale or exchange of the water rights will not affect adversely the operation of the farm as an efficient family-type unit. The sale or exchange of such rights may be approved in connection with the acquisition of a better supply of water for the farm or to assure more permanent and more economical delivery of water.

(e) Sale or lease of mineral rights. The State Director may approve, on behalf of the Government, the sale of mineral rights or the leasing of land for minerals, provided that the borrower obtains guarantees of compensation which are deemed adequate protection against damage to the surface in the event the minerals are developed, and such sale or lease will not render the farm less than an efficient family-type unit. This applies regardless of whether the borrower owns all or part of the mineral rights. The State Director may establish a minimum price per acre for which any application to sell mineral rights will be approved. He also may establish a minimum per acre rental for which approval will be given for the leasing of land for minerals. Sand, gravel, and stone ordinarily are considered to be minerals except in those localities where general mineral reservations do not include sand, gravel, or stone. Where the United States has retained a mineral interest, the application of a borrower for approval of sale of sand, gravel, or stone should be submitted to the representative of the Office of the Solicitor for determination as to whether such materials are minerals belonging to the United States. The mineral interest of the United States is subject to lease by the Secretary of the Interior and applications for such lease will be sent by the prospective lessee direct to the Bureau of Land Management, Department of the Interior, Washington 25, D. C.

(f) Sale or lease of naval stores. The County Supervisor may consent, on behalf of the Government, to the sale or lease of naval stores by a borrower, Provided, That the sale or lease requires operation consistent with approved naval stores practices.

(g) Sale or exchange (including removal) of timber. (1) The County Supervisor may consent, on behalf of the Government, to the use of timber or the exchange of timber when such materials are to be used for repairs or improvements on the farm. He may approve the sale of timber by the borrower when the proceeds of the sale or sales within a 12-month period will not exceed $100.

(2) The State Field Representative may approve, on behalf of the Government, the sale of timber, the proceeds of which will exceed $100. If the sale involves an appreciable amount of timber, the State Field Representative will confer with the State Director and obtain qualified technical assistance, when available, to check or cruise the timber to be sold and inform the borrower with reference to the value of the timber. If selective cutting based on a sustained yield plan is involved, technical assistance should be provided, if possible, to assist the borrower in selecting the timber to be cut.

(h) Sale (including removal) of sand, gravel, stone, or coal owned by the borrower. (1) The County Supervisor may approve, on behalf of the Government, the sale of sand, gravel, stone, or coal when the proceeds of the sale or sales within a 12-month period will not exceed $100.

(2) The State Field Representative may approve, on behalf of the Government, the sale of sand, gravel, stone, or coal when the proceeds of the sale or sales within a 12-month period will exceed $100.

(2) Preparation and processing of Form FHA–696, "Application for Partial Release, Subordination, or Consent." When a borrower desires a partial release or subordination of the lien of the security instrument or the Government's consent to transactions authorized under this section, he will make application therefor on Form FHA–696. The borrower's application will be approved or disapproved by the Farmers Home Administration employee designated herein to give consent or approval, on behalf of the Government, to the particular request. A formal release or subordination of lien will not be furnished except when requested.

(3) Preparation and processing of releases and subordinations. Each application requiring a formal release or subordination of lien will be forwarded by the State Director to the representative of the Office of the Solicitor, together with related information and a request for the preparation of Form FHA–99, "Release," or other appropriate form. If the representative of the Office of the Solicitor approves the transaction as to legality, he will prepare the appropriate instrument in an original and three copies and send them with such instructions as may be necessary to the State Director who will execute the original and conform the three copies.

(4) Assignment of income from mortgaged property. When all the proceeds from any transaction authorized herein are to be collected at the time of delivery of the release or subordination, it will not be necessary to use Form FHA–253B, "Assignment of Income from Mortgaged Property." However, in each case where all or part of the proceeds are to be collected subsequent to the time of delivery of the release or subordination, Form FHA–253B will be prepared by the County Supervisor in an original and three copies, the original and all copies of which will be signed by the borrower and his wife at the time Form FHA–696 is executed.

(e) Actions by third parties affecting security. The borrower ordinarily will be required to represent his own interest in condemnation suits, trespass cases, and title cases if he does not have an owner's policy of title insurance, but if the security interest of the United States is affected, the United States Attorney will be requested to represent the Government's interest. If the title is insured and the policy covers the point in question as determined by the representative of the Office of the Solicitor, the title insurance company should be notified by the representative of the Office of the Solicitor in order that it may have an opportunity to undertake the defense of the title. However, it also may be necessary that the interest of the United States be represented by the United States Attorney.

(f) Lease of farm by or on behalf of the borrowers. One of the principal objectives of the Farm Ownership program is the continued personal occupancy and operation of the borrower's farm as a family-type farm. Whenever a borrower ceases to personally occupy and operate the farm, the purpose for which the loan is made has ceased to exist. Consequently, as a general rule, permission will not be granted for the lease of the farm by the borrower or the occupancy thereof by other persons. However, circumstances may arise, such as death within family, poor health, abandonment, and so forth, which may make it necessary to lease the farm. Therefore, in such instances, the State Director may authorize the borrower to lease the farm, or part thereof, for such period as he deems justifiable, but ordinarily not to exceed one year. If the borrower is not available to execute the lease or will not consent to the lease and the State Director determines that the occupancy and operation of the farm is necessary for the protection of the Government's security, he may execute a lease on behalf of the borrower, pursuant to the provisions in the security instrument.

(1) Preparation of lease. The original and all copies of the lease will be signed by the lessor and lessee. In case of a deceased borrower, a person legally empowered to execute the lease may sign as lessor. If a borrower is unable or unwilling to execute the lease, it will be signed by the State Director on behalf of the borrower. The prospective renter and the borrower should be informed that the leasing arrangement is subject to approval of the State Director. If, in the opinion of the County Supervisor, there is little likelihood of the lease being disapproved, and circumstances require immediate occupancy, he may permit the renter to take possession of the farm prior to such approval by the State Director and the necessary corrections in the lease should be settled with the borrower and the renter if advice is received from the State Office that the lease was approved on terms other than those submitted by the borrower and renter.

(2) Approval of lease. Upon examination and approval of the lease in the State Office, the State Director will sign the lease. If the lease has been signed by the borrower, as lessor, the State Director will sign in the space provided for approval. However, if it is necessary to execute the lease on behalf of the borrower, the State Director will sign in the space provided for the signature of the lessor, and the words, "United States of America," will be typed above his signature and his title will be typed below his signature.

(3) Suggestions to renter. The renter of a Farm Ownership farm will be encouraged to participate in the agricultural conservation programs which are available and will be of benefit to the farm and his progress. He should be encouraged also to keep records of farming operations similar to those kept by borrowers of the Farmers Home Administration, especially if he is a prospective applicant for a Farm Ownership loan. The County Supervisor FHA–195, "Farm Family Record Book," and instruct him with respect to keeping records.

(g) Vacated farms—(1) Initial actions required. If a borrower vacates his Farm Ownership farm without approval by the Government, the County Supervisor will undertake to arrange for the transfer of the farm to an approved Farm Ownership applicant or for the voluntary conveyance of title to the Government. When the borrower is unwilling to transfer the farm to an approved applicant, or is unwilling to convey title voluntarily to the Government, the County Supervisor will report the case to the State Director. The State Director will instruct the County Supervisor to take one or more of the following actions:

(i) Arrange for the borrower to lease the farm for not more than a one-year period.

(ii) Submit for review and approval a lease on behalf of the borrower.

(iii) Secure a caretaker.

(iv) Submit necessary additional information for use in connection with foreclosure, if appropriate.

(2) Completion of planned improvements. When Farm Ownership loan funds remain in the borrower's supervised bank account as a result of not having been used to complete improvements as originally planned by the borrower, such improvements may be completed, during the period the farm is leased, in accordance with the authority contained in Form FHA–668, "Loan Agreement and Request for Funds," provided that such improvements are completed as previously planned and approved by the borrower, as reflected in Form FHA–643, "Farm Development Plan." If possible, such improvements should be performed by contract and the leasing of the farm will not be affected except that the lease should contain a clause permitting the contractor to enter the property. Under certain circumstances, especially where soil improvements are involved, it may be desirable to have the improvement work done by the renter as a contractor because the making of such improvements may affect his farming operations. If the State Director deems it inadvisable to complete the improvements by using the Farm Ownership loan funds remaining in the borrower's supervised bank account, such funds will be returned as a refund on the borrower's Farm Ownership loan. However, payment may be authorized by the State Director, with the advice of the representative of the Office of the Solicitor, in those cases where a contract for improvement, approved by the Government, had been entered into between the borrower and a contractor.

(h) Death of borrower. The death of a Farm Ownership borrower should be reported immediately on Form FHA–141, "Report on Deceased Borrower."

(1) Determination of the family with respect to disposition of farm. The decision as to whether the family will continue to live on and operate the farm ordinarily will be decided by the surviving obligor(s) on the note. Ample time should be allowed the family within which to make this determination.

(i) Where family desires to continue operation of farm. The State Director usually will approve the continued operation of the farm by the family, if they so desire. However, if the State Director finds that because of age, mental or physical condition, or the lack of family labor, there is doubt as to the family's ability successfully to carry on the undertakings required of it, and if such difficulties cannot be overcome, he will direct that negotiations be undertaken with the family for liquidation of the account through transfer, voluntary conveyance, or otherwise. If legal title does not pass to the surviving obligor on the note by operation of law, title will be consolidated in one member of the family, if legally possible by foreclosure or otherwise, unless such action is undesirable because of the conditions mentioned above, or because of the possibility that the family in whom title is being consolidated may not be the successful bidder at the foreclosure sale. Consolidation of title will be in accordance with instructions from the representative of the Office of the Solicitor. All expenses in connection with consolidation of title shall be paid by the person in whom the title is consolidated, including, if necessary, new owners' and mortgagees' policies of title insurance.

(ii) Where family desires to discontinue operation of farm. When the surviving obligor or heirs of the deceased borrower do not desire to continue operation of the farm, the County Supervisor will negotiate with the family for an agreement whereby the account will be liquidated to the best advantage of all parties concerned. In cases where some of the heirs are minors or under other legal disability, it may be necessary to foreclose. In the case of foreclosure, the family must be advised as to the necessity of such action, and the State Director will proceed under the guidance of the representative of the Office of the Solicitor. The County Supervisor will submit a report to the State Director which will include his recommendation, as well as the recommendation of the County Committee, with respect to (a) transfer of the farm, (b) conveyance of title to the Government, (c) sale outside the program, (d) leasing of the farm, (e) appointment of caretaker, or (f) foreclosure of the security instrument.

(i) Sale of farm outside the program. (1) One of the purposes of the Farmers Home Administration is to keep intact as family-type farms the units established under the Farm Ownership program. However, it is recognized that circumstances may arise wherein a satisfactory plan cannot be worked out to keep the farm in the program and the borrower will be justified in selling his Farm Ownership farm outside the program. Such circumstances may be unanticipated changes in family status, or changes in land use in the community in which the land is located. So long as there is any outstanding indebtedness, the security instrument requires the consent of the Farmers Home Administration before the sale of the farm. A request to sell a Farm Ownership farm outside the program will be approved by the State Director only when the sale will result in the complete liquidation of the Farm Ownership indebtedness and all other indebtedness owed by the borrower to the Farmers Home Administration, or the payment in full of the Farm Ownership debt and the borrower makes satisfactory arrangements with respect to the liquidation of any other debts owed to the Farmers Home Administration. The borrower should make his request in writing and outline therein his reasons for desiring to sell his farm, the person to whom it is to be sold, if known, the sales price, and his agreement with respect to debt liquidation. If the request is approved and funds are tendered to pay the account in full, the case will be handled in accordance with § 381.2 of this chapter.

(2) The County Supervisor will prepare and submit to the State Office a conformed copy of the borrower's written request to sell his Farm Ownership farm outside the program. In addition, the County Supervisor will submit a written statement signed by him and at least two members of the County Committee, which contains their recommendations based on an analysis of the borrower's request. If the borrower refuses to make his request in writing, the County Supervisor will submit a report summarizing the borrower's reasons, along with the recommendations.

(j) Requests submitted within five years from date of loan. Except in a case where profit-making is the only significant motive, the State Director may approve a request to sell a Farm Ownership farm outside the program within five years from the date of the loan, if in his opinion, the circumstances warrant such approval. Where the only significant motive for sale is profit-making, the State Director will submit a conformed copy of the borrower's request, or summary of the borrower's reasons if he refuses to make a written request, and the recommendation of the County Supervisor and the County Committee, as well as his recommendation, to the National Office for consideration.

(ii) Requests submitted after five years from date of loan. The State Director may approve all requests to sell Farm Ownership farms outside the program after five years from the date of the loan.

(j) Assignment of farm ownership notes and security instruments. There may be cases, when a loan is refinanced, where the lender may request assignment of the note(s) and security instrument(s) as a condition to making the loan.

(1) Assignment in connection with refinancing under paragraph (c) of this section. When refinancing is required in accordance with paragraph (c) of this section and the lender requests assignment as a condition to making the loan, the State Director will assign, without recourse, the note(s) and security instrument(s) held by the Farmers Home Administration evidencing and securing the Farm Ownership loan(s).

(2) Assignment under other conditions. When the borrower requests assignment under conditions other than as outlined in paragraph (c) of this section, the State Director may assign, without recourse, Farm Ownership note(s) and security instrument(s), if he deems the circumstances justifiable. However, to assign securities for the purpose of facilitating refinancing when a borrower has not fulfilled the covenants incident to his Farm Ownership loan, tends to undermine the purposes for which the act was established.

(i) In those cases where the borrower has fulfilled the covenants incident to his Farm Ownership loan and plans to continue living on and personally operating the farm as a family-type unit, or the farm is not an efficient family-type unit, or is otherwise undesirable to retain in the program, the State Director may assign, without recourse, note(s) and security instrument(s) held by the Farmers Home Administration evidencing and securing Farm Ownership loan(s), provided that the lender requests such assignment as a condition to making the loan, and provided further that the borrower's indebtednes to the Farmers Home Administration is retired fully as a result of such refinancing.

(ii) In those cases where the borrower has not kept faith with the covenants incident to his loan, in that he has permitted his account to become delinquent, has permitted the security to depreciate, or is not living on and personally operating the farm, or is committing some other violation that singly or in combination would justify foreclosure action, the State Director may refuse to assign the securities. If some other method cannot be mutually arranged for working out a satisfactory solution, such as the transfer of the farm or conveyance of title to the Government, the State Director may initiate foreclosure action, under the advice and guidance of the representative of the Office of the Solicitor.

(3) Method of assignment. All assignments of securities shall be in the form and manner approved by the representative of the Office of the Solicitor.

(k) Compromise, adjustment, or reduction of farm ownership indebtedness; Most compromises, adjustments, or reductions of Farm Ownership indebtedness will be effected in connection with the transfer of farms to approved Farm Ownership applicants, or voluntary conveyance of title to the Government. However, there may be other cases in which compromise, adjustment, or reduction of the indebtedness will be justifiable. Such cases will be considered on an individual case basis and will be based on the debtor's ability to pay and the value of the security. In no case, however, will the debt be settled for an amount less than the value of the security. If, in this type of case, the State Director is of the opinion that a basis for compromise, adjustment, or reduction exists, he will have Form FHA–858, "Application for Settlement of Indebtedness," prepared and executed. The original and one copy of Form FHA–858, along with the borrower's State Office case file(s), will be forwarded to the National Office for consideration. In those cases where the borrower is deceased, or his whereabouts is unknown, Form FHA–859, "Advice of Cancellation of FHA Indebtedness," will be used. The original and one copy of Form FHA–859, the original and one copy of the recommendation of the County Committee and the State Office case file(s), will be forwarded to the National Office for consideration. The State Director will give a complete report on the case and make his recommendations in his letter of transmittal.

§ 387.33 Farm ownership program; voluntary conveyance of farms to the government—(a) General. This section prescribes the authorities, policies, and procedures for:

(1) Processing offers from Farm Ownership borrowers who desire voluntarily to convey titles to their Farm Ownership farms to the Government in lieu of foreclosure. For the purposes of this section:

(i) A borrower is the person or persons in whom legal title to a Farm Ownership farm is vested.

(ii) A Farm Ownership farm is one which is subject to a first mortgage or deed of trust to secure payment of one or more of the accounts identified in paragraph (b) of this section.

(2) Crediting borrowers' accounts with the value of their farms.

(3) Releasing borrowers from personal liabilities after such conveyances are made and credits are allowed.

(4) Servicing outstanding balances which may be owing on accounts after credits are allowed.

(b) Identification of Farm Ownership loan accounts. For the purpose of this section, accounts are identified and defined as follows:

(1) Accounts owed to the Farmers Home Administration. (i) Accounts resulting from Farm Ownership loans made from (a) Title I funds, and (b) Special Real Estate loans, Farm and Home Improvement loans, and Farm Development loans from funds made available for Loans, Grants, and Rural Rehabilitation.

(ii) Accounts resulting from credit sales by the Government of Government-owned farms.

(iii) Accounts resulting from notes and mortgages given or assigned as further security on the outstanding debt to the Government securing credit sales of farms which were sold by Defense Relocation Corporations or land leasing and land purchasing associations, except the special accounts listed in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

(iv) Accounts resulting from the assignment of the Secretary of Agriculture of mortgages insured pursuant to the provisions of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, as amended.

(2) Accounts which represent (in whole or in part) State Rural Rehabilitation Corporation assets. (i) Accounts resulting from Farm Ownership loans made from State Rural Rehabilitation Corporation funds including loans made on terms comparable to terms of loans under Title I.

(ii) Accounts resulting from credit sales by a State Rural Rehabilitation Corporation or the Government of farms which represent an asset of a State Rural Rehabilitation Corporation or a joint investment asset.

(3) Special Farm Ownership accounts. Accounts resulting from notes and mortgages assigned to the Government securing credit sales of farms sold by the following special land purchasing and development corporations:

(i) Dyess Farms, Inc.

(ii) Georgia-Pine Mountain Valley Rural Community Corporation.

(iii) Cherry Lake, Inc.

(c) Delegation of authority: The State Director, subject to the policies and procedures prescribed herein, is authorized to:

(1) Accept a deed offered by a Farm Ownership borrower.

(2) Pay the expenses incident to the vesting of title to a Farm Ownership farm in the Government when a borrower has authorized the charging of such expenses to his Farm Ownership account.

(3) Credit a borrower's Farm Ownership account with the value of his Farm Ownership farm, as determined by the State Director, and with any additional credits to which the borrower may be entitled.

(4) Release a borrower from personal liability on his account after such credits are allowed and to release the lien of (or satisfy) the security instrument.

(d) Policies affecting conveyance of title to the Government. A Farm Ownership borrower who desires to give up his farm should be encouraged to avoid the disadvantages and expenses of foreclosure action by the Government, unless the circumstances are such that no alternative to foreclosure is legally available. In order of preference, the possibilities of the following remedies other than foreclosure should be exhausted:

(1) Transfer of the farm to an approved applicant;

(2) Conveyance of title to the Government;

(3) Sale of the farm for cash outside the program for an amount not less than the amount of the outstanding indebtedness.

(1) Conditions to be met by borrower before offer can be accepted. The following conditions must be met by the borrower in connection with an offer to convey title to his farm to the Government before the deed can be accepted:

(i) Payment of expenses incident to conveyance of title. He must agree to pay, or consent to the Government paying and charging to his Farm Ownership account, all expenses incident to conveying satisfactory title to the Government, such as cost of:

(a) Supplementary title evidence, including curative material.

(b) Delinquent real estate taxes and assessments.

(c) Acknowledgment of the deed to the Government.

(d) Revenue stamps required on the deed.

(e) Recordation of the deed.

(f) Recordation of satisfaction of mortgages and other security instruments, cancellations or revocation of powers of attorney, and curative material.

(ii) Removing liens or other title defects. He must agree, if title examination reveals any liens or other defects which arose subsequent to recording of the security instrument held by the Farmers Home Administration (other than defects resulting from taxes and assessments), that he will remove such defects with personal funds before transfer of title is completed. The expense of curing title defects other than those resulting from taxes and assessments will not be paid by the Government and charged to the borrower's account.

(iii) Assignment of insurance. He will be required to continue to maintain property insurance on the buildings on his farm while his offer is pending and until such time as title to his farm is vested in the Government. He must agree to assign to the Government all right, title, and interest in:

(a) All existing real property insurance policies insuring the buildings on his farm.

(b) And to any claims under insurance policies for damage to, or destruction of, insured buildings on his farm.

(iv) Assignment of leases. He must agree to assign to the Government all his right, title, and interest in all outstanding agricultural and mining leases to which his farm is subject.

(v) Possession. If the borrower is occupying the farm, he must agree to give possession at the time the deed is accepted. However, if it is desirable that he remain temporarily on the farm, a caretaker's agreement may be entered into with him on Form FHA–529, "Caretaker's Agreement," covering a period of not more than 60 days after acceptance of the deed.

(vi) Refund of unused loan funds. He must agree to refund, when requested by the Government, any unused Farm Ownership loan funds remaining in his supervised bank account.

(2) Crediting Farm Ownership accounts with the value of acquired farms. Upon acceptance of a borrower's offer to convey title to his farm to the Government, the borrower's Farm Ownership account will be credited with the value of his farm, as determined by the State Director, or with the total amount that is owing on his account after all vouchers covering expenses incident to conveying title to the Government are charged thereto, whichever is the lesser.

(3) Servicing balances outstanding on Farm Ownership accounts after credits are applied. The source of funds from which a borrower's Farm Ownership account originated is of primary significance in determining the nature of the servicing action applicable to balances outstanding after authorized credits are allowed. The different types of balances outstanding will be serviced as follows:

(i) Balances outstanding on Farmers Home Administration accounts. A borrower may be released from personal liability on balances outstanding on accounts owing to the Farmers Home Administration described in paragraph (b) (1) of this section, with or without the payment of consideration: Provided, The County Committee recommends and certifies and the State Director determines that the borrower has cooperated in good faith with the Secretary of Agriculture, has farmed in a workmanlike manner, has used due diligency to maintain the security against loss, and otherwise has fulfilled the covenants incident to his loans to the best of his ability. A release from liability on terms more favorable than those recommended by a County Committee will not be approved.

(ii) Balances outstanding on State Rural Rehabilitation accounts. A borrower may be released from personal liability on balances outstanding on accounts which represent, in whole or in part, assets of State Rural Rehabilitation Corporations, provided the balances outstanding are compromised. The State Director is authorized to compromise, adjust, or cancel such balances outstanding when eligible, in accordance with the provisions of § 386.1.

(iii) Balances outstanding on special farm ownership accounts. Balances outstanding on accounts which resulted from notes secured by mortgages assigned to the Government by (a) Dyess Farms, Inc., (b) Georgia Pine Mountain Valley Rural Community Corporation, and (c) Cherry Lake, Inc., will not be compromised, adjusted, or cancelled.

(4) Evidence of release from personal liability. When no balance outstanding is held against the borrower after consummation of a voluntary conveyance, the borrower's note(s), stamped "Satisfied Through Surrender of Security," will be returned to him and will evidence his release from personal liability.

(c) Submission of offers. Form FHA–411, "Offers to Convey Farm Ownership Farm to the Government," will be used by a Farm Ownership borrower in offering to convey his farm to the Government.

(1) Tender of deed with offer. A deed may accompany an offer provided the borrower's Farm Ownership account is wholly owed to Farmers Home Administration (see paragraph (b) (1) of this section) and:

(i) The borrower and the County Supervisor believe that the value of the farm is not less than the amount of the Farm Ownership indebtedness plus such expense incident to the conveyance as may be charged to the account: or

(ii) The borrower believes that he is eligible for release from personal liability for any balance that may be owing on his Farm Ownership account after allowance of credit equal to the value of his farm.

(2) Submission of offer without deed. If the conditions enumerated in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph do not exist, a deed will not be tendered with the offer.

(f) County committee review and recommendation. Each offer to convey will be reviewed by the County Committee. The County Committeemen will personally examine the farm and review the current Form FHA–596, Form FHA–643, "Farm Development Plan," when it is necessary to make repairs and improvements to meet minimum standards, and the operating record of the borrower, before making recommendations. If it appears that the Government should accept the borrower's offer, the County Committee will, in memorandum form, make appropriate recommendations with respect to the fair and reasonable value of the farm.

(1) Recommended value of offered farms. In recommending the acceptance of an offer, the County Committee will indicate the fair and reasonable value of the offered farm in its present physical condition, based upon its normal earning capacity.

(2) Recommendations for release from personal liability on Farmers Home Administration accounts. In recommending the acceptance of an offer where the borrower is eligible for release from personal liability for the balance owing on his Farm Ownership account after credit is allowed (see paragraph (b) (1) of this section), a written statement by the County Committee, certifying that the borrower has acted in good faith and recommending such release, will be required before a borrower can be released.

(g) Acceptance of offers. The State Director will review the recommendations and other material pertaining to the offer when received from the State Field Representative. The State Director will determine whether the farm is suitable or not suitable for Title I purposes and will determine the amount of credit to be allowed to the borrower's Farm Ownership account. For farms suitable for Title I purposes, the amount will be the fair and reasonable value of the farm based upon its normal earning capacity, taking into consideration the "Earning-Capacity Report," the present physical condition of the farm, and the County Committee's recommendation of fair and reasonable value. For farms determined not to be suitable for Title I purposes, the amount will be based upon the resale value of the farm, taking into consideration its physical condition, recent sales of similar farms in the community and other factors affecting value with full regard for the fact that the farm should be resold as soon as possible at no loss to the Government. (See § 387.36.) The State Director, if he accepts the offer, will determine whether or not the borrower is to be released from personal liability for any balance that may be owing on his Farm Ownership account. (See paragraph (d) (3) of this section.)

§ 387.35 Farm Ownership program; management and disposition of acquired farms—(a) General. This section prescribes the authorities, policies, and procedures for the management of acquired Farm Ownership farms from the time title to such farms is vested in the United States until they are sold or disposed of, and for their sale or other disposition. For the purpose of this section, Farm Ownership farms are those which have been acquired by the United States by voluntary conveyance or through foreclosure proceedings.

(1) Farms excepted from this section. This section does not apply to the management, sale, or other disposition of farms which, before acquisition, represented security for (i) operating loans made from funds available for Emergency Crop and Feed Loans, Loans, Grants and Rural Rehabilitation; and Production and Subsistence Loans; and (ii) obligations incurred in connection with water facilities financed out of Loans, Grants, and Rural Rehabilitation funds or funds appropriated pursuant to the Water Facilities Act of August 28, 1937.

(2) Expeditious disposition of acquired farms. Acquired Farm Ownership farms will be sold or otherwise disposed of as expeditiously as possible consistent with the protection of the Government's investment in such farms. Insofar as practicable, preliminary arrangements for the sale of acquired farms should be completed during the process of acquisition. All acquired farms determined to be not suitable for Title I purposes shall be disposed of within 18 months after the date of acquisition.

(b) Delegation of authority. The State Director, subject to the policies and procedures prescribed herein, is authorized to:

(1) Determine the suitability of acquired farms for Title I purposes.

(2) Lease or operate acquired farms.

(3) Where appropriate, pay taxes or to make payments in lieu of taxes on acquired farms.

(4) Authorize such repairs and maintenance of acquired farms as may be necessary to protect the Government's interest.

(5) Sell acquired farms and to execute deeds and other instruments necessary in connection with such sales. This authority may not be redelegated or exercised by an Acting State Director.

(6) Enter into agreements prorating the payment of rent as between the Government and purchasers of acquired farms.

(c) State office routine subsequent to acquisition of farms. The State Director will take such action with respect to each acquired farm as may be appropriate:

(1) Suitability of acquired farms for Title I purposes. The State Director will, as soon as possible after acquisition, determine whether the acquired farm is suitable for Title I purposes. If the farm is, or can be developed into, an efficient family-type farm-management unit having a total value, as repaired, improved, or enlarged, not exceeding the average value of efficient family-type farm-management units in the County with a purchaser's total investment not exceeding the County investment limit, the State Director will determine that the farm is suitable for Title I purposes. If the total value of an acquired farm, as repaired, improved, or enlarged, exceeds the investment limit for the County in which it is located, but does not exceed the average value, the case will be referred to the National Office for prior approval of its suitability for Title I purposes.

(2) Leasing and care of acquired farms. The State Director will furnish the County Supervisor with instructions regarding the care and leasing of acquired farms.

(i) Leasing. Acquired farms will be leased for the current cropping season, or the remainder thereof, when it is determined that such leasing is necessary to protect the Government's investment. All leases will be on the best reasonable terms obtainable as determined by the State Director. Rent must be payable in cash, but the amount may be based on the market value of shares of agricultural commodities. In leasing farms determined to be suitable for Title I purposes, preference will be given first to approved applicants for Farm Ownership loans and, second, to persons expected to meet the qualifications for such loans. Leases will be on terms that will not delay unnecessarily the sale of farms.

(ii) Caretaking. Whenever it is impracticable to lease an acquired farm, and caretaking is deemed necessary to protect the Government's investment, such farm may be operated from the date of acquisition until sale or other disposition under caretaker arrangements on terms approved by the State Director. If a caretaker's agreement is used, compensation to the caretaker may not be paid from the proceeds of the property or income therefrom. An acquired farm cannot be operated by the Government under a caretaker's agreement for a period exceeding one year from the date of acquisition. No provision shall be included in a caretaker's agreement which will interfere with expeditious sale or other disposition of the farm.

(3) Taxation on acquired farms. Except as hereinafter provided, the Farmers Home Administration is required by law to pay taxes on Farm Ownership farms acquired on behalf of the Government which are determined to be suitable for Title I purposes, and to make payments in lieu of taxes on farms acquired on behalf of the Government which are determined to be unsuitable for Title I purposes.

(i) Neither tax payments nor payments in lieu of taxes will be made on acquired farms which represent assets belonging wholly to a State Rural Rehabilitation Corporation trust, except that under the transfer agreement with the South Carolina Rural Rehabilitation Corporation an obligation is imposed on the Secretary of Agriculture to pay out of the trust account such sums as are assessed by local Governments for taxes on lands transferred to the United States.

(ii) Neither tax payments nor payments in lieu of taxes will be made on acquired farms which represent assets of Dyess Farms, Inc., Georgia Pine Mountain Valley Rural Community Corporation, and Cherry Lake, Inc.

(iii) The determination whether tax payments or in lieu of tax payments will be made on joint investment acquired farms will be made on the basis of the transfer agreements and the respective investments of the Government and the Corporation in the land.

(a) When land comprising a joint investment acquired farm was acquired originally with corporation funds and subsequently improved with appropriated funds, it is considered as real estate belonging to the State Rural Rehabilitation Corporation trust and no taxes will be paid whether or not the farm is suitable for Title I purposes, except in the State of South Carolina where payments measured by tax assessments will be made in either event. Payments in lieu of taxes will be made on such farms, however, only in the States of Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oregon, South Dakota, Texas, Utah, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin.

(b) When the land was purchased with appropriated funds and improved with corporation funds, it is considered as real estate belonging to the Government and, therefore, if suitable for Title I purposes tax payments will be made in all States and if not suitable for Title I purposes payments in lieu of taxes will be made in all States.

(4) Processing payments of taxes and payments in lieu of taxes. At the time taxes become due and payable, the State Director will request the County Supervisor to obtain and forward to the State Office separate statements from appropriate tax collecting officials, showing the amount of taxes that are due on each acquired farm under his jurisdiction on which tax payments are to be made, or the amount of taxes that would be due had taxes been assessed on farms on which payments in lieu of taxes are to be made. In case the statement discloses an appreciably increased rate or assessed valuation over former years, the County Supervisor will furnish full details with respect to such increase to the State Director. When there appears to have been an unjustifiable increase the State Director, with the advice of the representative of the Office of the Solicitor, will take such action as may be appropriate. In case taxes or payments in lieu of taxes are to be paid, the State Director will have Standard Form 1034 prepared and processed in accordance with applicable provisions of § 366.42 of this chapter.

(5) Sale within the Farm Ownership program of acquired farms. Acquired farms which are determined to be suitable for Title I purposes will, whenever practicable, be sold within the Farm Ownership program. However, such farms will be sold as expeditiously as possible, and will not be held for an unreasonable length of time for within-program disposal. If the farm cannot be sold to an eligible purchaser within two years from the date of acquisition, the State Director will report the case to the National Office for advice as to whether to dispose of such property outside of the Farm Ownership program.

(i) Determination of selling price. The State Director will establish the selling price, based upon the normal earning capacity of the farm, taking into consideration such amounts as may be required to repair, improve, or enlarge the farm to meet established Farm Ownership standards, and the reasonable value of the Government's interest in the mineral rights.

(ii) Disposition of growing crops. Growing crops, when not harvested under a caretaker's agreement, may be sold with the farm or separately. The State Director will determine the selling price thereof separately from that of the farm. Such crops may be sold for cash, but Title I funds may not be loaned to enable a purchaser to make such purchases. When growing crops are sold on credit, either with the farm or separately, a separate note will be taken to evidence the balance of the sale price, (which in the case of a separate sale will not exceed 80% of the total sale price), payable not later than when the crops will be harvested. The separate note will be secured by a lien on the growing crops.

(iii) Selection of purchaser. The purchaser will be selected from applicants tentatively approved in accordance with § 365.2 of this chapter, with preference accorded veterans as provided in §§ 365.1 and 366.1 of this chapter.

(6) Methods of selling acquired farms within Farm Ownership program. Three different methods of selling, within the Farm Ownership program, acquired farms which have been determined to be suitable for Title I purposes will be followed. The State Director will inform the County Supervisor of the appropriate method under which each acquired farm may be sold. The methods and types of farms to which each method is applicable are:

(i) Sale on credit where no loan is required. Any acquired farm determined to be suitable for Title I purposes, except one which represents in whole or in part a trust asset of a State Rural Rehabilitation Corporation or an asset of the Georgia Pine Mountain Valley Rural Community Corporation, Cherry Lane, Inc., or Dyess Farms, Inc., may be sold on credit to an approved applicant for a Farm Ownership loan when a loan is not required by the purchaser in connection with the sale. Such a sale will be considered as an initial loan and will be made on terms similar to and in a manner consistent with the provisions for making initial Farm Ownership loans.

(ii) Sale on credit when a loan is required. When a Farm Ownership direct or insured loan is required by the purchaser for repairs to, or improvement or enlargement of, an acquired farm, the loan will be considered as a subsequent loan. Only the following classes of farms may be sold on credit simultaneously with approving the loan on terms similar to and in a manner consistent with the provisions for making subsequent Farm Ownership loans:

(a) Acquired farms which represent solely investments of Title I funds.

(b) Farms which were sold in project liquidation on terms in accordance with Title I and subsequently reacquired by Government, provided no part of the investment represents assets administered in trust for a State Rural Rehabilitation Corporation.

(iii) Sale for cash through loan to purchaser. Each acquired farm which represents a trust asset of a State Rural Rehabilitation Corporation or an asset of the Georgia Pine Mountain Valley Rural Community Corporation, Cherry Lake, Inc., or Dyess Farms, Inc., and each project liquidation acquired farm which represents a joint investment of Government funds and State Rural Rehabilitation Corporation funds will be sold for cash and a Farm Ownership direct or insured loan may be made for acquisition, regardless of whether additional amounts are needed for repairs, improvements, or enlargement, in connection with the following types of acquired farms, the loan will include funds for the purchase as well as the repair, improvement, or enlargement of the farm:

(a) Farms which, before acquisition, represented security for Farm Development loans (including former Farm and Home Improvement and Special Real Estate loans) made from funds available for Loans, Grants and Rural Rehabilitation.

(b) Farms which represented a project liquidation unit sold not pursuant to Title I.

(c) Farms which were acquired by foreclosure or deed in lieu of foreclosure of mortgages or deeds of trust assigned to the Government by a defense relocation corporation or a land leasing and land purchasing association.

(7) Disposal of farms outside the Farm Ownership program. Acquired farms, or parts thereof, determined to be not suitable for Title I purposes and suitable farms which cannot be sold to an eligible purchaser within a reasonable time will be sold as expeditiously as possible outside the program by the Farmers Home Administration unless special reasons require their transfer to appropriate Government agencies for disposition under the Surplus Property Act of 1944, as amended. Farms, or parts thereof, which at the time of acquisition are determined not to be suitable for Title I purposes will in no event be held by Farmers Home Administration longer than eighteen months from the date of acquisition.

(i) Sale by the Farmers Home Administration. The State Director will instruct the County Supervisor with respect to functions to be performed in connection with the disposal of such farms. The State Director is authorized to sell such farms at public or private sale to any individual at the best price obtainable, after public notice. The sale may be either for cash or on terms of at least twenty percent (20%) cash with the balance secured by a first mortgage or deed of trust on the property and payable in equal annual installments within five years with interest at five percent (5%) on the unpaid principal payable annually. The procedure prescribed in § 387.36 will be observed in carrying out the sales of farms under this subparagraph.

(ii) Reporting farms for transfer as surplus. When the State Director is of the opinion that it is to the Government's interest that a farm be transferred for sale by the appropriate disposal agency of the Government rather than for it to be sold by the Farmers Home Administration, he will submit his recommendation to the National Office with full legal description and other pertinent information regarding the farm.

(8) General matters pertaining to the sale of acquired farms. The following general provisions will apply in connection with the sale of acquired farms:

(i) Type of deed form. Conveyances will be made by deed without warranty and will be executed by the State Director. If legally possible, and the sale is to be made within the Farm Ownership program, the deed should create an estate with the right of survivorship. All minerals or mineral rights of the Government will be conveyed to the purchaser.

(ii) Abstracts of title. Abstracts of title held by the Government which cover only the land involved in a particular sale may be sold with the farm. When the sale is on credit terms or a loan is made in connection with the sale, the abstract will be retained by the Government until the security instruments securing the credit sale or loan are fully satisfied.

(iii) Sales expense. No expenses incident to the sale, such as revenue stamps, recording of mortgage, intangible taxes, or title insurance when required, will be borne by the Government.

(iv) Title clearance. Title clearance for farms suitable for Title I purposes will be effected in accordance with the applicable provisions of § 366.61 of this chapter.

(v) Proration of rent. When an acquired farm, or part thereof, is under lease which is not to be canceled at the time of sale, and the rent has not become due before the sale is made, and the lease does not contain provisions governing the proration of rent in the event of sale of the farm, the State Director will arrange for any prorated distribution of rent between the Government and the purchaser which is found by the State Director to be equitable and not detrimental to the financial interest of the Government.

(d) County Office management and sales routine. The State Director will furnish the County Supervisor with a copy of Form FHA–412, "Advice of Mortgaged Real Estate Acquired," covering each farm located within his jurisdiction to which the Government has acquired title. (See § 387.33.)

(1) County Office management functions with respect to acquired farms. The State Director will issue specific instructions to the County Supervisor with respect to management functions required of him in connection with each acquired farm prior to its sale or other disposition.

(2) Leasing of acquired farms. When the State Director authorizes the leasing of an acquired farm, he will advise the County Supervisor of the terms and conditions under which the farm will be leased. Upon receipt of such advice, the County Supervisor will prepare Form FHA–435, "Lease of Farm," in an original and four copies. The lessee will be required to sign the original and two copies.

(3) Caretaker arrangements on acquired farms. If the State Director authorizes a caretaker arrangement, he will advise the County Supervisor of the terms and conditions thereof. Form FHA–529, "Caretaker's Agreement for Farm Ownership Farm," will be prepared in an original and two copies.

(4) Sale of acquired farms within Farm Ownership program. The State Director will inform the County supervisor of the selling price of each acquired farm suitable for Title I purposes and the method, or methods (if more than one method is applicable) under which the sale may be consummated (see paragraph (c) (6) of this section). The State Director will inform the County Supervisor of any requirements, in addition to those prescribed herein, to be met in the processing of the docket in connection with the sale of a particular farm. An applicant will be selected in accordance with §§ 465.1, 465.2, and 465.3 of this title, with preference accorded to veterans. An application to purchase will be processed in the same manner as an application for an initial direct Farm Ownership loan as prescribed in § 367.1 of this chapter, with the following modifications in form requirements:

(i) Sale on credit where no loan is required. Form FHA–188, "Option for Purchase of Farm," and Form FHA–5, "Loan Voucher," will be omitted from the docket. Form FHA–643, "Farm Development Plan," will also be omitted, unless the purchaser will expend his own funds for development, or the State Director requests that the Form be included.

(a) The following statement will be inserted on the original and all copies of Form FHA–668, "Loan Agreement and Request for Funds," in any space above the signatures of the applicant and his wife, before the form is signed by them:

I hereby certify that I am unable to obtain credit sufficient in amount to finance our actual needs at rates (but not exceeding the rate of five percent per annum) and terms prevailing in or near the community in which I reside.

(b) One of the following statements will be added to the bottom of the reverse side of the original and all copies of Form FHA–668:

The total indebtedness of $_____ to be incurred by the applicant under this agreement represents the purchase price of land owned by the Government, under Advice No. _____ dated _____ and sold to the applicant.

The total indebtedness of $_____ to be incurred by the applicant under this agreement, plus $_____ down payment, represents the purchase price of land owned by the Government, under Advice No. _____ dated _____ and sold to the applicant.

(c) The following statement will be inserted in Item 9 (A) of Form FHA–491, "County Committee Certification," following the words "to enable him to":

Acquire the farm, it being understood that the amount of the loan represents the purchase price (or a part of the purchase price) of said farm which is herewith recommended for sale by the Government to the applicant in a manner consistent with the provisions of Title I.

(d) The note and, where legally permissible, the deed and mortgage will be dated as of the date of approval of Form FHA–668 by the State Director.

(ii) Sale on credit when a loan is required. When a credit sale and loan are to be accomplished at the same time, Form FHA–190, "Promissory Note," will evidence the total amount of the debt (purchase price of unit plus amount of cash loan). Where legally permissible, the deed, note, and mortgage will be dated the date of the loan check. All forms required in connection with the processing of the loan, as prescribed in § 367.3 of this chapter, will be included in the docket, except that any form required in complying with § 367.1 of this chapter will not be duplicated.

(a) The following statement will be inserted on the original and all copies of Form FHA–668 in any space above the signatures of the applicant and his wife, before the form is signed by them:

I hereby certify that I am unable to obtain credit sufficient in amount to finance our actual needs at rates (but not exceeding the rate of five percent per annum) and terms prevailing in or near the community in which I reside.

(b) The following statement will be added to the bottom of the reverse side of the original and all copies of Form FHA–668:

The total indebtedness of $_____ to be incurred by the applicant under this agreement represents the purchase price of $_____ of land owned by the Government under Advice No. _____, dated _____, and to be sold to the applicant, plus the sum of $_____ in cash to be loaned to the applicant by the United States.

(c) The following statement will be added in Item 9 (A) of Form FHA–491, "County Committee Certification," after the appropriate statutory purposes of the loan have been inserted:

• • • it being understood that _____ dollars of such "Title I loan" represents the purchase price of said farm, which is herewith recommended for sale by the Government to the applicant in a manner consistent with the provisions of said Title I.

§ 387.36 Farm Ownership program; sale of farms not suitable for purposes of Title I—(a) General. This section prescribes supplemental authorities, policies, and procedures for the sale outside the Farm Ownership program by the Farmers Home Administration of acquired farms, or parts thereof, which have been determined to be not suitable for the purposes of Title I of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, as amended. (See § 387.35).

(b) Delegation of authority. Subject to the policies and procedures contained herein and in § 387.35, the following additional authorities with respect to acquired farms, or parts thereof, determined not to be suitable for the purposes of Title I, are hereby delegated to the State Director:

(1) To procure, and approve vouchers in payment of, appraisals of such farms, or parts thereof. This authority will not be redelegated.

(2) To invite, accept, or reject bids and negotiate for the sale of such farms, or parts thereof. The State Director will not redelegate the authority to accept or reject bids, but may redelegate the authority to invite bids and to undertake preliminary negotiations for the sale of such farms, or parts thereof.

(c) Terms and conditions of sale. Each sale of real property, pursuant to this section, will be subject to the following terms and conditions:

(1) Eligible purchasers. A sale may be made to any available purchaser except to a private corporation. Farmers Home Administration employees are eligible to purchase such farms, or parts thereof, only when the sale is based upon competitive bids: Provided, That no sale shall be made, either directly or indirectly, to an employee who was in any way connected with its declaration as surplus or who was formerly accountable for the property or connected in any way with the negotiations for the sale thereof. This restriction applies to State and County Committeemen. No sale may be made to persons related to ineligible employees, including Committeemen, within the third degree of consanguinity or affinity, without the prior approval of the Administrator.

(2) Mineral rights. All minerals and mineral rights, title to which is vested in the Government, will be included in the sale of the property.

(3) Sale of abstracts. Abstracts of title or other evidence of title held by the Government, which cover only the land involved in a particular sale, may be sold with the property, provided that when the sale is on credit such abstract(s) or other evidence of title will be retained by the Government until the purchase price is fully paid.

(4) Terms. The property shall be sold for the best price obtainable after public notice is given. The property should be sold preferably for cash, but may be sold on credit, secured by the property, when a purchaser for cash is not available, and will be sold on credit when a greater recovery can be obtained by credit sale (see paragraph (h) (2) of this section). In credit sales, an initial cash down payment of not less than twenty percent (20%) of the sale price must be made upon each sale, and the balance of the sale price must be paid in equal annual installments payable over a period of not to exceed five (5) years, with interest on the unpaid balance at the rate of five per cent (5%) payable annually.

(d) Plan of sale. The State Director will, in order to secure the best price obtainable, develop a plan of sale for each property to be sold. In developing such a plan, consideration should be given to (1) subdivision and offering the property in units; (2) sale of land and marketable timber separately in order to obtain a better price than would be secured from the sale of the land with the timber thereon; and (3) determination of the terms on which bids will be invited.

(e) Request for allotment to defray sales costs. In the event that it is necessary to procure an outside appraisal report or formally advertise the property in newspapers, the State Director will request the establishment of an allotment of funds for such purposes in connection with the sale of each farm. Estimates for the cost of maintenance or repair work may be included when in the opinion of the State Director it will be impossible to sell the property for its reasonable value without making such expenditures, and the repairs or maintenance will add more to the fair market value of the property than the cost of the repairs or maintenance. Each request for an allotment will show the type of asset or security represented by the property.

(f) Public notice. The State Director will arrange for exposing the property to the market and for giving public notice of sale. The manner and form of giving public notice will be approved as to legal sufficiency by the representative of the Office of the Solicitor before release. If public notice and efforts to negotiate a sale of the property should fail to produce a reasonable offer or bid, public notice will again be given if, in the opinion of the State Director, such notice is likely to create additional interest.

(1) When the value is $2,500 or less. When the fair market value of the property, as determined by the State Director, does not exceed $2,500, public notice will be given by the State Director either by having appropriate notice of sale posted in not less than three public places (e. g., courthouse, postoffice building, and so forth) in the area where the property is located, or by publishing such notice of sale in the newspapers in accordance with the procedure for placing of advertising. When the State Director deems it desirable, in the interest of adequately exposing the property to the market, he may give such public notice by both posting the notices of sale and publishing them in the newspapers.

(2) When the value exceeds $2,500. When the fair market value of the property, as determined by the State Director, exceeds $2,500, public notice will be given by advertising the property formally, in sufficient newspapers, periodicals, trade journals, and other publications, and the employment of handbills, posters, and so forth, to expose the property adequately to the market.

(g) Invitation to submit offer or bid—(1) When value is $2,500 or less. When the fair market value of the property, as determined by the State Director, is $2,500 or less, the sale may be negotiated without sealed bids. After the period specified in the notice of sale has expired, the State Director, or the Farmers Home Administration employee authorized to do so by the State Director, will undertake negotiations for sale of the property with all persons who may be interested. Each designation of an employee to negotiate the sale will be made by the State Director in writing. A written report will be made of all negotiations conducted. When the negotiations are undertaken by the State Director and the best offer is acceptable to him, the offer will be reduced to writing on Form FHA–216, "Invitation, Bid, and Acceptance," in an original and four copies. The original and one copy of Form FHA–216 will be signed by the bidder and accompanied by the amount of the required deposit in the form of a certified check, money order, or cashier's check payable to the Treasurer of the United States. When the negotiations are undertaken by an employee other than the State Director, the best offer obtained, if it is likely to be considered to be acceptable, will likewise be reduced to writing on Form FHA–216, and Form FHA–216 then will be submitted to the State Director together with the deposit and the written report of all negotiations. Before final acceptance of an offer, the State Director will submit Form FHA–216 to the representative of the Office of the Solicitor for review as to legal sufficiency. The applicable procedure outlined in paragraph (h) of this section will be followed with respect to analyzing, accepting, and awarding such offers.

(2) When the value exceeds $2,500. Sealed bids will be invited in connection with the offering of each property when the fair market value, as determined by the State Director, exceeds $2,500. The State Director will furnish prospective bidders with sufficient copies of Form FHA–216, and with properly addressed envelopes (requiring postage to be paid by the bidder) for transmitting bids, and will request conformity with the detailed instructions contained in Form FHA–216 for the preparation and submission of bids. The State Director will sign section I of Form FHA–216 as issuing officer.

(3) Preparation of invitation to bid. (i) Form FHA–216 provides optional payment plans. If the State Director determines to invite bids on an all cash bid only, payment plan "A" will be made applicable by deleting payment plan "B" and paragraph "C" of section IV of Form FHA–216.

(ii) If the State Director determines that offers will be acceptable on either payment plan "A" or payment plan "B", he will make the determination as to the percentage of the bid that will be required as an initial cash payment, which in no case will be less than twenty percent (20%), and fill in the blank in line 1 of payment plan "B". The State Director also will determine the period within which the balance of the sale price is to be paid, which period must not exceed five (5) years. The terms of payment of the balance of the sale price, together with the interest rate of five percent (5%) per annum, will be filled in on the two blank lines under payment plan "B".

(iii) The State Director will determine the percentage of the bid to be required as a deposit, and will fill in the blank space in paragraph A 1 of section IV of Form FHA–216. The amount of deposit ordinarily should be ten per cent (10%) of the total bid, but in no case shall it be less than five per cent (5%).

(iv) Whenever practicable, taxes or payments in lieu of taxes, rents, or receipts from the operation of the property for the current year will be prorated as of the date of delivery of the deed, and, when so prorated, "date of delivery of deed" will be inserted in the blank space in paragraph A 7 of section IV of Form FHA–216. When the property is under lease for the crop year and is sold during the crop year in two or more tracts, or when existing leases are on a share-of-the-crop basis and it is impracticable for these or other reasons to prorate rent as of the date of delivery of the deed, the State Director will insert a definite future date to which the Government will continue to receive all rents, and paragraph A 7 of section IV will be modified by making separate provision for proration of rents or other receipts, as distinguished from taxes or payments in lieu of taxes.

(v) A legal description of the property will be prepared and attached to Form FHA–216 as "Exhibit A". When applicable, the following sentence will be inserted under the legal description: "The above described land will be sold subject to the following specific conditions, reservations, and exceptions:". Following this, any specific conditions, reservations, and exceptions, such as easements, leases, back taxes, and so forth, will be listed.

(h) Receiving, custody, and acceptance of bids. The State Director will indicate the date and hour bids are received in the State Office by placing this information on all envelopes containing bids. Bids received prior to the hour and date stipulated in the advertisement for the bid opening will be kept in a locked container until the time fixed for opening. The State Director will have sole custody of the key at all times. Bids may be withdrawn or modified by written or telegraphic request received from the bidders prior to the time fixed for opening bids, but no bids may be withdrawn or modified after the time fixed for opening.

(1) Opening of bids. (i) All bids received will be opened at the hour stipulated in the advertisement. The State Director and at least three Farmers Home Administration employees will be present at the opening. All other interested persons who may desire to attend also may be present. The State Director will designate a secretary who will record the date and hour the bid opening began, the names of the Farmers Home Administration employees present, and tabulate information with respect to each bid as it is opened.

(ii) When a bid is not accompanied by certified check, money order, or cashier's check, payable to the Treasurer of the United States, in an amount at least equal to the amount of deposit required in Form FHA–216, the bid will be disqualified, except that when such bid is the high bid and is otherwise acceptable, the bidder will be requested to make the required deposit within a stipulated period of time. If the bidder does not comply with this request, the bid will likewise be disqualified.

(2) Analysis of bids. In analyzing bids as to acceptability, the highest qualified bid shall be the determining factor without regard to whether the bid is under payment plan "A" or payment plan "B". That is, a bid under payment "B" must be accepted if it is higher than any bid under payment plan "A", or vice versa.

(3) Acceptance of bids. When a bid exceeds $12,000, the State Director shall obtain the prior approval of the National Office before accepting or rejecting the bid. The request for approval submitted to the National Office will include (i) the information tabulated at the opening with respect to each bid, (ii) a copy of Form(s) FHA–736 made on the property, (iii) a report on the type and extent of the advertisement of sale of the property, (iv) a copy of the advertisement, (v) the originals of Forms FHA–216 received from the three highest bidders, and (vi) the recommendations of the State Director.

(i) Manner of acceptance. The State Director will accomplish acceptance of a bid by signing in the "Acceptance" block in section III on the original and one copy of Form FHA–216. The signed copy of the accepted bid Form will be mailed to the successful bidder on the acceptance date by registered mail with return receipt requested.

(ii) When a bid is accepted immediately. If a bid is accepted immediately, the State Director will transmit the deposit of the successful bidder to the Area Finance Office for scheduling into the Special Deposits Account of the United States Treasury Regional Disbursing Office, and the deposits of the unsuccessful bidders will be returned promptly by registered mail with a covering letter of explanation.

(iii) When a bid is not accepted immediately. If a bid is not accepted immediately, the State Director will transmit the deposits of the three highest bidders to the Area Finance Office for scheduling into the Special Deposits Account of the United States Treasury Regional Disbursing Office, where they will be held until final action is taken. All deposits of bidders other than the deposits of the three highest bidders will be returned promptly by registered mail with a covering letter of explanation. If one of the three highest bids is later accepted, the State Director will request the Area Finance Manager to refund the deposits of the other bidders. If all bids are rejected, the State Director will request the Area Finance Manager to refund the deposits of all three bidders. At the time the State Director requests the Area Finance Manager to refund deposits, the State Director will notify each unsuccessful bidder in writing that his bid has been rejected and that the Area Finance Manager has been requested to refund the deposit.

(4) Award to successful bidder. Upon acceptance of a bid by the State Director, Standard Form No. 1036, "Statement and Certificate of Award," will be prepared in an original and two conformed copies. The original will be signed by the State Director. In the space below the "Certificate" will be shown the name and address of the successful bidder, and the following statement: "Award was made pursuant to authority contained in sections 43 (d) and 51 of the Bankhead-Jones Farm Tenant Act, as amended by Public Law 731, 79th Congress (60 Stat. 1062)."

(5) Negotiated sale. In the event that all bids are rejected or no bids are received, the State Director may negotiate immediately with the bidders and other prospective purchasers, and consummate the sale of the property, when the negotiated offer is less that $12,000, at the best price obtainable without further advertising, provided that there are no indications that readvertising will create additional interest and result in a higher bid. When the negotiated offer is $12,000 or more, the State Director shall obtain the prior approval of the National Office in the same manner as provided in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph. Any negotiated sale shall be on terms not less favorable, and at a price not lower, than the best terms and highest price offered as a result of public notice.

(i) Closing of sale and routing of documents. Promptly after acceptance of the bid, the State Director will conform three copies of Form FHA–216 and will forward to the representative of the Office of the Solicitor the originals of Form FHA–216 and Standard Form No. 1036 and such other pertinent material as may be necessary to close the sale. He will request the representative of the Office of the Solicitor to prepare the necessary legal instruments and closing instructions. The quitclaim deed, promissory note and security instrument will conform as nearly as possible to the type used in closing ordinary business transactions involving the sale of land in the locality where the property is located. The representative of the Office of the Solicitor will return the originals of Form FHA–216 and Standard Form No. 1036 and other pertinent material to the State Director with the closing instruments and instructions. After a sale on credit is closed, all documents executed in complying with the closing instructions will be forwarded to the representative of the Office of the Solicitor who will return the documents to the State Director with an opinion as to whether the sale has been properly closed.

(1) Notification to tax officials and lessees. After the deed has been delivered to the purchaser, the State Director immediately will send notice of the sale to the proper tax officials by registered mail, giving the name and address of the purchaser, the date of delivery of the deed, a description of the land, and stating that the United States of America no longer holds title to the property. If the property is subject to an oil, gas, or mineral lease, the State Director will notify the lessee(s) in the same manner.

(2) Scheduling of proceeds. All payments received (whether as deposit, down payment, installment payment, or full payment) on the purchase price of the property under the terms of the accepted bid will be scheduled by the collecting official to the Area Finance Office. No receipt will be issued on Form FHA–37, "Receipt for Payment," for any part of the down payment, or for full cash payment at the time of closing. However, Form FHA–37 will be issued in receipting payments on that part of the purchase price evidenced by a promissory note.

Issued the 23d day of September 1948.

Section 734.1 is redesignated as § 701.0 and the headnote is amended, as set forth below:

§ 701.0 Fair prices for conservation materials and services acquired by means of purchase orders—(a) Delegation to the Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration. The Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, shall designate the conservation materials and services which may be furnished by means of purchase orders in connection with the agricultural conservation program, the persons who shall establish the fair prices, and the method of making such determinations: Provided, however, That any such determination shall be made in accordance with the provisions of paragraphs (b), (c), (d), and (e) of this section, and shall be subject to such review as may be required by any person who has delegated his authority to establish fair prices.

(b) Conservation materials. A fair price shall be the price at which a vendor agrees to furnish the material at a given time under a given set of conditions, providing it is determined by the person authorized to establish fair prices that the price is not excessive in relation to:

(1) The prices which farmers are currently paying for the same or similar material under the same or similar conditions, and

(2) The prices at which farmers could obtain the same material through other than local channels, and

(3) The actual or estimated cost to the vendor and a reasonable margin for profit.

(c) Services. A fair price shall be the price at which a vendor equipped to perform a service agrees to furnish it at a given time and under a given set of conditions, providing it is determined by the person authorized to establish fair prices that the price is not excessive in relation to:

(1) The prices which farmers are currently paying for the same or similar service under the same or similar conditions, and

(2) The actual or estimated cost to the vendor and a reasonable margin for profit.

(d) Defective materials and services. A material or service shall be deemed not to have been furnished at the fair price if it is determined that the material or service does not meet quality specifications. In such case the material or service may be rejected and no payment made therefor by the Government. At the option of the Production and Marketing Administration such materials or services may be accepted subject to a deduction equal to the difference between the fair price of the material or service of the quality specified and the value of the material or service furnished.

(e) Inspection and analysis. Materials and services shall be inspected and samples taken in accordance with instructions issued by the Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration: Provided, however, That the inspection and analysis controls exercised by State Regulatory Authorities may be deemed a sufficient protection to the Government as to the quality standards of any material over which such authority is exercised: Provided, further That, this shall not prevent the taking of additional samples nor shall it satisfy the responsibility of the Government for the making of separate inspections of materials in any case where such further action is necessary to adequately protect the interests of the Government. (55 Stat. 257; 16 U. S. C. 590 h (b))

At the time the regulations in Part 715 were approved, payments were being made under the Agricultural Conservation Program with respect to allotment crops. By keeping his acreages within his acreage allotments a farmer generally could earn sufficient payment to cover the crop insurance premium advance made to him.

At the present time payments under the Agricultural Conservation Program are made only with respect to soil and water conservation practices. Since payments are not made in connection with crops insured by the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation there is no definite assurance that persons applying for insurance will earn payment under the Agricultural Conservation Program from which the full amount of any crop insurance premium advance could be recovered.

No advances of crop insurance premiums are being made under current crop insurance programs. In view of the changed situation a complete restudy of the situation would be necessary before making further premium advances in order to determine whether there is reasonable assurance that the amounts advanced could be set off from payments earned under the Agricultural Conservation Program.

Since it is doubtful that any further crop insurance premium advances can be made without the restudy mentioned above, the regulations in Part 715 are hereby revoked.

PART 716—PAYMENTS OF AMOUNTS DUE PERSONS WHO HAVE DIED, DISAPPEARED, OR HAVE BEEN DECLARED INCOMPETENT

Part 718 is amended to read as follows:

Sec.

718.2 Conditions of set-offs.
718.3 Priority of set-offs.
718.4 Manner of notice.
718.5 Effect of this part.

AUTHORITY: §§ 718.0 to 718.5, inclusive, issued under 49 Stat. 1118, 1148, 50 Stat. 762, 909, 52 Stat. 45, 65, 70, 819, 60 Stat. 237; 16 U. S. C. 590g–590q, 7 U. S. C. 1131–1137, 1303, 1372 (c), 1401–1407.

§ 718.0 Purpose. The purpose of this part is to state the conditions under which certain debts of persons owing to the Government of the United States on account of the indebtedness due and unpaid to any department, establishment, or independent agency of the Government, any corporation all the stock of which is owned by the United States, or any bureau, administration, or corporation in the Department of Agriculture, will be set off against any payments which may be payable to such persons under any applicable statutes, consistent with protecting the interests of the United States and effectuating the purposes of such statutes.

§ 718.1 Cases in which set-offs applicable. Subject to the provisos contained in § 718.2, set-offs shall be made, but limited to, the following cases, except that the chief of any creditor agency within the Department of Agriculture, or his authorized representative, may waive or subordinate the right of the creditor agency to a set-off of all or a part of the indebtedness if he deems such action in the interests of the program administered by such agency:

(a) The debtor has committed a fraud against the United States, or there is evidence establishing material misrepresentation of fact, in securing a loan from the United States, without which fraudulent act or material misrepresentation the loan would not have been made or would have otherwise been made in a smaller amount.

(b) A person is indebted to the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation for any unpaid premium payable to it under the terms of a crop insurance contract or on account of his having received an indemnity payment in excess of that finally determined to be due.

(c) A person who is indebted to the Farmers Home Administration has failed to use the borrowed funds for the purposes specified in the written loan document, or has, in bad faith, disposed of property covered by a mortgage, deed of trust, or lien instrument given to secure the loan.

(d) A person is indebted to the Production and Marketing Administration, or to any other agency of the Department of Agriculture by reason of any payments certified on vouchers or on sight-drafts by the Production and Marketing Administration State Offices or by the County Agricultural Conservation Association, or is indebted for an unpaid marketing quota penalty.

(e) A person is indebted to the Commodity Credit Corporation in connection with a loan or purchase agreement with respect to which there has been failure to comply with the terms.

(f) Any account or renewal thereof arising from the loan operations of the Farmers Home Administration (or predecessor agency) of Farm Credit Administration (1) becomes finally due on or after July 1, 1939, and (2) has not been finally settled by such creditor agency within a period of two years thereof, and, at the expiration of such two-year period, (i) the debtor is not a client of and does not have a current loan from such creditor agency (except for collection purposes), and (ii) such creditor agency considers a request for set-off in such case to be in the interest of its program.

(g) The United States or a corporation all the stock of which is owned by the United States has secured a judgment against the debtor which remains unsatisfied.

(h) A person is indebted to the Regional Agricultural Credit Corporation of Washington, D. C., on a limited liability advance made in furtherance of food production, and has failed to pay to the corporation, pursuant to written agreement, the amount paid or allowed to him as payments from funds appropriated by section 32 of Public Law No. 320, 74th Congress (49 Stat. 750; 7 U. S. C. 602) under the 1943 Agricultural Conservation Program: Provided, however, That any such set-off shall be limited to the amount paid or allowed as aforesaid.

§ 718.2 Conditions of set-offs. The following provisos shall apply in making set-offs, except that only paragraph (c) of this section shall apply to the case designated in § 718.1 (d) and paragraph (e) of this section shall not apply to the case designated in § 718.1 (h):

(a) Request for set-off shall be on Form AAA–402, "Request for Set-Off against Agricultural Adjustment Payments," and all the information required by such form must be included. Section II, "Certification," must be signed by an authorized representative of the department, establishment, or independent agency of the Government requesting the set-off. Requests for set-offs by agencies of the Government not within the Department of Agriculture coming within § 718.1 (g) shall be submitted on Form AAA–396, "Request and Certification for Allowance of Set-Off Pursuant to Section 718.1, item (g) of the Order Governing Set-offs against Agricultural Adjustment Payments." Form AAA–396 may also be used by bureaus within the Department to file requests for set-offs coming within § 718.1 (g).

(b) The amount of the indebtedness shall be stated separately as (1) principal and (2) interest (where applicable) computed to the date indicated on the request. If the creditor agency desires that additional interest be computed on the principal, a factor (daily or monthly) shall be furnished for computing such interest. The amount to be set off shall not exceed the principal sum(s) owed by the debtor and the interest charges computed (in accordance with the procedure governing the program under which the indebtedness arose) to the date of preparation of the application for payment against which the set-off is to be made.

(c) Whenever a set-off is to be effected by means of a direct settlement, the amount of the indebtedness, insofar as this order is concerned, shall be reduced at the time the voucher is transmitted to the Claims Division of the General Accounting Office by the amount of payment administratively certified subject to deduction.

(d) In no case shall a payment be withheld for the purpose of making a set-off subsequent to the initial administrative certification for payment of the voucher.

(e) In no case shall any department, independent agency, bureau, or administration, other than the Production and Marketing Administration, or corporation all the stock of which is owned by the United States, communicate with any officer or employee of any County Agricultural Conservation Association, or other association, or committee of producers, with a view to securing the set-off, or with a view to the withholding of any check issued pursuant to any of the above-cited acts which may be in, or come into, his or their hands awaiting delivery to the payee: Provided, however, That with respect to cases coming within § 718.1 (g) inquiry may be made at the office of the County Agricultural Conservation Association as to whether the judgment-debtor has filed with respect to a particular crop year an intention to participate in one or more of the programs administered by the Production and Marketing Administration.

(f) Forms AAA–396 and AAA–402 executed by bureaus, administrations, or corporations within the Department of Agriculture, shall be filed with the appropriate State offices of the Production and Marketing Administration. Forms AAA–396 and AAA–402 executed by agencies of the Government not within the Department of Agriculture shall be filed with the appropriate State office of the Production and Marketing Administration or with the Assistant Administrator for Production, Production and Marketing Administration.

§ 718.3 Priority of set-offs. Irrespective of the time of recordation on the register of indebtedness in the office of the county agricultural conservation association, any claim to the right of set-off made by the Department of Agriculture shall have priority over any claim to such right made by any other department, independent agency, or establishment of the Government, and claims within the Department of Agriculture shall be satisfied in the following order of priority, namely: Production and Marketing Administration, Commodity Credit Corporation, Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, Farmers Home Administration, and Farm Credit Administration.

§ 718.4 Manner of notice. The head of any department, independent agency, or establishment of the Government, including any administration or bureau of the Department of Agriculture, desiring that set-offs be made in any cases coming within the terms of this part, shall give written notice to that effect to the Assistant Administrator for Production, Production and Marketing Administration, in order that the necessary procedure may be established and approved by him. The Assistant Administrator for Production is hereby authorized to revise such existing forms and to issue such new forms and procedures as may be required from time to time for the proper administration of this part.

§ 718.5 Effect of this part. This part supersedes the Revised Order Governing Set-Offs entered by the Secretary of Agriculture May 8, 1937 (as revised October 20, 1943).[1]

TITLE 41—PUBLIC CONTRACTS

Chapter II—Division of Public Contracts, Department of Labor

PART 201—GENERAL REGULATIONS

OVERTIME

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by section 6 of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U. S. C. 35), the second paragraph of § 201.103 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 201.103 Overtime. • • •

Until otherwise set by the Secretary of Labor the rate of pay for such overtime shall be one and one-half times the basic hourly rate received by the employee. The basic hourly rate shall be the quotient obtained by dividing the total compensation for the workweek, less overtime premium, by the total number of hours worked for which such compensation is paid.

(49 Stat. 2036; 41 U. S. C. 35)

This amendment shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 15th day of October 1948.

JOHN W. GIBSON,
Acting Secretary of Labor.

OVERTIME; COMPUTATION OF BASIC HOURLY RATE

Section 201.103: The following interpretation is adopted pursuant to General Order No. 25 of the Secretary of Labor (29 CFR 1946, Supp. 2.001). This interpretation relates directly to the regulation contained in § 201.103 Overtime, and should be appended thereto.

Computation of basic hourly rate. Where an employee has been compensated entirely by piece rates, the employer has in the past been permitted to elect either of two methods of computing overtime under the Public Contracts Act. Under certain conditions and limitations, (a) he could pay the employee at the piece rate for work performed in straight-time hours, and increase the piece rate by 50 percent for all work performed during overtime hours in the workweek; or (b) he could divide the total piece-rate earnings for the workweek by the number of hours worked for which such earnings were paid in order to obtain an average hourly rate, and pay the employee 50 percent of that rate for each overtime hour worked, in addition to his straight-time compensation for all hours worked in the workweek.

Similarly, where in a single workweek an employee has performed different types of work calling for different rates of pay, the employer has in the past been permitted an election as to the method of computing overtime compensation. Under certain conditions, he could elect to compute overtime compensation at time and one-half based (a) on the rate applicable to the work performed during the overtime hours or (b) on the average hourly rate. (See Rulings and Interpretations No. 3, section 42 (e) (4), (7)).

The recent decision of the Supreme Court in "Bay Ridge Operating Co. v. Aaron and Huron Stevedoring Co. v. Blue," 334 U. S. 446, indicates that the only proper method of determining the regular rate for the purposes of computing overtime compensation due under the Fair Labor Standards Act is to divide the total compensation for the workweek, less overtime premium, by the total number of hours worked for which such compensation is paid, in order to obtain an average hourly rate, and to pay not less than 50 percent of that rate for each overtime hour worked, in addition to the straight-time compensation for all hours worked in the workweek.

The term "basic hourly rate" under the Public Contracts Act has been construed as having the same meaning as the term "regular rate" as used in the Fair Labor Standards Act. In order, therefore, to maintain a uniform administration of the two acts, the Administrator, from the date of publication of this statement in the FEDERAL REGISTER, will consider an employer as complying with the overtime pay requirements of the Public Contracts Act only if he pays overtime compensation at a rate not less than one and one-half times the basic hourly rate computed by the "averaging method" described in the next preceding paragraph.

To the extent that any statements contained in Rulings and Interpretations No. 3, in opinion letters, releases, or elsewhere, are inconsistent herewith, they are rescinded.

(Sec. 3 (a), 60 Stat. 283; 5 U. S. C. 1002)

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 13th day of October 1948.

WM. R. MCCOMB,
Administrator.

TITLE 43—PUBLIC LANDS: INTERIOR

Chapter I—Bureau of Land Management, Department of the Interior

[Circular 1701]

PART 245—RIGHTS-OF-WAY OVER AND UPON PUBLIC LANDS AND RESERVATIONS OF THE UNITED STATES FOR ELECTRICAL PLANTS AND TRANSMISSION LINES

STIPULATION REQUIRED PRIOR TO APPROVAL OF PERMIT

The first sentence of § 245.21 is amended and new paragraphs are added, to read as follows:

§ 245.21 Stipulation required as a condition precedent to the approval of permit. The applicant shall file with the application required under § 245.9, a duly executed stipulation expressly agreeing to accept the power permit subject to the following terms and conditions, excepting those which the Secretary may waive in a particular case, to wit:

(v) Upon such terms and conditions and in such manner as the Secretary may direct, to permit the Government or any agency or instrumentality thereof, hereinafter referred to as the Government, to interconnect its transmission facilities with the transmission line of which the line for which a permit is requested forms a part; to construct, operate and maintain such line and all related facilities, wherever situated, in such manner and condition as to make available to the Government the effective use of such line for the transmission of electric power and energy in such manner and for such amounts as will not unreasonably interfere with the permittee's use of the line; and to permit the Government to so use the line in accordance with terms and conditions agreed upon by the Secretary and the permittee, including the terms upon which the Government will pay its proportionate share of the monthly cost of the lines.

(w) That the right-of-way or site shall be subject to the express condition that the exercise or use thereof will not interfere in any way with the leasing and administration by the United States of the lands affected thereby, or with the development of oil, gas, potassium, sodium or other leasable minerals therefrom; and that the permittee agrees and consents to the occupancy and use by the United States, its permittees or lessees of any part of the right-of-way not actually occupied by the project, for necessary operations incident to the development and production of oil, gas, potassium, sodium or other leasable minerals.

(x) That there is reserved rights-of-way for reservoirs, dams, and other works which may hereafter be constructed for the development of hydroelectric power or irrigation, under authority of the United States, and that the use of the right-of-way by the permittee for the purpose authorized shall be discontinued without liability or expense to the United States when found by the Secretary to be in conflict with such power or irrigation works.

(y) To make provision, or bear the reasonable cost (as may be determined by the Secretary) of making provision for avoiding inductive interference between any project transmission line or other project works constructed, operated, or maintained by it on the right-of-way authorized under the permit or easement, and any radio installation, telephone line or other communication facilities now or hereafter constructed and operated by the United States or any agency thereof. This provision shall not relieve the permittee from any responsibility or requirement which may be imposed by other lawful authority for avoiding or eliminating inductive interference.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[14 CFR, Part 4b]

FLAP POSITION IN THE LANDING APPROACH CONDITION

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Pursuant to authority delegated by the Civil Aeronautics Board to the Bureau of Safety Regulation, notice is hereby given that the Bureau will propose to the Board an amendment of Part 4b of the Civil Air Regulations as hereinafter set forth.

Interested persons may participate in the making of the proposed rule by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted to the Civil Aeronautics Board, attention Bureau of Safety Regulations, Washington 25, D. C. All communications received within 30 days after the date of this publication will be considered by the Board before taking further action on the proposed rule.

The presently effective rules require that the wing flaps, in the approach position, shall be set so that the stalling speed of the airplane in this configuration does not exceed 1.06 times the stalling speed of the airplane in the landing configuration. The value of 1.06 was originally established to fit conditions involving airplanes with relatively low stalling speeds. Since then it has been established that in actual operation of newer type airplanes appropriate approach flap settings result in approach stalling speeds somewhat higher than those which would be required by the ratio of 1.06. As a result, in order to utilize these higher approach speeds without a weight penalty under varying operating conditions, there have been established in some instances more than one set of flap positions corresponding with the stalling speeds in the landing and approach configurations, each set being within the limits specified by the 1.06 factor. Recent practical operational experience has indicated that the weights thus achieved are not in themselves in excess of those dictated by safety. However, such a policy, although permissible within the Civil Air Regulations, introduces more complicated operating procedures in the dispatching and piloting of the airplane. Obviously, such additional complication is undesirable.

It is therefore proposed to increase the presently effective factor of 1.06 to a value of 1.10 which would make it unnecessary to utilize the multiple set of flap positions, and thereby minimize the undesirable complications of piloting and dispatching.

It is proposed to amend § 4b.1231 (c) (2) to read as follows:

(2) Wing flaps set in position such that V_{s1} does not exceed 1.10 V_{s0}.

This amendment is proposed under the authority of Title VI of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended.

SCHEDULED AIR CARRIER PILOT PROFICIENCY CHECKS

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Pursuant to authority delegated by the Civil Aeronautics Board to the Bureau of Safety Regulation, notice is hereby given that the Bureau will propose to the Board amendments of Parts 41 and 61 of the Civil Air Regulations as hereinafter set forth.

Interested persons may participate in the making of the proposed rules by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted to the Civil Aeronautics Board, attention Bureau of Safety Regulation, Washington 25, D. C. All communications received within 45 days after the date of this publication will be considered by the Board before taking further action on the proposed rules.

Under the provisions of Parts 41 and 61 of the Civil Air Regulations first pilots are required to take semiannual instrument checks in the make and model aircraft to be flown by them in scheduled service. This requirement does not recognize the difference between an instrument proficiency test and a check given to ascertain aircraft and line competency. The first check is to determine a pilot's ability to maneuver and navigate an aircraft by instruments, whereas the latter check will determine his competency on a particular make and model aircraft along a specific route.

The proposed amendments are designed to separate the two types of checks. They will permit a pilot to take an instrument check in an aircraft other than the type normally flown by him in scheduled operations; Provided, Such aircraft meets the prescribed requirements, and they will require a pilot to take his line and equipment check in the make and model aircraft he is to fly in scheduled service.

Provision is also made for certain training to be given in a synthetic type trainer, provided such trainer is approved by the Administrator.

It is proposed to amend Parts 41 and 61 as follows:

1. By amending §§ 41.3030 and 61.535 to read as follows:

Training and maintenance of proficiency program. A training program, acceptable to the Administrator, sufficient to insure that each flight crew member used by the air carrier is proficient in his duties and is kept currently informed of all new developments and techniques pertinent to his duties, shall be maintained by the air carrier. This training program shall include instruction in various types of emergency procedures and proper crew coordination. This instruction may be accomplished in a synthetic type trainer when the Administrator has determined that such trainer sufficiently simulates actual operating conditions for the equipment to be operated.

2. By rescinding § 61.512 and adding §§ 41.3031 and 61.511 to read as follows:

Competency checks. Each air carrier shall provide a sufficient number of check pilots to insure that each pilot utilized as first pilot is given the following proficiency checks:

(a) Line and equipment check. Prior to serving as first pilot over a route the pilot shall have been given a line and equipment check in the make and model aircraft to be flown by him in scheduled operations over the route to insure that he is thoroughly qualified with respect to the aircraft to be flown and the procedures and techniques to be used en route. A pilot shall not serve thereafter as first pilot unless he has been given such a check within the preceding 6 calendar months in the make and model aircraft normally flown by him in scheduled operations. The pilot need not be checked over the entire route, if his proficiency can be satisfactorily established by a check over a portion thereof.

(b) Instrument check. Prior to serving as first pilot over a route the pilot shall be given an instrument check to demonstrate his ability to pilot and navigate by instruments and to accomplish an instrument approach for each type of radio approach facility approved for use by the air carrier. A pilot shall not serve thereafter as first pilot unless he has been given such a check within the preceding 6 calendar months. Instrument checks shall be given in any make and model aircraft which the air carrier is authorized to use in passenger operations under instrument conditions, except that where the air carrier is not certificated for passenger operations under instrument conditions the instrument check may be given in any make and model aircraft regularly used by the air carrier and approved for this purpose by the Administrator.

These amendments are proposed under the authority of Title VI of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended.

SCHEDULED AIR CARRIER CLEARANCE AND SOURCES OF WEATHER REPORTS AND FORECASTS

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Pursuant to authority delegated by the Civil Aeronautics Board to the Bureau of Safety Regulation, notice is hereby given that the Bureau will propose to the Board amendments of Parts 41 and 61 of the Civil Air Regulations as hereinafter set forth.

Interested persons may participate in the making of the proposed rule by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted to the Civil Aeronautics Board, attention Bureau of Safety Regulation, Washington 25, D. C. All communications received within 45 days of the date of this publication will be considered by the Board before taking further action on the proposed rule.

Section 61.71040 now requires that an air carrier clearance contain or have attached thereto all current weather reports for the airway or part thereof over which the flight is to be conducted. This requires a very large number of reports to be attached to the clearance for long distance flights. Under certain conditions, this is considered unnecessary.

On February 6, 1948, a notice of intent to amend § 61.71040 was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER the purpose of which was to obviate the necessity of attaching to the clearance those en route weather reports unnecessary for the safety of the flight. The published proposal, however, did not correct certain other sections in the regulations, in particular, § 61.6 which among other things requires that reports to be used shall not be more than one hour and thirty minutes old at the time the aircraft departs. It therefore appears desirable to also amend § 61.6, since the requirement of one hour and 30 minutes may be unduly restrictive in good weather and too lax under marginal weather or fog conditions.

When considered together the amendments herein proposed have the effect of permitting the air carriers to use the latest available weather reports and forecasts for the route to be flown, provided such reports and forecasts are sufficient to indicate to the pilot the various types of weather to be encountered en route.

These amendments are also proposed for Part 41.

The following amendments are proposed:

1. Amend §§ 41.402 and 61.6 to read as follows:

Source of weather reports and forecasts. Weather reports and forecasts used to control flight movements shall be prepared from observations made and released by the United States Weather Bureau, by a source approved by the Weather Bureau, or, when such observations are not available, by a source found satisfactory by the Administrator.

2. Add new §§ 41.40610 and 61.710200 to read as follows:

Clearance weather information. The clearance shall contain or have attached thereto weather reports and weather forecasts for the destination and alternates specified therein, and it shall include such additional reports and forecasts considered necessary or desirable by the pilot and dispatcher. The reports shall be sufficient to indicate to the pilot the various types of weather to be encountered en route.

3. Add a new § 61.710201 to read as follows:

§ 61.710201 Additional clearance requirements. The dispatcher or duly authorized station personnel shall attach to or enter on the clearance all current reports or information pertaining to irregularities of navigational facilities and airport conditions which may affect the flight. He shall also inform the pilot, during flight, of any additional or different irregularities, and the flight shall be controlled accordingly.

4. Rescind §§ 61.60, 61.600, 61.601, 61.602, 61.603, 61.605, 61.7104, 61.71040, 61.71041, and 61.71042.

ARKANSAS LOUISIANA GAS CO.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

OCTOBER 18, 1948.

Notice is hereby given that on October 4, 1948, Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company (Applicant), a Delaware corporation with its principal office at Shreveport, Louisiana, filed an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, authorizing the construction and operation of the following described natural-gas pipeline facilities:

(1) Approximately 3.83 miles of 16-inch O. D. pipeline to replace a similar amount of 8⅝-inch O. D. pipeline being part of Applicant's Line AM-108 presently in place;

(2) An additional crossing of the Arkansas River at Little Rock, Arkansas, consisting of approximately 5,640 feet of 10¾-inch O. D. pipe, supplementing presently existing dual crossing Line AM-108;

(3) An additional scrubber installation at the Lynch Power Plant of the Arkansas Power and Light Company, in North Little Rock, Arkansas.

Applicant recites that the proposed construction will increase the capacity of its presently existing Line AM-108. Applicant states that Arkansas Power and Light Company is at present engaged in installing an additional 60,000 KW turbogenerator at its Lynch Power Plant at North Little Rock, Arkansas, thereby tripling the requirement for natural gas at this plant. In addition, Applicant states the proposed facilities will enable Applicant to more efficiently distribute the increased natural gas requirements of its customers in Little Rock, Arkansas, through a new town border station already installed on Line AM-108. Applicant states that at the pressures prevailing (approximately 150 pounds per square inch) at the point of connection on its Line LM-4 supplying Line AM-108, after completion of the proposed construction, Line AM-108 will be capable of delivering 1,250 Mcf per hour to the Lynch Power Plant, as against 420 Mcf per hour as at present.

The total estimated over-all capital cost of the proposed facilities is $149,164. Property of book cost of approximately $53,000 is to be removed, resulting in a net increase of approximately $96,000 in Applicant's plant and investment account. Arkansas Power and Light Company has agreed to advance Applicant $103,481 as a connection charge, to be refunded in accordance with the contract between the parties dated July 16, 1947.

Any interested State commission is requested to notify the Federal Power Commission whether the application should be considered under the cooperative provisions of § 1.37 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure and, if so, to advise the Federal Power Commission as to the nature of its interest in the matter and whether it desires a conference, the creation of a board, or a joint or concurrent hearing, together with reasons for such a request.

The application of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Company is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection. Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to the application shall file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington, D. C., not later than 15 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, a petition to intervene or protest. Such petition or protest shall conform to the requirements of § 1.8 or § 1.10, whichever is applicable, of the rules of practice and procedure.

Secretary.

(b) Loan settlement value. A settlement value for corn delivered in satisfaction of a loan will be established on the basis of grades determined under the Official Grain Standards of the United States for Corn.

(1) Corn grading No. 3, or No. 4 solely on the factor of test weight but otherwise grading No. 3, will have a settlement value equal to the basic loan rate set forth in paragraph (a) of this section.

(2) Premiums: Corn grading higher than No. 3 will have a settlement value determined by adding to the established rates in paragraph (a) of this section the following premiums:

Grade No. 1—One cent (1¢) per bushel.
Grade No. 2—One-half cent (½¢) per bushel.

(3) Discounts: The following discounts apply to corn delivered in satisfaction of a loan. Corn grading lower than No. 3 (except for No. 4 on test weight only) will have a settlement value determined by subtracting from the rates in paragraph (a) of this section the following discounts:

SCHEDULE OF DISCOUNTS FOR YELLOW, WHITE, AND MIXED CORN

[Grade No. 4—One cent (1¢) per bushel. Grade No. 5—Two cents (2¢) per bushel]

SAMPLE GRADE

Minimum test weight (pounds)	Moisture (per cent)	Total damaged (percent)	Heat damaged (percent)	Discount rate per bushel (cents)
44	17.5	15.1-19.9	5	3
44	17.5	20.0-24.9	5	4
44	17.5	25.0-29.9	5	6
44	17.5	30.0-34.9	5	8
44	17.5	35.0-50.0	5	10

Any lot of corn which grades "sample" solely on account of stones and/or cinders, or which is musty, or which has any commercially objectionable foreign odor, or cockle burrs, or rodent excreta, will be subject to a discount of one (1) cent per bushel. This one cent will be an additional discount if the corn otherwise grades "sample" due to any of the factors shown in the above schedule. Any lot of corn grading "weevily" will be subject to a discount of one-half (½) cent per bushel. This one-half cent discount will be in addition to any discount otherwise applicable.

The settlement value of corn grading sour or heating, or otherwise not coming within the classification of this schedule of discounts, shall be determined by Commodity Credit Corporation on the basis of the market price for such corn.

(c) Purchase rates. The basic purchase rates for States and counties where loans are available are the same as the basic loan rates. Basic purchase rates for the following States, where loans are not available, are as follows, except that the purchase rate on eligible corn grading "mixed" is 2 cents per bushel less.

State	Rate	State	Rate
Alabama	$1.66	North Carolina	$1.61
Arkansas	1.58	Oklahoma	1.43
Florida	1.59	South Carolina	1.63
Georgia	1.59	Texas	1.49
Louisiana	1.59	Virginia	1.61
Mississippi	1.62
New Mexico	1.56

The purchase price for corn delivered under a purchase agreement will be established on the basis of grades determined under the official grain standards of the United States for corn. In the case of corn stored in warehouses, whether terminal, subterminal, or at country points, the purchase rate will be that established for the county in which the elevator is located. No adjustment will be made in the purchase rate for freight paid in case of rail movement.

(1) Corn grading No. 3, or No. 4 solely on the factor of test weight but otherwise grading No. 3, will have a purchase price equal to the basic purchase rate.

(2) Premiums: Corn grading higher than No. 3 will have a purchase price determined by adding to the basic purchase rates the following premiums:

Grade No. 1—One cent (1¢) per bushel.
Grade No. 2—One-half cent (½¢) per bushel.

(d) Storage allowance. There shall be no storage allowance on corn under either the loan or purchase program.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter VIII—Production and Marketing Administration (Sugar Branch)

[Puerto Rico Sugar Order 18, Amdt. 1]

AMENDMENT TO DECISION AND ORDER ALLOTTING DIRECT CONSUMPTION PORTION OF 1948 SUGAR QUOTA FOR PUERTO RICO

Basis and purpose. This amendment is issued under section 205 (a) of the Sugar Act of 1948 (7 U. S. C., Supp. I, 1115 (a)) for the purpose of revising Puerto Rico Sugar Order 18 (13 F. R. 310) to reallot deficits in certain allottees' allotments and in the "unallotted reserve" for direct consumption sugar in raw form.

Except for a quantity of 5,169 short tons of sugar, raw value, set aside as an unallotted reserve for marketing of raw sugar for direct consumption, the direct consumption portion of the 1948 sugar quota for Puerto Rico, amounting to 126,033 short tons, raw value, was allotted to six Puerto Rican refiners in Puerto Rico Sugar Order 18. Three of the six allottees have notified the Department in writing that they will be unable to fill their 1948 allotments by an amount of 6,775 short tons of sugar, raw value. On the basis of this information, Central Aguirre, Central San Francisco, and Central Guanica will be unable to market their 1948 allotments by 2,863,752, and 3,160 short tons of sugar, raw value, respectively. The other three refiners have notified the Department that they will be able to fill their allotments during the calendar year 1948. Investigation also shows that of the 5,169 short tons of sugar, raw value, set aside under Order 18 as an unallotted reserve for direct consumption sugar in raw form, it is unlikely that more than 1,000 short tons will be brought into the continental United States during the calendar year 1948. In order to afford interested parties an opportunity to market the full amount of that portion of the Puerto Rican sugar quota which may be filled by direct consumption sugar, it is necessary to reallot this deficit in the "unallotted reserve."

Since section 205 (a) of the act requires that any amendment or revision of an allotment order be on the same basis as the original allotment was made, the Department has asked for and obtained from each of the interested parties a waiver of its right to a public hearing in regard to the amendment made herein. The deficits in question have, therefore, been allotted to Porto Rican American Refining Company, Central Roig, and Western Sugar Refining Company on the same basis used in the original allotment order.

In order to afford interested parties adequate opportunity to ship the additional sugar allotted herein, and to protect the interest of consumers of sugar, it is essential that the revised allotments be made effective as soon as possible. Accordingly, it is hereby found that compliance with the effective date requirement of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237) is impracticable and contrary to the public interest and this amendment shall become effective on the date of its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by section 205 (a) of the Sugar Act of 1948, paragraph (a) of § 821.51 of Puerto Rico Sugar Order 18 (13 F. R. 310) is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 825.1 Direct-consumption portion of the 1948 sugar quota for Puerto Rico—(a) Allotments. The direct consumption portion of the 1948 sugar quota for Puerto Rico (126,033 short tons, raw value) is hereby allotted to the following companies in the amounts which appear opposite their respective names:

Refiner	Direct consumption allotment (short tons, raw value)
Porto Rican American Sugar Refinery	87,092
Central Aguirre	2,428
Central Roig Refining Co	18,348
Western Sugar Refining Co. (Igualdad)	16,232
Central San Francisco	933
	125,033
Unallotted Reserve for Marketing of raw sugar for direct consumption	1,000
	126,033

Acting Secretary.

In the matter of Practical Nurses' Guild, Inc., a corporation; J. R. McLain, individually and as president of said corporation; and Elsie Hess, an individual.

This proceeding having been heard by the Federal Trade Commission upon the complaint of the Commission, the answers of respondents, testimony and other evidence taken before an examiner of the Commission theretofore duly designated by it, recommended decision of the trial examiner, and brief in support of the complaint (respondents not having filed briefs and oral argument not having been requested), and the Commission having made its findings as to the facts and its conclusion that respondents Practical Nurses' Guild and J. R. McLain have violated the provisions of the Federal Trade Commission Act:

It is ordered, That respondent Practical Nurses' Guild, a corporation, its officers, representatives, agents, and employees, and respondent J. R. McLain, individually and as president of the Practical Nurses' Guild, his agents, representatives, and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale, and distribution of courses of study or instruction in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

AUTHORITY: §§ 201.1 to 201.20 issued under secs. 332, 336, 337, 46 Stat. 698, 701, 703, sec. 22, 48 Stat. 773 as amended, sec. 504, 60 Stat. 156, secs. 3, 12, 60 Stat. 238; 19 U. S. C. 1332, 1336, 1337, 22 U. S. C. 1354, 5 U. S. C. 1002, 1011; Sec. 3, Pub. Law 897, 80th Cong.; E. O. 10004, Oct. 5, 1948, 13 F. R. 5851.

§ 201.1 Applicability of general rules. The Tariff Commission rules of general application apply to investigations under the provisions of sections 332 of the Tariff Act of 1930, and so far as pertinent to investigations under the provisions of sections 336 and 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (46 Stat. 698, 701, 703; 19 U. S. C. 1332, 1336, 1337), to investigations under section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act (of 1933), as amended (sec. 3, Pub. Law 897, 80th Cong.), to investigations under section 504 of the Philippine Trade Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 156; 22 U. S. C. 1354), to investigations under section 3 of the Trade Agreements Extension Act of 1948 (Pub. Law 792, 80th Cong.), and to investigations under Part III of Executive Order 10004, Oct. 5, 1948 (13 F. R. 5851). Rules having specific application to investigations under sections 336 and 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930, under section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, as amended, under section 504 of the Philippine Trade Act, under section 3 of the Trade Agreements Extension Act of 1948, and under Part III of Executive Order 10004, respectively, appear separately in Parts 202 to 207 of this chapter. In case of inconsistency between a rule of general application appearing in this part and a rule of special application in the other parts mentioned, the rule in Parts 202 to 207 is controlling. No rules governing investigations under section 338 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (46 Stat. 704; 19 U. S. C. 1338) are issued because such investigations, which concern questions of possible discrimination by foreign countries against the commerce of the United States, are of a nature requiring their conduct under cover of secrecy.

§ 201.2 Exercise of powers. The Commission may meet and exercise all its powers at any place and may designate any of its members or any duly authorized agent or agents to prosecute any inquiry necessary to its duties.

§ 201.3 Quorum. A majority of the Commissioners in office shall constitute a quorum.

§ 201.4 Suspension of rules. In an emergency or when in the judgment of the Commission the public interest requires it, the Commission may modify or suspend any of its rules of practice and procedure except such details of procedure as are expressly required by law. Whenever feasible, public notice of such suspension will be given.

§ 201.5 Matters of official record available to the public. The following information and reports (except confidential material) may be inspected by persons concerned, on request to the Secretary, either in the Tariff Commission Building, Washington 25, D. C., or if requested, in the New York office of the Tariff Commission, Customhouse, New York City.

(a) Applications for investigations; complaints of unfair practices in import trade; answers and other documents filed in opposition to such applications or complaints.

(b) Notices concerning investigations, including notices of institution of investigations, of hearings, and of disposition of investigations.

(c) Transcripts of testimony taken and exhibits submitted at hearings.

(d) Reports to the President on which the President has taken action.

(e) Reports made to either or both Houses of Congress or to Committees of Congress, after release by the body concerned.

(f) Reports and other documents issued for general distribution.

§ 201.6 Confidential information. (a) The following information and reports are held to be confidential for good cause found and are not available to public inspection:

(1) Reports to the President:

(i) Reports under section 3 of the Trade Agreements Extension Act of 1948 which have not been made public by either the Committee on Ways and Means of the House of Representatives or the Committee on Finance of the Senate.

(ii) Other reports which have not been acted upon by the President.

(2) Reports made to either or both Houses of Congress or to Committees of Congress which have not been made public by the body concerned.

(3) Reports containing confidential information, and reports prepared for the confidential use of other Government agencies.

(4) Confidential business data. Title 18, U. S. C., section 1905 (Pub. Law 772, 80th Cong.) imposes criminal penalties upon an officer or employee of the United States or of any department or agency thereof who discloses "in any manner or to any extent not authorized by law any information coming to him in the course of his employment or official duties or by reason of any examination or investigation made by, or return, report or record made to or filed with, such department or agency or officer or employee thereof, which information concerns or relates to the trade secrets, processes, operations, style of work, or apparatus, or to the identity, confidential statistical data, amount or source of any income, profits, losses, or expenditures of any person, firm, partnership, corporation, or association * * *."

(b) Information submitted to the Commission in confidence should be submitted on separate pages clearly marked "Confidential". The Commission may refuse to accept in confidence any particular information which it determines is not entitled to confidential treatment.

§ 201.7 Methods employed in obtaining information—(a) Questionnaires, correspondence, and field work. In obtaining information necessary to carry out its functions and duties, the Commission may employ any means authorized by law. It is the practice of the Commission to obtain much of its information through the use of questionnaires and correspondence, and through field work by duly authorized members of the Commission's staff who interview such manufacturers, farmers, distributors, importers, representatives of labor, consumers, and others, as may be necessary to obtain the required information. Official requests for information required by the Commission are made either in writing or orally, and responses are received either in writing or orally, depending upon the nature of the information requested and the use to be made of it.

(b) Informal conferences. The Commission encourages informal conferences either with members of the Commission or its staff, in all matters concerning its activities. Such conferences can be arranged by addressing a request to the Secretary of the Commission at its office in the Tariff Commission Building, Washington 25, D. C., stating the subject matter of the proposed conference and the reasons for the request.

(c) Formal hearings. In formal proceedings, the Commission obtains information from the evidence presented at hearings as well as through independent investigation by the Commission and its staff of experts.

§ 201.8 Applications for investigation under section 336 of the Tariff Act of 1930, under section 504 of the Philippine Trade Act of 1946, and under Part III of Executive Order 10004, and complaints under section 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930. (a) All applications for investigations under section 336 of the Tariff Act of 1930, under section 504 of the Philippine Trade Act of 1946, or under Part III of Executive Order 10004, and complaints under section 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930, must be filed with the Secretary, United States Tariff Commission, Washington 25, D. C.[1] However, requests for information concerning such matters may be filed with the New York office as well as with the Washington office.

(b) Receipt by the Commission of an application for investigation or of a complaint properly filed will be acknowledged by the Secretary of the Commission, and public notice of such receipt will be posted at the principal office of the Commission in Washington, D. C., and at its New York office, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER and the weekly Treasury Decisions of the Treasury Department. This public notice will set forth the name or description of the commodity concerned, the date of receipt, the purpose of the application or complaint, and the name of the applicant or complainant. Similar public notice will be given regarding the withdrawal or dismissal of applications or complaints. Copies of the notices referred to in this paragraph will be mailed to all persons named in the application or complaint concerned.

(c) From the time of posting notice of the receipt of an application or of a complaint, such application or complaint, except for confidential material, will be made available for public inspection at the office of the Commission in Washington, D. C., where it may be read and copied by persons interested.

(d) Applications and complaints may be withdrawn as a matter of course at any time before an investigation pursuant thereto has been ordered by the Commission, but, even if an application or complaint shall have been withdrawn, the Commission may order an investigation if in its judgment the public interest so requires. The Commission may also in special cases and for adequate cause allow the withdrawal of an application or complaint after an investigation has been ordered, but the investigation may be continued if deemed by the Commission to be in the public interest. Investigations may be terminated short of formal completion when, in the judgment of the Commission, the public interest so requires.

(e) The Commission will notify the applicant or complainant of its decision to order or not to order the investigation requested. In reaching its decision, the Commission will take into consideration the information furnished by the applicant or complainant, the information assembled by its staff, and the information furnished by other persons either in favor of or opposed to the institution of an investigation.

§ 201.9 Scope of investigation. In ordering an investigation, the Commission will not be confined to the commodity or commodities covered by an application or a complaint but may broaden, limit, or modify the scope of the investigation.

§ 201.10 Public notice of investigations. Public notice will be given of every formal investigation under sections 336 and 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930, under section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act (of 1933), as amended, under section 504 of the Philippine Trade Act of 1946, under section 3 of the Trade Agreements Extension Act of 1948, and under Part III of Executive Order 10004, by posting a copy of the notice at the principal office of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and at its office in New York City, and by publishing a copy of the notice in Treasury Decisions and in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Subsequent notices concerning the investigations will be given in the same manner. Copies of notices will also be sent to press associations, trade and similar organizations of producers, and to importers' organizations.

§ 201.11 Public hearings. (a) Hearings are required by law in the case of investigations under sections 336 and 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930, under section 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, under section 504 of the Philippine Trade Act of 1946, under section 3 of the Trade Agreements Extension Act of 1948, and under Part III of Executive Order 10004. No public hearing is required in general investigations under section 332 of the Tariff Act of 1930; however, when determined by the Commission to be appropriate and feasible, hearings will be held in such investigations.

(b) Public notice will be given of the time and place set for all hearings, in the same manner that notice is given of an investigation. Announcement of hearing will ordinarily be made 30 days in advance of the date set.

(c) Hearings will be conducted in accordance with the rules set forth in § 201.14.

§ 201.12 Appearances. (a) Any person showing to the satisfaction of the Commission an interest in the subject matter of an investigation may enter an appearance in such investigation, either in person or by representative, at any time before the close of the public hearing relating to the matter involved. Persons participating as witnesses only are not expected to enter appearances.

(b) Requests to enter an appearance shall be filed in writing with the Secretary of the Commission at its office in Washington, D. C., or at any other place where a hearing is held. Attorneys or agents desiring to appear for any interested person or persons shall file written notice to that effect.

(c) No register of attorneys or agents who may practice before the Commission is maintained. No application for admission to practice is required. Any person desiring to appear as attorney or agent before the Commission may be required to show to the satisfaction of the Commission his acceptability in that capacity. Any attorney or agent practicing before the Commission, or desiring so to practice, may for good cause shown be suspended or disbarred from practicing before the Commission, but only after he has been accorded an opportunity to be heard in the matter.

(d) No former officer or employee of the Commission who has, as such officer or employee, given personal consideration to an investigation (including preliminary inquiries prior to the institution of an investigation) shall be eligible to appear as attorney or agent before the Commission in such investigation. No former officer or employee of the Commission shall be eligible to appear as attorney or agent before the Commission within 2 years after the termination of such employment unless he has first obtained written consent from the Commission.

§ 201.13 Rehearings, additional hearings, postponements, continuances, and extensions of time. The Commission may in its discretion for good cause shown grant rehearings, additional hearings, postponements, or continuances of hearings, or extend the time for doing any act required by or pursuant to these rules. Motions or requests for postponements or extensions of time must be filed at least 10 days in advance of the time previously prescribed. Motions for additional hearing or rehearing must be filed within a reasonable time after the Commission's decision in the particular matter. The Commission may on its own motion order such rehearings, additional hearings, postponements, or continuances of hearings as it may deem necessary for a full presentation of the facts in any investigation.

§ 201.14 Conduct of public hearings. (a) Hearings are conducted by one or more Commissioners, and the record shall be presented for the consideration of the Commission.

(b) Parties interested may appear at public hearings, either in person or by representative, and produce, under oath, oral or written evidence relevant and material to the subject matter of the investigation. Publications of the United States Government, particularly reports of the Tariff Commission, need not be offered in evidence because the Commission will take notice of them as public documents. Reference may be made to a public document by its title and particular page.

CROSS REFERENCE: For rule regarding submission of confidential information, see § 201.6 (b).

(c) After offering evidence, witnesses may be questioned under the direction of the Commission by any member of the Commission, or by any agent designated by the Commission, or by any person who has entered an appearance, for the purpose of assisting the Commission in obtaining the material facts with respect to the subject matter of the investigation.

(d) Evidence, oral or written, submitted at hearings, will upon the order of the Commission be subject to verification from the books, papers, and records of the parties submitting the same and from any other available sources.

(e) All hearings are stenographically reported. The Commission does not distribute transcripts of the records of such hearings. Parties interested may inspect them at the Commission's office in Washington, D. C., or purchase them from the official reporter.

§ 201.15 Witnesses and subpenas. (a) Unless otherwise ordered by the Commission, witnesses shall be examined orally.

(b) The attendance of witnesses and the production of documentary evidence may be required from any place in the United States at any designated place of hearing.

(c) Any member of the Commission may sign subpenas, and members and agents of the Commission, when authorized by the Commission, may administer oaths and affirmations, examine witnesses, take testimony, and receive evidence.

(d) Subpenas for the attendance of witnesses or for the production of documentary evidence will be issued at the request of any person who has entered an appearance in an investigation in accordance with § 201.12, upon application in writing and determination by the Commission of the general relevance and reasonable scope of the evidence sought. Such application shall be addressed to the Commission, and shall include a statement as to the nature, relevance, and scope of the testimony sought, and, in the case of documentary evidence, an adequate specification of the documents desired.

CROSS REFERENCE: For rule regarding expenses see § 201.16.

For rule regarding service of process, see § 201.19.

§ 201.16 Witness fees and mileage. (a) Witnesses summoned before the Commission shall be paid the same fees and mileage that are paid witnesses in the courts of the United States, and witnesses whose depositions are taken and the persons taking them, except employees of the Commission, shall severally be entitled to the same fees and mileage as are paid for like service in the courts of the United States.

(b) When witnesses are summoned or depositions are taken at the request of a party interested, such party shall bear all expenses involved.

§ 201.17 Depositions. (a) The Commission may order testimony to be taken by deposition at any stage of an investigation. Depositions may be taken before any person having power to administer oaths and designated by the Commission. Such testimony shall be reduced to writing by the person taking the deposition, or under his direction, and shall then be subscribed by the deponent and certified in the usual manner by the person taking the deposition. After the deposition has been so certified it shall, together with a copy thereof made by such person or under his direction, be forwarded under seal to the Secretary of the Commission, Washington 25, D. C., and shall constitute a part of the record in such investigation. A sufficient number of additional copies of depositions must be furnished so that testimony so produced will be available to parties interested.

(b) Briefs of the evidence given by deposition and arguments thereon may be filed in the same manner as briefs of testimony given at a public hearing.

(c) Any person may be compelled to appear and depose and to produce documentary evidence under this section in the same manner that witnesses may be compelled to appear and testify and produce documentary evidence before the Commission.

CROSS REFERENCE: For provision regarding expenses, see § 201.16 (b).

§ 201.18 Oral argument. Oral argument may, in the discretion of the Commission, be heard upon the conclusion of the testimony in a hearing. The Commission will determine in each instance the time to be allowed for argument and the allocation thereof to the parties interested.

§ 201.19 Service of process. (a) Except when service by other methods shall be specifically ordered by the Commission, processes of the Commission, service of which is required by law or by the Commission's rules, shall be served by the Secretary of the Commission by mailing a copy thereof, registered, to the person to be served, or to a member of the partnership to be served, or to the president, secretary, or other executive officer or a director of the corporation to be served. Complaints and findings under section 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930 shall be similarly served.

(b) When service cannot be accomplished by registered mail or whenever the Commission shall so direct, processes of the Commission may be served by any one duly authorized by a Commissioner (1) by delivering a copy of the document to the person to be served, or to a member of the partnership to be served, or to the president, secretary, or other executive officer or a director of the corporation to be served; or (2) by leaving a copy thereof at the principal office of such person, partnership, or corporation.

(c) The return post office receipt for such processes, registered and mailed as aforesaid, or the verified return by the person serving such processes, setting forth the manner of said service, shall be proof of the service of the document.

§ 201.20 Authority to make decisions not delegated. (a) Authority to interpret the laws applying to the Tariff Commission and the rules adopted thereunder is retained in the Commission itself.

(b) Authority to make findings, recommendations, and reports authorized by law is retained in the Commission itself.

PART 202—INVESTIGATIONS AS TO COSTS OF PRODUCTION

Sec.
202.1 Applicability of rules under section 336.
202.2 Applications.
202.3 Type of information to be developed at hearing.

[1] Under Executive Order 7233 of November 23, 1935 (7 CFR 900.501), applications for investigations under sec. 22 of the Agricultural Adjustment Act (of 1933) as amended, must be filed with the Secretary of Agriculture. See Part 204 of this chapter.

Sec.
202.4 Briefs.
202.5 Reports.

AUTHORITY: §§ 202.1 to 202.5 issued under sec. 336, 46 Stat. 701; 19 U. S. C. 1336.

§ 202.1 Applicability of rules under section 336. The rules under this part are specifically applicable to investigations for the purposes of section 336 of the Tariff Act of 1930 (46 Stat. 701; 19 U. S. C. 1336), and apply in addition to the pertinent rules of general application set forth in Part 201 of this chapter.

§ 202.2 Applications. (a) Applications for an investigation for the purposes of section 336 may be made by any person, partnership, association, or corporation.

(b) Applications for investigation should be typewritten or printed and five clear copies must be submitted, but applications need not be drawn in any particular form and need not be under oath. Applications must be signed by or on behalf of the applicant and should state the name, address, and nature of business of the applicant.

(c) Applications must clearly state that they are requests for investigations and must name or describe the commodity concerning which an investigation is sought. They should also refer to the tariff provision or provisions applicable to such commodity and should state whether an increase or a decrease in the rate of duty is sought.

(d) The applicant must file with his application such supporting information as may be in his possession. The filing of such information is required to aid the Commission in determining whether to order the investigation, and does not render unnecessary the investigation itself. As far as practicable, information of the character indicated below should be furnished:

(1) Comparability of the domestic and foreign articles and the degree of competition between them.

(2) Trend of domestic production and sales and trend of imports.

(3) Trend of cost of production and prices in recent years.

(4) Evidence of difference between domestic and foreign costs of production of the articles involved. (When considered with reference to section 336, the term "cost of production" includes transportation costs and other costs incident to the delivery of the articles to the principal market or markets of the United States.)

(5) Areas of greatest competition between the imported and domestic products and the principal market or markets in the United States.

(6) Other relevant factors that constitute, in the opinion of the applicant, an advantage or disadvantage in competition, and any other information which the applicant believes the Commission should consider.

CROSS REFERENCE: For rule regarding submission of confidential information, see § 201.6 (b) of this chapter.

§ 202.3 Type of information to be developed at hearing. (a) Without excluding other factors, but with a view to assisting parties interested to present information necessary for the formulation of findings required by the statute, the Commission will expect attention in the hearing to be concentrated upon facts relating to:

(1) The competitive strength of the foreign and domestic articles in the markets of the United States.

(2) The degree of likeness or similarity between grades, classes, and price groups of the American product and the imported article.

(3) Costs of production and importation. Statements of average cost of production, domestic and, so far as known, foreign, may be submitted subject to verification and review in the Commission's investigation. Such statements should include not only the direct costs for materials and labor, commonly termed prime cost, but also indirect costs such as indirect labor, overhead factory expenses, fixed charges, the portion of general and administrative expense chargeable to manufacture, interest on investment equity, and transportation to markets. For the foreign product the expenses (other than duties) incident to importation are also important. Any information which may be available bearing on the general levels of domestic and foreign costs of production, the differentials between domestic and foreign producers as to particular elements of cost, and the extent to which invoice or wholesale prices are reliable evidence of foreign costs, will be pertinent.

(4) Other significant advantages or disadvantages in competition.

CROSS REFERENCE: For rule regarding submission of confidential information, see § 201.6 (b) of this chapter.

(b) The Commission also seeks information to determine: (1) Principal competing country. (2) Principal American market or markets. (3) Representative period of time for cost inquiry.

(c) Finally, parties interested appearing at public hearings are expected to present definite information rather than generalities and conjectures.

CROSS REFERENCE: For rules regarding public notice of investigation and hearings, see §§ 201.10, 201.11 of this chapter.

§ 202.4 Briefs. Briefs of the evidence produced at the hearing and arguments thereon may be presented to the Commission by parties interested who have entered an appearance. Unless otherwise ordered, 10 clear copies typed, mimeographed, multigraphed, or printed shall be filed with the Secretary of the Commission within 10 days after the close of the hearing.

CROSS REFERENCE: For rules regarding briefs of evidence given by deposition, see § 201.17 (b) of this chapter.

§ 202.5 Reports. After the completion of its investigation, the Commission will incorporate its findings in a report and the report will be transmitted to the President.

§ 203.4 Answers to complaints. After an investigation shall have been ordered, and not before, a copy of the complaint will be served by the Commission upon any owner, importer, or consignee, or the agent of any of them, alleged to violate the provisions of section 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930, and such owner, importer, consignee, or agent, shall have 30 days, unless otherwise ordered, in which to make written answer under oath and to show cause, if any there be, why the provisions of section 337 of the Tariff Act of 1930 should not be applied in respect of the alleged unfair methods of competition and unfair acts set forth in the complaint.

Copies of all answers will be served by the Commission upon complainants or upon their attorneys.

The Commission reserves the right to determine whether to send copies of complaints to respondents in foreign countries.

(b) Attention is directed to the provision of section 337 (c) authorizing rehearings by the Commission on questions of either fact or law and appeals by the importer or consignee within 60 days to the United States Court of Customs and Patent Appeals upon a question or questions of law only. If no appeal is filed within the time prescribed and no rehearing granted, or if appeal is filed or rehearing granted and the Commission's findings are ultimately affirmed, the findings are then considered final.

(c) Applications must clearly state that they are requests for investigation and must name or describe the commodity concerning which the investigation is sought.

(d) The applicant must file with his application supporting information in his possession. The filing of such information is requested to aid the Commission in determining whether to order an investigation, and does not render unnecessary the investigation itself. As far as practicable, information of the character indicated below should be furnished.

(1) Comparability of the Philippine articles in question with products of the United States with which they are considered competitive, and the degree of competition between them.

(2) Trend of domestic production and sales and trend of imports of the particular Philippine articles.

(3) Areas of greatest competition between domestic products and the particular Philippine articles and the principal market or markets in the United States.

(4) Other relevant factors that constitute, in the opinion of the applicant, an advantage or disadvantage in competition, and any other information which the applicant believes the Commission should consider.

§ 205.3 Type of information to be developed at hearing. (a) Without excluding other factors, but with a view to assisting parties interested to present information necessary for the formulation of findings required by the statute, the Commission will expect attention in the hearing to be concentrated upon facts relating to:

(1) The competitive strength in the markets of the United States of the Philippine articles as compared with the like domestic products.

(2) The degree of likeness or similarity between grades, classes, and price groups of the Philippine articles and the like domestic products.

(3) The point (in terms of quantity) at which imports of the Philippine articles come or are likely to come into substantial competition with like products of the United States.

(4) The amount of the Philippine articles which (during the 12 months ending on the last day of the month preceding the month in which occurs the date of the beginning of the investigation) was entered, or withdrawn from warehouse, in the United States for consumption.

(5) Other significant factors concerning conditions of competition between the Philippine article and the like domestic article.

(b) Finally, parties appearing at public hearings are expected to present definite information rather than generalities and conjectures.

§ 205.4 Reports. After the completion of its investigation, the Commission will incorporate its findings in a report and include in its report a statement of the steps taken in the investigation. The report will be transmitted to the President and copies will be sent to each House of the Congress.

PART 206—INVESTIGATIONS REGARDING PRODUCTS ON WHICH POSSIBLE TARIFF CONCESSIONS WILL BE CONSIDERED IN TRADE-AGREEMENT NEGOTIATIONS

Sec.
206.1 Applicability of rules under section 3, Trade Agreements Extension Act of 1948.
206.2 Purpose of investigation.
206.3 Public notice of investigation.
206.4 Public hearings.
206.5 Briefs.
206.6 Reports.

AUTHORITY: §§ 206.1 to 206.6 issued under Sec. 3, Trade Agreements Extension Act of 1948 (Pub. Law 792, 80th Cong.); E. O. 10004, Oct. 5, 1948 (13 F. R. 5851).

§ 206.1 Applicability of rules under section 3, Trade Agreements Extension Act of 1948. The rules under Part 206 are specifically applicable to investigations for the purposes of section 3 of the Trade Agreements Extension Act of 1948 and apply in addition to the pertinent rules of general application set forth in Part 201 of this chapter.

§ 206.2 Purpose of investigation. The purpose of an investigation under section 3 of the Trade Agreements Extension Act of 1948 is to determine, with respect to each import article to be considered in trade-agreement negotiations for possible modification of duties and other import restrictions, imposition of additional import restrictions, or continuance of existing customs or excise treatment (a) the limit to which such modification, imposition, or continuance may be extended in order to carry out the purpose of the Trade Agreements Act of 1934, as amended, without causing or threatening serious injury to the domestic industry producing like or similar articles; and (b) the minimum increases in duties or additional import restrictions required in cases where increases in duties or additional import restrictions are required to avoid serious injury to the domestic industry producing like or similar articles.

§ 206.3 Public notice of investigation. Public notice of an investigation for the purpose of section 3 of the Trade Agreements Extension Act of 1948 will be announced by posting a copy of the notice, and the list of products to be covered by the investigation, at the principal office of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and at its office in New York City; by publishing a copy of the notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER and in Treasury Decisions. Copies of the notice will also be sent to press associations, trade and similar organizations of producers, and to importers' organizations. Copies of the notice and the list of products to be covered by the investigation will be mailed on request to parties interested.

§ 206.4 Public hearings.—(a) Public notice. In the course of an investigation pursuant to section 3 of the Trade Agreements Extension Act of 1948, the Commission will hold public hearings. Notice will be given of the time and place set for all hearings in the same manner as notice is given of the investigation. Announcement of hearing will ordinarily be made 30 days in advance of the date set.

(b) Appearances at hearings. Parties interested may appear at public hearings, either in person or by representative, and produce, under oath, oral or written evidence relevant and material to the subject matter of the investigation.

(c) Written statements. Since public hearings are only a part of the investigation, and the Commission's findings are based on the information obtained at public hearings as well as other information which it may obtain in the course of the investigation, persons who cannot appear at public hearings but who desire to supply written information relevant and material to the subject matter of the investigation may do so by submitting five clear copies of the written statement, one of which shall be sworn to. No special form for presentation of written views is prescribed. Written statements so submitted will be given the same consideration as testimony presented at the hearing, and, except for confidential material, will be open to public inspection. Because the Commission's report to the President must be completed within 120 days after the start of the investigation, written statements not submitted at the hearing can be assured consideration only if received by the Commission before the close of the public hearing.

(d) Official notice of Government publications. Publications of the United States Government, especially reports of the Tariff Commission, need not be offered in evidence because the Commission will take notice of them as public documents. Extensive excerpts from such publications, particularly data regarding United States production, exports, or imports, should not be included in statements to the Commission either at the hearing or otherwise, but should be referred to by citing the title and page number of the pertinent publication.

CROSS REFERENCES: For rule regarding conduct of public hearings, see § 201.14 of this chapter.

For rule regarding official notice by Commission of public documents, see § 201.14 of this chapter.

(e) Confidential information. All information submitted in confidence should be submitted on separate pages clearly marked "Confidential." The Commission may refuse to accept in confidence any particular information which it determines is not entitled to confidential treatment.

CROSS REFERENCE: For general rule regarding confidential information, see § 201.6 of this chapter.

(f) Type of information to be developed at hearing or in written statements. Without excluding other factors, but with a view to assisting parties interested to present information necessary for the formulation of findings required by the statute, the Commission will expect attention to be concentrated on facts relating to:

(1) Trends of domestic production, sales, and imports for the articles in question, including data on recent developments.

(2) The competitive strength of the foreign article and the like or similar domestic article in the markets of the United States during a period which is representative of conditions of competition between such articles.

(3) Geographic areas of greatest competition between the domestic and the imported product and the principal market or markets in the United States.

(4) Costs of production of the foreign and the domestic article during the period specified under (2) and trend in costs of importation of the imported article.

(5) Additional information of a factual character bearing on the competitive position of the domestic industry.

§ 206.5 Briefs. Briefs of the evidence produced at the hearing and arguments thereon may be presented to the Commission by parties interested who have entered an appearance. Unless otherwise ordered, 10 clear copies typed, mimeographed, multigraphed, or printed shall be filed with the Secretary of the Commission within 10 days after the close of the hearing.

§ 206.6 Reports. The Commission will report to the President its findings in the investigation not later than 120 days after the receipt by the Commission from the President of the list of products to be covered by the investigation.

Section 5 of the Trade Agreements Extension Act provides that within 30 days after a trade agreement has been entered into which does not comply with the limits or minimum requirements specified in the findings reported to the President by the Tariff Commission, the President shall transmit a copy of such agreement to the Congress, whereupon the Tariff Commission must deposit with the Committee on Ways and Means of the House of Representatives and the Committee on Finance of the Senate, a copy of its report to the President with respect to such agreement. The Tariff Commission is required by paragraph 5 of Executive Order 10004 to keep confidential any portion of its report to the President which has not been made public by one or both of the committees referred to. Otherwise no part of the report may be disclosed by the Tariff Commission at any time.

PART 207—INVESTIGATIONS OF INJURY TO DOMESTIC PRODUCERS RESULTING FROM TRADE-AGREEMENT CONCESSIONS

Sec.
207.1 Applicability of rules under Executive Order 10004.
207.2 Purpose of investigation.
207.3 Applications.
207.4 Confidential information.
207.5 Public notice of investigation.
207.6 Public hearings.
207.7 Reports.

AUTHORITY: §§ 207.1 to 207.7 issued under Part III, E. O. 10004, Oct. 5, 1948, 13 F. R. 5851.

§ 207.1 Applicability of rules under Executive Order 10004. The rules under this part are specifically applicable to investigations for the purposes of Part III of Executive Order 10004 dated October 5, 1948 (13 F. R. 5851) and apply in addition to the pertinent rules of general application set forth in Part 201 of this chapter.

§ 207.2 Purpose of investigation. The purpose of an investigation under Part III of Executive Order 10004 is to determine whether, as a result of unforeseen developments and of a concession granted on any article by the United States in a trade agreement containing a clause such as that prescribed in paragraph 10 of Part III of Executive Order 10004,[1] such article is being imported in such increased quantities and under such conditions as to cause or threaten serious injury to the domestic industry producing like or similar articles.

§ 207.3 Applications. (a) Applications for an investigation for the purposes of Part III of Executive Order 10004 may be made by any interested person, partnership, association, or corporation, and must be filed with the Secretary, United States Tariff Commission, Washington 25, D. C. Receipt by the Commission of an application for investigation, properly filed, will be acknowledged by the Secretary, and public notice of such receipt will be posted at the principal office of the Commission in Washington, D. C., and at its New York office, and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER, and in the weekly Treasury Decisions of the Treasury Department. Copies of notices will also be sent to press associations, trade and similar organizations of producers, and to importers known to the Commission to have an interest in the subject matter of the application. Such applications, except for confidential material, will be available for public inspection at the office of the Commission in Washington, D. C., or in the New York office of the Tariff Commission, Customhouse, New York City 4, N. Y., where they may be read and copied by persons interested. If the Tariff Commission orders an investigation, notice of such order will be posted and published in accordance with § 207.5. Notice of decision not to order an investigation will be posted and published in the same manner as notice of receipt of an application under this section. The Commission will notify the applicant of its decision to order or not to order the investigation requested.

(b) Applications for investigations should be typewritten or printed, and five clear copies must be submitted, but applications need not be drawn in any particular form and need not be under oath. Applications must be signed by or on behalf of the applicant and should state the name, address, and nature of business of the applicant.

(c) Applications must clearly state that they are requests for investigations and must name or describe the commodity or commodities concerning which an investigation is sought. They must also refer to the trade-agreement provision or provisions applicable to such commodity.

(d) The applicant must file with his application such supporting information as may be in his possession or is readily available. The filing of such information is required to aid the Commission in determining whether the circumstances warrant an investigation under Executive Order 10004, and does not render unnecessary the investigation itself. In other words, the application is preliminary to and not a substitute for the investigation which the Tariff Commission is required to make in appropriate circumstances. As far as practicable, information of the character indicated in this paragraph should be furnished:

(1) Information on imports, production, sales, and exports, of the product covered by the application, by months, for the years 1937, 1939, and 1946, and subsequent periods.
(i) Imports (quantity and value).
(ii) Production (quantity).
(a) By the applicant.
(b) By the domestic industry.
(iii) Sales (quantity and value).
(a) By the applicant.
(b) By the domestic industry.
(iv) Exports (quantity and value).
(a) By the applicant.
(b) By the domestic industry.

(2) Direct labor engaged in the domestic production of the product covered by the application, including the number of persons employed during a normal period of operation in a representative prewar year, in 1946, and at the time application is filed:
(i) By the applicant.
(ii) By the industry as a whole.

(3) Relation of income from the sales of product covered by the application to total receipts from all products produced by the applicant for a representative pre-

[1] Paragraph numbered 10 of the Executive Order (which was issued to implement the Trade Agreements Act of June 12, 1934, as amended by the Trade Agreements Extension Act of 1948) is as follows: "There shall be applicable to each concession with respect to an article imported into the United States which is granted by the United States in any trade agreement hereafter entered into, a clause providing in effect that if, as a result of unforeseen developments and of such concession, such article is being imported in such increased quantities and under such conditions as to cause or threaten serious injury to the domestic industry producing like or similar articles, the United States shall be free to withdraw the concession, in whole or in part, or to modify it, to the extent and for such time as may be necessary to prevent such injury."

war year and for 1946 and subsequent period.

(4) Comparability of the domestic and the foreign article and the degree of competition between them both prior and subsequent to the effective date of the trade-agreement concession.

(5) The nature and extent of injury to the domestic producer which is alleged to be caused or threatened by reason of unforeseen developments and the concession in the trade agreement.

(6) Geographic areas in which the competition between the domestic and the foreign article is most intensive.

(7) Additional information of factual character, such as: Profits and losses; changes in price structures; tax burden; wages and other costs; effects of subsidies, and price-support programs; and similar data that show the applicant's competitive position.

(e) Upon acceptance of an application by the Commission, the facts set forth therein will be carefully considered together with other pertinent information which the Commission may have available in its files, or which it may obtain from other sources, in order to determine whether an investigation is warranted.

(f) The Commission encourages informal conferences either with members of the Commission or its staff with regard to filing applications under Executive Order 10004 as well as any other matters. Such conferences can be arranged by addressing a request to the Secretary of the Commission at its office in the Tariff Commission Building, Washington 25, D. C., stating the subject matter of the proposed conference and the reasons for the request. Most of the statistical material relating to United States production and trade referred to in paragraph (d) of this section may be found in publications of the United States Departments of Agriculture, Commerce, Interior, and Labor, which are generally available both at the Washington headquarters and at the field offices of those Departments, as well as in the larger public libraries and university and state libraries.

§ 207.4 Confidential information. All information submitted in confidence should be submitted on separate pages clearly marked "Confidential." The Commission may refuse to accept in confidence any particular information which it determines is not entitled to confidential treatment.

CROSS REFERENCE: For general rule regarding confidential information, see § 201.6 of this chapter.

§ 207.5 Public notice of investigation. Public notice of an investigation ordered by the Commission under Part III of Executive Order 10004 will be given by posting a copy of the notice at the principal office of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and at its office in New York City; by publishing a copy of the notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER; and by an announcement regarding the notice in Treasury Decisions. Copies of notices will also be sent to press associations, trade and similar organizations of producers, and to importers known to the Commission to have an interest in the subject matter of the investigation.

§ 207.6 Public hearings.—(a) Public notice. In the course of an investigation ordered for the purpose of Part III of Executive Order 10004, the Commission will hold public hearings. Public notice will be given of the time and place set for all hearings, in the same manner as notice is given of an order instituting investigations. Announcement of hearing will ordinarily be made 30 days in advance of the date set.

CROSS REFERENCE: For rule regarding conduct of public hearings, see § 201.14 of this chapter.

(b) Type of information to be developed at hearing. Without excluding other factors, but with a view to assisting parties interested to present information necessary for the formulation of findings and recommendations required by Part III of Executive Order 10004, the Commission will expect attention in the hearing to be concentrated upon the facts relating to:

(1) The competitive strength of the foreign and domestic article in the markets of the United States during a representative period prior and subsequent to the granting of the trade-agreement concession.

(2) Costs of production of the foreign and domestic article during a representative period prior and subsequent to the granting of the trade-agreement concession, and costs of importation of the foreign article during similar periods.

(3) Developments since the granting of the trade-agreement concession which constitute advantages or disadvantages in competition between the domestic and the foreign article in the markets of the United States.

Finally, parties interested appearing at public hearings are expected to present definite information rather than generalities and conjectures.

§ 207.7 Reports. If the Commission finds in its investigation that, as a result of unforeseen developments and of a concession granted in a trade agreement, imports are in such increased quantities and under such conditions as to cause or threaten serious injury to the domestic industry, it will report its findings to the President with appropriate recommendations for the withdrawal or modification of the concession to the extent found necessary for the prevention of such injury. Such report is submitted for the President's consideration "in the light of the public interest." Presidential authority to increase duties and impose such additional import restrictions as are required or appropriate to carry out a foreign trade agreement is provided for in the Trade Agreements Act of 1934, as amended. (Section 350, Tariff Act of 1930, as amended, 19 U. S. C. 1351.) In the absence of such a finding by the Commission, notice of dismissal of the investigation will be published in the same manner as the notice ordering the investigation under § 207.5. The Commission will also issue a statement of the reasons for the dismissal.

Chairman,
United States Tariff Commission.

Issued this 20th day of October 1948.

ED DUPREE,

Statement To Accompany Amendment 45 to the Controlled Housing Rent Regulation

It is the judgment of the Housing Expediter that the need for continuing maximum rents in that portion of Carmi Defense-Rental Area, State of Illinois, which is outside the City of Carmi, Illinois, no longer exists due to the fact that the demand for rental housing accommodations has been reasonably met. This amendment is therefore being issued to decontrol said portion of said Defense-Rental Area in accordance with section 204 (c) of the Housing and Rent Act of 1947, as amended.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act, approved June 11, 1946, that the regulations set forth in tentative form below are proposed to be prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue and the Commissioner of Narcotics, with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury. Prior to the final adoption of such regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing in duplicate to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue or to the Commissioner of Narcotics, Washington 25, D. The proposed regulations are to be issued under the authority contained in sections 2551, 2559, and 2606 of the Internal Revenue Code (53 Stat. 270, 277, 283; 26 U. S. C. 2551, 2559, 2606).

[SEAL] H. J. ANSLINGER,
Commissioner of Narcotics.
GEO. J. SCHOENEMAN,
Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Narcotic Regulations No. 5 amended to provide a third copy of narcotic order forms, and to eliminate the reporting of certain detailed information in monthly narcotic returns of manufacturers and wholesalers.

Narcotic Regulations 5 (26 CFR, Part 151) relating to narcotics subject to the Harrison Narcotic Law, but only as prescribed and made applicable to the Internal Revenue Code by Treasury Decision 4884, approved February 11, 1939 (26 CFR, Cum. Supp., p. 5875) are amended as follows:

PARAGRAPH 1. Article 64 (26 CFR 151.64) is amended to read as follows:

§ 151.64 Manner of procurement. A person desiring and entitled to receive order forms should submit requisition on Form 679 to the collector of the district in which he is doing business. The order forms are issued in books each containing 10 sets of original, duplicate and triplicate forms. Blank requisitions, Form 679, may be obtained from the collector and a replacement requisition blank is included in each book of forms. Each requisition shall show the taxpayer's name, address, registry number and class, and the number of books of order forms desired. A charge of 10 cents is made for each book of order forms, and the requisition should be accompanied by remittance of the proper amount in the form of certified check, cash or money order.

PAR. 2. Article 69 (26 CFR 151.69) is amended to read as follows:

§ 151.69 Execution of forms. Order forms are issued in triplicate and shall be executed in triplicate. They are arranged to permit the execution of the original, duplicate and triplicate simultaneously by means of interleaved carbon sheets. The original and the triplicate, together with the intervening carbon sheet must be furnished to the consignor, but shall not leave the possession of the person executing the order until the duplicate is made.

The attachment of extra sheets to order forms is not permitted. If one order form is not sufficient to include all the items of an order an additional form or forms shall be used. The order forms are intended solely to cover dispositions of taxable narcotic drugs and preparations to registered persons. They shall not in any case be used as prescriptions.

PAR. 3. Article 75 (26 CFR 151.75) is amended by striking from the first sentence thereof the number "10" and inserting in lieu of such number the number "5."

PAR. 4. Article 82 (26 CFR 151.82) is amended by inserting in the last sentence thereof immediately following the word "original" the words "and triplicate".

PAR. 5. Article 86 (26 CFR 151.86) is amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

§ 151.86 Endorsements. An order form made out to a Class I or Class II registrant who can not fill it may be indorsed in the spaces provided for that purpose on the reverse sides of the original and triplicate forms and referred by him to another such registrant for filling.

PAR. 6. Article 88 (26 CFR 151.88) is amended to read as follows:

§ 151.88 Filing of orders. The duplicate shall be kept on file by the vendee for at least two years. The original shall be filed and preserved for a like period by the vendor. The triplicate shall be forwarded by the vendor at the close of the month during which it is filled to the Narcotics District Supervisor for the district in which the vendor is located. Where an order is only partially filled during one month and other items thereon are to be supplied during a following month, as provided in § 151.82, the triplicate should be retained by the vendor and forwarded to the district supervisor at the close of the month during which the final shipment is made or during which the 60-day validity period expires.

Any order form which is improperly executed or mutilated so as to make it unusable, shall not be destroyed, but all copies shall be kept on file with the other duplicates.

PAR. 7. Article 89 (26 CFR 151.89) is amended to read as follows:

§ 151.89 Lost and stolen order forms. If a purchaser ascertains that an original unfilled order has been lost, he shall execute another in triplicate and an affidavit stating that the goods covered by the first order were not received through loss of the order, and shall note on the second order the number and date of the lost order and the fact that it was lost. The duplicate of the second order and the affidavit shall be filed with the duplicate of the order first executed. If the first order is subsequently received by the person to whom it was directed, he shall mark upon the face thereof, "Not accepted", and return it to the purchaser, who shall attach it to the duplicate and the affidavit.

Whenever any used or unused order forms are stolen from, or lost (otherwise than in the course of transmission) by, any person registered under the act, he shall immediately upon discovery of such theft or loss, report the same to the Commissioner of Narcotics, Washington, D. C., stating the serial number of each form stolen or lost. If the theft or loss includes any original orders received from other persons and the registrant is unable to state the serial numbers of such orders, he shall report the date of receipt thereof and the names and addresses of the purchasers. If an entire book of order forms is lost or stolen, and the registrant is unable to state the serial numbers of the order forms contained therein, he shall report, in lieu of the numbers of the forms contained in such book, the date or approximate date of purchase thereof. If any unused order form reported stolen or lost is subsequently recovered or found, the Commissioner of Narcotics shall be notified thereof.

PAR. 8. Article 116 (26 CFR 151.116) is amended to read as follows:

preparations by a manufacturer as such, including exports, sales, transfers to other classes at the same location, and losses, shall be reported on form 810b. A separate sheet, properly headed in the space provided, shall be used for each different type of transaction. On each sheet separate entries shall be used to report dispositions of each kind of drug and of each different type and size of package or unit involved. The details of sales of other drugs to Class III, IV and VI registrants, may be omitted from returns, but such transactions shall be included in summarized entries on form 810b.
